Who would have supposed that wind could damage Washington, D.C., after all these years?

CONWAY

Conway Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, August 14th, at the home of Mrs. A. P. Young. The weather being so warm the ladies opted for the verandah until it was decided business must be proceeded with, which all went indoors, where it was found nearly fifty were assembled.

The President opened the meeting with the Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Correspondence was given and correspondence read. The various committees had little to report, and the business was soon attended to. Little Enid that make life beautiful", and all responded.

Mrs. Fred Mann, the District President, was then called upon to occupy the chair. She gave us an excellent paper on "Mental Mortality", calling our attention to many astounding facts.

The Violet Institute members provided the remainder of the program, consisting of a "Cheer Song" by the members, vocal solo by Mrs. Dennis and instrumental solo. Interspersed with these were five splendid papers—"The Institute Ode", by Mrs. Macdonald; "A Woman's Health", by Miss Mildred Hannah; "Eggs and Their Good Value", by Mrs. Hervey Smith; "A Child's Fear", by Mrs. E. A. Wright, and "The Needs of the Hope Chest", by Mrs. John Kellar. Which of these papers was best would be hard to decide, for each in its own way was so good. For all this the home Institute felt very grateful indeed, and Mrs. Robinson's motion, seconded by Miss VanDuyk, expressing thanks to the District President and Violet ladies, brought forth a rousing clap expressive of our appreciation.

Members' fees were paid, after which "God Save the King" brought this part of the meeting to a close.

The hostess then invited the ladies out on the lawn, where dainty refreshments were served, and a social time enjoyed by all, and many helpful ideas exchanged before the ladies parted.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Moon. Roll call, "My Pet Aversion".

Warden Rollins, of Tweed, pleased the gathering with his presence and a speech. Mr. John Varty, of Marshale, gave a history of the Varty family. Senator Brown, of Schenectady, also gave an address. Mr. Harold Varty was master of ceremonies. Visitors were there from Winnipeg in the West and Montreal in the East. Mr. and Mrs. Tribble, of London, England, were the guests of honor. The weather was delightful, and everyone appeared to enjoy themselves.

Mr. H. Thompson, of Detroit, was a motor visitor last week at the Courtney's.

Mr. Harold Peters, of Sillsville, was a caller on Friday evening.

Miss Corinne Wartman, of Sydenham, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Juanita Wartman.

Mr. H. Cameron, M.A., and Mrs. McCamieron, of Windsor, visited friends in Newburgh during the week.

Mrs. Wood, of Western Canada, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lett, of Kingston, is now the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Yeoman and family, of Wesley.

Visitors with Mrs. S. Shorey and daughters: Mr. and Mrs. H. Wager and mother, of Peterboro; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dolan, Rochester; Mr. Ed. Knight, Pittsburgh, Penn.; Mr. J. Hammel Benn, of Belleville; Mr. J. E. Shorey and son, George, of Belleville.

Miss Marian Shorey is visiting with friends in Belleville.

Senator and Mrs. T. C. Brown, and Mr. Kenneth Watson, of Schenectady, N.Y., called on Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Yeomans, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Shorey, of Peterboro', visited her aunts, Misses Eliza and Hannah Paul, for a few days.

Mr. W. J. Patterson, of Moscow, spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. Ward Wartman.

Rev. and Mrs. Anderson enjoyed a trip to Oshawa and Rice Lake during last week.

Miss Jean Ramsay and Miss M. Mildred, of Kingston, Sundayed at home.

Mr. and Mrs. James McLeod, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McLeod, of Selby, were at Mr. D. Dennison's, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Ham and daughter, of Montreal, being on a motor trip to Western Ontario, spent a few days last week at the Courtney's.

Mrs. Murton Vandervoort has returned from Kingston Hospital, much improved in health.

Little Kennech Gilbert is convalescing, after an operation, for appendicitis.

Mrs. Vandervoort, Sr., is on a visit to a son in Trenton.

Miss H. M. Faul with her nieces, Queenie and Joy, and girl friends are camping at Varty Lake.

Mrs. Johnstone and daughter, of Kepler, returned to their home on Sunday, after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Wartman.

Mrs. Quail and daughter, Gladys, visited at Elgin for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Weese, of Chesney, visited at Mrs. Stone's and Mrs. Holgate's, during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Weese were, recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gerow.

Mrs. Earl Craig and children, of Switzerville, visited her mother, Mrs. Wales, on Sunday, after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wartman early in the day.

Mr. James Farley is still in Kingston General Hospital, and his condition remains about the same.

A CANADIAN BOAT SONG

Faintly as tolls the evening chime,
Our voices keep tune and our oars keep time.
Soon as the woods on shore look dim,
We'll sing at St. Ann's our parting hymn.
Row, brothers, row, the stream runs fast,
The Rapids are near and the daylight's past.

Why should we yet our sail unfurl?
There is not a breath the blue wave to curl.
But, when the wind blows off the shore,
Oh! sweetly we'll rest our weary oar.
Row, brothers, row, the stream runs fast,
The Rapids are near and the daylight's past.

Utawas' tide! This trembling moon
Shall see us float over thy surges soon.
Saint of this green isle! hear our prayers.
Oh, grant us cool heavens and favourable airs.
Row, brothers, row, the stream runs fast,
The Rapids are near and the daylight's past.

TEXTS THAT BRING TROUBLE.

Some Things Congregations Do Not Like.

A short time ago, when the vicar of a church at Darwen announced as his text, "Thou shalt not bear false witness," some three hundred of his congregation walked out, writes Parson" in Tit-Bits.

This was no isolated case. Other congregations have objected to texts, and, on occasion, to hymns.

The somewhat eccentric vicar—now dead—of a Derbyshire parish was at variance with his flock, and for two Sundays, morning and evening, he preached from the text taken from I. Corinthians xi., "What shall I say to you?"

He said so much that his congregation agreed that when he mounted the pulpit on the next Sunday morning they would walk out as he announced his text. They assumed it would be the same, and they had had more than enough of it.

Whether he had heard about the plot is not known, but his text was: "Depart from me, ye workers of iniquity," and — well, the exit was not quite the success hoped for. The ultimate effect was good, however, for the local squire, blessed with a sense of humor, arranged a parochial meeting, and harmony was restored.

In another parish, the vicar, although a very poor preacher, persisted in discoursing for fifty minutes or an hour. As a petition for shorter sermons had no effect, the congregation walked out during the singing of the hymn before the sermon.

To counter that, the vicar preached at the commencement of the service, but, after one experience, the people waited outside until he had finished, and then entered. Ultimately the bishop intervened, with the result that the vicar, going to the other extreme, cut his sermons down to a bare three minutes, that brought no protest.

Another parson, in charge of a north-country parish, never used the pulpit, but walked up and down the central aisle as he preached. His style was fierce and denunciatory, and he had a big, booming voice, his congregation did not appreciate his fearness, and most of them walked out regularly. That continued until he went to another parish.

Bad health affects one's outlook on life, but that scarcely justified a Norfolk rector in having, Sunday after Sunday, such lugubrious hymns as "Brief life is here our portion," "Days and moments quickly flying," and others of the same type. As he was deaf to requests to be more cheerful in his selection, his congregation walked out every time they were asked to sing one of the gloomy hymns. It was only when the choir and organist followed suit that he gave way.

Some parsons' wives are helpful in the parish, and popular; others are not. In one country parish, whenever the rector's wife entered the church the entire congregation walked out. That continued for months, until an exchange of livings ended the trouble.

Most "walkings-out" are arranged, but one that was not happened at a seaside town when the parson took as his text "O ye fools!" and became personal. In five minutes the church was empty.

FRONT-WHEEL DRIVE.

Ease of Control Remarkable and Skidding Stopped.

The problem of in-earing the drive from the engine of a motor-car to the front wheels has exercised the minds of inventors ever since motor-cars came into use. There are some 150 different patents filed in the British patent office, designed to effect this, but the new Alvis car will be the first to be put on the British market as a practical proposition.

The great advantage claimed for the front wheel drive is that skidding is practically impossible, as the power is applied to the wheels exactly in the direction in which the car is going. Also there is no gyroscopic action to overcome which is set up by rear-wheel drive.

Capt. Malcolm Campbell, who tried the new Alvis recently, described the steadiness and easy control round corners as astonishing. For this reason it is likely that high speed cars in future will be of the front-drive type, as well-known racing motorists like H. O. D. Segrave and Malcolm Campbell say that at the very high speeds like 200 miles per hour it is not in getting the maximum of power from the engine that the difficulty lies, but in steering a straight course.

Bringing Australia to London.

A few weeks ago the Melbourne (Australia) City clock striking at six was heard by a number of people sitting in a saloon car in Lincoln's Inn Fields, London. The car was fitted with a six-valve superhet wireless receiving set, and the aerial, rigged to the top of the car, was about six feet of copper trolley wire, similar to that used on electric trams.

A grease nipple on the motor-car frame was the earth connection. There was little atmospheric interference, and news announcements and music came through perfectly.

Sand and Gravel Pits in Canada.

Natural deposits of sands and gravels occur in all provinces of Canada, and as a consequence of this wide distribution, the low value of these materials, and the ubiquitous demand chiefly for filling and structural purposes, there are a very large number of pits operated in this country.

Village Without a Child.

The little village of Caldecote, seven miles from Peterboro, England, with a population of nearly 600 inhabitants, is now probably the only village in the world without children.

Highest Inhabited Place.

The highest inhabitated place in the world is the Buddhist monastery of Hanle, in Tibet. It is 17,000 feet above sea-level.

WAS VERY DELICATE

New Health Came Through Using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Mrs. Caspar Miller, Lourdes, N.S., says that twice in her lifetime she has reason to be thankful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her. She says:—"I was a very delicate girl going into womanhood, when I first found benefit from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was a very delicate girl going into womanhood, when I first found benefit from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was a sufferer from cramps and pains every month and was hardly able to move around at all. One day when I was very ill a friend came in to see me, and she said to my mother, "Why not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." I know they will do her a world of good". The result was my mother got six boxes and I began their use, and I soon found benefit from them. By the time I had taken them all I felt an altogether different girl and no longer suffered from cramps and pains.

Then a few years ago I was attacked with influenza, and was sick for six weeks. Again I started taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and again they brought me good health. I am the mother of a family and do all my own work, so you see I have to keep in good health, and depend upon these pills to keep me so. Now I always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any of my friends who may be sickly."

If you are suffering from any condition due to poor, watery blood, or weak nerves, begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now, and note how your strength and health will improve. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

YARKER-COLEBROOK WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of the Yarker-Colebrook Institute met at the home of Mrs. J. Warner, on the evening of August 14th, with about eighteen members and six visitors in attendance. Our President, Mrs. Boyce, occupied the chair. The meeting opened by singing the Ode, followed by the Institute creed. The minutes of the last meeting were then read and approved. The roll call was answered by "Your Best Pickle Recipe." The business part of the meeting then took place. A committee was appointed to see about getting sign boards for the Villages of Yarker and Colebrook. It was also decided for our Institute to attend the picnic at Camden East the following day. A paper was then read by Mrs. R. Jackson, which was very interesting.

Our September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Gerald Hawley.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem, after which lunch was served by the hostess and committee.

A PIRATE ISLE.

Dead Man's Chest Was an Island of the Virgin Group.

The sea-going of the pirates with its weird refrain of "Fifteen men on the dead Man's Chest" which Robert Louis Stevenson introduces into his famous book "Treasure Island" is in part at least authentic and was sung by the pirates and buccaneers who roved the Caribbean Sea in the late seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries.

Dead Man's Chest was an island of the Virgin group, which has been christened "Dead Chest Island," thereby losing much of its piratical flavor. To this island the pirates used to repair, to careen their ships, stretch their legs, drink rum, sing their buccaneering songs and make merry after their own fashion.

Curiously enough there is a little church on the Chilian coast which is obviously built of ship's timbers. Recently a traveller of an inquiring mind, reasoning that if the church were built of ship's timbers, the bell would also come from a ship, determined to investigate. A climb among the rafters did not reveal the name of the ship as he had hoped, but round the edge of the bell were inscribed the words, "Fifteen men on the dead man's chest."

All that the clergyman knew was that the church bell came from a ship that was wrecked in 1722, which was just the time when the West Indies were getting hot for pirates, and many were being driven into the Pacific.

OUR TOES.

We Cannot Yet Afford to Dispense With Them.

The most perfectly formed feet are found among savages. Civilization tends to compress the feet, spoiling the shape of the toes and in many cases actually deforming them. Originally intended to be used as a sort of second set of fingers, the toes still play a prominent part in the lives of many natives. Indian craftsmen, for instance, hold a tool between their toes with an ease almost equal to handling it.

Amongst the more advanced peoples, however, this use of the toes is completely obsolete, and in another hundred years our toes may be out of work. In the meantime, however, we most certainly have a use, though limited, for our toes. On them we largely depend for the balance of our bodies, the spring of our walk. If we were toeless, every step would be a jar. For cycling, football, dancing, to name but three instances, toes are practically essential. In them we carry about with us a sliding lever more delicate than any science could devise, which helps us to keep our balance. Decidedly, we cannot yet afford to dispense with our toes.

Praying for Rain.

Many countries hold odd ceremonies to end drought. The Chinese take their dragon god around in a procession, and beat him soundly when he ignores their prayers for rain. The Bantus of Delegoa Bay sing songs at their dried-up wells and make mothers who have twins carry the children around the parched fields. In Greece they send children marching round all the wells and springs, under the leadership of a girl adorned with flowers, who sings at each halting place. The same custom prevails in Jugoslavia, where a little girl called the Dodota is clothed from head to foot in grass and flowers, and leads her companions through their native village, stopping at each house, so that the housewife may pour a pail of water over her, and singing the good news that the rain has come, even though it is usually far away.

Camera's Five-Miles Range.

A new camera, developed by the aerial corps of the United States army is said to have a range of more than five miles, and will be capable of photographing an area of four square miles at an altitude of 20,000 feet, or beyond the reach of anti-aircraft guns.

To prevent the shutter from freezing at extreme altitudes, the camera will have an electrical heating system.

The machine is operated automatically and fitted with a device which records the time the exposure was made, the altitude, and the length of the exposure.

Paying to Work.

The tipping evil is at its worst in New York City. Free spending visitors and spluring residents make it so. In some tearooms and restaurants, girls pay for the privilege of serving as waitresses. In other places the girls must give their employers a percentage on their tips, and receive no wages. Still other eating and drinking places pay wages and require nothing in return in all the tips. In these places the girls wear pocketless dresses, and are searched every evening at quitting time for possible concealed coins.

Ants' Fire Brigade.

Some ant-hills have their own fire brigades. A woman naturalist in France discovered this by placing a lighted taper on a hill. A battalion of ant firemen promptly appeared and extinguished it by squirting liquid formic acid from their jaws on the taper, while others tore at it. Many of the ants were killed, and one hero dragged another from danger.

Power for French Farms.

French farmers in increasing numbers are using electric current. The central government provides subsidies for electrical development and organizes regional syndicates. When the seasonal demand is heavy the farmers take turns using power, operating their threshing machines on different days.

Home of the Mouse.

The common house mouse comes from Asia.

"Lots of reading on it," he observed, as he perused the text of the bond application with great interest.

"Huh!" remarked the clerk with the paper. "I'll bet you didn't read your marriage license that carefully."

"Maybe not," was the reply, but ever since I signed that I'm reading everything."

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD
(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound. An extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make home interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the whole year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from the products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a stouter and more rugged material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a sure and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

THE FISH DOCTOR.

Miss Ida Mellen Takes This Matter Seriously.

Can one doctor fishes treat are disposed? Who would think of doing so?

Well, there is an official of the New York Aquarium, Miss Ida Mellen, who takes this matter seriously, and she is a capable fish doctor and fish nurse.

Two goldfish, apparently dying, were recently saved by her quick and skillful attention. She was obliged to operate on the eye of one, and she dosed the other with castor oil. Miss Mellon has a big light workshop at the top of the Aquarium, where she is surrounded by all sorts of jars and globes containing languid fishes, ailing turtles, and kindred invalids. "Ill basking," we are assured by somebody who has seen it, "in the warmth of her capable nursing."

Miss Mellon thinks nothing of tackling the eyes of blind fish with boric acid solution; and the other day she boldly immersed sick goodfish in a bucket of kerosene, and thus cured them of a skin trouble which was slowly killing them.

There was a deadly salt-water parasite that was killing valuable salt-water fish all over the waters. This Miss Mellon found out, and the parasite has now been named in her honor. Fishes do not like taking castor oil; in fact, they are very particular about it, and will hold it in their mouths for five minutes, hoping to get back into the water and eject it. But with a wet rag bound round his gills Master Fish cannot do that; and he swallows it in spite of himself, and feels better.

Miss Mellon saved one penguin which came under her care last winter. He was given cough mixture and sniffed benzoin fumes, and improved.

WORRYING THE SWISS.

Nightingales Have Become Intolerable In Switzerland.

While naturalists in England experience great difficulty in hearing the nightingale, the inhabitants of certain districts around Geneva are complaining that these birds have lately become an intolerable nuisance.

One morning an Englishman living at the foot of the Salève mountain counted no fewer than seven in his garden and the volume of sound was such as to drive him almost to distraction.

Another Englishman employed by the League of Nations has just enjoyed the unique experience of hearing two nightingales more than 600 miles apart singing simultaneously.

He was listening to London when the nightingale's broadcast from Farnbourne, Berkshire, suddenly broke in. Almost immediately another bird on the roof of an adjoining villa burst into song. The peculiarity of the nightingale in Switzerland is that it sings best about midnight in the morning.

To test this fact a motorist on the League of Nations' staff had a wager with an English delegate that he could make the nightingale respond to the throb of his engine at any time of the day. The car was taken to a spot about a mile from the centre of Geneva and the engine was left running. Before many seconds had elapsed the purr of the engine was drowned by a flood of glorious melody.

LIBRARIES IN MEXICO.

Distribution Increases for Volumes on All Sorts of Subjects.

Mexicans are becoming greater readers and the demand for books on all subjects is on the increase in that country. This is revealed by figures announced by the Department of Libraries of the Ministry of Education. According to this report there was a total of 3,617 libraries in Mexico at the end of 1927. Of these libraries 1,345 distributed books of a general nature, 970 were for scholastic works, 797 were for technical volumes and the rural districts were served by 508 libraries.

These libraries distributed a total of 625,527 volumes on all subjects last year, a remarkable increase in distribution, as only 95,617 books were distributed during the first year the Department functioned, which was five years ago.

Last year the number of lectures that were delivered in the libraries was 1,223,247, an increase from 144,696 that were delivered during the first year that the Department was in operation.

Bicyle on Wings.

A machine said to be capable of the nearest approach to the method of production of a bird's movements yet known has been made by Mr. G. H. White, at St. Augustine, Florida. His "bird" measures 29½ feet from tip to tip and weighs 12½ pounds. Rubber "muscles" and the pilot's feet provide the motive-power for the strange-looking mechanism, known as an ornithopter. The wings are constructed of a patented variety of celluloid, with high tensile strength, and have a maximum upand-down beat of 17 feet. The "feathers" spread on the upward movement and contract as the wings sweep downwards.

A slanting upward movement decreases resistance and at the same time provides a forward thrust. Each wing has nine primary "feathers" and eight secondary ones, and the ability to flap into wind. After that the other will enable the pilot to control his direction and avoid tipping over.

Fifty Book Tower.

The book tower of the Sterling memorial library at Yale University is to be eighteen stories high and will afford space for 4,000,000 books.

Spend $750,000,000.

Advertisers spend something like $750,000,000 a year in bringing their products to the notice of the British public.

Her Husband—"That canary sets a good example for you. The female is always silent."

Mrs. Talkington—"And you'll notice the male never utters a peep while he's in the same cage with his mate."

WILDFOWL VANISHING.

Man Is Said to Have Killed 50,000 in His Lifetime.

The disappearance of the rapid decrease of wildfowl in Holland, where they are rigorously protected and the melancholy spectacle of their now empty homes on the chimney tops, which have been occupied for centuries, was explained at a meeting of the International Committee for Bird Protection at Geneva.

After patient investigation, ornithologists discovered that thousands of storks are being killed in the Transvaal, South Africa, through eating poisoned grasshoppers. The storks being regarded as a great sanitary asset in Holland, the South African Government is to be asked to take measures to prevent their destruction.

As whales have been recognized by the League of Nations economic committee as economic assets of immense importance, the internation committee has now decided to ask the league to take up the protection of birds.

According to an American delegate, 10,000,000 wild ducks at an average cost—to the sportsman—of £4 per buck, were slaughtered in the United States last year. An alarming decline is also reported from Great Britain, Scandinavia, and other northern countries where ducks congregate in the summer. Dr. Pearson pointed out that in Mexico City dead migratory ducks have been piled 12 feet high and sold for twopence each, while golden plovers, which are rapidly becoming extinct, are served in many ocean liners.

Dr. Pearson mentioned one sportsman who had accounted for 50,000 ducks during his lifetime, and Dr. Loonberg, a Swedish National Museum authority, said that netters in Holland take 30,000 golden plovers yearly.

Dutch official reports showed that 127 decoys each catch an average of 5,000 migratory ducks per season, while one decoy alone on the island of Sylt accounted for nine than 45,000. Dr. Lonnberg further declared that computations based on the number of rings returned to markers by hunters who shot ringed birds show that at least 35 per cent. are slaughtered.

The conference urged the league to convene an international conference to make a treaty rigorously protecting all birds while on their way to and on their breeding heads and forbidding their shooting or sale after March 1 in Europe and North America and September 1 in countries of the southern hemisphere.

WHERE DO NEEDLES GO?

Britain Is More Than Holding Its Own In the Needle Trade.

Few British housewives bother whether their needles are produced at home or abroad. Nor need they worry, for Great Britain is more than holding its own in the needle trade.

From Redditch, Worcestershire, the centre of the industry, needles of all shapes and sizes—packing needles, surgical needles, sail needles and gramophone needles—are exported to various parts of the world. Eighty per cent. of the town's annual output, representing about 2,000 million needles, is sent out of the country. The United States is perhaps Britain's best customer, but there is no city or state—however remote—where the Redditch product is not used and appreciated, says an article in Tit-Bits.

There is one mystery, however, that baffles even the most experienced men in the trade: What happens to all the needles? They do not attempt to answer the question. After all, it isn't their business; all their time and attention must be given to coping with the demand for their wares. Perhaps at some future period an expert will find an answer to the query, but until then Redditch works—and works hard—to maintain its great needle-making reputation.

A New Tax in France.

France's new tax of $9 on ocean passengers entering and leaving her ports is destined to have a profound effect on the movements of tourists, in the opinion of shipping men.

England, Italy, Germany, Holland, Belgium, and other maritime countries of Europe are rejoicing that France, by taking this step, has done more than years of expensive advertising to attract tourists to their ports.

The expectation is that many thousands of tourists, rather than pay the tax to the French Government, will disembark in other countries and spend part of their travel budget there. They can then, if they choose, enter France by rail or even by a channel boat from England without paying the tax.

The $9 thus saved will go a long way toward paying railroad fare to Paris from London, Antwerp or Rotterdam.

The Scandinavian countries, too, are hoping to benefit.

Steel Replaces Stone Arches.

Five Roman arches in the famous high bridge over the Harlem river in New York are being replaced by a single span of steel, 426 feet long, says Popular Mechanics. The reconstruction was necessary, as the water, swirling about the stone piers, had made them unsafe, particularly because the bridge carries the water of the Croton aqueduct. Although the expense involved is large and the work demands great engineering skill, the bridge will cost some $500,000 less than would have been required by the alternative of driving a tunnel under the river to carry the water.

Signals at Sea.

One short blast from a liner's whistle, when she meets another liner, means that she is taking the starboard course; two blasts that she is taking her course to port; three that she is going full speed astern.

Doctor (putting in stitches)—"I suppose the miscreant was after money?"

Victim of Assault—"Yes, doctor."

Doctor—"Would you recognize him again?"

Victim—"Not half. It was my wife."

COUNTESS AMONG CANNIBALS

Her Wicked "Wedding" to Rufian of Southern Seas—English Clown Performed the Ceremony.

"And you think that a pretty woman, alone and unarmed, could venture into the remotest corners of the earth and live in the haunts of primitive men without coming to grief?"

The duchess, a leader of Parisian society, chuckled, but the face of the Countess Titayna did not flinch. "I will prove it can be done," she announced. "In a year's time I shall be back here in Paris and let you judge for yourselves. I shall sail from Marseilles as the only woman on a French schooner, and go by way of the Panama Canal to the Pacific. I shall take my chance with the Fiji Islanders, the head-hunters of Sumatra, fanatical jungle men of South China, and the rascals of Polynesia."

That was a year ago. Titayna, as is known, has kept her promise and now on her bet, says an article in Tit-Bits.

"My worst experience was aboard a Polynesian convict ship," she said. "The ship was manned by about twenty vicious-looking convicts who were not allowed to set foot on land. "No sooner were we clear of Papeete than I began to feel anxious. The only decent fellow was the cook. He seemed to me, Vana was thirty, lithe and strong as a panther, and had been sentenced to four years for killing a man who refused to exchange wives with him.

"I played cards with the crew and had all of them insulted except a murderer named Gham, who one night, about 3 a.m., crawled toward me. I gave him a cigarette and tried in vain to get him into conversation. I might as well have tried to caress an angry cobra. I had bought a small automatic at Papeete, but with a sweep of his fist he knocked it from my hand. Then the unexpected happened. From behind a pile of boxes another man jumped up. It was Vana. In a moment the two men were wrestling on the deck — then there was silence. Gham lay dead at my feet.

"'I must save myself by swimming,' he said.

"I knew it was reckless for me to remain on the ship, so I jumped with him, and it was more than an hour before we reached a palm-fringed island.

"'This is the island of Vana-vana,' said my guide. 'My ancestors were great in these forests, and I have hidden twenty times as many pearls as you can count on your fingers. They will be yours.'

"Then Vana called a man from one of the huts. He was white, and spoke French with an English accent. Vana told him to marry us according to Western law. He made us hold hands and mumbled something in his funny French.

"'I will bring the pearls now,' said Vana, and when he had gone I handed a purse to the preacher, telling him I must get to Tahiti. 'Come now, be quick,' I added, in English.

"'My boy will take you to Tematari,' he said, and a little later I was in the canoe with a boy.

"'Good-bye, madam,' the strange man said, 'and don't worry. I'm no preacher.'

"'But who are you?'

"I died of sadness passed over his face. "I've been marrying people for sixteen years on this island,' he said. 'I am an Englishman, and used to be a clown in a circus'."

Thackeray.

In common with ordinary citizens Thackeray had occasionally to bustle in order to find the quarter's rent, so that we find him writing, in 1841, an urgent letter to his publisher stating, "I want to make up £17 10s. for my landlord, whose rent was due, July 1st." He was then living at 13 Great Coram street, his first London house after his marriage, although he had shared one at 18 Albion street with his improvident friend, Major Smyth, the prototype of Col. Newcome. Along with many other letters and manuscripts this Thackeray note was recently offered for sale in London.

Another letter contains the remark: "I think the chief good I got out of Charterhouse was to learn to hate bullying and tyranny, and to love kind-hearted, simple children."

Find Old Cannon Ball.

A relic of a bygone day in Toronto, one that dates back possibly to the war of 1812, or earlier, has been unearthed in the process of excavating the foundations for the new eastern stables of Toronto's street cleaning department on St. Lawrence street. Here, twenty feet below the street level in the bed of Garrison creek, now filled in and forgotten, the workmen found a six-pound cannon ball that probably got mislaid in the forgotten engagement. A number of timbers and tree trunks also uncovered are still sound and in excellent condition.

Important Mineral Substances.

The most important mineral substances required in food are the salts of iron, iodine, phosphorus, calcium (lime), manganese, potash, and soda. Iron is required for the blood. The red coloring matter, largely composed of iron contained in the red corpuscles, carries the oxygen taken in by the lungs all over the body.

Machine That Talks.

A cigarette machine which automatically "talks" to the purchaser as packets are delivered has been installed in a New York shop. "Cork tips protect the lips," says the machine with the packet of cigarette. "It's toasted" and "Thank you" are spoken as other brands are delivered.

Khartoum-Pretoria Flight.

Two South African Air Force machines flew recently from Khartoum to Pretoria in four days, a distance of about 3,000 miles. This suggests the possibility of the Cape to Cairo in six days.

Barrister at Shoreditch County Court—"You say that your landlady has not told the truth?"

Woman—"I will say a bit more than that—she is a liar."

ENRICHED in Color and Enhanced in Style and Offering Even Greater Performance

BEAUTIFUL as the Pontiac Six has been in the past—great as its performance has proved in the hands of owners—

—today's Pontiac Six is even more beautiful, even more thrilling to drive! For, in keeping with General Motors' policy of progressive engineering practice, this lowest-priced General Motors' Six has been enriched in color, enhanced in style and equipped for even finer performance.

To the beauty of style of long, low bodies by Fisher, have been added the swagger touch of smaller, smarter wheels and larger tires, while new and harmonious combinations of Duco colors have been created. Mechanical advancements result in smoother performance and greater power than Pontiac ever offered before. And along with its more stirring response to the throttle, it continues to provide the stamina and long life for which it is famous.

Until you have seen and driven it you cannot realize what style, what color and what performance today's Pontiac Six affords—for here are beauty and snap you never dreamed you could buy at so low a price. P-18-B-28C

THE ROYAL CANADIAN SHOWS

ARE AT NAPANEE FAIR, AUGUST 22nd, 23rd AND 24th. — SPECIAL FREE ACTS IN FRONT OF THE GRAND STAND EACH DAY.

Hugh Lottridge's premier attraction, known as the Royal Canadian Shows is here to present a programme of real entertainment.

For many years Harry and his company have been touring Ontario, and his shows have grown more popular each year. His visit is now looked for-ward to as one of the events of the year. Thousands of people flock into town from the countryside to enjoy a few hours of fun and frolic on the Fair Grounds when the show comes to town.

The show has grown considerably since first appeared here. By furnishing good clean amusement and living up to every word in their advertisements the "Royal Canadian Shows" have earned a reputation second to none. Wherever they go they receive excellent patronage, and the support of the public has enabled them to enlarge their show until now they have a carnival which has no equal in the Province. To-day they travel in their own special ten-car train. A staff that requires ten large railway cars to accommodate its staff and equipment is in the parlance of the day "some show."

The show, which is under the personal supervision of Harry Lottridge, has met after a most successful run in Hamilton, Sarnia, Windsor, Peterboro, Brockville and other Provincial points and cities. "I want the public to know that we have spared no effort in our attempt to make the Royal Canadian Shows the best in Canada." Mr. Lottridge stated during a recent visit here. "We may not have the biggest, but I am confident we have the best and cleanest organization playing the Dominion," he continued. "We are bringing three new rides, three of the highest class and a number of new concessions. It is a pleasure for me to be able to assure the people of Napanee that every member of my organization is either personally known to me or comes to us bearing unquestionable recommendations. I have personally reviewed every show before opening and offer them to the public with a feeling of confidence, for I know them to be shows of merit and absolutely clean. We extend a special invitation to the women and children to visit us. Our employees are acquainted with our policy of courtesy and respectful treatment and have been instructed accordingly. We will also operate discourtesy."

The Royal Canadian Shows following the completion of their engagement here will play an eleven weeks list of Ontario fairs. Fair managers all over Ontario have been anxious to secure their premier attraction as a part of their annual program, for they realize how popular Harry Lottridge's shows are among the people.

OBITUARY

Mrs. John Boyle

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock with requiem High mass by Rev. Father T. J. Henry at St. Charles Church for Mrs. John Boyle, who died Thursday evening, August 9th, at 6.30, at her home at 6 Hadley street, after a lingering illness. Four years ago Mrs. Boyle suffered from a shock, and since then, while at times able to be around the house, was failing, and the end came quite suddenly. Mary Morrisey was born in the County Clare, Ireland, in 1848. When 11 years old she came to Thorold, Ont., Canada, and at the age of 22 married John Boyle, who died there in 1918. From Thorold the young couple went to Napanee Mills, where Mr. Boyle had employment as a papermaker, and there, in 1893, their adopted daughter, Clara, died when 19 years old. In 1895 they came to Bellows Falls, where Mr. Boyle was employed by the International Paper Company until the time of his death. Mrs. Boyle leaves one daughter, Maude Boyle Barry, wife of William F. Barry, of this place, and a brother, Austin O'Neill, of Niagara Falls, N.Y. Burial took place in St. Charles Catholic cemetery.

From the Bellows Falls, Vt., Times, August 16th, 1928.

The late Mrs. Boyle was, formerly well known in Napanee and Napanee Mills (now Strathcona), and was a member of St. Patrick's Church here.

DROWNED WHILE RECOVERING SON

(From The Herald, Calgary, Alta.)

Adam Preston Aylesworth, of Calgary, Alta., 49 years of age, a valued employee of the Royalite Oil Company, was drowned in Sheep Creek, Alberta, at 9 o'clock, Friday evening, July 13th, in a courageous attempt to rescue his 17-year-old son, Robert, who had fallen into the treacherous stream. The young man was able to reach shore after having been carried nearly 200 yards down stream. H. J. W. Lipsett, who arrived in the city from Turner Valley on Saturday morning, told a representative of The Herald that Mr. Aylesworth had gone fishing with his son at about 7.30 p.m. The fatality occurred about 9 o'clock, when Robert stepped from the bank to a large rock, which was nearly submerged.

It was the general opinion at the field that the rock must have been undermined by the current, as when the lad stepped on it the boulder tilted, throwing him off his balance, and he fell into the water, which is very deep and treacherous at this point.

In exactly what way Mr. Aylesworth met his death will never be known. His son last saw him rushing to his aid before being carried away by the current. The lad was able to reach the bank about 200 yards down stream, and, running back, called for his father, but got no answer.

Rushing to the Royalite Camp at Turner Valley, a short distance away, help was immediately summoned, and the body of Mr. Aylesworth was found 20 feet from the place where the boy had fallen in. Dr. Hall, Royalite doctor, worked on Mr. Aylesworth for more than an hour in an attempt to revive him, but without success.

There was a large bruise on the forehead and nose of the deceased, and the general opinion was that he had fallen in rushing to the help of his son. The last Robert saw of him before being swept away, was running to the rock from which he had just fallen into the water.

Constable Batt, of the A. P. P., at Okotoks, was notified and arrangements made to bring the remains to Calgary. The Herald was informed that no inquest will be necessary.

Besides his son, the deceased is survived by his widow and two daughters, Jean and Betty, residing at 1020 Eighth Street West; also a sister, Margaret, living at Newburgh, Ont.

Opportunities in the Mines

Many mining stocks have now been depressed far below their intrinsic value, and to the investor with faith in the future of this country, some wonderful opportunities exist today.

From an investment standpoint some of them with an assured long and profitable future, show a splendid yield with excellent chances for appreciation in market value.

For those inclined to the more speculative variety, there are a great many mines that appear to be certainly headed towards great success.

The wise investor who takes advantage of these opportunities, while the stocks are still depressed, will have reason to be proud of his good judgment later on.

With our string of offices throughout the mining areas we are in a position to give you the latest reliable news.

"It isn't what you do today that causes the blowout!"
—it is usually something you have done weeks ago.

Under-inflation—careless parking that pinches the tire walls—hitting rough bumps on high. Balloons deaden the jar. But later—a blowout!

These things can be avoided. To avoid them means dollars off the cost of running your car.

Check up tire pressures every week—We will do it for you. Keep to the exact figures for the size of load of each tire. Ease down when driving over deep ruts and sharp ridges.

Let us inspect your tires once a week. At least twice a season let us take them off the rims and look for inside injuries.

A Dominion Tire will stand a lot of abuse, but a little care will add thousands of miles to its life.

WOODBINE — WESTBROOKE

(For last week.)

The news of the sad death of Mrs. J. R. Smith, of this place, reached here Wednesday evening. While crossing from Clayton to Murray Island on the passenger boat, "Just Brown", which caught fire from an explosion caused from a back-fire in the engine, Mrs. Smith in trying to escape from the fire, died from heart failure. Her passing was regretted by her many friends as she was in good health. The funeral was conducted from the home of her son-in-law, Mr. A. M. Smith, on Saturday, July 14th, to Cataraqui cemetery. Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Cooper officiated, and spoke of the kind and loving disposition of Mrs. Smith, which endeared her to all with whom she came in contact. The deceased was the widow of the late J. R. Smith, who for a number of years conducted a store and postoffice at Westbrooke. The hymns which were sung were Peace, Perfect Peace" and "The Sands of Time Are Sinking". During the service Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Smith, of the Odessa United Church Choir, sang "Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me". Miss Flora also played "Safe in the Arms of Jesus". The late Mrs. Smith is survived by one daughter, Mrs. A. M. Smith, and one grandson, Colin Smith, and one brother, Mr. Thos. Benjamin, of Western Canada. The many beautiful floral tributes were a testimony of the high esteem in which Mrs. Smith was held by her many friends. The pall bearers were three nephews, Melville Smith, Percy Wright, Roy Benjamin and Frank Smith, a friend of the family. The flower bearers were J. L. F. Sproule, Herb. Sly, Ed. Joyner, J. D. AVIATION IN CANADA

GOVERNMENT WILL HELP AIRPLANE CLUBS.

On Account of Great Distances This Country Stands to Reap Great Advantages From Use of the Light Airplane.

Canada, with its virile population of ten millions occupying a country greater in size than the United States, is peculiarly suited and responsive to aviation development, says a writer in the Montreal Star. Canada probably has a greater proportion of trained aviators in its population than any country in the world, due largely to the ten thousand young Canadians who formed the backbone of the Royal Air Force during the Great War, and on account of the great distances and great new mining development stands to reap great advantage from a general us of the light Airplane.

The Federal Government, realizing the importance of Canada having a large number of properly qualified pilots, have given material encouragement to the formation of the Light Airplane Clubs. For every airplane purchased by a club, the Government gives another. It will also give the club a $100 cash bonus for every certificated pupil turned out.

There is a light airplane specially designed for the private owner. It costs less than $5,000, and has a speed of 100 miles an hour. It carries two passengers and 100 pounds of luggage, and does 22 miles to the gallon. It costs $2.85 per 100 miles to operate, and this includes depreciation charges. Other advantages are that it goes 400 miles without refuelling, and can be parked in any garage as it folds into a 10 - foot space.

This particular light airplane has proved itself practically fool proof—safety has been the prime consideration in its construction. With one of these air chariots a Montreal business man could leave his office at four p.m. on a summer afternoon and alight at the door of his own home in Murray Bay in time for seven o'clock dinner with his family.

The ardent fisherman could wing his way to the most remote lakes without loss of time. Great distances of waste land such as predogminate in northern Ontario could be traversed quickly; Manitoba and Ontario could be brought close together. The light airplane would develop a closer intimacy between the people of eastern and western Ontario.

Aside from the commercial and military aspect, anybody who can drive a car can learn to fly. That it is a much safer diversion than driving a motor car is proved by the records. The National Air Transport Company of the United States has airplanes that have flown over a million and a half miles without a single accident. In all the English flying clubs there has only been one mishap and that was due to a young pilot who broke the rules and flew at an altitude of less than 100 feet over a city.

Cities without airports in the future will be out of the picture, declared Postmaster-General Harry S. New, of the United States, at the annual banquet of the Building Managers and Owners' Association of New York, Inc. The greatest need of aviation to-day, he said, is for landing fields close to business centres, for often the time saved in using planes for quick transportation between cities is lost in travelling to and from flying fields.

The Postmaster - General pointed out the part played by his department in the building up of an industry which was flat immediately after the close of the war. Its purpose in establishing air mail lines was to demonstrate to private capital that travel by air between points widely remote was possible by day and by night, and under anything approximately reasonable weather conditions upon a fast and certain schedule.

There are hundreds of flying men and women who want to fly, and who haven't the money to buy a light airplane. There is only one country that twice as many miles of flying as the whole Dominion of Canada. That is one factory to nine million people, while in the United States there is one airplane factory to every million of the population. This might be cited as an example of how Canada has been lagging behind in aviation since the war.

It will only be a few years until the least venturesome of us will think nothing of soaring into the thunder clouds which are often four and five thousand feet thick and resemble woolly ice cream, or taking a jaunt about the skies at sunset—the loveliest time of the day to fly.

Seventeen-Year-Old Aviator.

Great Britain's youngest air pilot, Robin T. E. Sanders-Clark received the Royal Aero Club certificate. He has done over 70 hours' flying. The youth declared that it was the right of Sir Alan Cobham landing on the Thames two years ago that led him to take up aviation. He was then a scholar at Malvern College.

Flying, he thinks, safer than motoring. He would not drive a car through London, he says, if he were paid. "But flying is all right." He hopes to take up aviation as a career.

Field Aut Is Strong.

A field ant has been known to hold in its jaws a weight 3,000 times heavier than itself. This means that if a man had proportionately the same strength in his jaws he could lift in his teeth 275 tons.

DOG'S LONG TREK

Police Dog, Lost In California, Found Its Way Home to Boston, 3,000 Miles Away.

Harvard, a four-year-old police dog, had disappeared during a holiday trip, and his owner, Mr. Maurice Hickley, had been compelled to go home without him, thinking he must have been stolen or killed.

Six months later he was astonished by an "apparition" of Harvard trotting down a Boston side street, but before he could get out of a traffic stop the dog had disappeared, and Mr. Hickley dismissed the incident as imagination. Three mornings later there came a scratch at the front door and an old familiar whimper. There was Harvard, and a wet tongue licked his master's face unrebuked.

The dog was in a state of collapse, but careful nursing saved his life. His collar was gone, the pads of his paws were worn to paper thinness.

These, and the desire to eat all the meat in the town, were the only indications that Harvard offered to explain his record-breaking trip home, without money, road-maps, or the ability to read sign-posts or ask for directions.

It was not memory that enabled the dog to find his way back, for he spent nearly the whole of the outward journey sleeping at the bottom of an automobile. A dog might be expected to scent his way home, even through a crowded city, by the scent of the family automobile, but nobody would pretend that he could track a car across a continent.

Some people think telepathy may guide a dog home, but this is discounted by the story of Mutt, a sixteen-year-old Airdale in twenty-four days, during which time he must have covered at least a thousand miles over mountains and burning deserts.

He arrived at the house where the family had lived, but he found strangers. The people had moved to the other side of the town. Had Mutt been guided by telepathy, he would have found his new home.

In Harvard's case the difficulties must have been tremendous. All over the country there are laws about muzzles and licenses, and dog catchers are active. Harvard and other long-distance traveller were outlaws. In most places it is probably the technical duty of policemen to turn stray dogs over to the dog-catcher, but every dog knows that a police-station is really one of the likeliest places to get free meals, bed, and medical attention for cuts and sore paws.

If Harvard had travelled at his best speed, about a hundred miles a day over a straight route, he could have done the journey in less than a month. The extra five months probably represent delays and adventures, rest for sore paws, imprisonment by friends and foes, days when he was poisoned by bad meat, and dog fights.

He would have needed two big meals a day to keep going, and to get these was probably one of his hardest tasks. Begging risked capture and invited a bullet, and he probably relied on stealing and occasional catches of rabbits, rats, and birds.

"Dogged" persistence and endurance of the canine race is a continual source of amazement. Goldie, a collie, lay in a chicken from February 10 to April 5, when she was found in a trap, still alive.

She had eaten such grass and twigs as were in her reach, and must have licked up every drop of water and flake of snow that fell within range.

A Large Signal Box.

The Southern Railway, a line with a vast series of branches serving the whole of England south of the Thames, has completed a £5,000,000 scheme, including the electrification of forty miles of additional track, also the ordering of five new electrical stations and the introducing of 136 additional passenger coaches.

The innovations include a new London Bridge signal box, the largest in Britain, with 200 electrically operated levers workable with finger pressure, compared with the huge man-power levers hitherto used.

This will enable a reduction in the signalling staff of fifty who will be absorbed by other centres. "Semaphore signals," an official interview, "will disappear, giving place to powerful three-aspect color lights, which have been successful elsewhere, eventually speeding up train movements. The concentrated light beams also help greatly in fog."

The reticent man replied to divulge the number of his brothers and sisters, living or dead. This is how the figure expert was able to find out.

"Write down the number of your living brothers," he instructed. "Double it, and add three. Multiply the total by five. Add the number of sisters living, and multiply the total by ten. Add the number of dead brothers and sisters, and subtract 150 from the total."

The reticent one obeyed.

"Good," said the figure fiend. "The first figure of your total will give the number of living brothers, the middle figure the number of living sisters, and the unit figure the number of deaths."

Try it on your friends; it never fails.

May Die the Same Way.

"Ah shuah pity you," said a Negro pugilist to his opponent as they squared up. "Ah was born with boxing gloves on."

"Maybe you was," retorted the other, "and ah reckon you'se goin' to die the same way."

CHRYSLER

THE more closely you judge the new Chrysler "65" and "75" by the highest standards of good taste and lavish beauty, the more apparent it will be that Chrysler Standardized Quality makes possible value-giving which compels readjustment of offerings in every price division of the industry up to the very highest.

Each has brought into its particular price class richness and beauty which were not there before.

Each gives its owner entrance into a new world of smartness and social distinction.

Each enables him to motor in an environment of luxury impossible at any such investment heretofore.

You find in the new Chrysler "65" and "75" steel-quality, body-quality, quality-of-finish, upholstery-quality, hardware-quality, engine-quality, accessory-quality, richness of beauty and design which vie with, and even surpass, the standards of cars costing many hundreds of dollars more.

The field is filled with good-looking motor cars—but here is symmetry and charm that you know instinctively must leap at once into authoritative leadership.

New Chrysler "65" Prices—Business Coupe, $1325; Roadster (with rumble seat), $1350; 2-door Sedan, $1360; Touring Car, $1370; 4-door Sedan $1460; Coupe (with rumble seat), $1460.

DENBIGH

(For last week).

The continued heavy rains have put the roads in a bad condition, as well as damaging the hay crop—Denbigh is being placed permanently on "the map" by the steadily increasing number of tourists who declare it to be an ideal location. Its many beautiful lakes with abundance of fish, combined with the grand and picturesque scenery, are all that one could desire. There is plenty of public and private accommodation. — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Adams and baby Robert, of Peterboro', have returned home, after a two weeks' visit with Dr. and Mrs. Adams. —Rev. H. B. and Mrs. Herrington and daughter, Lucile, who spent two very enjoyable weeks in and around Denbigh, left for their home at Warsaw last Friday. Mr. Herrington is somewhat of an expert in fishing, as many fine bass could testify.—Carl Plotz, accompanied by R. Pritsch, Otto Kleim and Rev. P. A. Scott, made a flying trip to Napanee last Friday, returning on Saturday.—The lawn social given by the Ladies' Aid last week, was a splendid success. Many thanks to Rev. and Mrs. Herrington and Lucile, who assisted in the program to the delight of all.—Mr. Herrington preached a very fine sermon Sunday night in the United Church, while Mrs. Herrington delighted the congregation by singing most beautifully hymn 393, Canadian Hymnal. — Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Thompson motored to Kingston on Friday, visiting relatives on the way. They returned Tuesday evening. —Mr. Phil. Plotz and son, Oscar, motored to Kingston on Saturday, returning on Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. Plotz, who has been in the General Hospital for treatment a few weeks, and Mrs. Minnie Easton, of Cleveland, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Plitz, while in the hospital. Mrs. Easton will visit her many friends and relatives in Denbigh, her former home, before returning. — Mr. and Mrs. Chelans Ball and little Marjorie, of Oswego, N.Y. are spending their vacation with Mr. Ball's father and mother, at Vennachar; and with Mrs. Balls' mother and other relatives in Denbigh.—Mrs. E. A. Hammond and son, Wesley, Toronto, are enjoying a visit with Mrs. Faulk, of the Faulk House.—Messrs. Best and Ament have been doing an extensive business during the last two weeks, selling and installing running rods in and around Denbigh.—Mr. Rudolph Waggner, of Saratoga, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Gleaser and other relatives.—Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Tinhian, of New York, are spending a few weeks at the home of Mrs. Finniati's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rodgers, Swamp Road. — Mrs. Billy Rahm, accompanied by her sister, Miss Barrager, returned home from Toronto, where she had been visiting a few days.—Invitations are out announcing the wedding of Mr. Wm. E. McCausland, of Cloyne, and Miss Anna Helena Stein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stein, Denbigh, the wedding to take place August 21st, at the home of the bride's parents.—Messrs. Sam Lane, Art Ready and Hugh Dunn, of Toronto, are enjoying a holiday with friends and relatives in the village.—Mr. Wm. Gleaser and family, of the "Soo", are expected in Denbigh this week to renew acquaintances and visit relatives. —Mr. John Wilson, Napanee's "whirlwind" real estate and business man, with his wife and family, accompanied by Mr. Carman Dale and mother, Mrs. Dale, spent two or three days in Denbigh, on a pleasure trip. They were greatly pleased with the beautiful scenery. Incidentally they called on Rev. and Mrs. Scott, at the new parsonage, and were pleasantly surprised at the convenient, well finished, and well laid out building. — Dr. Wilson, Simpson, of Toronto, spent a couple of days in Denbigh on professional work. —Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kleim, on August 7th, a son; born, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gleaser, on August 8th, a daughter. All happy and doing well.—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Petzold motored to Renfrew last week, and spent a couple of days on business and pleasure.

"Come and see my car; it's unique," said Jones, I went. I must admit it seemed to me a perfectly ordinary four seater.

"What is there unique about it?" asked Jones.

"It's paid for."

LAND OF BAD DEBTS.

Protests at Costly Tours and Lavish Spending by Native Princes.

The news of the assassination of exceedingly able and popular Prince Victor Cooch Behar has led Indian papers to protest against the grandeur in which the petty rulers making periodical visits to Europe with the consequent neglect of their states and huge expenditure have to keep up. The state of Cooch Behar is one of those in India which is extended by all save the Indian to wealthy. Indians are few and peans alike, their lavish habits in cases of illness become a byword through bad debts.

The Indian newspapers are concerned over the frivolity of the native princes journeying to Europe for long periods, during which time it is necessary to engage whole suites of rooms and floors of hotels to meet the accommodation of the luxurious retinue. The purchase of motor cars, not usually bought by our standards, is commented upon.

The railways, both Indian and European, is deliberately exploited by the wealthy Indian who runs up bills and refuses to pay.

There are, of course, many splendid wealthy Indian princes who are familiar with the best customs of Europe can either act and who travel incognito and without a large suite to enjoy a holiday. It is against the others that the criticism is directed. It is considered that their state and position requires them to conform to a certain luxury of their position, and that there is growing discontent.

Guard Baby's Health In The Summer

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are diarrhoea, infantum, colic, dysentery, and diarrhoea, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond help before the mother realizes it is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles or if they come on suddenly to banish them. No other medicine is so successful as Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Opportunities in the Mines

Many mining stocks have now been depressed far below their intrinsic value, and to the investor with faith in the future of this country, some wonderful opportunities exist today.

From an investment standpoint some of them with an assured long and profitable future, show a splendid yield with excellent chances for appreciation in market value.

For those inclined to the more speculative variety, there are a great many mines that appear to be certainly headed towards great success.

The wise investor who takes advantage of these opportunities, while the stocks are still depressed, will have reason to be proud of his good judgment later on.

With our string of offices throughout the mining areas we are in a position to give you the latest reliable news.

WOODBINE — WESTBROOKE

(For last week.)

The news of the sad death of Mrs. J. R. Smith, of this place, reached here Wednesday evening. While crossing from Clayton to Murray Island on the passenger boat, "Just Brown", which caught fire from an explosion caused from a back-fire in the engine. Mrs. Smith in trying to escape from the fire, died from heart-failure. Her passing was regretted by her many friends as she was in good health. The funeral was conducted from the home of her son-in-law, Mr. A. M. Smith, on Saturday, July 14th, to Cataraqui cemetery. Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Cooper officiated, and spoke of the kind and loving disposition of Mrs. Smith, which endeared her to all with whom she came in contact. The deceased was the widow of the late J. R. Smith, who for a number of years conducted a store and postoffice at Westbrooke. The hymns which were sung were "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "The Hands of Time Are Sinking". During the service Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Smith, of the Odessa United Church Choir, sang "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me". Miss Flora also played "Safe in the Arms of Jesus". The late Mrs. Smith is survived by one daughter, Mrs. A. M. Smith, and one grandson, Colin Smith, and one brother, Mr. Thos. Benjamin, of Western Canada. The many beautiful floral tributes were a testimony of the high esteem in which Mrs. Smith was held by her many friends. The pall bearers were three nephews, Melville Smith, Percy Wright, Roy Benjamin and Frank Smith, a friend of the family. The flower bearers were J. L. F. Sproule, Herb Sly, Ed. Joyner, J. D. Shibley.—All are sorry to hear that little Reta Sproule, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. M. Sproule, who is in Kingston General Hospital from a severe attack of Erysipelas, is not improving very rapidly.—Little Ray Revell, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Revell, is a patient in the Kingston Hospital.—Mr. and Mrs. Norman Frizzell have moved to this place from Morven. Mr. Frizzell being employed by Mr. F. J. Gates, on the highway. — Mrs. Jessie Morley, of Kingston, has returned home, after spending a few days with Mrs. Frank Morley. — Mr. and Mrs. Bert Walters and daughter, have returned to Windsor, after spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shillington. Also Mrs. Verna Shillington, school teacher of Toronto, is home for the holidays. —Mr. Raymond Card spent Sunday afternoon at Ross Revell's. — Mrs. Herbert Hyo and children, Dorothy and Leslie, are at Mrs. Chas. Duberry's, for a time.—Mrs. Frank Biddulph and daughter, Ivy, have returned from the States, after spending a week in Uncle Sam's domain. — Mrs. Patterson, of Sharbot Lake, is with her father, James Cassell, in the absence of her mother, who is in Hamilton, with her daughter, Mrs. Bryant. —Mr. and Mrs. Howard McKenzie and daughter, Betty June, have returned to Toronto, after spending a week at Mr. D. Roblin's. Also Mr. and Mrs. Gillies, of Hamilton, spent a week at Mr. D. Roblin's, recently.—Mrs. F. J. Gates was called to Hartington on Wednesday, owing to the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Carlton. — Berry picking seems to be the order of the day, and all report a fair crop.—Mrs. Norman Frizzell and Miss Nellie Lockwood called on Mrs. Ross Revell, on Thursday. Also Miss Corleen Lockwood spent last Sunday afternoon with her sister, Mrs. Ross Revell.—Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Baker and family have returned to Tamworth, after spending some time here the guests of their niece, Mrs. Revell.—Mrs. Ethel Ames and son, Elston, also Mr. Delbert Ames, called on Mrs. A. AVIATION IN CANADA

GOVERNMENT WILL HELP AIR-PLANE CLUBS.

On Account of Great Distances This Country Stands to Reap Great Advantages From Use of the Light Airplane.

Canada, with its virile population of ten millions occupying a country greater in size than the United States, is peculiarly suited and responsive to aviation development, says a writer in the Montreal Star. Canada probably has a greater proportion of trained aviators in its population than any country in the world, due largely to the ten thousand young Canadians who formed the backbone of the Royal Air Force during the Great War, and on account of the great distances and great new mining development stands to reap great advantage from a general us of the light airplane.

The Federal Government, realizing the importance of Canada having a large number of properly qualified pilots, have given material encouragement to the formation of the Light Airplane Clubs. For every airplane purchased by a club, the Government gives another. It will also give the club a $100 cash bonus for every certificated pupil turned out.

There is a light airplane specially designed for the private owner. It costs less than $5,000, and has a speed of 100 miles an hour. It carries two passengers and 100 pounds of luggage, and does 22 miles to the gallon. It costs $2.85 per 100 miles to operate, and this includes depreciation charges. Other advantages are that it goes 400 miles without refuelling, and can be parked in any garage as it folds into a 10-foot space.

This particular light airplane has proved itself practically fool proof—safety has been the prime consideration in its construction. With one of these air chariots a Montreal business man could leave his office at four p.m. on a summer afternoon and alight at the door of his own home in Murray Bay in time for seven o'clock dinner with his family.

The ardent fisherman could wing his way to the most remote lakes without loss of time. Great distances of waste land such as predominate in northern Ontario could be traversed quickly; Manitoba and Ontario could be brought close together. The light airplane would develop a closer intimacy between the people of eastern and western Ontario.

"We picked out a poor spot for our camp."
"How's that?"
"Too damp for comfort. Not damp enough for fish."

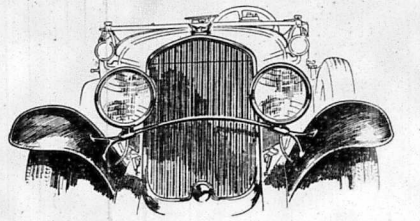
New Styles..New Values which compel readjustments of all price classes



CHRYSLER

THE more closely you judge the new Chrysler "65" and "75" by the highest standards of good taste and lavish beauty, the more apparent it will be that Chrysler Standardized Quality makes possible value-giving which compels readjustment of offerings in every price division of the industry up to the very highest.

Each has brought into its particular price class richness and beauty which were not there before.

Each gives its owner entrance into a new world of smartness and social distinction.

Each enables him to motor in an environment of luxury impossible at any such investment heretofore.

You find in the new Chrysler "65" and "75" steel-quality, body-quality, quality-of-finish, upholstery-quality, hardware-quality, engine-quality, accessory-quality, richness of beauty and design which vie with, and even surpass, the standards often costing many hundreds of dollars more.

The field is filled with good-looking motor cars—but here is symmetry and charm that you know instinctively must leap at once into authoritative leadership.

New Chrysler "65" Prices—Royal Coupe, $1325; Roadster (with rumble seat), $1350; 2-door Sedan, $1360; Touring Car, $1370; 4-door Sedan $1460; Coupe (with rumble seat), $1460.

New Chrysler "75" Prices—Royal Sedan, $1585; 2-passenger Coupe (with rumble seat), $1585; Roadster (with rumble seat), $2010; Town and Sedan, $2125. Five wheels extra. All prices f.o.b. Windsor, Ontario, including standard factory equipment; freight and taxes extra.

DENBIGH

(For last week).

The continued heavy rains have put the roads in a bad condition, as well as damaging the hay crop.—Denbigh is being placed permanently on "the map" by the steadily increasing number of tourists who declare it to be an ideal location. Its many beautiful lakes with abundance of fish, combined with the grand and picturesque scenery, are all that one could desire. There is plenty of public and private accommodation. — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Adams and baby Robert, of Peterboro', have returned home, after a two weeks' visit with Dr. and Mrs. Adams. —Rev. H. B. and Mrs. Herrington and daughter, Lucile, who spent two very enjoyable weeks in and around Denbigh, left for their home at Warsaw last Friday. Mr. Herrington is somewhat of an expert in fishing, as many fine bass could testify.—Carl Plotz, accompanied by R. Pritsch, Otto Kleim and Rev. P. A. Scott, made a flying trip to Napanee last Friday, returning on Saturday.—The lawn social given by the Ladies' Aid last week was a splendid success. Many thanks to Rev. and Mrs. Herrington and Lucile, who assisted in the program to the delight of all.—Mr. Herrington preached a very fine sermon Sunday night in the United Church, while Mrs. Herrington delighted the congregation by singing most beautifully hymn 393, Canadian Hymnal. — Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Thompson motored to Kingston on Friday, visiting relatives on the way. They returned Tuesday evening. —Mr. Phil. Plotz and son, Oscar, motored to Kingston on Saturday, returning on Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. Plotz, who has been in the General Hospital for treatment a few weeks, and Mrs. Minnie Easton, of Cleveland, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Plitz, while in the hospital. Mrs. Easton will visit her many friends and relatives in Denbigh, her former home, before returning. — Mr. and Mrs. Chelans Ball and little Marjorie, of Oswego, N.Y., are spending their vacation with Mr. Ball's father and mother, at Vennachar; and with Mrs. Balls' mother and other relatives in Denbigh.—Mrs. E. A. Hammond and son, Wesley, Toronto, are enjoying a visit with Mrs. Faulk, of the Faulk Home.—Messrs. Best and Ament have been doing an extensive business during the last two weeks, selling and installing lightning rods in and around Denbigh.—Mr. Rudolph Waggner, of Saratoga, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Gleaser and other relatives.—Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Tinhiam, of New York, are spending a few weeks at the home of Mrs. Finnian's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rodgers, Swamp Road. — Mrs. Billy Rahm, accompanied by her sister, Miss Barrager, returned home from Toronto, where she had been visiting a few days.—Invitations are out announcing the wedding of Mr. Wm. E. McCausland, of Cloyne, and Miss Anna Helena Stein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stein, Denbigh, the wedding to take place August 31st, at the home of the bride's parents.—Messrs. Sam Lane, Art Ready and Hugh Dunn, of Toronto, are enjoying a holiday with friends and relatives in the village.—Mr. Wm. Gleaser and family, of the "Soo", are expected in Denbigh this week to renew acquaintances and visit relatives. —Mr. John Wilson, Napanee's "whirlwind" real estate and business man, with his wife and family, accompanied by Mr. Carman Dale and mother, Mrs. Dale, spent two or three days in Denbigh, on a pleasure trip. They were greatly pleased with the beautiful scenery. Incidentally they called on Rev. and Mrs. Scott, at the new parsonage, and were pleasantly surprised at the convenient, well finished, and well laid out building. — Dr. Wilson, Dentist, of Perth, accompanied by Mrs. Simpson, of Toronto, spent a couple of days in Denbigh on professional work. —Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Klein, on August 7th, a son; born, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gleaser, on August 8th, a daughter. All happy and doing well.—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Petzold motored to Renfrew last week, and spent a couple of days on business and pleasure.

"Come and see my car; it's unique," said Jones. I went. I must admit it seemed to me a perfectly ordinary four-seater.

"What is there unique about it?" asked Jones.

"It's paid for."

YARKER SOUTH

(For last week.)

Mr. Benjamin Davy returned to his home on Sunday, after spending a week with his nephew, Cassen Davy.—Miss Annie Love, of Peterboro, arrived home on Saturday night to spend two weeks' vacation at home here.—Miss Lizzie Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Huff, of Wilton, on Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. John Lockhart, of Yarker, and Mrs. Lockhart's niece, Miss Enterprise, called one day last week.—Mr. Cassen Davy's, — Miss Ada Salisbury, of Kingston, spent Sunday with her father here. — Mr. and Mrs. Lee and Annie spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Martha Lee and Mrs. John Robinson, of Camden East; Mr. Will and Hazel, of Perth Road, and Mr. Edgar Torbett and Dorothy, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Harold Huff.—Mr. and Mrs. Chester Love and Mr. and Mrs. Carman Ashley were Sunday visitors at Cassen Davey's.—Miss Ruby Garrison, of Kingston, is spending a few weeks with her cousin, Gladys Wilson.—Several from here attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Joshua Switzer, at Yarker, on Tuesday last.

I have recently been reading the Rev. W. B. Money's "Humours of a Parish," a book chock full of good stories, and most of them new ones.

One of the best refers to a ludicrous incident at a baptism. When the parson poured the water on the baby, it opened its eyes, looked at him, and said:

"Here! Hold hard! What are you up to?"

The explanation was that the child, though very small, was old enough to talk, and had been dressed up in long clothes by the parents to conceal the delay in baptism.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Life's a comic business. Before the war I was a professional elephant hunter."

"Really! And what are you doing now?"

"Trying to sell insect powder."

Worms sap the strength and undermine the vitality of children. Strengthen them by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator to drive out the parasites.

Young Husband—I can't stand this suspense any longer!

Medical Man—Calm yourself, my dear sir. I've brought thousands of babies into the world and never lost a father yet.

Hard and soft corns both yield to Holloway's Corn Remover, which is entirely safe to use, and certain and satisfactory in its action.

"You look dejected."

"Yes, married life gets on my nerves."

"Been married long?"

"No. The wedding takes place tomorrow."

It Will Prevent Ulcerated Throat.—At the first symptoms of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

"I knew a man who lived very simply but brought his son up well. The son became a poet and is considered a genius."

"Who was the old man?"

"My father."

Rub it in for Lame Back.—A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will relieve lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the liniment sinks in, the pain comes out and there are ample grounds for saying that it is an excellent article.

The young married couple were having a disagreement while awaiting lunch at a modest Soho eating house. The woman was grumbling because they were unable to afford the luxurious restaurants which had been a feature of their honeymoon.

"You can't have a brass band everywhere you go," said the man crossly.

"Oh, yes, I can," snapped his wife. "I've got it with me now—on my finger."

Miller's Worm Powders act so thoroughly that stomachic and intestinal worms pass from the child without being noticed and without inconvenience to the sufferer. They are painless and perfect in action and at all times will be found a healthy medicine, strengthening the infantile stomach and maintaining it in vigorous operation, so that besides being an effective vermifuge, they are tonical and health-giving in their effects.

Eloise is a dear little girl who decided to go in for welfare work.

So she came home and explained to her mother that she had made 40 calls on poor people.

"Do you mean to say you saw 40 people in one day?"

"I didn't see all of them, mother. At some places I left cards."

Cause of Asthma. No one can say with certainty exactly what causes the establishing of asthmatic conditions. Dust from the street, from flowers, from grain and various other irritants may set up a trouble impossible to irradicate except through a sure preparation such as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Uncertainty may exist as to cause, but there can be no uncertainty regarding a remedy which has freed a generation of asthmatic victims from this scourge of the bronchial tubes. It is sold everywhere.

BICKNELL'S CORNERS

(For last week).

The weather has been quite warm, with very heavy rains and thunder storms.—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bates, of Toronto, spent a few days with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McGuire. — Miss Bessie Hart, of Belleville, spent the week end with her friend, Miss Doris Rikley.—Miss Frances Love, of Chicago, is spending her holidays with her aunt, Mrs. Andrew Magee. — Mr. and Mrs. Wickett, of Belleville, spent the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brooks.

BRITAIN'S NEW AREA RICH

Great "No Man's Land" of South Africa Visited by Inspector—Water to Be Had.

Visions of rich farming country and unexplored trade routes have become reality as a result of an epic journey across the Kalahari Desert just accomplished by Sub-Inspector Beeching of the Bechuanaland police. This officer is the first man to cross the great "No Man's Land" of South Africa.

It has long been realized that a well-watered route across the desert would mean that good cattle country to the southwest of Lake Ngami could be exploited. Boer farmers who trekked there long ago raised fine herds of cattle, but they were unable to find a practicable route to the Bechuanaland Railway line on the borders of the territory. The recognized route to Lake Ngami means a roundabout journey with water holes few and far between.

So the Bechuanaland authorities decided to explore this unmapped country, the home of wandering natives and bushmen, so primitive that they have never caught a glimpse of civilization. Sub-Inspector Beeching received a letter at his lonely post of Ghanzi instructing him to proceed north to Ghanzi and then to strike across the desert to Metsemalilk. He looked at the large scale map in the police office and found to his dismay a blank space between the two places. Orders from police headquarters explained that the object of the trek was to establish a well-watered route as a short cut across the desert. Beeching, with years of experience in the desert, saw the importance of the journey and did not question the danger. With his native corporal, a few policemen and a caravan of camels and oxen he started out into the wilderness of sand.

Very soon, however, he found that it had been raining in the desert. There was enough water in the "pans" he encountered for his men and animals, and wild Tsama melon supplied the expedition with fresh food. Beaching wrote in his diary: "I am sure that excellent dams could be made capable of holding water for months." There were many limestone deposits indicating water below the surface.

Fifteen days after the start Beeching came across the first signs of life —a bushman village. It was deserted, but fires were burning in the huts. The natives had evidently been scared at the approach of the exploring party.

It was heavy work, this trek across the thick sand, and the party averaged two miles an hour. Huge fires were lit at night to scare away the lions. Several parties of bushmen were found and interrogated, but Beeching found them very shy and unfriendly. They carried bows and arrows and refused to guide the expeditions for any distance.

The journey of 240 miles was completed in twenty-three days, when Sub-Inspector Beeching reached Metsemalilk, a small outpost eighty miles from Gaberones, on the railway line.

Wells are to be sunk all along the route surveyed by Beeching and a motor lorry with caterpillar wheels will be used to explore the surrounding territory. There is every indication that a region hitherto regarded as waterless will become a great national asset.

The M.P. and the Match.

Mr. D. M. Cowan, M.P., a Scottish Liberal, was the centre of an incident in the House of Commons recently which made members sit up and rub their eyes with amazement. Mr. Cowan abstractedly put his hand in his pocket, produced a pipe, and put it in his mouth. A moment later he produced matches, and a point of light which startled the House appeared as he struck one of them. His neighbor seized him by the arm. Mr. Cowan, startled from his far-away dream, was inclined to be indignant. He turned towards Mr. Morris for a moment as if to demand an explanation of such rude conduct. Then in a flash he realized where he was. He hurriedly dropped the lighted match on the floor and trampled on it. His pipe disappeared with equal rapidity.

Cause of Great Many Deaths.

A veteran of the fiercest fighting in France tripped on a shoe string, fell headlong, and broke his neck. A steeplejack who had just performed breathtaking feats on a skyscraper stumbled on a curbstone and was crippled for life. Latest statistics, reported in Popular Science Monthly, show that the average man's chances of being injured by a fall are almost as great as of being maimed by an automobile.

Of 22,000 accidents outside of industry, 6,647 were caused by automobiles, 4,524 by falls. Next came injuries in sports, 4,452. Seventy-three were hurt getting in or out of bed, and sixty-four suffered from falls in bathtubs.

Blind Cricketers.

The ball used in a cricket match between the East London Home and the School for the Blind Children and the Royal Normal College for the Blind, Norwood, England, was made of basket work, with a bell in the centre. The blind bowler first measured the pitch by pacing along it. Each batsman was allowed two innings.

Onto Him.

Wifey—So you were detained at the office by a will case?

Hubby—Yes, dear; a consultation with the heir.

Wifey—Yes, I see you brought it home with you on your shoulder. She was a blonde, I notice.

The Longest Word.

"Which is the longest word in the English language?" asks a correspondent. The Humorist suggests that it is the word "but," because, when once a man's wife mentions it, it is a long time before he hears the end of it.

Hunt's delicious Chocolates are fast becoming Canada's most popular candy. In Toronto over 25 stores are necessary to meet the increasing demand. Priced at 60c. a lb. (60c. for the family box). They are equal to any package at any price. For sale in Napanee only at Wallace's.

LURE OF GRETNA GREEN.

There Has Been a Sudden Boom In Romance at Blacksmith's Shop.

There has been a sudden boom in romance at Gretna Green in spite of its growing modern surroundings.

The River Sark continues, as of old, to be the all-safe signal for runaway couples, as, in its tortuous windings, it traces the border line between England and Scotland and dreamily whispers over its countless white pebbles and around the old blacksmith's shop, whose walls are now garlanded with age.

The smithy still remains a spot where the romantic can conjure up visions of beruffled gallants, prancing horses, furtive glances from the closely-hooded faces of fair maidens and irate fathers.

Mr. Richard Rennison, who succeeded to the post of blacksmith-priest last October, told me that last month he married sixteen couples. He said:

"This is a record for the last 100 years as far as I can discover. I married four couples in one day. That was during the Easter rush. Since last October I have married seventy couples.

"It takes only a few moments, I ask them if they are both single and if one of them has lived in Scotland for 21 days.

"I have received a number of letters recently asking if dates can be fixed for ceremonies. My answer is a marriage is £1, including witnesses.

"Usually people just call without giving notice. Not long ago an Edinburgh doctor and his fiance called to look round the forge. They mentioned nothing about marriage, but just took the ordinary tourist's interest in the relics, and then suddenly the doctor asked, 'Can we be married now?'

"I said they could if he had lived in Scotland for seven days. When he said they both came from Edinburgh I married them."

Runaways still make for Gretna Green. Recently a guardian chased his runaway Australian ward and her lover from the Highlands in a taxicab to prevent their marriage at Gretna Green. Having the advantage of the modern telegraph service he was successful.

One couple were married with the aid of a flash lamp at nine o'clock one dark night, as there is not artificial light in the old forge. They had travelled by train from Leith, rallied at Gretna, were married at the smithy, and then caught a train to Newcastle.

A millionaire's son from the south of England drove up to the smithy in a luxurious motor-car and was married over the anvil. He left a £5 note.

The old smithy has been turned into a museum as well as a marriage bureau with a turnstile which last year recorded 20,000 visitors.

BRITAIN'S DEEPEST LOCH.

Loch Morar, Northeast of Arisaig, Is Deepest Loch In British Isles.

Northeast of Arisaig, in the country ever associated with the landing and departure of Prince Charlie—in a region that, till the opening of the Mallaig Railway, was among the most sequestered in Scotland—lies Loch Morar. It is the deepest lake not only in Scotland, but in the British Isles.

For a long time the distinction of being the deepest loch was accorded to Loch Ness, and it was not till 1879 that it was shown that Loch Morar was over 1,000 feet in depth, compared with the 751 feet of Loch Ness.

Other surveys of the loch revealed varying depths over 1,000 feet, till in 1902 the maximum depth, taken by wire rope, was ascertained to be 17 feet over the 1,000. Next to Loch Morar, the deepest Scottish lochs are, in order, Ness, Lomond, Lochy, Ericht, and Tay.

To appreciate fully the great depression filled by the waters of Loch Morar, it is necessary to point out that west of Morar, in the sea, there is no depth approaching 1,000 feet, the nearest being one "pot" of over 800 feet between Rum and Skye. There is no depth like it in the North Sea. To get a depth of 1,000 feet it is necessary to sail beyond Ireland and St. Kilda right out into the Atlantic.

Snapping the South Pole.

Photography is to play an important part in the South Polar flight to be made by Commander Byrd. Two special automatic cameras are being constructed, one to take pictures of the sun as an aid to navigation, and the other to record each mile of the flight.

While the flight is in progress the first camera will automatically develop and deliver strips of film. The second camera will be attached to the fuselage of the plane and will follow the path to the Pole, recording from a height of 5,000 feet, a strip of the Polar plateau eight miles in width.

Positive Proof.

A lady is said to have remarked to Lord Chesterfield that the French were more polite than the English. Lord Chesterfield not agree.

"But," said the lady, "the English themselves admit it."

"That," replied Lord Chesterfield, "is precisely proof of their greater politeness."—Christian Science Monitor.

An Egg Mystery.

An Old Country woman who bought an imported egg found on breaking it open that it was full of sand and small pieces of paper printed in a foreign language. When she bought the egg the shell seemed quite intact.

Australia Purchases 'Planes.

The Federal Government of Australia has ordered 34 Moth airplanes for the Australian Air Force. Twenty of these are to be built in Britain, as well as all the engines. The others will be constructed in Australia.

Mrs. Gnaggs—"This is the end. I can live with you no longer."

Mr. Gnaggs—"Yes, I guess it is all over but the shooting."

"How is your friend who wrote 'The Perfect Pedestrian'?"

"He was killed by a motor car."

THE FASTEST THING.

What Can Happen In a Single Eye-Wink.

The fastest thing that any man can do is to wink his eye. The instinctive re-action of winking when a cinder blows into the eye is about one-tenth of a second for most people. In that flash of time, an automobile speeding 60 miles an hour will move nearly 10 feet. A fast airplane will move more than twenty-five feet. Thus, the pilot can run into a small bird after he has first seen it before he can wing his eye against the expected shock, writes E. E. Free in Popular Science Monthly.

Some months ago, a workman fell out of the fifteenth floor of a building in course of construction in New York City. On the thirteenth floor he grabbed a rope hanging from a scaffold and swung himself in on the twelfth floor, saving his life. He afterwards confessed that he was as much astonished by his act as anyone who saw him.

The explanation is that the fall of 20 or 25 feet before he grabbed the rope occupied about one second and a quarter, which was time enough for his thinking machinery to issue the orders which made his muscles take hold of the rope below at the proper instant. Had he been placed in equal danger while driving an automobile at 60 miles an hour he would have been killed.

Tests with a group of typical automobile drivers have shown that the average time needed to see a danger signal, realize its meaning and begin to press the brake level is a little more than half a second. In that time, a car travelling 40 miles an hour would move 30 feet. That distance represents the minimum margin of safety the driver must maintain to avoid accident.

As speeds increase, no remedy for the advancing number of accidents will be found in stricter driving tests or improved warning signals. Devices will have to be found speedier than the human nervous system.

One such possibility is the photo-electric cell. It can react to a light signal in less than one ten-thousandth of a second. Perhaps speeding automobiles and aircraft may some day be equipped with these lightning-like electric eyes, so that collisions can be avoided and speeds checked automatically before the human pilot even has time for his tenth-of-a-second wink, let alone for any kind of thought.

REAPED $100,000.

Government's Rake-Off In One Day From Gambling.

More than $100,000 was reaped by the French Government and the administration of the Casino of the Theatre at Le Touquet as the result of the amazing night of play at the baccarat tables recently.

This sum, which beats every record ever made at Le Touquet for a night's play, was taken by the box into which is paid 5 per cent. of the winnings of the players taking the banks.

The bets made during the night by the bankers and the players betting against them must have amounted to something between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000.

The casino's profits are used to improve Le Touquet. More than $80,000 has been promised towards the construction of a branch railway which it is proposed to build between Le Touquet and Etaples, thus linking the resort with Paris and Boulogne.

The casino is to help in financing the construction of a harbor which will permit millionaires' yachts to anchor at this pleasure resort.

A new 18-holes golf course is also to be constructed close to the racecourse.

Nearly all the best villas, for which the rents average more than $2,500 for the season, have been taken. Some of them cost more than $5,000 for the three or four months.

Collection of Odd Coins.

Coins and currency once valued at millions of dollars make up the collection of Cere C. Standford of Gregory, S.D., and shown in London, England recently. The currency is worthless now, except to collectors. The most valuable piece in the collection was taken from ruins at Pompeii.

One piece of Austrian currency, worth at one time $500,000, is in the collection.

In United States gold coins, Standford has $2 and $5 cents in single pieces, a 50-cent and 25-cent gold coin. He has U. S. paper money in 50-cent, 25-cent and 10-cent denominations.

A silver piece in the collection is one of three peace medals given by the United States to India, chiefs in 1871. He has an Egyptian coin with the figure of the sacred cow. Money used in Hong Kong has a Chinese emblem on one side and Queen Victoria on the other. Coins from the Philippines have Spanish inscriptions on one side and English on the other.

Twenty-Four Tons at a Bite.

An electric power-shovel with a dipper that will gouge out nearly twenty-four tons of earth in one bite is to be used in the open pit mining of coal in Illinois, United States.

The shovel boom is 120 feet long and the dipper stick 82 feet long. Material can be lifted to a height of from 90 feet to 100 feet, and deposited over a radius of 150 feet from the centre of operation. Only one man is needed to control the shovel, which is worked by three hand levers and one foot pedal.

Fruit In Briquet Form.

Karl Hessel, a German engineer who has devoted his life to the study of fruit and vegetable chemistry has developed a method of preserving whereby fruits and vegetables are reduced to dry powder, which is pressed into a briquet. In preparing for use, the briquet is dissolved in water and the substance and taste are revived.

The vicar was having a shave, and the barber, who had been drinking, cut him rather badly.

"It's the cursed drink, I suppose?" exclaimed the vicar, sharply.

"Yes, sir," replied the barber, "it does make the skin very tender."

"For every hundred novels published in Victorian days we now have a thousand." But, of course, when Queen Victoria was alive Edgar Wallace had scarcely got into his swing.

Mr. Albert Close, London, Eng. To Lecture in Napanee.

Mr. Albert Close, who is to lecture on Monday evening, in St. Andrew's United Church, is one of Napanee's old boys, who has made a name for himself in England. He is a cartographer whose work lies in charting the sea coast around the British Isles, and in issuing maps of these waters. His maps and charts are the standard for the mariners of Britain. During the war his knowledge of the sea coast was invaluable to the Admiralty, and he was freely drawn upon to assist in the work of checking the submarine menace. Mr. Close was the original inventor of the submarine net which did so much to save the Empire. At present Mr. Close is charting the Atlantic seaboard from Cape Cod to Labrador, and in between has taken time to visit his old home and renew acquaintances. Besides being a cartographer, Mr. Close is the author of many books and pamphlets, and is a constant writer for British papers. He writes with much knowledge and insight on religious matter as well as more technical subjects. Mr. Close, who is lecturing this week in Toronto, has been persuaded by his friends here who want to hear something of his work, to give a lecture in Napanee. He will speak in St. Andrew's Church, on Monday, August 27th, at 7.30 p.m. The lecture will be accompanied by a number of unique and beautiful slides. No admission will be charged, and it is hoped a great number will be present to hear one of our own community whose worth has been recognized in the capital of the British Empire.

What Other People Think.

The following is an extract from a letter received by one of our townsmen from a tourist who passed through Napanee :—"When driving through Eastern Ontario to Quebec City and back on the American side, our comment upon return was that Napanee was the nicest looking town in the entire trip. Everything was clean, well kept, and as every member of the party stated, it is a town they would like to live in if they had an opportunity.

O. A. C. Scholarship.

$100 in cash is offered as a Scholarship to a farmer's son from Lennox and Addington entering September 21st in the regular Course at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. Selection is to be made by a committee consisting of the Warden, Agricultural Representative and one other. Applications will be received from all farmer's sons in the County who have taken a Four Weeks' Course in Agriculture or taken up Agriculture in a High School. Everyone interested in this should notify J. Laughland, Napanee, immediately. 34a

The Date is Tuesday, August 28th.

Every man in this town and vicinity who is interested in being dressed at a moderate cost will welcome the annual visit of Tip Top Tailors' head-office representative to this store. Mr. Chas. Rafelmore will bring with him a complete display of the new fabrics, as well as actual finished garments from which you may judge the quality and appearance of Tip Top one-price clothes. He will show you the complete style range of the New Fall and Winter Tip Top Suits and Overcoats. Remember no matter which fabric or style you select, Tip Top Clothes are all one price, $24.00, tailored to your measure. The world's largest one-price tailoring organization stands behind every garment it produces. Remember the date, Tuesday, August 28th.

WEDDING BELLS

Carroll—Donevan.

A very pretty wedding took place at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, July 10th, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary E. Carroll, Tamworth, when her only daughter, Jane Gertrude Carroll, was united in marriage to Clarence Wm. Donevan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Donevan, of Ontario, N.Y. In the presence of immediate relatives the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Morgan, of Christ Church. The bride's dress was white satin, with slippers and hat to match. She wore the groom's gift, a pearl necklace; the gift to the groom was a signet ring, and to the bride was an Oxford Whippet, a gift from the bride's mother, and a purse of money. On the 11th, they left for their honeymoon trip, the bride traveling in a blue georgette trimmed with orange blossoms. They will motor through Richland and State of New York, and then home. They will settle where the groom runs a fruit farm in Ontario, N.Y.

Scanlin—Kearney.

A scene of exquisite beauty was manifested at St. Edward's Church, Westport, on August 15th, when Lucy Marie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kearney, became the bride of James J. Scanlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Scanlin, of Tamworth. Rev. Fr. Kearney, C.S.S.R., of St. John's, N.B., a brother of the bride, performed the impressive ceremony, while present in the Sanctuary were Rev. Fr. McKiernan and Rev. Fr. Foley. During the Mass, Mrs. Harry McNally most effectively rendered several appropriate hymns.

The bride was charmingly gowned in beige lace over satin charmeuse, with large picture hat and corresponding shoes and hose. Bridal roses and maiden hair fern were used to fashion her corsage bouquet, which adequately completed her enhancing costume.

Miss Beatrice Deans, cousin of the groom, attended the bride, daintily attired in orchid georgette with harmonizing hat and slippers, and carried an attractive bouquet of orchid, sweet peas and maiden hair fern.

Dr. Kearney, of New York City, another brother of the bride, was the groom's efficient attendant.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and the immediate relatives repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where they participated in a sumptuous repast.

At the close of the nuptial festivities the bride donned her travelling costume, a handsome frock of imported French blue crepe, and a lustrous coat modelled in fur fabric, and other matching accessories.

After an extended motor trip thru American points, Mr. and Mrs. Scanlin will be at home to friends in Tamworth.

—At Napanee, on the 13th August, Rev. A. J. Wilson united in marriage Annie Elsie Scilley, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scilly, to Victor Nelson Miller, second son of Mrs. Miller, and the late Mr. Miller, of Newburgh. The bride wore a dress of peach georgette, with blond shoes, stockings and hat to match, and carried a bouquet of dahlias and ferns. The bridesmaid was Miss Gerald Scilley, sister of the bride; Mr. Ford Campbell was best man. We wish them many years of married life.

Important Announcement !

Albert Close, Esq., London, England, Naval and Military Cartographer and eminent Lecturer, will give his popular lecture "British Sea History Since the Reformation", illustrated with many beautiful slides, in St. Andrew's United Church, on Monday, August 27th, at 7.30 p.m. This is a unique opportunity to listen to a distinguished visitor from England. He is Author of "The Naval War Chart", "The Truth About Jutland", "The Dover Patrol Naval Operations", etc. etc. No admission will be charged. All are invited to the lecture.

BATH INSTITUTE

The August meeting of Bath Women's Institute was held on Monday, August 13th, in the Town Hall.

The meeting opened in the usual way, and with us we had two visitors, who gave to us very interesting and beneficial matter to carry home with us.

After business proceedings, Dr. Northmore gave a wonderful talk on "Health", his theme being vitamines, the kinds, uses and where found. He stressed the value of milk and green vegetables. He stressed, too, the great value of fresh air and fresh water. Take plenty of both.

Mrs. Gordon Young gave a splendid paper and demonstration on salads. She gave the values of salads to our health, the mode of preparation of ingredients, and the preparation of dressings.

This was followed by an interesting demonstration.

Votes of thanks were passed to Dr. Northmore and Mrs. Young.

Mrs. Galt gave a splendid report on Current Events.

A discussion was raised concerning a "Sports' Day" for Bath and the surrounding country. The date was fixed as the 14th Sept. The programme is to be in the form of a dress parade, a sports field, with music from a local brass band. Also a booth was planned for. Full particulars will be advertised in the columns of this paper later.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. F. Collins on Sept. 10th, at 1.30 p.m. Don't forget the change of time. The programme will consist of Roll Call, Candy Recipe Contest, Home Made Candy, Paper by Mrs. Hagerman. Come and bring your dish of candy.

The meeting closed with singing the National Anthem.

DORLAND

Threshing is progressing quite briskly these days, which may keep many from attending the Napanee Fair.—There were several showers last week, but they seldom covered much space; a half mile from where it was raining heavily the dust was not laid.—The community was saddened by the death early on Friday of Mr. Harold Ruttan. The funeral service was held on Saturday afternoon. The bereaved family have the sympathy of everyone. — Mr. Stephen Mack received a message from Toronto on Saturday evening stating that his brother was in a very critical condition. He started for Toronto immediately, accompanied by Messrs. John Mack and James Franklin. — Mr. Robt. Foster, of Ottawa, is the guest of his son, F. E. Foster — Mr. Lewis, of Toronto, is spending a few days at the home of Mr. J. J. Bird. — We are glad to report that Mrs. B. Humphrey, who has been seriously ill, is convalescent.—Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kirkpatrick, of London, Ont., are renewing acquaintances. — Mrs. Herman John and children have returned, after visiting relatives in Belleville and Denbigh.

ALBERT CLOSE LECTURES IN ST. ANDREW'S

On Monday evening a large audience met in St. Andrew's Church to hear Mr. Albert Close. Mr. Close, who was formerly of Napanee, has been for twenty-eight years in London, England. His work there is in connection with the fishing grounds around the British Isles. He charts the underwater conditions and makes and publishes maps which are in general use by the mariners.

Mr. Close gave a very interesting and educative account of the work in which he is engaged. His lecture, which was accompanied by original lantern slides, was divided into two parts. The first dealt with the conditions existing since the reformation, and the relationship of the Jesuit order to present day movements. Incidentally Mr. Close gave an intimate insight into the rejection of the revised Prayer Book by the House of Commons.

The second part of the lecture gave the "British navy history since the Reformation". By means of charts and maps, Mr. Close showed the Battle of Trafalgar, the defeat of the Spanish Armada, the Battle of Jutland, and the scuttling of the German fleet at Scappa Flow. This has been very educational about what really happened at Jutland. Mr. Close had the facts and figures and gave in very clear terms a statement of the real conditions on the day of the battle. He read letters from the three admirals then in command in this connection, all of whom commended him for his original work and his accuracy. The letters were Admiral Jellicoe, Admiral Bacon and Admiral J. G. T. Tarper.

Another interesting piece of work shown by Mr. Close was his map of the disposition of the troops on the Western front from March to August, 1918, which was made from official and secret records of General Haig, based on a sketch which General Haig sent to Mr. Close personally, and which Mr. Close had with him for the inspection of the audience.

His intimate knowledge of men in political life in England, his accurate information about great matters and land movements in the last war and other wars, was a revelation to the audience.

At the close of the lecture Mrs. Close, a gifted English woman, who is visiting this country for the first time, charmed the audience by singing "Home, Sweet Home".

Mr. Close leaves this week for Ottawa, where he is arranging for the publication of maps which he is at present preparing of the Eastern Canadian seaboard. It is needless to say that Napanee was pleased to hear one of her own citizens, and extends to him and his wife all best wishes as they leave for their home in London.

ALEX. MILLS KILLED ON THE HIGHWAY NEAR MARYSVILLE

Alexander Mills, aged 55 years, a resident of Morven, was instantly killed at Marysville on Sunday afternoon, shortly after six o'clock, when the car in which he was driving left the road and struck a tree head-on at the turn opposite McCauley's gasoline station. His wife, who was riding beside him in the front seat, sustained a fracture of the right arm and scratches and bruises. She was taken to her home, where she is reported to be resting comfortably.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills had been visiting a son at Oshawa, and were returning home. It is stated that he was endeavoring to reach home in order to perform several chores before dark, although eye-witnesses state that he was not travelling fast at the time of the accident. He had purchased the car, a new Ford sedan, only a few days ago, and was unaccustomed to the road over which he was travelling, and from all accounts when the motor headed for the ditch he lost control completely.

The radiator struck the tree with full force and the unfortunate man was hurled against the steering wheel, his chest was crushed just above the heart and he passed away within a few minutes. The radiator of the car was badly damaged in the crash. Hundreds congregated at the scene and the remains were taken from the car to await the arrival of the Coroner. Dr. Sargeant, of Shannonville, was called but he was absent from his home, and Dr. Boyce, of Belleville, was summoned. The latter ordered an inquest, and a jury was immediately empanelled by Sergeant Clarke, of the Provincial Police, who investigated. After viewing the body, the hearing was adjourned until September 10th, at Marysville.

Mr. Mills had a wide circle of friends who were shocked to learn of his sudden death. Besides his wife he leaves several children, all away from home. The funeral takes place this (Wednesday) afternoon, service will be held at the White Church, Morven, at 2.30 o'clock. It is understood that Mr. Mills was unaccustomed to driving a car, which accounts for the crash.

This accident was the third within ten days at this identical spot. Dr. Samuel McAvoy, of Lonsdale, was the first physician to arrive on the scene, but life was extinct on his arrival.

ODESSA

Among those who left last Monday on the Harvesters' excursion West were Harvey Smith, Morley O'Neil, Vaughn Moore, Ford Sharp, Leslie McConnell, Bert Denyes and Harvey Reid.

The new show room and pastry store that is nearing completion in front of the local bakery, has added wonderfully to its appearance, and all hope that our local baker, Mr. Smeathers, will be benefited by it.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lee, Rochester, are guests of the former's sister, Mrs. T. C. Graham.

Mrs. Wilson, of Watertown, is holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Graham and other relatives.

Dr. Curtis Asselstine and Mrs. Asselstine, Toronto, are guests of the former's aunt, Mrs. M. F. Schermerhorn.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burgess and Mr. and Mrs. M. Blue, Erie, Pennsylvania, have been guests at B. L. King's and W. E. Tephitt's.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ettinger, Kingston, spent the week end the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Smith and Mrs. Geo. Watts.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Moore and Mrs. Vaughn Moore, Watertown, spent the week end the guests of Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kilgannon. On their return home they were accompanied by their daughter, Miss Bernice Moore, who has been holidaying here for the past month.

Mrs. Rube Smith has returned from spending two weeks with relatives in Rochester.

The many friends of Philip Oswald were sorry to hear that he passed away in his home in Los Angeles, California, where he had made his home for years. His brother, B. J. Oswald, received the telegram containing the sad news Tuesday morning. The deceased was born in Chicago, but from early childhood, after his mother's death, he made his home with his uncle and aunt, the late Bernard Toomey and Miss Eliza Toomey. He spent several terms at Queen's University, and will undoubtedly be remembered by many of the students. He enjoyed very much visiting the home of his childhood and friends and had planned again to come home in September. About four years ago he and Mrs. Oswald spent some time renewing old acquaintances. To mourn his loss besides his widow, is one brother, B. J. Oswald, Odessa.

YARKER SOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. John Love and Clarence, Martha Love, and Mr. and Mrs. and Mrs. Harold Huff and Dorothy attended the family gathering at Sydenham last Monday evening in honor of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ray White, of Chicago. — Miss Ruby Davey, of Kingston, spent the week-end with her parents here.—Rev. and Mrs. A. Robinson and little Mabel, of Watrous, Sask., spent last Tuesday with her niece, Mrs. Harold Huff. — Sunday visitors at Casper Davey's were Mr. and Mrs. Carmon Ashley, Petworth; Mr. and Mrs. Kora Lee, Yarker; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartman and Mr. and Mrs. Lucas, Odessa. — Mr. and Mrs. German Wagar, Newburgh, spent an evening recently with her sister, Mrs. John Love.—Mrs. John McGroff and Mamie, of Kingston, returned home on Sunday, after spending the past two weeks with Mrs. Harold Huff.

ANOTHER SUCCESS FOR LENNOX FAIR

Rain Spoiled the Horse Races on the First Day, and Made Heavy Inroads on the Gate Receipts on the Last Day

IN ALL CLASSES THE QUALITY OF EXHIBITS WERE NEVER EXCELLED

Owing to rain on the first and last days of the Fair, the attendance of visitors was much smaller than last Wednesday and Thursday the weather was all that could be desired, and there were large crowds on the grounds morning, afternoon and night.

In addition to the fine exhibits in all classes the management was successful in securing the Royal Canadian Midway Shows, which proved very attractive to the young people—and others. Some splendid shows were given here, and the entries were better and more numerous than in former years. Expressions of regret were heard that there were no baseball games this year, but better luck may be looked for next year.

The evening entertainments were very popular. On Tuesday evening there was a Baby Show, with a large number of entries, Judges Dr. D. R. Hall and V. O. N. Nurse Gleeson, who made eight mothers happy by awarding prizes to their babies. Kinney-Wilson Company entertainment. Music by Cobourg Highlanders' Band. Fireworks.

Wednesday evening: — Entertainment, Kinney-Wilson Co., with comedy sketch, "An Old Fashioned School". Music by Kilties' Band and Fireworks; also some fine acrobatic stunts, juggling, etc.

Thursday and Friday evening programmes were by Adanac Male Quartette. Band and Fireworks.

Officers of the Society:—President, Robt. Merritt; Vice-President, W. Cranston; Second Vice-President, E. Kaylor; Secretary, J. L. Boyes; Treasurer, T. B. Wallace; In charge of Palace, T. B. Wallace; In charge of Musical Programme, Cyril Waite.

Directors—G. W. Gibbard, Rockwell Parks, Arthur Rook, W. H. Boyle, Roy Armstrong, H. Shannon, E. J. Roy, C. A. Walters, F. H. Henderson, George Switzer, T. B. Wallace, Ross Card, E. H. Sills, Frank Smith, Russell Long, J. S. Johnston, W. H. Hunter, M. P. Graham, J. Laughland, Capt. Hughson, Percy Wemp, C. W. Hambly, F. D. Marsh, J. W. Robinson.

Hon. Directors—John Hubbs, M.P., W. S. Herrington, K.C., J. G. Daly.

Hon. Lady Directors—Mrs. George Switzer, Mrs. W. A. Daly, Mrs. C. I. Mallory, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. (Dr.) Galbraith, Mrs. J. W. Robinson, Mrs. H. Shannon, Mrs. J. L. Boyes, Miss F. Johnston, Miss Thompson.

Horse Races Officials—Starter, J. S. Johnston, Dorland; Judges, James Bailey, Picton; Frank Marsh, Napanee; C. H. Boyes, Kingston; R. Loyst, Bath; Timers, James Leonard, Cobourg; G. H. Veale, Kingston.

Vegetable and Grain.

The grain and vegetable tent held many attractions and a visit there was well worth while indeed. There was to be seen some very remarkable growths of fruits of all sorts including apples, pears, etc., while carrots of unusual variety, beets, turnips, etc., formed another interesting display. Grain displays included very fine samples of oats, buckwheat, alfalfa, clover, timothy seed, etc.

Live Stock Building.

There were to be found some fine thoroughbred Hackneys, Clydesdales, Roadsters, and many other kinds. Even in the cattle exhibits were to be found Jerseys, Ayrshires, Shorthorn cattle, Herefords, and other classes. The swine display this year was a large one, and some very healthy looking specimens of the trough were to be found on exhibition.

In the Palace.

In the main building on the centre of the floor was a magnificent display of flowers, fresh fruits, preserved fruits, etc., etc. The booths were occupied by the following exhibitors:—Ladies' Fancy Work, Hogarth Art and Book Store, Hudson and Essex Cars, Wan Lueven Pianos, Connor Electric Washer, Fine Art Exhibits, Sills, Belleville; S. Anglin & Co., Kingston.

Wednesday Horse Races.

The second day of the Napanee fair was fortunate by having a fine day and a great crowd. The result of the races are as follows:—

2.27 Class—Purse, $250.

Joe McGregor, Gravelly	7	1	1	1
Dona Bell, Port Hope	1	4	4	4
Royal Knight, Toronto	8	6	2	2

The following horses also started: Minnie Patchen, Armadale, Leggo Gratten, Norine Todd, Eleanor May, Dr. Byron and Secco.

Best Time—2.13¾.

Thursday Horse Races.

Beautiful weather prevailed all day, and the very large crowds in attendance had a most enjoyable time amongst the exhibits and other attractions provided for the third day of the Fair. Judging took place on this day of single and double driving horses. The entries were numerous and many fine animals and turnouts were shown.

2.24 Class—$250

Joe McGregor, W. Hillock, Caledon	1	1	2	1

Best Time—2.10¼.

Also ran: Jim Todd, Jr.

No races on Friday, owing to rain.

THE EXHIBITS.

The following special reports of some of the finest displays at the Fair will prove interesting reading, and should repay readers for the time expended on their perusal:—

Boyle & Son.

This enterprising old firm are again in evidence at the Fair. Their most attractive booth was a source of pleasure and instruction to the crowds of visitors who viewed the display each day. The fine display of McClary products was well demonstrated by an expert of that firm. Their latest heating device, the "McClary Furnicette Junior", will "solve your difficulty if the McClary Furnacette is too large for you. The reasonable price will please you too. If you have not seen it drop into Boyle's and see it. Another fine exhibit is the new range known as "McClary's Eighty". This wonderful device not only cooks your meals, but heats your kitchen too, thus saving fuel and economising space. Every cooking and baking convenience at your finger tips. Roomy oven with nickled white "daylight" interior which does not rust and is sanitary. All flues enamelled non-rusting. There are other fine attributes which Boyle's will be pleased to show you when you call. You don't have to buy, but you likely will.

Amongst other exhibits are the artistic and useful surface heaters known as Furnacettes which are highly decorative and would ornament any room in the house. McClary's Blue Enamelware is always pleasing to the eye and of good quality.

Boyle's long experience as hardware merchants, plumbers, and steam-fitters, etc., is a guarantee of the good quality of the goods they sell and of the work they do. See them—they may solve some of your problems.

The Skitch Studio.

The booth was one of the most attractive in the Palace, and displayed the good artistic taste of the proprietor, Mr. Harry Skitch. The background was a handsome brick fireplace and mantel with fine pictures, the product of the Skitch Studio. The special feature of the display was the new moving picture camera for amateurs, and Mr. Skitch each evening gave a moving picture exhibition to the delight of all present. The Cine-Kodak is the name of the newest thing in Cameras, and to anyone who is interested with fine pictures, be pleased to tell all about it at his studio. Mr. Skitch is a graduate of the Southern School of Photography, Nashville, Tenn., and got his diploma eight years ago. Since he came here in succession to the late F. S. Richardson, he has by his artistic ability and good work, gained an enviable reputation for producing the best there is in photography.

Hogarth's.

One of the most attractive displays in the Palace was that of Mr. Hogarth, successor to "Neely's", who is carrying on the successful business of books, magazines, fine chinkware, objects of art, wallpapers, picture and room mouldings, picture framing, etc., established some years ago.

The booth was most tastefully arranged and proved a great attraction to visitors at the Fair. Mr. Hogarth made many new friends while the exhibition was in progress, and he extends a cordial invitation to the people of Napanee and the County of Lennox and Addington to visit his store and inspect his stock. If you are looking for gifts for friends at any time, just remember that Hogarth's is the "gift shop".

Mellow's Grocery.

It seems almost impossible that such ordinary everyday things like groceries can be so manipulated by "one who knows how" as to produce a really artistic effect. Yet such can be done, as was well proven by Mr. Mellow (successor to Webster's) in his charmingly arranged booth at the Fair. Canned goods and other edibles done up in cartons, in a pleasing variation of colors, are good material in the eye of an artist, as are bottled preserves, pickles, fruits and so forth.

Mr. Mellow is doing business in the

NEWBURGH

Mrs. James Eadie and two children, of Prescott, are visiting friends in Napanee, Wesley and Newburgh. While in Newburgh she is the guest of her aunt, Miss Ella Yeomans.

Mrs. A. Stafford, of Smiths Falls; Mrs. Pybus, Mrs. H. Hoare, Miss Best, of Strathcona, and Miss E. Rook, of Napanee, spent Thursday, with Mrs. G. Wartman.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Switzer and daughter, Francis, Miss Francis Shier and Clancy Shier spent the week end at Varty Lake.

Mrs. C. Wager returned on Monday from a visit to Mrs. Shannon and Mrs. Ferris, Napanee Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rogers motored to Kingston, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Shorey and son, John, of Milton, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gladstone Shorey and daughter, Irene, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., were visitors at the Shorey home during the week.

Guests in the home of Mr. J. W. Courtney, last week, were his sister, Mrs. S. J. Dent, and her daughters, Miss Alma Dent and Mrs. Wm. Moon; also Miss Velma Reavely and Paul Moon. They are all from Lapeer, Michigan, and are motoring through Ontario. Mr. Moon represents the Lapeer County Press.

Mrs. Madden and Miss Lena Madden are on a visit to friends in Rochester.

Mr. J. W. Patterson visited in Napanee with his daughter, Mrs. Lapum.

Lawyer McLean and wife, of Toronto, were guests of Mrs. A. Madden.

Mrs. E. Boyce and Mrs. G. Stone spent Thursday in Napanee, guests of Mrs. J. Hicks.

Miss Mabel Sutton, of Napanee Road, spent a few days with her grandfather, Mr. William Sutton.

Miss Grace Moore and Miss Verna McKeown, of Peterboro', are guests of Mrs. Vandervoorte, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wartman and daughter, Corinne, of Sydenham, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wartman.

Mr. Bowerman visited at Sillsville this week.

Miss Audrey Lucas, of Napanee, visited her cousin, Miss Ruth Lucas.

On Sunday evening a number of friends of Camden East Presbyterian Church attended service at Wilton, to hear the Rev. R. J. Stewart, of Belleville, who made a very inspiring appeal to keep God's altars in repair in the heart, the home, the community, and the nation.

Will the residents of Newburgh please remember to tend their items of interest to the correspondent for publication.

Dr. McIntosh and his sister, Mrs. Gilmore, of New York City, were recent guests of Miss M. Cameron.

Mrs. S. Shorey and the Misses Shorey spent Wednesday afternoon and evening at Mrs. W. G. Paul's summer cottage, at Beaver Lake.

Miss Peggy Briscoe, of Galt, is visiting Miss A. Briscoe.

On Sunday, August 19th, Professor Butterworth and Mr. and Mrs. Harding, of St. Paul's, Kingston, who assisted in the musical part of the Anniversary service at Wilton, also assisted at the service in Camden East Presbyterian Church at the regular service, and all appreciated the services rendered by these talented people.

The Public and High Schools will re-open on Sept. 4th, with the usual staff of teachers, who will be ready to impart information to inquiring minds. Pupils looking for rooms can find many fine homes open to accommodate them.

Mrs. Johnstone and daughters, Mae and Essie, spent last week with friends at Cobourg, Baltimore and Peterboro'.

Our sympathies are extended to Mrs. Farley, who sustained a broken arm, the result of a fall. Mr. Farley is still in the hospital, with his condition unchanged.

Among the visitors at Toronto this week are Rev. T. H. P. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Denison, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shorts.

Newburgh is much stirred at the present time over the question of weeds. There are certain plot owners who do not conform readily to law or custom, who are giving trouble, and the West Inspector being something of a humanitarian, does not want to employ drastic measures. The outcome is looked forward to with considerable interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wartman, accompanied by Jean, Alvin and Robert, motored to Warkworth and visited with Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Griffith, and from there Mr. Wartman motored on to Peterboro', and attended the Convention held there for the Morticans.

A representative of the Prohibition Union took charge of the service in the United Church on Sunday evening. He gave an address and solicited funds for the Union. His efforts met with a good response.

There will be no service in the Mission Hall on Sunday afternoon, owing to the fact that the annual Conference is being held at Verona in the Free Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Pillar, of Napanee, visited at Mr. W. W. Adams', recently.

Mr. Charles Detler, of Oshawa, was home for Sunday.

Buying on the Installment Plan

Purchasing commodities by paying "a dollar down and a dollar a week" has grown into great popularity. Often the object purchased is worn out before it is paid for, and the purchaser continues to pay. Why yourself a fortune on the installment plan by placing regular installments of your earnings in a Standard Bank savings account. The money is always available for use if required, and there is no depreciation, but accruing interest as time goes on.

LIGHT FICTION WANES.

Steady Gain of Serious Books Attributed to Advance In Education.

There are growing indications that the reading of light fiction is on the wane in England. In place of the light novel the public is showing an increasing demand for more serious books, says the Christian Science Monitor. Public libraries in London, Hampstead, Hackney, Chelsea, Shoreditch and Middlesbrough agree that book-borrowers are evincing a higher taste in literature and that best sellers do not pull so strongly as they did right after the war. Thus at Middlesbrough, for instance, the percentage of fiction issued from the library in 1927 declined from 71.5 to 61. Moreover of 7,447 new borrowers, 1,309 took out tickets for serious or non-fiction works.

Guy W. Keeling, honorary secretary of the Library Association, said: "There is no doubt that the public is reading more and more serious books. This applies particularly to technical and educational works. Improved education is doubtless responsible."

Mr. Marston, secretary of the National Book Council, said: "This desire on the part of the reading public for more serious works has arisen since the war. Educational and travel books are quite commonly asked for. Works on engineering and like subjects are much in demand."

W. H. Parker, chief public librarian for Hackney, said: "Young people particularly are showing a tendency toward more serious works. George Bernard Shaw, Sir James Barrie and John Masefield are the authors they prefer in the 'lighter serious' category.

"Last year's figures," said the Hampstead public librarian, "showed that only ten per cent. more fiction books were issued than non-fiction. The figures speak for themselves."

"I agree with the Middlesbrough librarian's statement," said T. Green of the Shoreditch public library. "There is a general increase in the issue of books from public libraries and the non-fiction works are more than holding their own."

"The demand for serious books is not attributable to the fact that people are growing more serious," said H. H. Quinn, public librarian of Chelsea. "Their improved education is responsible."

GREATER LONDON GROWS.

Population Shows Tendency to Move to Surrounding Districts.

Greater London numbered 7,807,870 persons in 1926, according to the "Statistical Abstract for London, 1917-26," recently published by the London County Council. These figures are estimations based on the report of the registrar-general. The term Greater London here used includes not only the administrative county of London, but also the whole of Middlesex county as well as large portions of Surrey, Kent, Essex, and Herts.

The population of the administrative county of London, or what is generally meant by London, was 4,415,400 in 1926 and probably dropped to about 4,550,000 in 1927. It was 4,524,000 at the time of the last census in 1921. This falling off since the climax of 1926 is accounted for by the fact that ever since the beginning of the nineteenth century the population has shown a decided tendency to move out from the centre to the surrounding districts, for while the administrative county shows a decrease of 31,400 between 1921 and 1926 Greater London shows an increase of 270,288 in the same period of time.

In the city of London, London's Wall Street district, the population amounted to only 13,291 in 1927. When one realizes that in 1801 this district counted 128,129 inhabitants, the extent of the migration to the outlying districts becomes apparent.

Pianos Are All Right.

There were more pianos made and sold in the Old Country during the last twelve months than in any year since 1913.

This statement was made the other day by Mr. S. E. Moon, chairman of the Federation of British Music Industries. But he added that there were hundreds of thousands of new houses, which had been built since the war, which contained no musical instruments.

With the boom in gramophones, and the vast strides made by wireless in recent years, it is surprising that pianos are keeping their end up so well. But children are still learning music, and in this way there is always a steady demand. Then there are many people who prefer to make their own music, and so favor the piano rather than either gramophone or loud-speaker.

Inhaling Dangers.

Inhaling the smoke of quite a small number of cigarette is said to be liable to carbon-monoxide poisoning, according to Prof. H. Hartridge.

He found six per cent. of carbon-monoxide in the blood of a famous scientists, who complained of being unwell, and who said he had oversmoked and inhaled. This was a day afterwards, and the percentage was probably greater just after the smoking, says a writer in Tit-Bits.

Speaking about coal-gas poisoning, Prof. Hartridge said that though coal-gas could easily be detected by its smell, the olfactory mucous membrane was soon fatigued, and people could imagine they had go rid of gas in a room when they had not.

The Year 1928.

Do recognize this year as 1928; the Mohammedans call it 1346; the Jews, 5688; the Japanese, 2587; and the Byzantine calendar says it is 7436.

A Tired-Out Feeling

Is a Sure Sign That the Blood is Thin and Watery.

"I am glad to have an opportunity of testifying to the benefits I derived from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills", writes Mrs. Lawrence Kennedy, St. Joseph, N.B. She further says:—"Some years ago I was working as a stenographer, and became badly run-down. I always had a tired-out feeling, had no appetite and suffered terribly from backache. Almost every month I had to remain from the office for a day or two. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I have reason to be glad that I followed this advice. Before I had been taking the pills very long I began to feel much better. Continuing their use my strength came back, I regained my appetite and the terrible backache from which I had suffered disappeared. I have been married some years now and have two fine healthy children, a girl and a boy, and am in the best of health. All this I owe to Dr. Williams' famous Pink Pills, and I trust that these few lines may help some other weak, run-down person."

All weak, run-down people who will give this building, toning music a fair trial will find through its use new health and strength. You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DENBIGH.

An unusually interesting and pretty wedding was solemnized in the evening hour of August 21st, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stein, Denbigh. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. A. Scott, Ph.B., in the presence of two hundred and fifty invited guests. A large arch of evergreens and summer flowers was placed at the corner of the spacious verandah, under which the bridal party came. The bride, Anna Helena Stein, was accompanied by her father, who gave her in marriage to William E. McCausland, of Cloyne. A beautiful wedding march was played by Mrs. (Dr.) Adams, as the wedding party came forth and took their place beneath the arch. The bride looked very attractive and charming in her wedding dress of white georgette and lace with a filmy tulle veil adding to the beauty. She wore white satin shoes and carried a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas and fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Olive Stein, of Ottawa, sister of the bride, also appeared lovely in a beautiful dress of mais georgette and lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow dahalias. The groom was attended by Mr. Ezra Wheeler, of Cloyne. A reception followed the ceremony during which Miss Olive Stein sang very sweetly, "Ramona", after which a buffet luncheon was served in the nicely decorated dining room. The unusually large display of beautiful, costly and useful presents attested most eloquently the popularity of the bride and groom. The happy couple left this forenoon by car for Buffalo, where Mr. McCausland has a good situation.—The citizens of Denbigh were very happily surprised when Rev. C. W. DeMille, with Mrs. DeMille and two sons, motored into the village and pitched their tent on the evening of the 19th. Twenty-five years ago Mr. DeMille assumed charge of the Denbigh Circuit, which was his first charge. He with his young bride soon became very popular, and the one year on the circuit was a most successful and happy one. Though their stay was brief the young minister and his wife won the hearts of the people and their deepest love. After an absence of twenty-five years, they return, only to find many inevitable changes had taken place, through deaths, removals, etc. Rev. Mr. DeMille, upon request of the minister, Mr. Scott, occupied the pulpit in the United Church last Sunday night, and delivered a very eloquent and touching sermon to a large congregation. A very pleasant half hour was spent after the service in meeting those present who remembered them and in making new acquaintances. It was certainly a great pleasure to all concerned to meet again. Rev. and Mrs. DeMille and sons called at the parsonage and were most agreeably pleased with the lay-out of the new building. All were delighted to see Rev. DeMille and family come, but regretted their stay was so brief.—Mrs. John Wilson and children, who were attending the wedding of her sister, Miss Anna Stein, returned to their home at Wilton, on Thursday.—Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and little daughter have returned to their home in Toronto, after a two weeks' stay with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Petzold.—Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Tompkins, of Oswego, arrived on Thursday to spend a few days with Mrs. Faulk and family.—Mrs. Minnie Easton left for her home in Cleveland, on Tuesday.—Mr. Sam Lane, after a two weeks' vacation at home, returned to Toronto on Saturday.

Nutrition Fixes Stature.

The average height of human beings is 5 feet 5 inches. The tallest group are the Australians, 6 feet 1 inch, and the smallest the African Negrillos, 4 feet 2 inches, and the Eskimos.

Acc ording to Dr. R. Bennett Bean, a professor of anatomy, who has analysed the measurements of 1,022 groups of people of five continents, nutrition fixes the stature of races. People living near the sea get too much iodine and tend to short stature; inland people get lime, which makes for long bones.

The lack of nourishment in the Equatorial and Arctic zones keeps those people short. People who live in the fertile temperate zones have more and better food, and therefore grow taller.

"STAR" STORIES

How George Robey Got His First Chance and Nellie Wallace Was Kept Waiting.

Mr. Chance Newton gives us entrancing pictures of the early music halls of London, England, and shows how they saw the professional birth of many a "star," and he tells intimate little stories of people whom we all know by name at least.

"When I first met George Robey it was on rather a peculiar occasion. It was at a matinee at the Oxford, and one of the turns was an entertainer called 'Kennedy the Mesmerist.' Kennedy, like most of his tribe, had quite a regiment of subjects on the stage, and these he put under what we called then the 'influence.'

"One of these 'fluence folk was a growing boy who did all sorts of strange antics on being pierced with needles, etc., and even consumed candles with a gusto."

This boy was George Robey. He impressed his power of comedy so strongly on the then manager of the Oxford that he was given a chance to do a singing and comic acting turn on his own! And another "star" had risen.

Sir Harry Lauder is another "top liner" whom Mr. Chance Newton knew in days gone by. About Lauder's beginnings there are many interesting stories in this book. Speaking of Sir Harry's financial success, Mr. Chance Newton says:

"Some of these big sums have accrued, of course, by way of 'farm' terms. It is not so long ago, however, as well I know, that Lauder, then rising to magnificent salaries, was compelled, by old contracts of several years' duration apiece, to fill all manner of dates at sums ranging from eight to twenty pounds a week!"

How Sir Harry would dislike that, if his own estimate of his "canniness" is to be relied upon. Yet on this point Mr. Newton tells us:

"The general legend as to Harry Lauder's said to be characteristically Scottish thrift, or 'nearness,' is, of course, only a legend. Those of us who know him well also know well that he is one of the most benevolent and philanthropic of men, who takes care never to 'let on' regarding his benefactions. In fact, as he said: 'I wuna let ma left hand knaw what ma richt hand doeth'."

Music halls were not always regarded as quite "the thing." It took the graciousness of King Edward to make them respectable. Of King Edward's first visit to a variety theatre there is a good story.

It was suggested that his Majesty would not wish to be seen by crowds entering the hall, so the business manager had a brain-wave. He arranged for a sort of royal box on wheels, to meet the King practically at his carriage door and "cart" him bang into the auditorium.

The idea was all right in theory, but failed in practice. The strange conveyance got stuck on its way into the theatre, and it was so long before they could move it that King Edward had to be conducted to his seat in another manner.

It would not be gallant to leave this book without making any reference to the many charming and clever ladies mentioned therein. So, as a wind-up, comes a very amusing story told by Nellie Wallace, the famous variety ad revue star.

"Not long ago," Nellie had an invitation to a very swagger Park Lane mansion, where she was to be the honored guest. On arriving there, the parpormaid kept her waiting in the hall for some time. Eventually on being reminded by Nellie that she was still there, the maid replied:

"You must wait a little longer. The mistress is expecting a comic-faced actress, who I believe is called Nellie Wallace!"

Gypsies Claim Permit to Steal.

Gypsies have always, wrongly or unjustly, been labelled as chronic thieves. The Romany has ever claimed that the world is against him and collects toll. Gypsies were severely persecuted in days gone by and, until less than a hundred years ago there was a law in England making it a crime, punishable by hanging, simply to belong to the race or to speak their language.

There is a legend among the Alsatian gypsies that when Christ was to be crucified, the Roman soldiers came to a Gypsy smith and asked him to forge the four nails for the cross, one for each limb. The Gypsy refused in spite of every threat, and when the nails were finally made by a Jewish smith, the Gypsy tried to steal them. He succeeded in stealing only one, and that is why on the crucifix one sees both feet held by a single nail. To reward the Gypsy for his most laudable efforts, the Lord has granted permission to every member of the race to steal once in seven years.

A Gypsy does not steal because he is too weak to resist the temptation, but from topsy-turvy principles.

Insect Hunters.

Giant hunting grasshoppers nearly five inches long, that prey on small animals such as mice and the young of ground-nesting birds, are found in the Congo.

They prey al the kangaroo as jumpers and can leap a considerable distance on to their prey. The hunting grasshopper is not so great a leaper in proportion to its size as the king grasshopper, the young of which, even before its wings are developed, can jump a hundred times its own length. Very few men can cover more than twice their own length in a jump.

The hunting grasshopper is the largest of all grasshoppers. Its great front lip hides a pair of jaws as effective as a hay-chopper, and its appetite makes it a plague to mankind.

Many of the inhabitants of the Irish counties of Down and Antrim speak a form of old Scots, with little sign of the Irish tongue.

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD
(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound. An extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make home interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from the products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a stouter and more rugged material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a sure and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

A BUNGALOW.

A Single-Storey Building, Thatched Roof, Verandah All Round.

The bungalow is in considerable favor as a dwelling house, but perhaps many who enjoy it as a home are ignorant of why it is so called. Strictly speaking a bungalow is a single storey building, with a high thatched roof and a verapda all round. It is of Indian origin, the name being a corruption of a word which meant "of Bengal," the province where this type of building was principally in use in the early days of European settlement in India. The type of structure was peculiarly fitted for that country, being cheaply built and able to withstand the fierce rays of the sun. The original Bengal peasant's cottage was taken as a model by Europeans who made their homes in India. Naturally, however, they improved upon it. The word and the building alike were introduced by retired Anglo-Indians, who, returning from long service abroad naturally preferred to retain the type of house to which they had so long been accustomed. The name is now applied to almost every type of one-storied dwelling, whether of wood or brick, thatched or tiled, with or without verandah.

Check Up Extracts of Cod Liver Oil.

Theoretically the modern, well-behaved baby licks his cod liver oil spoon and cries for more, says Science Service, but apparently there are cases in which the baby is not so well-behaved or else the oil does not agree with him. To meet these, a number of extracts, containing the essential vitamin A and D, but without any of the oil, have been produced. Reports from the Bureau of Home Economics of feeding tests carried on with rats indicate that these extracts are not all they should be and need careful watching.

One popular extract was made the subject of a nine months' test with 250 animals. It was found to contain not a trace of vitamin D, both of which are present in large amounts in cod liver oil.

Designed FOR Dependability

Firestone engineers found that the life of a tire depends as much upon the flexing life of the cords of the carcass, as upon the toughness of the tread.

To provide extra strength, stamina, and long wear, Firestone dips the cords of the carcass in a rubber solution. This saturates and insulates every strand of every cord, minimizing internal friction and gives thousands of extra miles. The Firestone Dealer in your locality will gladly serve you, and save you money.

LIGHT FICTION WANES.

Steady Gain of Serious Books Attributed to Advance In Education.

There are growing indications that the reading of light fiction is on the wane in England. In place of the light novel the public is showing an increasing demand for more serious books, says the Christian Science Monitor. Public libraries in London, Hampstead, Hackney, Chelsea, Shoreditch and Middlesbrough agree that book-borrowers are evincing a higher taste in literature and that best sellers do not pull so strongly as they did right after the war. Thus at Middlesbrough, for instance, the percentage of fiction issued from the library in 1927 declined from 71.5 to 61. Moreover of 7,447 new borrowers, 1,309 took out tickets for serious or non-fiction works.

Guy W. Keeling, honorary secretary of the Library Association, said: "There is no doubt that the public is reading more and more serious books. This applies particularly to technical and educational works. Improved education is doubtless responsible."

Mr. Marston, secretary of the National Book Council, said: "This desire on the part of the reading public for more serious works has arisen since the war. Educational and travel books are more commonly asked for. Works on engineering and like subjects are much in demand."

W. H. Parker, chief public librarian for Hackney, said: "Young people particularly are showing a tendency toward more serious works. George Bernard Shaw, Sir James Barrie and John Masefield are the authors they prefer in the 'lighter serious' category."

"Last year's figures," said the Hampstead public librarian, "showed that only ten per cent. more fiction books were issued than non-fiction. The figures speak for themselves."

"I agree with the Middlesbrough librarian's statement," said T. Green of the Shoreditch public library. "There is a general increase in the issue of books from public libraries and the non-fiction works are more than holding their own."

"The demand for serious books is not attributable to the fact that people are growing more serious," said H. H. Quinn, public librarian of Chelsea. "Their improved education is responsible."

"Some of those big sums have accrued, of course, by way of sharing terms. It is not so long ago, however, as well I know, that Lauder, then rising to magnificent salaries, was compelled, by old contracts of several years' duration apiece, to fill all manner of dates at sums ranging from eight to twenty pounds a week!"

How Sir Harry would dislike that, if his own estimate of his "canniness" is to be relied upon. Yet on this point Mr. Newton tells us:

"The general legend as to Harry Lauder's acts to be characteristically Scottish thrift, or 'nearness,' is, of course, only a legend. Those of us who know him well also know well that he is one of the most benevolent and philanthropic of men, who takes care never to 'let on' regarding his benefactions. In fact, as he said: 'I'mna let ma left hand knaw what ma richt hand doeth'."

Music halls were not always regarded as quite "the thing." It took the graciousness of King Edward to make them respectable. Of King Edward's first visit to a variety theatre there is a good story.

It was suggested that his Majesty would not wish to be seen by crowds entering the hall, so the business manager had a brain-wave. He arranged for a sort of royal box on wheels, to meet the King practically at his carriage door and "cart" him bang into the auditorium.

The idea was all right in theory, but failed in practice. The strange conveyance got stuck on its way into the theatre, and it was so long before they could move it that King Edward had to be conducted to his seat in another manner.

It would not be gallant to leave this book without making any reference to the many charming and clever ladies mentioned therein. So, as a wind-up, comes a very amusing story told by Nellie Wallace, the famous Carlisle and revue star.

"Not long ago, Nellie had an invitation to a very swagger Park Lane mansion, where she was to be the honored guest. On arriving there, the parlormaid kept her waiting in the hall for some time. Eventually on being reminded by Nellie that she was still there, the maid replied:

"'You must wait a little longer. The mistress is expecting a comic-faced actress, who I believe is called Nellie Wallace'!"

Gypsies Claim Permit to Steal.

Gypsies have always, whether justly or unjustly, been labelled as chronic thieves. The Romany has ever felt that the world is against him and collects toll. Gypsies were severely persecuted in days gone by and, until less than a hundred years ago there was a law in England making it a crime, punishable by hanging, simply to belong to the race or to speak their language.

There is a legend among the Alsatian gypsies that when Christ was to be crucified, the Roman soldiers came to a Gypsy smith and asked him to forge the four nails for the cross, one for each limb. The Gypsy refused in spite of every threat, and when the nails were finally made by a Jewish smith, the Gypsy tried to steal them. He succeeded in stealing only one, and that is why on the crucifix one sees both feet held by a single nail. To reward the Gypsy for his most laudable efforts, the Lord in question has permission to every member of the race to steal once in seven years.

A Gypsy does not steal because he is too weak to resist the temptation, but from topsy-turvy principles.

Insect Hunters.

Giant hunting grasshoppers nearly five inches long, that prey on small animals such as mice and the young of ground-nesting birds, are found in the Congo.

They rival the kangaroo as jumpers and can leap a hundred times their own length. Very few men can cover more than twice their own length in a jump.

The hunting grasshopper is the largest of all grasshoppers. Its great front lip hides a pair of jaws as effective as a hay-chopper, and its appetite makes it a plague to mankind.

Many of the inhabitants of the Irish counties of Down and Antrim speak a form of old Scots, with little skin of the Irish tongue.

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD
(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound to extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make homes interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the whole year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from the products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a stouter and more rugged material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a sure and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

A BUNGALOW.

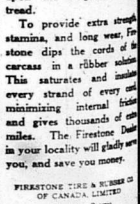
A Single-Storey Building, Thatched Roof, Verandah All Round.

The bungalow is in considerable favor as a dwelling house, but perhaps many who enjoy it as a home are ignorant of why it is so called. Strictly speaking a bungalow is a single story building, with a high-thatched roof and a veranda all round. It is of Indian origin, the name being a corruption of a word which meant "of Bengal," the province where this type of building was principally in use in the early days of European settlement in India. The type of structure was peculiarly fitted for that country, being cheaply built and able to withstand the fierce rays of the sun. The original Bengal peasant's cottage was taken as a model by Europeans who made their homes in India. Naturally, however, they improved upon it. The word and the building alike were introduced by retired Anglo-Indians, who, returning from long service abroad naturally preferred to retain the type of house to which they had so long been accustomed. The name is now applied to almost every type of one-storied dwelling, whether of wood or brick, thatched or tiled, with or without verandah.

Check Up Extracts of Cod Liver Oil.

Theoretically the modern, well-behaved baby licks his cod liver oil spoon and cries for more, says Science Service, but apparently there are cases in which the baby is not so well-behaved or else the oil does not agree with him. To meet these, a number of extracts, containing the essential vitamin A and D, but without any of the oil, have been produced. Reports from the Bureau of Home Economics of feeding tests carried on with rats indicate that these extracts are not all they should be and need careful watching.

One popular extract was made the subject of a nine months' test with 250 animals. It was found to contain not a trace of vitamin D, both of which are present in large amounts in cod liver oil.



Designed FOR Dependability

Firestone engineers found that the life of a tire depends as much upon the flexing life of the cords of the carcass, as upon the toughness of the tread.

To provide extra strength, stamina, and long wear, Firestone dips the cords of the carcass in a rubber solution. This saturates and insulates every strand of every cord, minimizing internal friction and gives thousands of extra miles. The Firestone Dealer in your locality will gladly serve you, and save you money.

"A GREAT TONIC," SAYS MRS. RUSSELL

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during the Change of Life for nervous feelings, loss of appetite and to gain strength. It is a great tonic and I have taken a dozen bottles of it. It was recommended to me by a friend and now I recommend it to all women for such troubles as mine at this time."—Mrs. W. T. Russell, R. R. FEED MENTAL PATIENTS.

Full Meals and Varied Diet Is Urged by Scientist.

Good food and plenty of it is real medicine for patients suffering from mental and nervous diseases, according to Dr. David H. Keller, medical director of the Central Louisiana State Hospital.

Patients in the Louisiana hospital are fed three generous sized, nourishing meals a day, chiefly rice, sweet potatoes, cane syrup, corn and other products of the big hospital farm. Every patient is weighed each month, and if he is underweight he gets an extra meal a day, under the direction of the ward physician.

Patients suffering from chronic pallagra get still more attention, with doses of fresh fruit, lemonade, milk, eggs, and oatmeal. Some of the violent patients, whose activity burns up so much energy that it seems impossible to keep them properly nourished, are fed as often as seven times a day, Dr. Keller reported.

The death rate at the hospital is very low, says the doctor.

FRENCH MARITIME ALPS

ANCIENT TOWNS ARE OPENED TO TOURISTS.

Autoists' Demand to See Mountains Led to Construction of Modern Roads—Towns Date Back to Fifteenth Century.

France has always been noted for its roads, and since the war, in spite of the shortage of national funds, writes a correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, a considerable highway extension has been achieved. This has been due to the increase in motor vehicles touring the country. Since 1922 the number of private cars and large touring buses carrying parties has tripled.

The largest users of cars were visitors from foreign countries, particularly the United States. And among most visitors there has been an ever increasing desire to see more of the outlying portions of France. To meet this demand French road builders have performed some fine engineering feats in many places, carving out perfect automobile routes to places formerly only accessible by mule path.

Some of the finest of these new roads are to be found in the maritime Alps westward from Nice. Here is a region of narrow valleys, low ridges and mountains with flat-topped peaks, there exceeds over a stretch of some seventy miles of country a collection of ancient towns; towns for the most part deserted, that dream in the sun of memories of the past. Most of them are off the beaten path, and until the gradual expansion of motoring roads in the last few years, an extension still being continued, they were only reached after a steep climb on foot up narrow paths first worn by nimble goats. Indeed, it was largely the tourist demand to visit these places that led to so many new roads remarkable in construction and very costly, but which have already more than paid for themselves through money spent by visitors.

These ancient towns basking sleepily in the mild climate are scattered here and there on scores of ridge tops, or on flat little plateaus marking the culmination of the low mountains of the region. They are all very much alike, these brown and gray huddles of stone, with here and there rising among them the tower of a deserted church. They are all about the same age, beginning in the fifteenth century, though a few date back to Roman times. Built in those days when defense was the first thing considered, these ancient towns were always placed on the edge of a ridge or plateau, so that one sides at least faced upon a sheer drop. The outer walls of all the houses were built to form one solid front, a stout fortification broken only by narrow slits of windows in the earlier centuries, through which arrows could be sped or rifles fired. During the more recent times of habitation some of the old walls had parts of them knocked out to give place to modern windows. With the exception of such changes, these relics of the historic past are unchanged from the days when they were erected from 400 to 600 years ago. For long centuries the inhabitants of these places terraced up the meagre earth on the surrounding hillsides and valley slopes and raised a poor living from the acre or fertile soil. But the last twenty-five years have so changed living conditions that today the majority of these towns are deserted. In some of them one or two families remain and gain a living catering to tourists. For the most part the inhabitants have migrated to the big centres where the manufacture of automobiles and other industries gives them a living which their barren farms on the rocky hillsides no longer offer in these days of high cost of everything.

So the ancient towns now remain dreaming in the sun, the only excitement when a motor-car with tourists arrives, and the visitors go prowling through undulating and narrow streets which once rang to the shouts of men at arms fighting in the narrow ways, the clash of knight in armor and the twanging of cross-bows. As the towns are built of solid stone, they will probably endure for centuries to come.

And if the natives of the land so largely reputed to be interested in their habitations of their forefathers, and have been torn of thousands of foreigners yearly on expert to see these historic spots that lie "Off the Beaten Track," the roads built by the Government, and the "Routes Departementales" roads built by the different municipalities, have been extended to reach some amazing places, and by the end of the year there could hardly be an interesting part of remote France that is not available to the motor tourist.

A description is here given of one of many pieces of similar route, that leading to the very old village of Gourdon. This place stands on a high point at the end of a long valley some forty miles from Nice. To reach it from the valley a road had to be cut up the face of the mountain, some 2,000 feet. Yet, though the ascent is very steep, the road was completed up which a car of average power can climb at the rate of twenty miles an hour. This feat is achieved by a series of switchbacks, some of them exceedingly short, in some places almost touching each other, in order to overcome the ascent with an easily climbable grade. When the road reaches within a few hundred feet of the top, a series of rocky hitches make the climb somewhat easier.

Surveying With Explosives.

Earthquakes manufactured by engineers are being used in surveying the right-of-way of the proposed Turkestan-Siberian Railway. Explosives are set off under the ground, and the resulting vibration serenades by traced so that the character of the underlying strata may be determined. A special stenograph traces the vibrations on photographic paper with an accuracy that could not be attained by other methods.

FAIR MERMAIDS ENTERED FOR $50,000 SWIM

One or more of the five young women shown here should finish within the money in the third Wrigley Marathon Swim to be staged at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, August 29th and September 5th. The women swim first over a 10-mile course and the first five to finish may compete in the 15-mile race for men a week later. Out of fairness to spectators the distance has been shortened so that the race may start and finish during reasonable daylight hours, and the course has been changed so that allcompetitors will be in sight over practically the whole distance.

Above (at left) Ethel Hertle of New York, second special prize winner last year; second from left, Helen Galand, an Ottawa girl with a good chance having the advantage of training under "Johnny" Walker; third from left (above) is Daisy King Shaw, of Shawinigan Falls, Que., a particularly handsome girl and a strong swimmer; below (in circle) is Mrs. Lee Fournier of California, holder of the endurance record for the Pacific Coast of 42 hours and 20 minutes; at extreme right, Mrs. Anna Priller Benoit, of Chicopee Falls, Mass., winner of the ladies' section of the Holyoke Marathon last year and regarded as a particularly strong contender in the forthcoming race.

The students in several classes have done excellent work. In Geometry and Physics 100% were successful, and each student was granted Honour standing; Algebra 85% all but one with Honours; Chemistry 87% only three who obtained lower than Honour standing; Ancient History 100% one third class honour; Eng. Comp. 70% one second class honour; Lat. Authors 66⅔. Although in some other subjects the percentages were lower, on a whole the results were eminently satisfactory and all students who obtained honours, which is necessarily difficult in Continuation Schools, are to be congratulated.

Those who require their certificates before the opening of school, may obtain them from the secretary. In the case of unsuccessful students who wish to appeal they may consult with the Principal at 216 Adelphia St., Cornwall, Ont., or write direct to the Deputy Minister of Education Parliament Buildings, Toronto, requesting that the paper be re-read. Enclose one dollar for each paper requested.

Blue Bedrooms Best.

A recent study of the relation of color to sleep will be of interest to persons troubled with insomnia.

It is remarkable what effect a choice of color has on the attainment of sound slumber. Glass painters using cold colors, blue sometimes fall asleep before their easels.

It was formerly advised to put persons suffering from mental disturbances in rooms painted blue and having blue hangings. The soothing and soporific effect of blue is extraordinary.

There are 250,000 words in the English language—50,000 more than in the French, German, and Spanish languages combined.

GARDEN 200 YEARS OLD.

Flower-Beds in Dover, Del., Were Laid Out in 1728.

A horticultural achievement is the 200-year-old Ridgely garden located in the busiest part of Delaware's capital. The secluded, tranquil spot was laid out in 1728 by Thomas Peake, Esq., and to-day it blooms each year unaltered with Henry Ridgely, Jr., and Mrs. Ridgely, descendants of the second owner of the property, as owners and caretakers.

The Ridgely garden is one of the oldest in the country, and it extends from the rear of the house for a block. Approached from a terrace by a flagstone path and down shallow steps the formal-patterned garden ends with a high hedge fence. At the other end is a statue brought from Italy, which formerly stood in the garden of a Florentine palace. A big pool is in the centre and is surrounded by flower beds, fenced with low box hedges.

With the demolition of an old tavern on the Green, Mrs. Ridgely made a new addition when is divided from the original garden by pergola. An attraction of the new plot is a tiny rill which falls from a small cascade.

Additions to the old garden have been made but no changes. Some statuary, flowers and trees planted are of a later date.

Thomas Peake, Esq., built a spacious home in 1728 and laid out the garden. It became the property of Nicholas Ridgely, a son of a famous Maryland family, who moved to Delaware in 1745. There young Caesar-Rodney, of Revolutionary fame, and beautiful Mary Vining played as wards of Ridgely.

Urge Dress Economy.

There is a new Turkish women's club which should be called the "club against women's clothes." Its aim is to fight against any luxuries in feminine dress. The members pledge themselves to buy no more than two party frocks a year. A third is permitted under no circumstances whatever.

The member who wears a third frock is expelled. An emblem worn by every member bears these words: "We wear this old-fashioned frock of last season out of patriotism." The ambitions of the club are greater still —its members are to buy only Turkish materials. Brussa silk and national products are to replace the materials which come from France, Germany and Italy. Propagandists of this idea say that the Turkish material are far more beautiful than any others.

The Bee's Business.

An important feature of the balance of nature is involved in the fact that most flowers are dependent for pollination on the visits of appropriate insects. If certain insects fail to visit them the crop of seeds fails; if they keep their appointment the crop succeeds.

These visits depend somewhat on the weather, but sometimes disastrous results occur through the depletion of these friends of the flowers.

Several hundreds of flower species, too, depend not upon insects, but upon the visits of honeybirds, hummingbirds, and sun-birds, and if these are killed the crop of fruit it is a disaster for the plants. There is no doubt that the keeping of bees on fruit farms and orchards increase the chances of the fruit trees.

Novel Tadpole Test.

Hot water causes female tadpoles to turn into males if they are kept in it too long. A scientist kept two sets of tadpoles from the egg stage until he was able to determine their sex.

In one set, in which the temperature of the water was natural, the sex ratio was normal, about 100 females to ninety-six males. In the other set the temperature of the water was jumped suddenly to nearly ninety degrees Fahrenheit when the tadpoles were five weeks old. The sex glands of the females in this set gradually assumed a masculine character, and the frogs emerged as males.

WORKING THE LAND TO CONTROL WEEDS

(Experimental Farms Note)

During the latter part of the summer and in the fall thorough working of cultivated land will destroy many weeds. As soon as the hay crop is removed the sod should be ploughed about 5 inches deep and disked lightly in order to pack it to hasten its decomposition. If the land contains couch grass it should be disked at weekly intervals for three or four weeks. Then, if the sod is well rotted, the cultivator should be started to bring the underground stems, commonly called roots, to the surface. Weekly cultivations will be more effective in killing this weed than cultivations at longer intervals. If there are many roots and a chain harrow is available it should be used after each cultivation to bring the roots together for removal from the field. In the absence of a chair harrow a hay rake may be used. Couch grass roots which are brought entirely onto the surface of the ground will die in about ten days' time in ordinary summer weather. Late in the fall the land should be ploughed and left rough over winter. Thorough cultivation as suggested above for the control of couch grass will also eradicate most other perennial weeds. When the late summer and autumn weather is not too wet and thorough working of the soil is possible, fairly complete destruction of couch grass and other weeds of its class will be accomplished.

Where the land contains only annual weeds a thorough disking about every ten days after the late summer ploughing will hasten the germination of weed seeds and cause the destruction of young weed seedlings.

After harvest cultivation of grain stubble for weed control would be similar to that described for sod land except that it may not be necessary to plough the land if only annual weeds are present.

Field Husbandry Division,

SAVE THE CHILDREN

In Summer When Childhood Ailments Are Most Dangerous.

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child, they will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed to be absolutely harmless even to the new-born babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad and loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, William S. Whittington, who passed away Aug 31st, 1927.

Dear father, you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more;
Still in memory you are with us
As you always were before.

Honorable and upright in all your ways,
Loyal and true to the end of your days;
A loving father so tender and kind,
None on this earth like him we'll find.

Ever remembered by Wife, and Daughter, Mrs. Clayton Osborne, and Brother, George Whittington. 35ap

DORLAND

Mrs. G. A. Ruttan entertained the Ladies' Aid last Wednesday afternoon. Owing to Mrs. Preston's resignation of the Presidency, Mrs. W. D. Roblin accepted the office for the balance of the year, and Mrs. Andrew Magee the Treasurership in place of Mrs. Roblin. —It is expected that Mr. Plant and family will arrive from the old land this week. Everyone will be glad to see him in the pulpit next Sunday.—A number were present attending Napanee fair last week by the activity of the, threshing machines. However they were halted by the rain on Friday. — Mr. Lawrence and Miss Annabell Magee motored to Belleville and Redneresville on Saturday.—Mrs. Russell Cousins and Miss Beryl are visiting relatives in Galt.—Mrs. M. F. Mallory was taken to Kingston Hospital on Saturday, where she was operated on for gall-stones. Her condition was favourable at last report, and her friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Teacher—"If I have fifty dollars and coal costs ten dollars a ton, how much coal can I buy?"
Kid—"Four tons."
Teacher—"That's not right."
Kid—"I know it, but they get away with it."

NEW all the way through

In Design · · Performance and Beauty

THIS new McLaughlin-Buick is a radically new and individual conception of the modern automobile.

A dazzling new type of motor car beauty unlike anything here or above—longer, larger, more luxurious bodies, true masterpieces of Fisher design—wider rear seats providing plenty of room for three adult passengers—a tremendous increase in power, getaway and flexibility—these are highlight features of this most brilliant of new car creations.

A new and deeper radiator of distinctive design—striking new chrome-plated head-lamps and cowl-lamps—arresting new lines and colors—all combine to lend an air of fleetness, poise and distinction utterly new to automotive design.

And in performance, too, the new McLaughlin-Buick outshines all previous achievements. Power, speed, acceleration, flexibility, stamina—all are greatly increased—all are united and co-ordinated to a hitherto unknown degree.

In addition, the 1929 McLaughlin-Buick introduces a host of engineering refinements, including a new high-pressure gas-pump—new carburetor with two high-speed jets—new, easy-action clutch—new and improved steering gear—steel backed main bearings—and many other features of the first importance.

See the 1929 McLaughlin-Buick. Drive it. Make it your car. And rest assured there is none in the world that surpasses it. 828 A 28C

The G.M.A.C. Deferred Payment Plan offers many advantages to buyers of McLaughlin-Buick cars.

Opportunities in the Mines

Many mining stocks have now been depressed far below their intrinsic value, and to the investor with faith in the future of this country, some wonderful opportunities exist today.

From an investment standpoint some of them with an assured long and profitable future, show a splendid yield with excellent chances for appreciation in market value.

For those inclined to the more speculative variety, there are a great many mines that appear to be certainly capable towards great success.

The wise investor who takes advantage of these opportunities, while the stocks are still depressed, will have reason to be proud of his good judgment later on.

With a string of offices throughout the mining areas we are in a position to give you the latest reliable news.

ARRIVE BEFORE THEY START.

Racer Feature Attending Crossing of an Imaginary Line.

The feat of the crew of the Southern Cross, flying to Australia, of jumping twenty-four hours ahead of its moment they crossed the 180th meridian just before landing at Sydney, sometimes be repeated in an even more startling way. When a plane makes the trip the other way, may actually be possible for them to arrive the day before they started.

These curious effects are the result of the international date line, or [illegible] and navigators have decided to call the 180th meridian of longitude. When a person flies from New York to San Francisco it is necessary for him to set his watch back one hour every time it crosses a new time belt. When it is five o'clock in New York, it is four o'clock in Denver and two in San Francisco.

If one were to keep on flying [illegible] without stopping, [illegible] twenty-four hours ahead of New York. If one were to make no stops for the entire journey from New York to Sydney, Australia, and if he could fly [illegible] he would arrive in Sydney on Tuesday of next week. If we are speaking from the day he would be dropping in [illegible] and when a flight leaves Sydney, Australia, on Monday, it is the date line, to Honolulu, in the early hours they might start on the day [illegible] and after two days and nights of air travel would be on Monday, the day before. Suppose they started at 2 p.m. on Tuesday. After they had been away for a full twenty-four hours it would be 2 p.m. on Tuesday again. If they made the race speed as the Southern Cross they could take the hours for the trip, but arrived about eleven hours after they started, according to the calendar.

Lit Up Like Niagara Falls.

Shoshone Falls, in the Snake river near Twin Falls, in the southern part of Idaho, have been electrically lighted for the benefit of tourists and visitors. Thirty flood lights, producing 25,000,000 candle power, have been installed at the brink of the falls.

At the Shoshone Falls the river makes a drop of 212 feet, which is approximately fifty feet greater than Niagara, but the falls do not carry as large a volume of water. The flow is greatly affected by the spring flood season, and for several weeks the waters thunder over the falls at a terrific rate.

Pocket Gramophone Records.

Gramophone records that are pliable, and can be rolled up and stored in the pocket, have been invented. They cannot be broken by use, their tone is unaffected by surface scratches, and they can be played hundreds of times without changing the needle.

Phonographs, advertisements matter, scenes, and other printed matter can be impressed across the entire surface of the record without affecting its playing properties and without wearing out.

WHY BE SEA-SICK

Dr. Allan Bennett Says the Chief Predisposing Cause of Sea-Sickness Is Anticipation.

Sea-sickness in its milder form may be regarded as an occasion for jesting by those whom it does not trouble, but for some sufferers its anticipation may poison the prospects of a voyage.

No one is to blame in life. Is exempt. The type of vessel seems to have no bearing on the matter.

The chief predisposing cause of sea-sickness is anticipation; a strong-minded person may dread a voyage, while an impressionable passenger who has made up his mind that he is going to be sick, may be seen to turn pale as he crosses the gangway, writes Dr. Allan Bennett, M.D. Lond., a surgeon of the Pacific Steam Navigation Co., in the British Medical Journal.

In a large proportion of cases there is chronic indigestion, which very often constipation, aggravated, maybe, by the excitement of preparing for the voyage, and, in cases where sea-sickness comes on late, the excessive food consumed during the first days, which the stomach and bowels, weakened by lack of exercise, cannot deal with.

In 88 out of 100 consecutive cases of sea-sickness the patients had overeaten, either before or during the voyage; 74 were constipated, while in 30 the condition was said to have yielded to twenty-four hours' starvation and calomel.

In this milder type the attack begins at sea, with yawning or sighing that, sooner or later, there is nothing, and the last straw is supplied by the smell of a cigar or the careless remark of a bystander.

The traveller who starts his journey with the intention of being sick is seldom disappointed, and he who spends his last days ashore in feasting and fireworks will reap what he has sown.

If the one would moderate his appetite, and the other practise the simple suggestion for a week before sailing, there would be fewer tragedies during the first days of a voyage.

Before a long journey by sea it is wise to take two meals a day—breakfast and dinner — for a period of seven days, eating meat at one only, and avoiding all sauces and made-up dishes. At midday take only bread and cheese and an apple.

Take half the usual quantity of alcohol, drink water freely, and smoke but a little. The third day before sailing, fast, but drink water freely. That night and the following morning a seidlitz powder or a dose of salts.

No drugs are needed, but if the patient is evicent he may have a mixture three times a day containing 10 grains of bromide. Faith, however, is essential.

In mild cases passengers should be encouraged to persevere with their own "cures," exception being taken to nitro-glycerine and amyl nitrate, which may prove dangerously the already diminished blood pressure.

Failing such a private supply, I prescribe the tincture of iodine, one minim in a teaspoonful of milk every half-hour, and a mustard leaf to the pit of the stomach, biscuits and apples to eat; dry ginger ale to drink. However cruel it may seem, patients should be driven out of their cabins into the fresh air.

AN ANCIENT ART.

Weaving Was Known to Egyptians at an Early Date.

The Chinese claim that silk weaving was practiced in China in 2500 B.C., and the art of weaving was certainly known to the Egyptians at a still earlier period.

Some scholars believe that weaving was invented in Egypt, but in all probability it was invented in at least four different places, — by a primitive white man, a primitive yellow man, a primitive red man, and a primitive black man.

The earliest attempts at weaving were simply the plaiting of grass blades, reeds or rushes, done by hand without the aid of a loom. With the invention of the loom—one of the simplest kind, such as is still used among American Indian tribes of the southwest—great strides were made in the art of weaving. Our great grandmothers used the hand and treadle loom.

This loom was in general use until Dr. Cartwright, an Englishman of whom it was said that he had never seen a loom in his life, invented the power loom in 1787. Since his day the loom has been altered and improved until it has now come to a high state of perfection.

The Singing Shovel.

Recently a coal shovel hanging on the wall of the Alvo Bridge station, at Kalmar, Sweden, suddenly assumed the role of a local entertainer, and began to sing, hum and play!

The firemen were puzzled, and after a closer investigation it appeared that the shovel's performance was connected with the operation of the local wireless broadcasting station.

In some peculiar manner the shovel acted as an ordinary wireless apparatus. It was found that it was suspended on the wall in such a position that it touched the power line of the Kalmar wireless station, and that it reproduced clearly and distinctly everything sent out from that station. Wireless experts, however, have been unable so far to give a satisfactory explanation of the occurrence.

Linen Airplanes.

Metalized linen, a new fabric, may bring about a complete change in the construction of aircraft. It has a tensile strength of over 1,800 pounds per foot width, and is very light.

An airplane half the present weight, yet considerably stronger, could be constructed from such a fabric. It is said, while petrol tins for an Atlantic flight could be made of metalized material lighter than the thinnest aluminium.

How Much Money are You Losing Through your Roof?

Pour Dry Insulex between floor joists in attic directly upon ceilings of upstairs rooms.

After pouring, level Dry Insulex to required thickness with board cut to fit between joists.

After levelling, sprinkle Insulex lightly with water—can to form a "crust".

How much are you loosing in valuable furnace heat goes up through the ceilings and out of the house? How much discomfort are you enduring because of inadaquate insulation?

Science has now found a certain remedy for these conditions.

That remedy is Dry Insulex. Poured between the floor joists of your attic, this wonderful new insulating material will stop practically all heat loss. It will enable you to enjoy the comforts and the economics of a modern insulated home—warm when you want it warm and cool when you want it cool.

Dry Insulex is the easiest-to-use insulation ever produced. Neither a board nor a panel, but a fireproof, permanent Gypsum product in flake form. Your pour it yourself if you want to—right where the heaf escapes from your home.

Fuel savings alone, will pay the cost of insulating with Dry Insulex. No mixing or waiting to "set". For old or new homes it is the most efficient low-cost insulating material on the market. For information and estimate of cost see Boyle & Son, Napanee.

WINE SKINS.

Gibeonites Made Vessels for Holding Wine From Animal Skins.

The vessels chiefly used in the early days for holding wine, were invariably the skins of animals. These skins were formed into crude bags and the seams were cemented with pitch or resin. Such were the wineskins successfully employed by the wily Gibeonites in their negotiations with Joshua.

These were succeeded by the earthenware jars known as amphorae, the size and shape of which are obviously modelled on the primitive wineskin. The amphorae was glazed inside and not outside, the glazing being a ne-

GREAT BRITONS' WIVES.

Are Content With Reflected Glory— Attitude of Many Is to Serve.

Wives of great men all remind us they should make their mates sublime. This parody on Longfellow's poem has more truth than humor in it for the wives of Britain's great men, says the Kansas City Star.

The women of England who share the breakfast table and the fame of their noted husbands lead quiet lives, bending all their efforts to augmenting the influence of their husbands and themselves keeping in the background. The general public sees them occasionally at social political functions, but as a rule their names are never mentioned except in company with their husbands.

Once in a while, however, the wife of a "big man" will try to throw off the shadow of her husband's brilliance and appear in her own right. Mrs. Arnold Bennett, wife of the noted novelist, is reported to have appeared at a party wearing a glaring hat.

When a friend asked the reason for the lurid headpiece she replied:

"I wore it so that every one in the room would say: 'Who on earth is that woman in the hat?' And then they would be told: 'That is Mrs. Arnold Bennett.' You see, no one seems to know that there is a Mrs. Arnold Bennett."

Few know that there is a Mrs. George Bernard Shaw. For Mrs. Shaw's personality is completely engulfed so far as the public is concerned, in that of her husband. Yet persons who have met the kindly woman whom Mr. Shaw calls "Charlotte" and who calls him "G. B. S." perceive that she has a personality of her own. For example, she refuses to be a vegetarian, although she willingly prepares a diet exclusively of vegetarian food for her husband. Mrs. Shaw travelled extensively before her marriage and is a linguist.

Dame Margaret Lloyd George, wife of the former Liberal Prime Minister, is known as a public speaker and is an ardent supporter of the temperance movement, and Mrs. Stanley Baldwin, first lady of the fore by opening the Conservative bazaar at Folkestone.

Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Lady Austen Chamberlain, wife of the Foreign Secretary, are as well known in society as their husbands are in politics. But they are exceptions which prove the rule.

Mrs. Thomas Hardy, widow of the novelist acted as his amanuensis during his lifetime and remained wholly in the background in their home at Stinsford. Now Mrs. Hardy has announced her intention of writing her husband's biography.

Mrs. Rudyard Kipling is seldom seen in public, particularly since her husband has taken in recent years to living in retirement at their home in Sussex. The death of their only son in the World War is believed to have caused Mr. and Mrs. Kipling to withdraw from the active world.

LAUDER WAS RIGHT.

Sir Harry's Retort to the Manager of London Theatre.

An incident in the early part of Sir Harry Lauder's career has recently been brought to light.

It was at the Tivoli Theatre in London and Lauder, then unknown to fame, was billed as an "extra turn."

He met with a splendid reception, however, and at the end the audience called for a speech, whereupon the little Scot, in defiance of the unwritten law of stage etiquette, walked on and obliged, while the manager raved at him in impotent whispers from the wings.

When at last the young artiste came off, the infuriated man spluttered, "Get out of here! Go—before I throw you out! How dare you talk without permission? I'll never have you on this stage again."

Lauder looked him straight in the face. "Sirr," he said grandly, "the public there are ma employers an' they're awfu' pleased. Ye may yet be glad to ha' me as they were! An"—gathering up his carpet bag as he spoke—"just awa' wi' ye an' tak' me back oot i' a cab!"

What the manager answered is best left to the imagination.

Manufacturing Diatomite.

On the Island of Skye, in a quiet spot on the east side of Trotternish peninsula, the manufacture of diatomite is carried on. Diatomite is a clayey substance found at the bottom of certain fresh-water lochs. After it has been dried and pulverized, it is used in making dynamite, covering boilers, and numerous other purposes, including the basis of a toothpowder. If one were to inspect the substance under the microscope, one would see that it was formed of millions of silicious skeletons of certain minute algae. A miniature railway runs from the diatomite beds to the shore, where a drying and grinding factory has been erected. The industry gives regular employment to a number of men and girls in the district, and was begun about nineteen years ago.

Tale In Western Canada.

National Tale, Limited, is considering the establishment of a manufacturing plant in Calgary to utilize the raw talc deposits of the Rocky Mountains. About seven miles of the new road up the Red Earth Valley, from Massive to the blue talc property on Red Mountain were constructed last summer and work is proceeding with the idea of completing the road this year.

Canada's Forest Fire Losses.

Forest fire losses in Canada during 1927 were the lowest in recorded annals. In all 2,766 fires were reported in Canada during the last calendar year, and these burned over an area of 481,373 acres, the total damage and loss sustained being placed at $1,396,055. This low record is equal to about twenty per cent. of the loss suffered in 1926.

A traveller in the South chatted with an aged Negro, whom he met in the road.

"And I suppose you were once a slave?" he remarked.

"Yes, suh," the old colored man answered.

"And, so, after the war, you gained your freedom," the gentleman continued.

But the ancient one shook his head sadly.

"No, suh," he declared with great emphasis. "Not personally, suh. I didn't git mah freedom, suh, after de war—I done got married!"

Prisoner—"John Gunn."

Magistrate—"Well, Gunn, I'll discharge you this time, but you mustn't get loaded again."

A Corrector of Pulmonary Troubles.—Many testimonials could be presented showing the great efficacy of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in correcting disorders of the respiratory processes, but the best testimonial is experience and the Oil is recommended to all who suffer from these disorders with the certainty that they will find relief. It will allay inflammation in the bronchial tubes.

Youth—"Doctor, I'm continually thinking of my girl. Can not you advise me how to get her off my mind?"

Doctor—"Marry her, young man."

Youth—"What good will that do?"

Doctor—"Then you'll have her on your hands."

It Has Many Qualities. — The man who possesses a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is armed against many ills. It will relieve a cough, break a cold, prevent sore throat; it will reduce the swelling from a sprain, relieve the most persistent sores and will speedily heal cuts and contusions. It is a medicine chest in itself.

ROD AND GUN

Containing a full summary of the open seasons for game in the various provinces of Canada for 1928, the September issue of Rod and Gun and Canadian Silver Fox News heralds the fast approaching hunting season. Some fine stories of deer and goose shooting give a pleasant foretaste of the annual pleasures of the fall trip.

In addition to these there are also two splendid stories of camera hunting by the well known writer Bonnycastle Dale and Dr. S. S. Dickey. Robert James contributes another splendid "Tale from the Wardroom Mess", while deer magazine contains many other interesting stories and feature articles.

Canadian Silver Fox News also contains a wealth of interesting material relative to the recent annual meeting of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association.

Rod and Gun and Canadian Silver Fox News is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

A Remarkable Book.

At a display of fancy articles at the British Industries Fair in London Queen Mary picked up what appeared to be a book. It bore the title "Sowers of Tares," by Menda Rent.

The Queen opened the article and found it a box containing sewing materials. "That's one of the best novelties I've seen!" she laughed.

THE REPUBLIC OF CHILE

PRESENT GOVERNMENT IS VERY PROGRESSIVE.

Substantial Reciprocal Trade Has Been Developing Between Canada and Chile Which Has Possibility of Considerable Expansion.

A substantial reciprocal trade has been developing between Canada and Chile which has possibility of very considerable expansion, writes Francisco Jaime de Lima, B.A., Ph.D., Consul of Chile, Montreal, in Agricultural and Industrial Progress in Canada. Total trade between the two countries has grown from $62,351 in 1882, when the first records appear, to $1,987,325 in the last fiscal year. Throughout this period Canada has had the advantage of trade. The Dominion's imports from Chile in 1882 had a value of $1,945 and Canada's exports to that country a value of $60,406. A notable development has featured recent years. Canada's imports from Chile, which had value of $97,959 in 1924, rose to $393,694 in 1925, and to $670,145 in 1926, falling back to $471,424 in 1927. The Dominion's exports to that country in 1924 were valued at $719,167, in 1925 $1,170,61, in 1926 $2,079,-031, and in 1927 $1,989,325.

Chile is situated on the Pacific coast of South America. It is very long and narrow, varying in width from 60 to 170 miles and has a length of about 2,900 miles. Its area is approximately 290,000 square miles.

The population is a little over four millions and its inhabitants are mainly descendants of the Spanish race; there are many thousands of Chileans of Scottish, French and German extraction. Chile is people to-day almost entirely by the white race.

The climate is equable and healthful and sanitary methods are by no means behind those employed by the most modern nations. The climate is neither very hot nor very cold. The Andes mountains form somewhat of a shield, shutting off the cold east winds from the Antarctic, from Cape Horn to the Gulf of Guayaquil, tempter the heat of the northern provinces.

Chile possesses enormous deposits of the famous mineral, nitrate of soda, used all over the world as an incomparable fertiliser and for industrial purposes as well. There are also considerable quantities of copper ore, and Chile ranks second to the United States as a producer of this metal. Many millions of dollars are invested in the nitrate and the copper industries. There are also mines, on a more or less extensive scale, silver, gold, borax, sulphur, marble lime, oils.

In the central valley of the republic farming is carried on extensively, the soil being exceptionally fertile. Farming is also carried on in various parts of the country. There are numerous waterfalls and water power is secured from the waters produced by the melting of the snow from the mountains.

Coal is also mined and there are large deposits. Around the neighborhood of the city of Concepcion are the centres of the coal and mining industries, which are of great importance.

Chile has about 6,500 miles of railroad, over half of which is owned and operated by the state. The main line consists of a long trunk line system crossed at several points running to coast ports and to the mountains. There are also railway connections to Bolivia and to the Argentine Republic.

There are over 23,000 miles of telegraph lines and over 52,000 miles of telephone lines and the service is excellent. Many wireless stations connecting the whole and several South American countries are also installed. Chile possesses good roads, there being over 25,000 miles. Nine hundred miles of navigable rivers, lakes, etc., constitute the transportation system.

There are three zones in Chile, perfectly distinct one from the other. The north, which is arid; the central, with very temperate climate and agricultural lands, and the southern zone, mainly covered with forests.

Chile produces wheat, raisins and figs and fruits of almost every kind. There are many kinds of articles manufactured in Chile and great strides have been made in recent years. Great opportunities exist for foreign capital for manufacturing in this corner of the earth.

Education is also making great progress and the present Government is making splendid attempts to bring the school system up to-date teaching methods. Great efforts are being also made to increase the acreage for agriculture; this and other problems that now face the Government are being given the most serious attention by the popular President and his Ministers.

Many articles are manufactured in Chile among them being boots and shoes, cement, canned goods, chemicals, copper, lead products, silk goods, candy, clothing, wines, etc. Exports are nitrate of soda, copper, barley, wheat, frozen meat and dried sheep skins, hides, raisins and grapes.

Chile has many beautiful cities and the buildings, the city of Santiago, the capital, with approximately 700,-000 inhabitants, being one of the cleanest and finest cities of the world.

Last but not least, Chile is a healthy country, is sound politically and there is no religious or racial question.

Saved by Moisture.

A ship in danger of destruction by mountainous waves was saved by the captain pouring a 70,000-gallon cargo of molasses overboard. The molasses, the uncrystallised syrup drained from raw sugar, had the same effect as pumping oil on troubled waters, and stilled the waves around the ship.

MISREPRESENTATION

In selling Used Cars there are three
Bad habits I resent
To lie—to price dishonestly
And misrepresent
Such tactics never made a friend
—Square dealing wins out in the end.
Okay Karr.

FAIR dealing beats misrepresentation in any business . . . but especially in the selling of Used Cars. Because we count our customer's goodwill our most valuable asset . . . because we expect to be in business for a long time to come . . . we want our Used Car purchasers to buy with knowledge and confidence. We want you to KNOW what you're buying. We want you satisfied. That's why the Chevrolet O.K. Used Car Tag appears on our Used Cars. The O.K. Tag knocks out misrepresentation in the first round!

Welsh Anthracite.
Wilfred S. Wilson, Coal Merchant, Centre St., has just received the first car of Genuine Welsh Anthracite Coal ever shipped to Napanee. This coal is suitable for either stoves or furnaces, and has a tremendous sale in Ottawa, Montreal and other eastern cities. It has an actual heat value 15-20% higher, and has less than half the ash, of American Anthracite. On this basis it is worth $3.00 per ton more, as users of this coal state that 5 tons of Welsh Anthracite will last as long as 6 tons of American Anthracite. The price of this Welsh Anthracite in Napanee is $17.00 per ton. A half-ton trial order will convince you that this coal will mean a considerable saving in your fuel bill. 35a

VETERAN MINISTER PASSES IN KINGSTON

On Thursday, August 23rd, Rev. James Cumberland died at his home, 587 Johnson Street, Kingston. The late Mr. Cumberland was born near Rosemont, Ont., Jan. 22rd, 1848, and was the eldest son of William Cumberland and Margaret Braden. As a young man he taught school for a number of years, later entering Queen's University, from which he graduated in arts in 1877, and in theology in 1880. In February, 1881, he became minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Amherst Island, and remained in that charge until September, 1920, when he retired and moved to Kingston. In 1892 he married Miss Nancy Klock, of Aylmer, Que., who died in Kingston in 1926. He is mourned by one son, Robert William, of Kingston; three sisters, Mrs. John Dickey and Mrs. Robert Dickery, of Allston, Ont., and Mrs. Carson, of Chicago, and three sisters, Andrew, George and Joseph, residing in Saskatchewan.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. (Rev.) S. J. Shorey.

In Toronto, on August 16th, 1928, Elizabeth R. Shorey, of Picton, widow of the late Rev. S. J. Shorey, D.D., was called to her rest. Mrs. Shorey was a daughter of the late Rev. Daniel McMullen, a pioneer minister of the Methodist Church. Her mother was Eliza Conger, also of Picton. Both parents were of United Empire Loyalist stock. She is survived by one brother, Roger McMullen, of Evanston, Ill., and three children, S. B. Shorey, of Cobourg; F. M. Shorey, of Picton, and Miss A. E. Shorey, of Toronto.

During the life of her late husband, Mrs. Shorey was very active in the many organizations of the church, and will be remembered in many churches in the Bay of Quinte district where Dr. Shorey spent forty-nine years in the active ministry. Interment took place at Picton on August 18th, the Rev. Melvyn Taylor, of Wellington, conducting the service.

H. W. Huffman—"Gurd's Dry".

Our enterprising townsman had a very attractive booth at the Fair, and the visitors to the Palace were pleased to learn that there was some place in Napanee where Gurd's famous beverages could be procured. Everybody knows that Gurd manufactures "dry ginger ale", but they do not know that they also purvey about twenty other palate-tickling and thirst quenching drinks that taste good during the four quarters of the year. Do not forget that Huffman sells things to eat as well as to drink.

At his store in the Campbell House Block, you will find all the delicacies to be found in a first class grocery.

Paul's Garage, Napanee.

One of the most attractive displays of automobiles in the Auto Tent was that of Paul's Garage, Dundas Street E. It is to be regretted that the number of Chrysler cars put on exhibition was smaller than the dealers desired. The reason for this was due to the fact that the 1929 models are selling so rapidly, that although the factory is running to its utmost capacity, the manufacturers are unable to meet the demand at the present time. Great interest was taken in all the models on display, and it is worthy of note that all the Chrysler cars shown by "Paul's" were sold at the Fair. When thinking of buying a car better drop into Paul's Garage and discuss the matter

WEDDING BELLS

French—Clark.

A quiet wedding was solemnized in St. Luke's Church, St. John, N.B., when Miss Jennie M., youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, Young's Cove, became the bride of John W., youngest son of the late William French, Roblin, Ontario.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. P. McKim. The bride was becomingly dressed in flesh crepe-de-chene, with hat to correspond, and gloves, shoes and stockings.

After the ceremony the happy couple motored to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. M. A. Ross, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, including china, cut glass, silver, etc.

The happy couple left by train for the bride's home for a short visit, before leaving on a trip to various points in the West, including Riverhurst, Sask., where they will visit the bride's sister, Mrs. George Willigar, and on their return they will reside in Roblin, Ont. The happy couple have the best wishes of their many friends.

—Eelways announce no more harvester trains will leave, quota having been filled.

—Mrs. T. N. Davis, of Dorland, left a curiosity in our office yesterday, in the shape of two soft shelled eggs joined together.

—The regular meeting of the Victorian Order will be held in the Board Room of the Public Library, Tuesday, September 4th, at 7 p.m.

—To sufferers of rheumatism, gout, sciatica and neuritis, and uric poisoning, I have a real remedy, certain in action, and quick relief. A harmless and drugless internal remedy. Call or write MRS. W. M. HENDERSON, Napanee, R.R. 1. 30-6tp

—Messrs. F. P. Smith & Son have taken over the old established Fire Insurance business of Harshaw & Son (Mrs. L. L. Green), recently held by A. T. Turnbull, and will conduct the same in future at the office in Harshaw Block, Dundas St. 20tf

SPECIAL ONE-YEAR COMMERCIAL COURSE

NAPANEE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

The one-year Commercial Course, which proved successful last year, will be continued again this year at the Napanee Collegiate Institute. This course, which is open to Matriculants, partial Matriculants and others who are approved by the principal, is more than the equivalent of a business college course, as it offers, in addition to the regular business college course, French, Correspondence and Physical Culture. The course is practical throughout, and plenty of time is given to each subject. There are no fees, and the text-books are supplied at cost. Thus the course provides for pupils who formerly had to leave the town or county to obtain a short commercial course. Practically all of last year's graduates are placed in good positions, and it is the intention of the school to institute a system of keeping in touch with its graduates, and enabling them to secure positions in the future. The opportunities in placing graduates will increase as the course continues from year to year.

The subjects and instructors for the following year are:—

Arithmetic, Bookkeeping and Business Forms, Commercial Law, [illegible]
Practice and Correspondence—Miss Beattie, B.A. Com. Spec.
Shorthand, Typewriting and Transcription — Miss V. Ponsford, Graduate of Shaw's Business College, Toronto.
French Correspondence—Miss [illegible] Grange, B.A.
English (a reading course only)—Miss [illegible] library.—Miss V. McLaughlin.
Physical Culture—Miss McLaughlin and J. J. Barley, B.A.
Shorthand and French are optional, but Arithmetic and English is optional for those who have taken Form 3 English.

As only a limited number can be accommodated in this course those who are interested should write to the principal, or call at the College office on Thursday, Friday or Saturday, August 30th, 31st, and September 1st.

ADMINISTRATRIX' NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In the Estate of Harold Ruttan, Farmer, deceased.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to Chapter 121 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1914, Section 56, and amending Acts, that all persons having any claims against the estate of Harold Ruttan, late of the Township of Addington, in the County of Lennox and Addington, Farmer, deceased, are required to deliver or send to the undersigned on or before the 4th day of October, A.D. 1928, full particulars of their claims, duly verified.

And further take notice, that after the said 4th day of October, A.D. 1928, the Administratrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said estate, and shall not be liable to any person of whose claims she shall not have received notice at the time of the distribution thereof.

J. M. SIMPSON,
Solicitor for the said Estate.

Dated this 4th day of September, 1928. 36bp

SILLSVILLE

Threshing is nearly finished in our vicinity, and some report a very good yield, while others are not so well satisfied.—Mr. W. B. Hough left on Saturday last for Port Perry and Uxbridge to visit friends, and will take in the Toronto Exhibition.—Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hough and children, also Misses Magee visited relatives on Sunday last at Enterprise.—Miss French is again engaged to teach our school. — On Friday, Sept. 14th, the School Fair will be held at Sillsville. We have splendid grounds, clean and plenty of room for cars, and Sillsville Ladies' Aid are intending to help make the fair one to be remembered for at least a year by all the kiddies, by being there with a stand selling all kinds of treats, pie, hot dogs, candies, and ice cream both vanilla and maple walnut, and other treats too numerous to mention. So come along and forget your work for one day and see our great "world's fair".—Mr. and Mrs. Norman Davis are the proud parents of a little baby girl.—Mrs. M. Mallory is gaining, after a recent operation. We all hope for a speedy recovery.—Congratulations are in order to the candidates at the recent Middle and Upper School exams. Miss Mary Mellon obtains the Fox Scholarship given by the N.C.I. for the highest number of marks in V. Form. She is returning to finish the work, however, taking some new subjects and to finish her Greek.—Sillsville Ladies' Aid spent a very pleasant afternoon with Mrs. Archibald McNabb, at her home on Wednesday last, it being the anniversary of her ninety-first birthday. She is somewhat an invalid, and even so does her own work, keeping house for her son, James. After a very suitable address was read by Mrs. W. Young, she was presented with flowers, and a very nice birthday cake. Mrs. McNabb made reply in very fitting language, thanking all. She has several children and often great-grandchildren who all wish her, with the Ladies' Aid, many happy returns of the day.

ROBLIN

Several from here attended Field Day at Marlbank, on Monday. The Roblin boys and girls were both successful in winning the ball games, the boys' score being 5-2; and the girls' score 27-9.—Miss Marie Paul has returned home after spending a few days in Toronto.—Rev. and Mrs. Casewell and family, of Kingston, visited their daughter, Mrs. Stewart Waddell, during the past week.—Mrs. C. H. Kimmett spent last Friday at Mr. V. Oliver's, Belleville Road.—There has been no service in the United Church the past two Sunday evenings, as Rev. A. E. Oliver is away on his holidays.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kelly are staying with Mrs. Oliver, as she was unable to accompany Mr. Oliver.—We are glad to report that she is feeling better.—Mrs. Chas. E. Kimmett is visiting her daughter, Mary, in Toronto. — Mr. H. Brooks sports a new Plymouth sedan.

Hunt's delicious Chocolates are fast becoming Canada's most popular candy. In Toronto over 25 stores are necessary to meet the increasing demand. Priced at 60c. a lb. (50c. for the family box). They are equal to any package at any price. For sale in Napanee only at Wallace's.

THE REVOLT OF YOUTH

"A well-known West End woman doctor said that the tendency to be operated on was all too frequent today. Mothers — and fathers too — sometimes say, 'I was operated on, so why shouldn't the children be?' This is quite incomprehensible."—Manners and customs of modern parenthood as disclosed in a newspaper inquiry.)

I was born with lots of lumber,
Organs active and alive.
But I'd lost a goodly number
By the time that I was five.
For as youth began to burgeon
Father fairly had his fling,
And he rushed me to the surgeon;
For, as he himself would sing—

It was good enough for Daddy,
It was good enough for him—
So you shouldn't be so faddy
In the case of little Jim;
Let the lad be grounded early
In the joys of modern life—
His appendix is too curly
And his tonsils need the knife.

Now I picked my parent highly
And his wisdom would not doubt;
So I had my corpus vile
Cut and carved about;
But one prejudice was rooted
Far too deep to set aside,
And when Dad's tonsils mooted
It was this that I replied:

It was good enough for Daddy—
But I'd have you understand
That there'll be a fearful paddy
If I'm ordered monkey gland.
Many a major operation
Has from time to time been mine,
But I have reservation
At the early age of nine!

OBITUARY

Mrs. Chas. M. Weese.

On Sunday, Aug. 19th, 1928, there passed away, at her residence, Bridge St., Sarah Hinch, wife of the late Chas. M. Weese. Mrs. Weese was a daughter of the late Joseph Hinch, and was born in the Township of Camden. After her marriage she and Mr. Weese resided at Switzerville for over twenty years, but since his death, eleven years ago, Mrs. Weese has resided with her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) W. D. MacCormack. Also surviving is one sister, Miss Lida Hinch, Fairview.

Rev. W. R. Tanton, a former Pastor, took charge of the funeral services, in the absence of Rev. H. Pawson, Pastor of Trinity Church, of which church Mrs. Weese had been a member since leaving Switzerville. The pall bearers were all former Switzerville friends. Messrs. Percy Anderson, Damon Anderson, Sidney McKim, Wellington Loyst, Mitchell Empey and Chas. Bell.

Much sympathy is extended to her daughter, and also to her two granddaughters, Misses Jean and Eileen MacCormack.

Physical Jerks for Babies.

A gymnasium for babies less than a year old has been opened in Berlin. Dresses in abbreviated gymnasium clothes, the youngsters are laid out on flannel-covered tables. Here they are put through setting-up exercises just as though they were fat business men anxious to get their waistline back to normal.

Each baby has a trained assistant, who holds the child by the arms and legs and puts it through the massive-limbed motions of our gymnasium classes. The exercises are said to be good for all children, and can be begun as early as five months. Defects of the spine can be cured or prevented.

10,000 Words on a Postcard.

The story of Col. Lindbergh's history-making flight from America to France has been written, in 10,052 words on one postcard of ordinary size. To the naked eye the writing appears as very fine, even wavy lines, but under a microscope the words appear written in a clear hand.

It was done by a young German artist, who declares he has achieved a world's record for small, legible handwriting. The work took him three months, and was accomplished with a hard pencil without the aid of a glass.

Picture-Writing of Our Ancestors.

Writing in its earliest development was ideography or picture-writing. It comprised a series of pictures representing first a thing and secondly an idea. In the next stage of progress most of the lines of a recurring picture would be left out, until one stroke might at last come to represent perhaps a lion or the idea of hunting. The writing of some of the peoples of to-day is merely a continuation of such picture-writing. Among other races the picture-writing gradually developed into a combination of sounds to form the alphabet, and this type of writing has been set down in all sorts of ways. Each people developed its own alphabet. Eastern people for the most part writing, as we would say, backwards, i.e., from right to left; or downwards; while our own branch of the human race which has developed the "cursive" style of writing in which each letter can be joined to the next without lifting the pen, find writing from left to right the most convenient method.

SNEEZING FOR LUCK.

Superstitions Which Connect Themselves With Act of Sneezing.

There are many curious superstitions which connect themselves with the act of sneezing. Among the Greeks it was thought lucky to sneeze between noon and midnight, but most unlucky to sneeze between midnight and noon.

The old custom which still survives of saying "God bless you" to those who sneezed, originated in the days when plagues raced over Europe. It frequently happened that those who sneezed died shortly afterwards of the prevailing epidemic and the phrase "God bless you," meaning "God help you," took on a very significant meaning.

Superstitious persons who feel a sneeze coming on, turned their heads to the right as that was considered lucky while to sneeze to the left was supposed to bring misfortune. Bridegrooms who sneeze on their wedding day may anticipate a happy future.

According to Greek legend it was Prometheus who introduced fire to mortals. He had made a statue which, he wished to endow with life, and for this purpose he stole a beam of sunlight. Wishing to conceal the theft from Apollo, he hid the beam in his snuff-box. Shortly afterward desiring to take a pinch of snuff, he absentmindedly put the beam up his nose—causing him to sneeze violently.

PLANE AS BUTCHER BOY.

Alaska Finds New Way to Deliver Meat.

Alaska has found a new use for airplanes and, at the same time, a valuable aid in its growing reindeer industry.

Regular transportation of reindeer meat by airplane from Shungnak, a small native village in northern Alaska, has been started by the Arctic Prospecting & Development Company of Fairbanks.

A company official, the Seattle Prospector, was the first customer to avail himself of the new service. The meat was first to be transported by airplane in Alaska. A chinook plane, Pilot C. D. Crawford also brought the first meat sold by the Shungnak Company to Fairbanks. The meat brought 1 cent a pound.

The natives were thrown into a state of excitement when they saw the big plane alight on the frozen surface of the Kobuk River. Many of them had never seen a white man before and had only heard vaguely of airplanes.

Most of the meat brought to Fairbanks from Shungnak sold for 25 cents a pound. Reindeer meat is scarce in Fairbanks district, the nearest point where the animals are plentiful enough to be killed for meat being Kotzebue, 200 miles south.

SINGAPORE'S FLOATING DOCK.

Workshops, Cranes, Offices and Telephone Exchange in Structure.

After many years of the Straits Settlements Government, Messrs. Hamilton and Wilkinson (Hebburn), Ltd., shipbuilders, engineers and dock engineers, have completed the floating dock at Waterloo, Singapore, for the Admiralty. The dock is in a central position in Singapore Harbour, and is capable of docking ships of 20,000 tons displacement. In many respects the dock is the largest of its kind in the world.

Although it cannot really be said that it is a floating structure. It is, of course, a floating dock, but it is also a workshop, crane, offices, and a telephone exchange, with 55 lines.

The dock can lift 20,000 tons and is 655 feet long by 172 feet wide. It consist of two Monadnock-shaped sections, or pontoons, one at each end, and a centre section. The dock is made of steel, and is capable of docking ships of 20,000 tons displacement. The dock is capable of docking ships of 20,000 tons displacement. Many Mothers Recommend Them

Baby's Own Tablets Are Fine For Nervous, Sleepless Children.

From Canada the fame of Baby's Own Tablets is spreading over the world. Mothers recommend them to other mothers and wherever they are tried nothing but words of praise are heard for these pleasant tasting little tablets that promptly relieve the minor ailments of young children.

"Baby's Own Tablets are one of the best remedies for children's ailments I have ever used," says Mrs. Arthur T. Allen, of Auburn, Me. "My little girl was nervous and could not sleep. I tried the Tablets and she was relieved at once. She was also troubled with constipation and nothing seemed to help her. I had used the Tablets but a short time before her bowels were regular. All mothers should keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house, for they are a valuable remedy."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all druggists or will be mailed on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

RECEPTION

On Thursday, July 5th, a grand reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McCormick, Switzerville, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Robinson. The dining room was tastefully decorated in yellow and white and about thirty guests sat down to a bountiful repast. The evening was then spent in games and dancing, which was much enjoyed by all those present, until the wee small hours of the morning, when all wended their way homeward, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Robinson a long and happy married life.

Following is a list of the presents received :—

WORLD BETTER CONDITIONS.

Over Four Million Homes In United States "Bathless."

More than 20,000,000 American citizens are living in 4,000,000 dwelling houses in incorporated towns and cities with no bathroom facilities. This has been revealed by a three-year survey completed by the department of the American home of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, under the direction of Mrs. Maggie W. Barry, department chairman.

In view of the facts gathered in the survey, an elaborate exhibit is planned by the department for the biennial convention in San Antonio May 28. The exhibit will include a display of the evolution of cooking, lighting and cleaning from primitive, pre-historic days to the present day of modern mechanical conveniences. A model American home also will be erected.

Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the federation, established the American home department at the beginning of her administration four years ago. In the survey data has been obtained about 8,000,000 farm and city homes. The purpose was to find what arrangement had been made, through labor saving devises, for the comfort of the housewife and her family.

In many instances, according to Mrs. Sherman, barns were found better equipped than the farm houses. Running water and electric lights were found in buildings sheltering live stock, while the home sheltering the family was not so equipped. The federation is supporting a bill in Congress for a census of household equipment as well as farm machinery in rural communities.

The model home on exhibit will be equipped with a minimum of labor saving devices, but with enough, the sponsors say, to give the housewife freedom from drudgery and make her work efficient.

PLANETARIUM GIFT.

First of This Reproduction of the Sky to Be Seen In America.

As the fliers of the Southern Cross winged their way southwards over the Pacific at night, the familiar stars of our skies dropped behind the northern horizon, says Science Service. In their place there arose in the south constellations we never see, including the original Southern Cross, after which their plane is named.

By this time next year, Chicagoans will be able to see this effect themselves without leaving the city. Then there will be in operation the first planetarium in the western hemisphere. This is a remarkable German optical device, which portrays on a white dome, the stars and planets as seen from any part of the earth at any time.

Max Adler, former Sears-Roebuck official, has just given $700,000 to the city for one of these instruments and the building to house it. An island in Lake Michigan, near the Field Museum, has been selected as the site.

Mr. Adler will shortly leave for Germany to study the instrument at Jena, home of the Carl Zeiss optical works where it is built, as well as other German cities, and will personally supervise its erection in Chicago.

Water Self-Purification.

As a result of researches of the Public Health Service, it is pointed out in the Scientific American, the widely popular idea that running water will purify itself within a matter of a few miles is definitely relegated to the limbo of exploded fallacies . . . The Public Health Service states that "irrespective of distance from the nearest upstream sources of pollution, no river water in the United States can be considered hygienically safe without treatment."

The increasing pollution of our streams is the result of the rapid growth of cities and the consequent increase of sewage. The condition is a perpetual source of possible danger and even of epidemics and it points to the necessity of treatment of community wastes for the relief of existing nuisance conditions.

A limpid woodland stream may be a thing of beauty for poets to sing about, but beware before drinking of its waters. It may be sadly polluted as its big brothers, the rivers.

No More Aerials.

A new wireless invention makes an aerial unnecessary. It is known as an Acceptor, and is connected to earth by the usual methods and accepts the earth waves up to the broadcasting station. Under ordinary conditions it is as efficient as the average outdoor aerial.

Any set is made portable, provided, of course, it is itself of reasonable dimensions. All that is necessary for reception is a copper earth-pin and a few feet of copper wire connecting with the Acceptor, which is about four inches square and one inch deep.

Atmospherics and oscillation are greatly diminished, while selectivity is increased and lightning danger eliminated.

Looping the Loop Record.

A French aviator has created a record by looping the loop 1,111 times without stopping and keeping it up for 4 hours 56 minutes.

To test the strain of such stunts on fuselage and wings, Lieut. A. J. Williams recently made six outside loops with a motor-driven camera attached to his plane to record its stress movement as he turned over and over in the air.

Curious Japanese Signs.

To attract the custom of the foreigner Japanese tradesmen often put up signs in what they consider to be idiomatic English, but signs often contain amusing mistakes. One of the funniest is that exhibited by a Japanese baker in Tokio. It reads:

"A Kashinuru, Biggest Loafer in Tokio."

Clothes will turn a woman's head every time if they're on the other woman she's just passed.

Opportunities in the Mines

Many mining stocks have now been depressed far below their intrinsic value, and to the investor with faith in the future of this country, some wonderful opportunities exist today.

From an investment standpoint some of them with an assured long and profitable future, show a splendid yield with excellent chances for appreciation in market value.

For those inclined to the more speculative variety, there are a great many mines that appear to be certainly headed towards great success.

The wise investor who takes advantage of these opportunities, while the stocks are still depressed, will have reason to be proud of his good judgment later on.

With our string of offices throughout the mining areas we are in a position to give you the latest reliable news.

WEDDING BELLS.

Kellar—Seeley.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized on quite recently, Saturday morning, Sept. 1st, 1928, in the presence of the immediate relatives, at the Trinity Church Parsonage, Napanee, when Helen Marguerite, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Seeley, became the bride of William J. Kellar, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Kellar, both of Ernestown. Rev. Harry Pawson officiating.

The bride was neatly attired in a beautiful French beige georgette dress over silver cloth, with touches of embroidery, with hat, shoes and hose to match. She also wore a white gold pendant, with sapphire and diamond setting, the gift of the groom.

After the signing of the register the happy people left by motor for Oshawa, Toronto, and Lake Simcoe, where they will spend some time, the bride travelling in a fine Romaine crepe dress, with hat and coat to match.

On their return they will reside near Enos Mills, where the groom is a prosperous young farmer.

McCormick—Craig.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized, when two of Switzerville's popular young people, Miss Grace Craig and Mr. Clarence McCormick, were united in marriage at the Parsonage, Cannifton, by Rev. W. B. Merrick. The bride was charmingly attired in a frock of peach georgette with silver trimmings and satin shoes. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. McCormick left amid showers of good wishes for Toronto and Western points, the bride travelling in a dress of sand georgette with lace trimming, and French hat to match. On their return they will reside at Oshawa.

Denyes—Reid

One of the prettiest of the late summer weddings took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Reid, Fourth Line, on Wednesday evening, August 29th, 1928, when their daughter, Hazel Carmelita, was united in marriage to Karl James Denyes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Denyes. The house was beautifully decorated with pink and white gladioli and streamers. At 7.30 the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, entered the drawing room to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. J. E. Robson, who was becomingly attired in a beaded gown of rose pink georgette. The officiating clergyman was Rev. W. B. Merrick, of Cannifton, who was a former Pastor of Fourth Line church. The bride looked very chic in a period frock of white georgette with a front inset of silk lace, and trimmed with ribbon and georgette flowers. She wore a veil of embroidered silk net arranged in cap effect and held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried an arm bouquet of pink sweetheart roses. Her only attendant was little Miss Berniece Reid, who was gowned in a shell pink silk crepe dress, and scattered blossoms in the bride's pathway as she took her place under the arch which was made of ferns and decorated with gladioli and wedding bells. After the congratulations had been received, the register was signed by Miss Gina K. Craig and Mr. Cecil Denyes. Then all repaired to the dining room, where a buffet luncheon was served to about sixty guests, the table being decorated with streamers of pink and white, pink candles, and the wedding and bride's cakes. Punch was poured by Mrs. Frank Smith and Miss Maude Reid, aunts of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Denyes left by motor for Toronto and other points west, the bride travelling in a rosewood ensemble suit with contrasting shoes, hat and bag, and wearing the groom's gift, a mink choker. The groom's gift to the flower girl was a ring, and to the pianist a compact.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, among them several substantial cheques.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Denyes join in wishing them a happy married life.

ERNESTTOWN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Institute and Sunday School picnic held at the lovely pine grove, on the Bay shore, just East of Bath, on August 9th, was a very decided success, there being over one hundred and fifty in attendance.

The dinner was heartily enjoyed, and in the afternoon the races amused everyone. The winners of the prizes were as follows:

Girls' running race, 4 to 6 years—Marie Sharp.
Girls' running race, 6 to 12 years—Georgie Laidley.
Boys' running race, 4 to 8 years—George Smith.
Boys' running race, 8 to 12 years—Kenneth Sharp.
Young Men's race—Edgar Thompson.
Young Woman's race — Mrs. A. C. Sharp.
Peanut race—Edgar Thompson.
Fat Ladies' race—Mrs. Wesley Sharp
Three-legged race—Bert Smith and Edgar Thompson.
Ladies' Swimming—Mrs. Fred Hamm 1st; Mrs. Bert Smith 2nd.
Men's Swimming—Edgar Thompson.
After the races, ice cream was served.
The committee in charge, Mrs. Milton Thompson, Mrs. Joel Kellar, and Mrs. Harry Mott, are to be congratulated upon the efficient way they managed the whole happy day.
The roll call for the September meeting is "A Canadian Industry", and Mrs. W. C. Snider, of Wilton, is giving us a paper, "What Constitutes a Home", and Mrs. Northmore, of Bath, one on "Dahlias", and Mrs. T. D. Creighton, a demonstration of rug making.

SMOOTHER
with New Refinements..
and enhanced in Style and Beauty

DURING its thirty months before the public, the Pontiac Six has earned a world-wide reputation for combining six-cylinder smoothness and high-speed endurance like no other car in its field. Now, because of recent engineering advancements, to-day's Pontiac Six offers even greater smoothness and more satisfying performance than ever before.

To Pontiac's thoroughly proved design—to its Lovejoy Shock Absorbers, its 186 cu. in. engine and generously over-sized vital units—to its numerous engineering advancements, such as the G.M.R. cylinder head—Pontiac has added new Marvel carburetor, improved manifold and new distributor.

Now this lowest priced General Motors Six provides a combination of quality features never before offered in a car of comparable price. In addition, the outstanding beauty of Pontiac's "body by Fisher" has been enhanced by new, smaller wheels and larger tires.

Newly-refined and improved—today's Pontiac Six is more clearly than ever the value leader of its field. Drive it—and discover this truth for yourself!

THE SCIENTIFIC FIELD

Dr. Irving Langmuir Speaks of the Future.

In the scientific field I expect that the advances in medicine and biology will contribute most to human happiness during the next thirty years, says an article in the London Daily Mail by Dr. Irving Langmuir, head of the research laboratory of the General Electric Company, Schenectady.

Automatic farming machinery guided by artificial eyes and capable of picking ripe vegetables, cotton, and so forth and of removing weeds without injuring useful plants will probably greatly reduce farm labor.

The use of such machinery and the cheap electric refrigeration of houses will open up the tropics to the white man so that any danger of over-population will be indefinitely postponed.

In temperate regions having hot summers and cold winters the electrically driven refrigerating plant that cools the houses in summer will also be used to heat the houses in winter by reversing the direction in which it pumps the heat, thus the efficiency and of electric heating may be raised several fold and Lord Kelvin's dream will be realized.

In more northern regions and even well into the Arctic zones cheap liquid fuel made from coal, if petroleum becomes scarce, and piped into home will serve for house heating and cooking.

The airplane will so raise our standard for speed of travel and cause such development of attractive rural districts now considered too remote that there will be an insistent demand for the speeding up of transportation in congested districts. The complete avoidance of intersections on main traffic lines in cities by the use of two levels will make the search a really rapid means of transport. Perhaps within thirty years we may see the beginning of a new railway development, with electric trains at speeds of 200 or 300 miles an hour, carrying city dwellers long distances through vacuum tunnels to the huge airports from which they fly to their homes.

The electric power upon which many of these developments must depend will probably largely be transmitted long distances in high-voltage cables using direct instead of alternating current.

RARE SNAKES FOR ZOO.

Couple of World's Most Poisonous Vipers from Africa to London.

Two of the world's most poisonous snakes have just reached the London Zoo in the same consignment from Africa—a Gaboon Viper and a Large-scaled Mamba. Each is in the first flight as a killer.

Between the two there is a most remarkable contrast, both in temper and in appearance. The Gaboon Viper is lazy, squat, and has almost to be trodden upon before he can be persuaded to give you a taste of his quality. He is dressed in a loud pattern of purple and buff diamonds, and wears a pair of nose-horns at the tip of his muzzle.

The Mamba carries the fight to his enemy at the time. He is distinctively quick in his movements and is olive-green all over. The great oval scales which give his name away at the front of armor affected by some of the old Vikings, and it was a happy moment at the Zoo when he was secured by the looped "snake-stick" and moved to his den.

It is doubtful which of the two is the more venemous.

New Method of Blood Transfusion.

A new and safer method of transfusing blood into little children and babies suffering from severe infections or a lack of life fluid was reported to the American Medical Association by Drs. W. C. C. Cole and J. C. Montgomery of Detroit.

The usual method of making a blood donation from a well person to the patient is to inject the blood into a vein, a procedure that is sometimes difficult and dangerous. The Detroit physicians inject the reviving blood directly into the peritoneal cavity, the portion of the body that contains the stomach, bladder, bowels and other organs. They have used this new method for 257 transfusions on 117 patients with gratifying results. Unwelcome reactions upon the patient are sometimes avoided and the method is so simple that every physician should be able to use it when the usual method blood transfusion cannot be used.

Trek from Alaska to Hudson Bay.

Beginning with 1,243 reindeer thirty years ago, seldom have such three valuable little animals numbering 11,600, is to be moved this year from their Alaskan range to feeding grounds on the shore of Hudson Bay.

The shortest and easiest route across country will be sought and it is estimated eighteen months will be required for the journey. Progress of ten miles daily is planned, with long halts whenever necessary for rest and grazing, and a complete stop will be made during the breeding season each year.

Natural increase is expected to bring the herd up to 100,000 within ten years.

Brandon Owns Estate In Wales.

The City of Brandon owns six acres of land in the heart of Cardiff city, Wales, presented by an anonymous donor and is wondering what to do with the estate. All efforts to learn the identity of the giver have proved fruitless.

While the assessment of the land is unknown, the property is believed to be worth a great deal, as local officials have learned that $18,000 was recently offered for one small cottage on the estate.

Orders Not First.

Bermuda, famed for its onions, has but 76 acres now devoted to this product; 115 acres are grown to 76 acres bananas on 87, and potatoes on 629 acres.

THE CHIGNECTO CANAL

Plan to Connect Bay of Fundy With Gulf of St. Lawrence.

The construction of a deep water canal across the Isthmus of Chignecto connecting the Bay of Fundy with the Gulf of St. Lawrence will be urged by the Bay of Fundy—Is-edward Ltd to the Ambrust Board of Trade.

The completion of the plan, promoters say, would be worth to the ten ports in the St. Lawrence to open new markets for the produce of Prince Edward Island, the timber of New Brunswick and the coal industry of Nova Scotia.

The canal project was discussed some years ago and actually started by the exploration of the late Sir Charles Tupper.

But the idea was abandoned in 1888 when George Kershaw, Fredericton, started a ship railway loading from Chemisedish, Baie, over the Isthmus to Tidnish. Upon this railway, ships with their cargoes were to be transferred from the waters of the Bay of Fundy to Northumberland Strait.

The Government, however, withdrew its support and the ship railway project collapsed.

Experts say the entire Chignecto canal can be dug with dredges, and established, although this plan has been omitted that 25 miles of necessity of excavating through the water shed, a distance of only one mile, in which rock can be encountered. J. S. Armstrong has already prepared plans for the most direct route in which to submit to the waterways of the isthmus an inspection.

As a result of these plans 30,000 acres of bog land can be reclaimed.

The city of Charlottetown and the other ports of Prince Edward Island, can be brought within a few hours sailing distance of Halifax, and the shipping lines of the ports of coastal vessels.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

There Were Women Constables One Hundred Years Ago.

Policewomen, about whom there has been some discussion lately, are thought by most people to be a comparatively modern development, belonging to the last ten years.

But there were policewomen long before the modern feminists agitated for them. Women were appointed constable as a matter of course 100 years ago. In those days the various jobs in a village were filled in rotation by the people who occupied certain lands, and if the occupiers were women, the law courts had decided that they must take their turn.

Exactly a century ago the table to a real state of petticoat government" in one Cheshire village, Minshull Vernon. The rector, churchwarden or surveyor of highways, the overseer of the poor, and the constable were all women.

To-day, we have our policewomen, our women councillors, and boys and there a woman mayor. But is there any place in Britain which can show the same proportion of women in office as Minshull Vernon boasted in 1828? Sale Advertiser.

New Irish Betting Law.

The Irish Free State Betting Act will expire in October and I understand that radical changes will be made in its successor to remove abuses possible under the existing system, writes the Dublin correspondent of the London Mail.

At present many betting offices are large places in which hundreds of men, women, and children congregate and bet just as they would on a race-course. The bookmaker writes the names of the horses on a blackboard, shouts the odds, and takes the bets. The results are received by telephone and payments are made from-diately.

This causes many men to remain on the premises for hours at a time and endangers their wages.

It is probable that the new legislation will make it clear that no person must remain in a betting office after he has transacted his business and that the winnings shall be paid out on the following day.

Eight New Observation Towers.

The Ontario Department of Forestry has contracted for eight new observation towers in the high land of northern Ontario and each of them will overlook a radius of 20 miles, in making the announcement, E. J. Zavitz, Deputy Minister of the Department, stated that extensions have that the territory covered by the Spruce Falls and the Abitibi Pulp & Paper Companies are now fitted up with towers and telephones. Mr. Zavitz stated further that 20 more towers will be built during 1929. Ontario this year, and when these are completed approximately 25,000,000 acres of timber will have been brought under observation.

Liverpool's Fallen Soldiers.

It has taken over eight years' work to complete the roll of honor which is to be placed in Liverpool Cathedral, and which contains the names of forty thousand Liverpool men who lost their lives in the war. The volume, said to be the largest of its kind in the world, consists of over 400 pages of vellum.

The frontispiece was autographed by the King, and each page is illuminated in gold and color. The book is to be bound in white vellum, and, when complete, will be placed on the cenotaph in the cathedral.

Old and Faithful Servants.

A farmer correspondent at the London Times gives the following records of continuous service on one farm: Shepherd, 63 years; foreman, 61 years; housekeeper, 41 years; three other employees, 55, 52 and 32 years.

These persons, the correspondent says, are all working at full-time rates on the farm; there are also three no longer working as employees still living in the village who served 47, 45 and 42 years on the same farm.

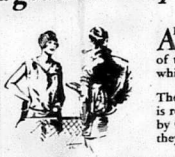
New Chrysler "65" 4-Door Sedan $1460

New CHRYSLER 65 and 75
...a glorious escape from Obsolete Fashions



New Chrysler "65" Prices—Business Coupe, $1325; Roadster (with rumble seat), $1350; 2-door Sedan, $1360; Touring Car, $1370; 4-Door Sedan, $1460; Coupe (with rumble seat), $1460. Wire wheels extra.

New Chrysler "75" Prices—Royal Sedan, $1985; 2-passenger Coupe (with rumble seat), $1985; Roadster (with rumble seat), $2010; Town Sedan, $2140. Wire wheels extra. All prices f. o. b. Windsor, Ontario, including standard factory equipment (freight and taxes extra). 6-Ply full-balloon tires.

AFTER nearly four years of imitation and emulation Chrysler now brings to the price groups of the new "65" and "75" a lavishness of beauty which was never there before.

The style of yesterday, still living in many new cars, is rendered obsolete because it is succeeded today by Chrysler cars so completely new in design that they establish new measures of beauty and style.

New slender-profile chromium-plated radiator, arched-window silhouette, the grace and sweep of its "air-wing" fenders, the luxury of fitting and appointment single these new Chryslers instantly as the new style that re-styles all motor cars.

Surely the mere evidence of the eye—because performance is assuredly the very name of Chrysler—proves at once that both the new "65" and the "75" have been lifted up to an intrinsic value which hundreds of dollars—yes, even a thousand—more than their selling price could not have secured before.

MOSCOW

The rally held by the South Addington District Women's Institute, on August 29th, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Huffman, of Moscow, was a decided success. The weather was ideal, and the rally, which took the form of a basket picnic, on the lawn, was enjoyed by everyone. The grounds and verandah of Mrs. Huffman's beautiful home were decorated with flags, evergreen trees and Chinese lanterns, while the Institute motto, "For Home and Country" with the pennants of the various branches, were given a prominent place. The smooth green lawn, with its shade trees, and the ivy and many flowers in bloom about the house and garden, made a pretty sight. Seats were arranged in groups about the lawn, and music by Misses Mary Wallace and Bessie Leonard and Mr. Borden Leonard, of Yarker, was given generously both during the afternoon and evening, and was very much appreciated. The guests were welcomed by Mrs. A. E. Huffman and Mrs. Charle Amey, and the tea table was in charge of Mrs. M. Huffman, Mrs. J. A. Amey, Mrs. Lyall Millsap and Mrs. Geo. Lampkin. The afternoon passed quickly, with games and social intercourse, and after a bountiful supper, which was served from tables on the lawn, a splendid program was given. Vocal music by Mrs. Reid, of Yarker, and Mrs. Shangraw, of Colebrooke; instrumental music by Mrs. J. A. Amey and Mrs. Shangraw, and addresses by Mrs. Geo. Black, of Camden East; Mr. Laughland and Rev. Mr. McKenzie, together with Orchestra music, completed the program. Rev. Mr. McKenzie made a very capable chairman, and in his address placed particular emphasis on the good work done by such organizations as the Women's Institutes. Mrs. Black gave a very entertaining address, illustrating her points with several witty stories which she is an expert, at telling. Mr. Laughland spoke in his usual helpful and pleasing manner, and his remarks were closely followed by all present. This Year-Make your own Mustard Pickles

MORE and more every year women of discrimination are making their own mustard pickles. They find that only in this way can they obtain the particular combination of vegetables they desire — assure maximum flavour and purity — practice true economy.

To have your own mustard pickles on your table is a mark of distinction. It labels you as a woman of efficiency, good taste and high standards.

Decide now that you will this year make mustard pickles in your own clean kitchen. Thus you will please your family and win the admiration of every guest who sits down at your table.

SMOOTHER

with New Refinements..

and enhanced in Style and Beauty

DURING its thirty months before the public, the Pontiac Six has earned a world wide reputation for combining six-cylinder smoothness and high-speed endurance like no other car in its field. Now, because of recent engineering advancements, to-day's Pontiac Six offers even greater smoothness and more satisfying performance than ever before.

To Pontiac's thoroughly proved design—to its Lovejoy Shock Absorbers, its 186 cu. in. engine and generously over-sized vital units—to its numerous engineering advancements, such as the G.M.R. cylinder head—Pontiac has added new Marvel carburetor, improved manifold and new distributor.

Now this lowest priced General Motors Six provides a combination of quality features never before offered in a car of comparable price. In addition, the outstanding beauty of Pontiac's "body by Fisher" has been enhanced by new, smaller wheels and larger tires.

Newly refined and improved—today's Pontiac Six is more clearly than ever the value leader of its field. Drive it—and discover this truth for yourself!

THE SCIENTIFIC FIELD

Dr. Irving Langmuir Speaks of the Future.

In the scientific field I expect that the advances in medicine and biology will contribute most to human happiness during the next thirty years, says an article in the London Daily Mail by Dr. Irving Langmuir, head of the research laboratory of the General Electric Company, Schenectady.

Automatic farming machinery guided by artificial eyes and capable of picking ripe vegetables, cotton and corn forth and-aft removing weeds without injuring useful plants will probably greatly reduce farm labor.

The use of such machinery and the cheap electric refrigeration of houses will open up the tropics to the white man so that any danger of over-population will be indefinitely postponed.

In temperate regions having hot summers and cold winters the electrically driven heat pumps described would fit the houses in summer will also be used to heat the houses in winter by reversing the direction in which it pumps the heat, thus the inefficiency and of electric heating may be raised several fold and Lord Kelvin's dream will be realized.

In more northern regions and even well into the arctic zones cheap liquid fuel made from coal, if petroleum becomes scarce, and piped into home will serve for house heating and cooking.

The airplane will so raise our standard for speed of travel and cause such development of attractive rural districts now considered too remote that there will be an insistent demand for the speeding up of transportation in congested districts. The complete avoidance of intersections on main traffic lines in cities by the use of two levels will make the taxicab a really rapid means of transport. Perhaps within thirty years we may see the beginning of a new railway development, with electric trains at speeds of 200 or 300 miles an hour, carrying city dwellers long distances through vacuum tunnels to the huge airports from which they fly to their homes.

The electric power upon which much of these developments must depend will probably largely be transmitted long distances in high-voltage cables using direct instead of alternating current.

RARE SNAKES FOR ZOO.

Couple of World's Most Poisonous Vipers from Africa to London.

Two of the world's most poisonous snakes have just reached the London Zoo in the same consignment from Africa—a Gaboon Viper and a Large-scaled Mamba. Each is in the first flight as a killer.

Between the two there is a most remarkable contrast, both in temperament and appearance. The Gaboon Viper is large, squat, and has almost to be prodded upon before he can be persuaded to give you a taste of his quality. He is dressed in a loud pattern of purple and buff diamonds, and wears a pair of nose-horns at the tip of his muzzle.

The Mamba carries the fight to its enemy all the time. He is lightning-quick in his movements and is olive-green all over. The great oval scales which give him his name stand at the front of a crested head, a design of the old Vikings, and it was a happy moment at the Zoo when he was secured by the tongs, snake-stick and moved to his den.

It is doubtful which of the two is the more venomous.

New Method of Blood Transfusion.

A new and safer method of transfusing blood into little children and babies suffering from severe infections or a lack of life fluid was reported to the American Medical Association by Drs. W. C. C. Cole and J. C. Monkemoller, of Detroit.

The usual method of making a blood donation from a well person to the patient is to inject the blood into a vein, a procedure that is sometimes difficult and dangerous. The Detroit physicians inject the reviving blood directly into the peritoneal cavity, that portion of the body that contains the stomach, bladder, bowels and other organs. They have used this new method for 127 transfusions on 117 patients with promising results. Unwelcome reactions upon the patient are sometimes avoided and the method is so simple that every physician should be able to use it when the usual method blood transfusion cannot be used.

Track from Alaska to Hudson Bay.

Beginning with 1,243 reindeer, thirty years ago, a huge herd of these valuable little animals numbering 11,600, is to be moved this year from their Alaskan range to feeding grounds on the shore of Hudson Bay.

The shortest and easiest route across country will be sought and it is estimated eighteen months will be required for the journey. Progress of ten miles daily is planned, with long halts wherever necessary for rest and grazing, and a complete stop will be made during the breeding season each year.

Natural increase is expected to bring the herd up to 100,000 within ten years.

Brandon Owns Estate In Wales.

The City of Brandon owns six acres of land in the heart of Cardiff city, Wales, presented by an anonymous donor and is wondering what to do with the estate. All efforts to learn the identity of the giver have proven fruitless.

While the assessment of the land is unknown, the property is believed to be worth a great deal, as local officials have stated that $18,000 was recently offered for one small cottage on the estate.

Onions Not First.

Bermuda, famed for its onions, has but 74 acres now devoted to this product; lilies are grown on 76 acres; bananas on 83, and potatoes on 650 acres.

THE CHIGNECTO CANAL

Plan to Connect Bay of Fundy With Gulf of St. Lawrence.

The construction of a deep water canal across the Isthmus of Chignecto —connecting the waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence with the Bay of Fundy—is advocated by the Amherst Board of Trade.

The completion of the plan, promises many material benefits including the shortening of the sea route to the St. Lawrence and open new markets for the products of Prince Edward Island, the lumber of New Brunswick and the coal industry of Nova Scotia.

The canal project was discussed some years ago and actually received the endorsation of the late Sir Charles Tupper.

But the idea was abandoned in 1855 when Geers, Keyblum, Fredericton, started a ship railway leading from Cumberland Basin, over the Isthmus to Tidnish. Upon this railway, ships with their cargoes were to be transferred from the headwaters of the Bay of Fundy to Northumberland Strait.

The Government, however, withdrew its support and the ship railway project collapsed.

Experts say the entire Chignecto canal can be dug with dredges, and, although different routes have been submitted that signifies the necessity of excavating through the water lines, digging in solid rock, in which rock may be confined. J. S. Armstrong has already prepared plans for the canal and route it, which do some extent the waterways of the Isthmus are followed.

At a result of the plans 30,000 acres of bog land can be reclaimed.

The city of Charlottetown and the other ports of Prince Edward Island can be brought three hundred and sixty-five miles nearer to the port of St. John, and the same way the distance can be eliminated from the shipping runs of the ports of coastal vessels.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

There Were Women Constables One Hundred Years Ago.

Police-women, about whom there has been some discussion lately, are thought by most people to be a comparatively modern development, belonging to the last ten years.

But there were police-women long before the modern feminist's demand-ed them. Women were appointed constable as a matter of course 100 years ago. In those days the Assizes John in a village were fixed by rotation by the people who occupied certain lands, and if the occupiers were women, the law courts had decided that they must take their turn.

Exactly a century ago this led to a real state of petticoat government in one Cheshire village, Minshull Vernon. There the supervisor, or surveyor of highways, the keeper of the poor, and the constable were all women.

Today we have our police-women, our women councillors, and here and there a woman mayor. But is there any place in British life to-day where the same proportion of women is office-bearers Minshull Vernon boasted in 1828? asks Answers.

New Irish Betting Law.

The Irish Free State Betting Act will expire in October and I understand that radical changes will be made in its successor to remove abuses possible under the existing system, writes the Dublin correspondent of the London Mail.

At present many betting offices are large places in which hundreds of men, women, and children congregate and bet just as they would on a race-course. The bookmaker writes the names of the horses on a blackboard, shouts the odds, and takes the bets. The results are received by telephone and payments are made immediately.

This causes many men to remain on the premises for hours at a time and squander their wages.

It is probable that the new legislation will make it clear that no person must remain in a betting office after he has transacted his business and that the whole place shall be put out on the following day.

Eight New Observation Towers.

The Ontario Department of Forestry has substituted eight steel observation towers in the forests of northern Ontario and each of them will overlook a radius of 20 miles. In making the announcement, E. J. Zavitz, Deputy Minister of the Department, stated their erection means that the territory covered by the Spruce Falls and the Abitibi Pulp & Paper Companies are now "tied up" with towers and telephones. Mr. Zavitz stated further that 20 more towers will be built throughout Ontario this year, and when these are completed approximately 25,000,000 acres of timber will have been brought under observation.

Liverpool's Fallen Soldiers.

It has taken over eight years' work to complete the roll of honor which is to be placed in Liverpool Cathedral, and, which contains the names of forty thousand Liverpool men who lost their lives in the war. The volume, said to be the largest of its kind in the world, consists of over 400 pages of vellum.

The frontispiece was autographed by the King, and each page is illuminated in gold and color. The book is to be bound in white vellum, and, when complete, will be placed on the cenotaph in the cathedral.

Old and Faithful Servants.

A fine record is given by the London Times gives the following records of continuous service on one farm: Shepherd, 54 years; foreman, 61 years; housekeeper, 41 years; three other employees, 55, 53 and 32 years.

These persons, the correspondent says, are all working at full-time rates on the farm; there are also three no longer working as employes still living in the village who served 47, 45 and 42 years on the same farm.

New Chrysler "65" 4-Door Sedan $1460

New CHRYSLER 65 and 75
...a glorious escape from Obsolete Fashions

AFTER nearly four years of imitation and emulation Chrysler now brings to the price groups of the new "65" and "75" a lavishness of beauty which was never there before.

The style of yesterday, still living in many new cars, is rendered obsolete because it is succeeded today by Chrysler cars so completely new in design that they establish new measures of beauty and style.

New slender-profile chromium-plated radiator, arched-window silhouette, the grace and sweep of its "air-wing" fenders, the luxury of fitting and appointment single these new Chryslers instantly as the new style that re-styles all motor cars.

Surely the mere evidence of the eye—because performance is assuredly the very name of Chrysler—proves at once that both the new "65" and the "75" have been lifted up to an intrinsic value which hundreds of dollars—yes, even a thousand—more than their selling price could not have secured before.

New Chrysler "65" Prices—Business Coupe, $1325; Roadster (with rumble seat), $1350; 2-door Sedan, $1360; Touring Car, $1370; 4-Door Sedan, $1460; Coupe (with rumble seat), $1460. Wire wheels extra.

New Chrysler "75" Prices—Royal Sedan, $1685; 2-passenger Coupe (with rumble seat), $1685; Roadster (with rumble seat), $2010; Town Sedan, $2150. Wire wheels extra. All prices f. o. b. Windsor, Ontario, including standard factory equipment (freight and taxes extra). 6-Ply full-balloon tires.

MOSCOW

The rally held by the South Addington District Women's Institute on August 29th at the home of Mrs. A. E. Huffman, of Moscow, was a decided success. The weather was ideal, and the rally, which took the form of a basket picnic, on the lawn, was enjoyed by everyone. The grounds and verandah of Mrs. Huffman's beautiful home were decorated with flags, evergreen trees and Chinese lanterns, while the Institute motto, "For Home and Country", with the pennants of the various branches, were given a prominent place. The smooth green lawn, with its shade trees, and the ivy and many flowers in bloom about the house and garden, made a pretty sight. Seats were arranged in groups about the lawn, and music by Misses Mary Wallace and Bessie Leonard and Mr. Borden Leonard, of Yarker, was given generously both during the afternoon and evening, and was very much appreciated. The guests were welcomed by Mrs. A. E. Huffman and Mrs. Charlie Amey, and the tea table was in charge of Mrs. M. Huffman, Mrs. J. A. Amey, Mrs. Lyall Millsap and Mrs. Geo. Lampkin. The afternoon passed quickly, with games and social intercourse, and after a bountiful supper, which was served from tables on the lawn, a splendid program was given. Vocal music by Mrs. Reid, of Yarker, and Mrs. Shangraw, of Colebrooke; instrumental music by Mrs. J. A. Amey and Mrs. Shangraw, and addresses by Mrs. Geo. Black, of Camden East; Mr. Laughland and Rev. Mr. McKenzie, together with Orchestra music, completed the program. Rev. Mr. McKenzie made a very capable chairman, and in his address placed particular emphasis on the good work done by such organizations as the Women's Institutes. Mrs. Black gave a very entertaining address, illustrating her points with several witty stories which she is an expert at telling. Mr. Laughland spoke in his usual helpful and pleasing manner, and his remarks were closely followed by all present. Votes of thanks were heartily given to those assisting with the program, and to Mrs. Huffman for her work and the use of her beautiful home for the occasion, and all were unanimous in saying that the Institute rally had been an immense success.

Take a Ride and you will know

ONE of the most spectacular achievements in automotive history is the manner in which today's "Bigger and Better" Chevrolet is increasing its margin of leadership as the world's largest builder of automobiles.

Come take a ride! Learn the reasons why people prefer Chevrolet.

Know Chevrolet performance! Wherever hills are steepest, the fame of the Chevrolet motor is greatest—because it is built on the valve-in-head principle, which provides all the power advantages of overhead direct firing.

Chevrolet's delightful smoothness is achieved by means of invar-strut alloy pistons, and by perfect balancing of reciprocating parts.

THE NEW PHYSIOLOGY.

Careers to Be Foretold at Birth, Says Medical Man.

"Is the day approaching when every child will be ear-marked for his future occupation almost before he can speak?" asks the special medical correspondent of the London Daily Express.

"This kind of prognostication is no mere fanciful picture of what future knowledge may render possible. It is merely a logical extension of the powers which medical men already possess with regard to adult human beings. The advances which have come through the new physiology justify us in looking forward to further advances which may well enable us to distinguish accurately the peculiar possibilities inherent in every human infant.

"Tests have largely come into use as a result of the necessity in wartime for estimating men's capacities for special forms of service, and particularly for that of flying. In peace time these tests have been adapted to testing ordinary manual work and to discovering the essential nature and causation of fatigue.

"It is only by the way the work of the body is carried out that we can estimate the man's capacities. When we can judge that way still more accurately, then we shall be able to say how much that body can go on working, and what is the particular task for which that body is best adapted.

"Perhaps parents will not find it so interesting, being spared the choosing of careers for their sons and daughters. But the work of the world may be better carried out."

NO LONGER HOARDING.

Money Is Now Flowing Into India's Savings Banks.

National savings figures in India within the last decade show that a large volume of capital which, for a long time, never left the possession of the owners, has now been flowing into the savings departments of post offices and banks. The total amount of deposits within that period is in the neighborhood of 600,000,000 rupees.

Ten years ago post office deposits stood at 167,000,000 rupees, while last year they were 241,000,000. The postal cash certificates also showed rapid growth. From 88,000,000 rupees ten years ago, the total at the end of last year was 262,000,000.

Similar evidence marks the deposits with competitive societies, which is now computed to amount to 200,000,000 rupees, and of the end of last year reached 187,000,000 rupees.

A large proportion of these deposits is of dates from the period of financial and a goodly portion of this amount would have remained dormant but for the energy of the cooperative societies in penetrating into the hoards and owners of rural India.

Family Communities Best.

Apart from model companies, welfare and happy families in which the Canadian West are those which have been built up by the gradual drifting together of families and others near of kin, in one place. A good instance of this, in a Canadian Pacific district, is told by W. K. Alexander, assistant commissioner of that railway's department of colonization and agriculture.

Eighteen years ago Hans Larsen of Aarhuis, Denmark, sought a half-section of land near what is now the town of Carseland, Alberta, on which he put up buildings and began farming. He not only raised seven crops but a good, husky family of eleven children. Mr. Larsen gradually extended his holdings and his sons, as they grew up, purchased adjoining properties, as did also the husbands of the daughters, until the whole family now farms 3,000 acres in almost a solid block. In fact, eight of the children, now grown up, possess land in the district.

"There are many similar cases in Western Canada," said Mr. Macalister.

New Ships For C. P. Fleet.

Costing over $20,000,000, the addition to the Canadian Pacific fleet of four magnificent "Duchess" ships, represents a record for any steamship organization. So stated Wm. Baird, steamship passenger traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific. With the completion of these ships the Atlantic fleet will, in point of numbers, speed, accommodation and service, reach a standard not hitherto attained in Canadian marine history.

As will be later revealed, he explained, these ships also give to Canada the credit of new propulsion arrangements which will be discussed acutely within the next few months in engineering circles throughout the world.

To Survey Western Lakes.

The Fort McMurray Board of Trade recently initiated a movement to have an ichthyological and hydrographic survey made of Great Slave Lake and Athabaska and their connecting and tributary waters. It is pointed out that while there have been surveys of nearly every kind in the north country a good deal of ignorance exists on its fishes. It is known that in Legend Lake there are land-locked salmon and in Lake Athabaska six species of trout and three of whitefish, but a survey is required to reveal accurately the territory's food fish and fish food.

Wonder Bridge Hand.

At one table at a bridge party in Auckland, New Zealand, each player was dealt a complete suit. Two hands laid down in the excitement of play revealed the extraordinary coincidence. Such a distribution of the cards might not occur in a hundred million deals.

A similar hand was dealt at Bedford in May last year. In the third rubber, after the cards had been shuffled and cut in the normal way, a hand was dealt in which each player held a complete suit.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

A minister who was making a sea voyage expressed strong disapproval of the language used by the sailors.

"It's a very bad habit," agreed the captain, "but when there is real danger the lads stop swearing."

Presently the weather grew very stormy and a sailor came into the clergyman's cabin.

"It's terribly rough, isn't it?" said the minister. "Are the sailors swearing?"

"They are," replied the man.

"Thank goodness!" breathed the parson.

Angry Purchaser—"Didn't you tell me that you had got as many as 12 eggs in one day from those eight hens you sold me?"

Poultry-seller—"Yes, ma'am."

Angry Purchaser—"Then why is it that I'm never able to get more than two eggs from them, and sometimes none at all in one day?"

Poultry-seller — "I don't know, ma'am, unless it's because you look for eggs too often. Now, if you look for them only once a week I feel quite positive that you will get just as many eggs as I did."

Externally or Internally, It Is Good—When applied externally by brisk rubbing, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil opens the pores and penetrates the tissue, touching the seat of the trouble and immediately affording relief. Administered internally, it will still the irritation in the throat which induces coughing and will relieve affections of the bronchial tubes and respiratory organs. Try it and be convinced.

They had both spent an amusing evening, and as they lived in the same street, it was not remarkable that they should collide with each other on the way home.

"No!"

"Then you don't know who I am?"

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

Mr. A. O. Norton, the millionaire Jack Manufacturer, of Boston, who recently died, was a great "booster" for Zutoo Tablets. He suffered from headaches from childhood and when he found Zutoo Tablets stopped these headaches in a few minutes and left no bad effects, he began recommending them to his family and friends. CLUBS FOR DOGS.

Experts Give Advice on Food and Veterinary Matters.

Soon every dog will be able to have his day in perfect comfort. Special clubs for them are springing up all over London.

At these clubs nothing but the subject of canine pets and the care of them is discussed. There are experts at hand to give advice on food and veterinary matters.

One of these clubs in the West End is a magnificent house overlooking Hyde Park, one in which Charles Dickens lived just before his death.

Dog "members" are not allowed in the better rooms upstairs, as these have painted ceilings and parquet floors, and things like this are left on the dog, but the basement is reserved for them.

Theirs is the roof garden with a pleasant outlook, and chains are provided for tying up the pets, also a rich variety of diversions in the form of colored rubber bones and balls.

When this club was first opened dogs were not allowed in the bedrooms upstairs, but the owners' wives made such a fuss about it that the rules were stretched to let small lap-dogs by. Now each bedroom contains a boudoir-basket for the happy Poke.

These are certainly dog days, says a London paper. Special cheap weekend tickets are issued on the railways so that they can get away periodically from the strain of life in a big city.

In America they go so far as to provide beauty parlors for dogs. These are run by veterinary surgeons, and ailing canines may obtain health cure retreats, or go there merely to attain a permanent wave and have their nails polished.

LITERATURE AT WORK.

Men Translate English Into Spanish for Benefit of Cigar-makers.

Cigar makers must have their minds and literature while they work or possibly they would become dull.

So when the starting whistle blew each morning men was translate English rapidly into Spanish mount high chair or platforms in the main factories in Florida and begin their day of reading, while below them workers listen and roll leaf tobacco deftly into cigars running from the cutside to the lighted printed page above.

The reading desk is at the end of a long hall in which clean and spacious work is done in quiet silence, but for the reader's well-trained, often dramatic, evening newspaper. Often, however, evening hours begin with the reading of some editorial or article in addition to the Spanish letters and translations, novels and magazine books are read. Occasionally reports of the proceedings of the legislature are read, but as a rule the workers prefer something lighter.

At first the readers was regarded more or less as a luxury, but now has become a special department. Operators report the productivity of workers increased by 10 to 50 per cent. when readers are employed.

In some instances cigar makers have refused to work without a reader or even a substitute usually is at hand to relieve the regular if the latter reader is absent.

WILL LIVE IN STONE.

Memorial to Comte de Castelnaux, Original of Dumas' Hero.

D'Artagnan, symbol of authority and swordmanship, immortalized in "The Three Musketeers," is to live in stone as well as in the hearts of all romantic persons.

Down in the town of Auch, in Bearn, a committee of solemn gentlemen whose beards are gray and young, have arranged for a monument to Dumas' hero and they will place a plaque of bronze on the house where he was born 300 years ago (the real D'Artagnan whose love affairs, duels and military prowess have hardly been exaggerated in the novel that made memorable the battle-cry of the four fine blades, "All for one and one for all.")

Charles de Biaatz, Comte de Castelmore, who took the family name of D'Artagnan so as to distinguish himself from his father, was a real swashbuckling figure in his day. He has been glorified into a French type of "chevalier," a keen-witted, brave, loyal knight-errant, almost anxious to die fighting for "his lady or his king."

Will It Replace Gasoline?

Petrol may be replaced for internal combustion engines by a new fuel called Mahonin. The motor of a hydroplane has been tried out and in France left no exhaust trail behind it.

The nature of the fuel is a secret, but it has one singular quality; it will not burn, explode, or catch fire in the open air. It is a light brown color, and is said to give an economy of thirty per cent. in weight—that is, a gallon Mahonin would keep an engine going for a time nearly a third as long again as in the case of petrol, says Tit-Bits.

Feathered Dustbins.

Would you care for a vulture in replace of your dustbin? In Tibet, where there are no modern facilities for getting rid of refuse such as are afforded in this country, vultures are used for this purpose.

The lamas make a practice of trapping the cinerons or black vultures and fastening a long rope to the bird's leg. The other end of the rope is attached to a peg driven in the ground, and each bird is provided with a big rock on which to perch. Garbage is strewn around it, and the scavenging birds feed on this and quickly clear it away.

In Memoriam.

"But your father isn't dead?"

"No. But he is bald!" — Journal Amusant, Paris.

AN AFRICAN BETROTHAL

How Zulus Celebrated Betrothal of Chief's Son to His Second Wife —White Folks Invited.

The kraal of the old chief Shanilansa, writes E. Moir in the Cape Argus, was close to the Natal beach, not far from some big tea plantations which lay about five miles north of the little village of Stanger.

The circular kraal stood high on a hillside, the big beehive huts being built round an open space capable of accommodating a few hundred people. Two tall palms straggled up behind the huts from the rank feathery grass, and their save way close to the sea-edge in a narrow band of tick-infested turf.

Old Shanilanga with his five wives, patriarch of the kraal, was a commanding figure in spite of his great age. His limbs were like smooth ebony, and his great paunch hung in massive folds. Yet he wore the circular chief's ring with dignity. His eldest son, who would succeed him as chief, when he died, was celebrating his betrothal to his second wife.

The great betrothal dance was to take place in the evening, and all through the long afternoon we watched the Zulu fighting men from the neighboring kraals coming down the hillside two by two, their black skins oiled and polished until they glistened in the strong Natal sunshine.

Two by two they came, and when the quick dusk gave place to night, they had mustered several hundred strong, closely packed inside the kraal.

By special invitation the white people from the solitary house lower down on the beach were present.

We came up as the dusk fell and were shown to a place of honor at one end of the kraal. At the other end, facing us, the old chief sat in state. The crowd, six figures deep, stretched between us, a big semi-circle of black skins and flashing teeth, and brandished shields and assegais.

Then the dance started. Two by two in turn, starting from each chief's end of the semi-circle, they came forward into the open and danced, clapping their hands and stamping their feet to the monotonous chanting of the chorus behind. It was a tedious business and yet their movements had a curious grace and rhythm that almost hypnotized us.

Last of all in the long row were the chief's son and his betrothed who stood side by side. As they came forward to the sounds of renewed clapping of hands and furious beating of feet, interminded with shouts of welcome, the first wife followed and as they danced together, oblivious of her, clapped first the one and then the other upon the shoulders, patting them and showing by every sign and token her delight at her man's increased happiness and station.

Her joy was not all on its account either, for we spoke to her afterwards and she explained that her husband's acquisition of a second wife promoted her to the position of chief wife in his kraal, while the new wife would have all the work to do and would have to wait upon her.

The dancing over, two lusty lads carried in a great three-legged assegai pot and set it in the middle of the open space, and the old chief came forward.

Black legs astraddle, he bent to the task of stirring the beer with a great wooden spoon. At the prospect of beer to come, the onlookers became somewhat noisy, and dancing was continued in small isolated groups, while rough musical instruments were brought out, and evident preparations were made to make a night of it.

Someone suggested that was a good time to take our departure, a suggestion as promptly followed. To leave at that juncture would be to offer irretrievable insult. Sure enough, before even the chief had tasted the mixture in the great kaffir pot, he lashed out with his own assegai handle a calabash full of the sour, refreshing concoction, and we drank in turn to the health of the happy couple.

A Hill Goes Wandering.

A wandering Alpine mountain is reported from the southern province of Carinthia—the "Petzen Massif," at Lolbach, near Bleibach, which the torrential rains seem to have undermined. Another theory is that the moving of the mountain has been caused by the recent earthquakes.

At the village of Unterort, near Feistritz, in the same province, a marked subsidence has occurred. For ten days, according to reports, the larches were torn from the soil and thrown to the ground with a tremendous crash. Everywhere springs have broken out of the ground, lifting the earth, while big rocks have been loosened, thundering down the hillsides to disappear in the mud. The inhabitants of the surrounding districts have been obliged to leave their homes.

What Do Birds Eat at North Pole?

Defenders of Jules Verne, the famous scientific novelist, refuse to accept the word of Capt. Wilkins, the Australian aviator, that there is no land at the North Pole. Jules Verne affirmed there is. Admiral Peary, the first man to set foot on top of the world, said there is and that he saw it. So did Amundsen. If there is nothing but ice and snow at the pole, ask the friends of Jules Verne, what do the thousands of migratory birds who go there periodically find when they get there?

Relics of Bonnie Prince Charlie.

Private agent to Prince Charles Edward, the young Pretender, by his admirers in 1745, a shield was recently sold in London for $20,000. The Pretender's snuffbox brought $650, and his pistols $1,000.

"Oh, hello Jack! When did you come to town?"

Burns had recognized the cheery voice of an old friend over the telephone.

But Jack was speaking from his home one hundred miles away. He had given "Long Distance" the distant telephone number, and she had connected him at once, while he held the line.

Nothing extraordinary about this. Quick Long Distance service is now practically universal. In most cases, connection is made while you remain at the telephone.

Giving the distant telephone number speeds up the service. We shall gladly look up for you the distant numbers you frequently call.

MAPLE LEAF WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of the Maple Leaf Institute held at the home of Mrs. R. J. Cault, Hawley, was perhaps one of the most educative and interesting meetings of the year. After the items of business had been completed, Mrs. F. Miller, of Peterboro', gave a splendid paper on Legislation, giving in detail many laws relating to women and children, urging our owmen to study the problems being discussed in Parliament, and use our franchise intelligently. Mrs. Albert Close, a gifted English lady and musician, gave a vocal solo, after which Mrs. Fletcher Loucks, of Winnipeg, gave a paper on "Training Young Canada for Higher Ideals". Miss Evelyn Miller then gave a humorous reading, which was much appreciated. After a hearty vote of thanks extended to our visitor, hostess and lunch committee, the meeting adjourned until the second Tuesday in September.

Belleville Kiwanis Club Carnival and Style Show
The Kiwanis Club of Belleville are announcing their 4th Annual Carnival and Style Show on another page of this issue of The Beaver. The dates this year are September 10th to 15th, Monday to Friday, inclusive, and the place is as usual, the Armouries, Belleville. This event is equally looked forward to by scores of Napanee people as well as Belleville citizens, as one of the outstanding community entertainments in this district. They provide novelty events galore every evening, as well as a style show staged by the various Belleville stores depicting Autumn's latest modes on eight pretty Belleville girls. The admission remains at 15c., and the Kiwanis' Club slogan of "More than your money's worth" should be fulfilled. 36a

ODESSA

Charley Amey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Amey, who has been attending the Collegiate, Napanee, for some time, is being congratulated on his success in winning the medal at the athletic games held at the University stadium in Toronto. Charley, with three young men from Napanee, won honors in Kingston, thus making him eligible for the Toronto sports. Rumor says he is to be still further honored by a trip agroad.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society met at the home of Miss Aggie Laughlin, last Thursday afternoon. Thirty members and visitors were in attendance. Among the out of town visitors were Mrs. Boyce, Detroit; Mrs. Blake Gilbert, Napanee; Mrs. Sloan and daughter, Miss Mabel Sloan, R.N. and Mrs. Amgy Aylesworth, Kingston. The programme consisted of instrumental selections, Mrs. A. Aylesworth; vocal numbers, Miss Geraldine Parker; and a very interesting description of the motor trip from San Francisco, by Mrs. Harvey List. Mr. and Mrs. Lucas recently motored from Frisco, and visited many places of interest en route.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Hartman and two daughters, of Vineland, are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartman.

Kenneth Laughlin, Govan, Maine, is visiting his aunt, Miss Aggie Laughlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Noles, Kingston, spent the week end with Mrs. Noles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Walker and daughter, Mrs. Willa Wilcox, and granddaughter, Miss Inda Wilcox, of Hamburg, N.Y., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Aylesworth, of Madoc, spent a few days the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Hamm.

Miss Laura Crowe, of Cobourg, recently visited with Mrs. S. J. Sproule.

Mrs. Ella Harker, Sydenham, spent a few days with Mrs. Lewis Snider.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Brant, Barrister and Solicitor, and Mrs. Frank McCormick, guests of Mrs. Brant's mother, Mrs. T. C. Graham.

Peter Graham and family, who have been spending the summer months here, have returned to their home in Toronto.

Miss Laura Fraser, who has been spending her holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Fraser, has returned to her school in Durham.

Miss Gladys Toplift, who has been spending her vacation with her father, W. E. Toplift, has returned to her school in Pickering.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Bond, who have been guests of the former's brother, Sherman Bond, have returned to their home in Detroit. They were accompanied by Mrs. Sherman Bond, as far as St. Catherines, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank McCormick.

Miss Mabel Martin is visiting her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Martin, Cole Lake, and frinds in Verona.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Hamm spent a few days with relatives in Selby and Plainfield.

Rev. G. McQuade and family have returned from their summer camp at Rice Lake.

H. J. Smith, W. E. Toplift, Orange Babcock, Charley Hillier and Fred Hodge are among those attending the Toronto Exhibition.

Don't use harsh Tooth Pastes! Dentists recommend Milk of Magnesia in Tooth Paste, because, while it cleans the teeth, it mildly counteracts acid. Small tube 19c., family size 39c. At Wallace's. Napanee Agents.

COURT OF REVISION.

Notice is hereby given that a Court will be held pursuant to The Ontario Voters' List Act, by His Honor, the Judge of the County Court of the County of Lennox and Addington, at Town Hall, Centreville, on Thursday, September 27th, at 10 o'clock a.m., to hear and determine complaints of errors and omissions in the Voters' List of the Municipality of Camden, for 1928.

Dated at Centreville, this 11th day of September, 1928.

T. E. McGILL,
37a Clerk of Camden.

ADMINISTRATRIX' NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In the Estate of Harold Ruttan, Farmer, deceased.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to Chapter 121 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1914, Section 56, and amending Acts, that all persons having any claims against the estate of Harold Ruttan, late of the Township of Adolphustown, in the County of Lennox and Addington, Farmer, deceased, are required to deliver or send to the undersigned on or before the 6th day of October, A.D. 1928, full particulars of their claims, duly verified.

And further take notice, that after the said 6th day of October, A.D. 1928, the Administratrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said estate, and shall not be liable to any person of whose claims she shall not have received notice at the time of the distribution thereof.

J. M. SIMPSON,
Solicitor for the said Estate.

Dated this 4th day of September, 1928. 36dp

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

Persons having claims against the estate of F. William John, late of the Township of Denbigh, in the County of Lennox and Addington, farmer, deceased, are required to send particulars and proofs thereof to the undersigned solicitors for said estate, before the 12th day of October, A.D. 1928, after which date the assets will be distributed to the parties entitled thereto, pursuant to the provisions of section 51 of Chapter 150 R.S.O. 1927.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of The Beaver:

I am writing you from an observer's standpoint re School Parade at Fall Fairs. It seems to me that the dressing of those taking part in fancy costumes, fancy headgear, and in some cases carrying an assortment of articles, does not add to the value of the drill and is confusing to the judges. It is also a matter of expense to the School Section, as it is impossible to use the same outfit year after year, new costumes have to be arranged for each year.

Now, why not have military drill which is taught in the schools, the children all dressed in uniform, the girls in white middies and blue skirts, the boys in white blouses, and the judging be based on the drill, and not on the costumes of those taking part. The Cadets, who are taking part in military drill, have a uniform to wear. They never wear fancy costumes.

If all the children were dressed in uniform and the exercises were the same, there would be competition worth while.

There has been an unfairness displayed, perhaps unintentionally by the judges, in some instances in the past.

While I believe in the School Fall Fairs, I can see where they might be made a stronger factor for public improvement.

WEDDING BELLS.

Bruce—Ramsay.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, Sept. 5th, 1928, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. A. Ramsay, Newburgh, the Rev. T. H. P. Anderson officiating, when Jean E., their eldest daughter, became the bride of Mr. Wm. M. Bruce of Kingston. Gladioli adorned the home. The bride was charmingly gowned in poudre blue crepe romain trimmed with lace, carrying a magnificient bouquet of butterfly roses and maiden hair fern, and was given in marriage by her father. After the congratulations to the newly married couple by the friends, a very dainty buffet luncheon was served.

The young couple left early afternoon for a motor trip to Muskoka, the bride travelling in a gown of navy and sand crepe, wearing a beautiful fox fur, the gift of the groom. The guests, besides the members of the immediate families were, the grandfather of the bride, Mr. Ramsay, of Newburgh West, Miss Jessie Cattermole, of Kingston; Mrs. F. Herrington, Napanee, and Mrs. E. Rook, Napanee. Among the beautiful gifts presented to the young people, prior to their marriage, were a shower from her girl friends of Kingston; a cabinet of silver from the members of the office staff of the firm; a miscellaneous shower from the young people of Bethel Church, Kingston; and a sewing cabinet from the "Blue Banner" Sunday School class, and other friends of the United Church, Newburgh. On their return the young couple will reside on Victoria St., Kingston, where Mr. Bruce, with his father, are contractors.

THE FAZELEY CLUB

Sir Robert Peel Opens Park to Village Club—Explains His Adventure in Defying Convention.

Probably no other baronet has made such a success of a village club as Sir Robert Peel has made of the Fazeley organization, over which he presides, says an article in the London Express.

He has turned what remains to him of the deer park of his ancestors into a playground for the people.

Where deer, and later cows, were once herded there is now an up-to-date bar, a cricket pavilion, and a delightful retreat for the tired workers to spend their evenings.

Although the club was only started a few months ago it already has a membership of 750. Builders are extending the premises, doubling the area covered by the old cowshed.

When they have finished Fazeley will have a splendid dance hall set in sylvan surroundings and overlooking a glorious cricket pitch, which cost the Peel family over $5,000 to lay down.

Mr. Green, a miner, who had just come up from the pit, showed me round, in his capacity as club secretary, while Sir Robert was playing for his team in a cricket match against Polesworth.

The old estate of Drayton Manor, with its wonderful park and grounds, upon which the Peel family expended over $500,000, has been sold.

But a portion of the grounds, and the cricket pitch, was retained by Sir Robert, who lives in the Swiss Lodge, once the gardener's cottage.

This part, which is encircled by magnificent timber, has been placed at the disposal of the Fazeley Club by Sir Robert.

In addition to the cricket-playing side of the village life there is a dance hall and concert room, a bowls section, a rifle shooting side with winter competitions. Concerts are arranged by the baronet with well-known artists, and among the distinguished artists who have given a turn are Lady Peel (herself a club member), Mr. Jack Buchanan, and Gertrude Lawrence.

A catering department has been arranged, and Sir Robert has organised and personally directs a jazz band, which has already achieved considerable local fame.

More than once the baronet has had to dash back from the races to conduct in one of the neighboring village halls.

They are, of course, not professional musicians. The saxophonist is a barber; the banjo player a bleacher; a plumber plays the violin, and a fitter the piano. A collier performs on the trumpet, and a bright youth, when not busy pattern-making, operates the traps drums.

Sir Robert told me why he organised the club and why he takes such an interest in its welfare.

"I find that you get more fun out of life if you disregard the conventional, and nothing gives me greater pleasure than to see all these folk enjoying themselves."

While we were discussing the club there were scores of workingmen and women enjoying the beauties of the park bathed in evening sunshine. Children were playing on the grass to the tunes of the band.

"They get all this for half a crown a year, and I am only too pleased for my private grounds to be used in this way. Supposing it was all shut up. How many would enjoy it?

"Knocking about the world broadens a man's mind, and I have done a good deal of knocking about.

"Not all my life has appeared in the papers," he added laughingly. "When I ran away from Harrow with another fellow to enlist there was a noise about that. Well, after I was at Christ's College, Cambridge, went into the Coldstream Guards.

"I was invalided out and went to Australia as a cowboy, and after that I had six months as a fisherman dragging nets. That was a change of a time. I have lived on ten bob a week.

"My experience includes a job in front of a picture house, a part in Charlot's revue 'London Calling,' then I ran a dance hall at Erdington and I have been running bands.

"But to run a village club in your own grounds and take an active part in it is as good fun as anyone can get."

Lady Peel is known to the outside world as "Beatrice Lillie."

The Sparrow Tribe.

Two thousand years ago the common sparrow, familiar in so many parts of the world to-day, lived only in Middle Europe. Since that time it has covered all of Europe and entered Siberia, crossed the Mediterranean Sea and invaded Africa. It was brought to Canada in 1850. By 1870 it had spread all over the Eastern States. It continued to extend its habitation and has for years been abundant throughout the United States and Canada. The sparrow is bold, hardy, crafty; it will eat nearly anything, live anywhere, and can scratch out a living under almost any circumstances.

British Bell-Casting Supreme.

There is a peculiar touch of satisfaction in the thought that the new carillon for the Canadian University has been made in England. Though Belgium is the home of the carillon where bell playing is an art, English bell-founders are now supreme. This probably helps to account for the fact that of late years the carillon has gained in popularity in England, and no further away than Bond street, London, a carillon of attractively sweet tone may be regularly heard.

Are You Run-Down?

All That is Needed is a Tonic to Build Up the Blood.

There are many people who have been semi-invalids so long that they accept their condition as a life burden. They have endured nervousness, broken sleep and a generally run-down feeling so long that they have given up hope of again enjoying good health. In most of these cases a well chosen diet, fresh air and a tonic to build up the blood would do wonders. And as a blood-building tonic no other medicine can compare with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. There is scarcely a spot in Canada where you will not find some formerly ailing person who has found new health through the use of this medicine. The experience of Mrs. Thomas Ahearn, St. Malo, Que., bears out these statements. She says:—"I have the greatest reason to be thankful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. I was in a very weak and run-down condition. Frequently I would faint and my legs would swell badly. It was almost impossible to do any housework. It seemed as if my blood had turned to water. In this weak and despondent condition I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A few boxes proved that they were helping me, but I continued taking the pills until I had used a dozen boxes, by which time I found myself as a completely restored woman, able to do my work without fatigue, a better appetite and a sense of cheerfulness where before I had been despondent. For all this, thanks to the health-giving qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

If you are feeling run-down, give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and new health will be yours. You can get the pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PETROLEUM AND NATURAL GAS

With a view to encouraging the development of Canada's resources in petroleum and natural gas, a number of important changes have been made in the Petroleum and Natural Gas Regulations relating to Dominion lands outside the Northwest Territories. On the recommendation of the Honourable Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, an Order in Council, dated May 7th, 1928, was passed amending the regulations so as to provide for the issue of permits to conduct preliminary prospecting operations in advance of the issue of a lease.

Heretofore applicants for petroleum and natural gas rights were required to obtain a lease and make payment in advance of the rental for the first year. Under the amended regulations the permittee has the privilege of applying four-fifths of the first year's rental to the cost of development work, provided he complies with the regulations.

The application for a permit should be filed in the same manner as an application for a petroleum and natural gas lease, and the procedure is similar in both cases.

A fee of five dollars must be paid, together with the rental at the rate of ten cents per acre, when the application is filed, but the application has to be accompanied by a cash bond amounting to forty cents per acre. The latter is to guarantee an expenditure during the term of the permit, in actual core drilling or other like operations on the location for the determination of the geological structure, of a sum equal to the amount of the cash bond. The bond shall be subject to forfeiture unless evidence is furnished that the expenditure has been made.

The permittee may relinquish his permit, provided the expenditure required has been made, and he shall have the exclusive right, before the termination of the permit or earlier, to apply for a lease of the petroleum and natural gas rights.

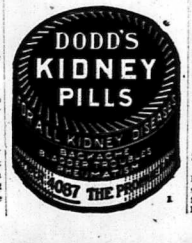
Provision is made for the acceptance of expenditures which may be placed to the credit of the permittee and may be applied on rental on petroleum and natural gas leases. If a permittee does not exercise his rights to a lease of the area, notice shall be posted in the office of the Agent of Dominion Lands making the lands available under the regulations.

A statement respecting the proposed operations by a permittee shall be submitted to the proper officers of the Department, and the shall furnish the Department with geological and other data obtained as the result of the operations, together with the logs of the wells drilled. Expenditure incurred in operations on privately owned lands adjacent to areas under permit shall be accepted provided data is furnished officers of the Department.

A permittee may relinquish his permit when the Minister is satisfied that further expenditures would not be warranted, and the bond will be released. He may assign his permit, but not without the consent of the Minister, and no assignment shall be made and the bond forfeited in default of compliance with the terms and conditions under which the permit was granted.

These regulations are distributed by the Dominion Lands Administration Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or may be obtained at the office of any Agent of Dominion Lands.

Of the total area of Canada, 1,250,000 square miles (approximately one-quarter of the whole) is forest land. Less than half of this carries timber of merchantable size (6 inches in diameter at the present time, and only about one-quarter carries saw material (10 inches in diameter).



MEANING OF A MILLION YEARS.

It Is Impossible to Conceive of a Billion Miles.

Astronomers and geologists habitually deal in millions—of years. It is impossible to conceive of a billion miles. Even the familiar illustration of a railway train steaming so many miles an hour for so many years conveys a very vague idea. It is equally difficult to form an idea of the vast period of time with which geologists deal. What idea can man, who is limited to a hundred years, form of a million years?

A scientist tells us how a striking impression of such a lapse of time may be partially conveyed to the mind:—

"Stretch a piece of paper 81 feet 4 inches long around the walls of a room somewhat over 20 feet square, recall the events of life to give some conception of a hundred years, and then consider that a mark one-tenth of an inch broad at one end of the paper represents the century, while the whole strip gives place for only a million years."

An even more striking illustration may be seen in the works of nature. Could we stand upon the edge of a gorge a mile and a half in depth, cut out of the solid rock by a tiny stream scarcely visible at the bottom of the terrible abyss, and were we informed that the little streamlet was able to wear off annually only one-tenth of an inch from its rocky bed, what would be our conception of the prodigious length of time that the stream must have taken to excavate the gorge?

We should certainly feel rewarded on finding that the stream has performed the enormous amount of work in something less than a million.

GOLDEN JUBILEE YEAR.

Canadian National Exhibition Celebrates Its Fiftieth Anniversary.

The Golden Jubilee of the Canadian National Exhibition is to be lavishly celebrated when it throws open its gates on August 24th—to reveal countless displays of products, services, activities, in a majestic setting beside the placid waters of Lake Ontario—a luxurious, restful, yet gladsome atmosphere traditional to this, Canada's largest exhibition.

That the Exhibition in its overwhelming appeal, cosmopolitan and educational results, stands unique and monumental among annual expositions is indicated by the crowds who return every year in increasing numbers, and every recurring season makes more secure the C.N.E.'s claim to the title the World's Greatest Annual Exhibition.

An hour, a day, a week are alike, inadequate to exhaust the marvels of this Canadian festival which must not be confused with the ordinary fair. It is not a fair, it is an exhibition built on world's exposition lines. It is the nation in microcosm, a revelation of the infinite wealth, tireless energy and unbounded potentialities of Canada, and a graphic visualization of what Canadians have achieved and what remains to be done with our national heritage.

Among the numerous attractions this year will be the band of the Royal Air Force, the youngest and most popular band in Britain to-day. Another outstanding musical feature is the Exhibition Chorus—a vast choir of 2,000 voices.

Germany's Wholesale Godfather.

President von Hindenburg is godfather to at least 2,000 children, he recently confided to Mayor Goerlitz of Oldenburg.

"Before I became President, I was godfather to about 500," he said. "Now I am asked about five times a day to stand sponsor."

At times these godchildren prove somewhat troublesome.

"Not long ago I visited a smaller city," the President continued. "I had just taken my seat in the carriage, when suddenly a little 11½-year-old youngster was lifted into the seat opposite me. I asked in some surprise what this meant, when the child's mother replied, rather reproachfully: 'But don't you remember that this is your godson?' The mother actually wanted him to drive through town with me.

"I was just wondering how my little friend and I would get along during the drive, when he began to cry so boisterously that his mother considered it wise to relieve me of him."

Toad Burnt as Witch.

I have always liked the country people in Austria, so much that it gives me a shock to read a truly dreadful occurrence in that land, says a London Chronicle contributor. A peasant's cows were attacked by some mysterious illness. A toad was found in the cowshed, and at once it was suggested that witchcraft had been at work; the witch had turned herself into a toad; the toad must be burned. So the toad was fetched and was, while the peasants walked round carrying a crucifix. He was fined for cruelty, but what a state of appalling ignorance the incident uncovered.

Modelling the Moon.

A plaster of paris model of the moon is being made by an enthusiastic amateur astronomer in Los Angeles. He has been working at it for two years and does all his work with dental tools.

His observations made through two high-power telescopes in his home observatory are supplemented with photographs of the moon, and when completed the model, 40 inches in diameter, will be perfect in every detail.

Latest Armored Car.

Guards riding with money in an armored car used in a western city can command a wide view of the street, both in front and to the rear, through an observatory in the roof, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The glass windows, windshield and headlights are of the bullet-proof variety, and the radiator and front fender are also incased partially in armor.

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD
(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound. An extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make home interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the whole year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from the products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a stouter and more rugged material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a sure and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

Rogers [BATTERYLESS] Radio

Completely Shatter all Previous Standards of PERFECTION—PERFORMANCE—PRICE

Now on Sale

An achievement only made possible by four years of exclusive concentration on Batteryless production for Canada only.

Now on Sale

Rogers
"Four-Twenty" Table Model

A development of the famous Roger Model "Two-Twenty", using Tuning Knob operates Illuminated Drum Dial. Automatic Voltage Control, Rogers Output Filter Phonograph "Plug-in" Jack. Genuine Walnut cabinet in Modern. Price complete (except Loud Speaker) $165.00

Rogers
"Four Hundred" Console

...equipment as the Roger "Four-Twenty" shown above, with Genuine Rogers Symphony Cone in attractive Walnut cabinet in Modern. Price complete (except Loud Speaker) $260.00

TO express the almost sensational advantages of these new Rogers-Batteryless Sets in terms as conservative as seems proper yet as emphatic and enthusiastic as is justified by the actual facts, is a difficult problem. Nothing to equal these marvellous values and remarkably low prices was thought possible. Here are a few of the features that you will find in the new Rogers-Batteryless Radio Models this season, at prices $60 to $110 less than last year:

1. New Illuminated Drum Dial
—for increased visibility, greater ease and speed in tuning-in stations. Wavelengths clearly shown.
2. Non-Slip Tuning Control
—gear drive with no possibility of slip or back lash, positive tuning action, finer tuning control.
3. Automatic Voltage Control
—which maintains uniform voltage on the tubes, no matter what fluctuations may occur in the electric current. An exclusive Rogers-Batteryless feature.
4. Rogers Output Filter in All Models
—provides greater clarity and fidelity of tonal reproduction. Improves the tone quality of any loud speaker.
5. Phonograph "Plug-In" Jack
—in conjunction with the electrical pick-up unit this makes any old phonograph equal to the best and highest-priced phonograph of today.
6. Increased Selectivity without Tonal Loss
—by means of improved Shielding and the new Rogers A/C Power Tube.

And—please bear in mind—that these are all new features in addition to the basic features built into the Rogers-Batteryless from the beginning and responsible for its early success.

Rogers
"Four-Eighty" Table Model

Automatic Voltage Control, Rogers Output Filter and Phonograph "Plug-in" Jack. Price complete (except Loud Speaker) $275.00

Two hundred radio dealers placed orders for $750,000 worth of these new 1929 Rogers-Batteryless Sets at first sight.

These first orders for Rogers-Batteryless Sets equal more than the total year's business of most electric radios.

Advance wholesale sales of this magnitude can only indicate one thing—a tremendous public demand for Rogers-Batteryless Sets this Fall.

New Low Price Level—$60 to $110 Less

Rogers
"Four-Hundred" Highboy

...the result ...ound for a Rogers ...ful multi-Voltage A/C Original Filter ...Jack, ...plete. Price $250.00
...Phonograph ...Highboy to repro- ...record $325.00

This year's Rogers prices range from $165 to $395—a flat saving of from $60 to $110 plus all the added improvements.

These prices speak for themselves. We believe they represent the greatest dollar for dollar value in high-quality electric radio that has ever been offered to the Canadian public.

"First in the field—first in proven performance—first in value," is only true of one electric radio—the Rogers-Batteryless. Isn't that the kind of radio you want in your home?

MENACE OF RATS

Nearly Ten Million People In India Have Died of Plague, Which Is Directly Traceable to Rats.

In the course of twenty years, said Dr. Gabriel Pett, a distinguished medical man, rats have caused the death of one million of the people of India.

This, unfortunately, is a grave under-estimate of the facts, declared a health authority to the Statesman, of Calcutta, for, he added, in the last twenty-five years nearly ten million people in India have died of plague, which is directly traceable to rats.

He suggested that a determined effort should be made to reduce the number of rats by educational propaganda, introducing new building regulations and other means.

"Every medical man is aware that bubonic plague is directly due to intimate association of rats with man. Plague primarily is a disease of rats and other rodents, and human plague is really an accidental occurrence resulting from an epidemic of plague in one or other of these animals.

"There are certain animals which feed very largely on the same food materials as man, and of these, rats are the worst, because they have so largely accustomed themselves to live in close association with man. In fact, they may be considered almost to be domestic animals. In many parts of India houses are built of such materials and in such a way as to encourage the largest possible number of rats.

"For example, houses built of mud with country-tiled roofs form ideal shelters for these animals, and villages in the Punjab, the United Provinces, Bombay and Benar and Orissa are always overcrowded with rat-holes. The foolish habits of casting out food refuse at their very doors and of stocking grain in their dwellings in receptacles easily accessible to rats encourage the propagation of these creatures on an enormous scale.

"Plague infection is ordinarily conveyed from rat to rat by means of rat fleas, but when many rats have died the fleas are compelled to find other sources of blood and in these circumstances they resort to man, taking plague infection with them. So long as people are content to allow rats to multiply in large numbers within or near their dwellings, plague will persist.

"In the last twenty-five years nearly ten million people have died of plague in India. The majority of these deaths have occurred in the Punjab, the United Provinces, Bombay, and Behar, and Orissa. Bengal has suffered far less than most of the other provinces, and though Calcutta has on occasion been attacked with serious outbreaks of plague, very few cases have occurred in recent years. The explanation of the relative immunity of Bengal from plague is probably to be sought in the physical and climatic conditions of the province and in the character of its main harvests.

"Bengal is almost wholly deltaic and enjoys a very heavy rainfall which often floods village sides. This obviously be drowned owing to the multiplication of rats, as they would obviously be drowned owing to the rise of the water. In this connection, it is quite possible that Calcutta owes her relative immunity in recent years to the periodical flooding of the city. Whenever streets are flooded, a little observation will show that many rats perish in the waters.

"As regards the effect of agricultural conditions it may be pointed out that many of the provinces in India subject to plague, depend more upon dry crops than upon rice. In many areas there has been a sudden decline of plague prevalence in April and May, as soon as the harvest has been reaped."

Bird a Tea Drinker.

A very rare visitor has just reached the London, England, Zoo—so rare that Regent's Park has only seen one other of the kind, and that one lost little time before dying.

This is the big blue Plaintain-eater or touraco, a bird from Uganda, East Africa. The newcomer, in spite of its fame, distinguishes itself by tea-drinking whenever it gets a chance, sipping the stream of liquid as it flows from the spout of the pot into the teacup.

This specimen was a household pet before it arrived, and still longs for human companionship. It rips against a door to be let into a room, follows anyone about, and likes to be fondled.

It wears a handsome blue suit with a yellow bib, its waistcoat and has a crest of black feathers shaped like that of a peacock.

The Liver Fad.

The fad of liver eating which has sent the price of liver soaring may do beefsteak soaring may do harm to healthy individuals and deprive those of scientific knowledge of a valuable life-saving meat which they really need, the American Medical Association was warned in a program devoted to the latest reports upon the conquest of this hitherto hopeless disease. Dr. W. S. Middleton, of Madison, Wis., reported that other types of anaemia do not respond to the specific element in liver, although the Minot-Murphy diet, which includes liver, has been generally successful in treating secondary anaemia.

World's Smallest House.

The smallest house in Great Britain, if not in the world, is to be found in Conway, an interesting old town in North Wales. The cottage, which stands directly underneath the walls of the castle where Edward II., the first Prince of Wales, was born, has a front of only six feet and a height of only ten feet. It has two rooms, one on the ground floor and the other directly above it. For a great many years it was occupied like any other house, as a place of residence, but it is now in charge of a caretaker, who exhibits it to numerous tourists for a penny fee.

OLD MRS. THORNE

...her son and Mrs. Thorne that ...would have to go to the workhouse ...severed the tie with unexpected ...Her few friends had thought ...there would be thoroughly upset ...there would be terrible po... ...But nothing ...happened. The people ...that her visit must have been ...the complete shock of ...to her imperfect ...complied. The ...seventy years ...over that this was only a natural feeling—that it would wear off, that it would disappear. But it did not do so, and as she lay in bed, again beneath blank, white walls, she would wonder desperately, knowing all the time that it was a foolish idea, whether she were there or not. She began to think that her real self had never been in the workhouse; it lived a normal life somewhere else, while a shadow of herself, a miserable transfiguration of the woman she knew, went about her work in these echoing, comfortless rooms and passages. It was not surprising, then, that among the other inmates she began to get the reputation of being "a bit queer". There was nothing really definite to be said about her, but at their dinner-time Mrs. Adams would tell Mrs. Box how "that poor old thing Mrs. Thorne, you know, came creeping up in her shy, frightened way, and asked me did I really think we were all living here, or had some of us got here by a kind of accident and weren't really here at all?" No doubt Mrs. Thorne could not put clearly to Mrs. Adams what was struggling in her own faded mind, and Mrs. Adams would confuse the story in telling it to Mrs. Box. However that was, the feeling that there was something queer about Mrs. Thorne grew up among the women, and meanwhile Mrs. Thorne's obsession grew upon her. Nothing could get rid of it now.

Day after day went by, and though she saw that time did pass and that she was in the workhouse, she could not convince herself of the reality of the whole situation because the thing had become a nightmare to her. When the women sleeping in the beds near her heard her muttering in the night they grew alarmed, and when they saw her walking about in the day, with the look of a lost dog in her eyes, they avoided her. And there was fear, too, in her eyes; a spark of fear which had begun to creep in when, night after night, she lay awake thinking that to et up again and face those blank white walls and that same long day would drive her to madness.

Soon the women were requesting that Mrs. Thorne should be removed from among them and put somewhere in a room by herself where she could no longer disturb them by her "creepy" expression. After some discussion between the matron and other authorities this was conceded, and Mrs. Thorne was given a small room which she shared with another old woman she was older than Mrs. Thorne, and she had developed slight eccentricities in a different direction, tendencies to childlike mischief and waywardness, which were, however, less disturbing than Mrs. Thorne's delusions. These had now gone too far to be remedied; she was regarded as one of those cases which are harmless but slightly "queer"; she could easily be kept at the workhouse, but she had to be watched, or her "queerness" might have gone too far for comfort. She grew more and more into her own thoughts, disregarding completely, as far as she could, the odious old creature with whom she was forced to live. This old woman had formerly contracted a habit of persistently unbuttoning all the buttons on her garments, and how, since elastic was substituted, she grumbled and whined all day for her lost playthings. To the end of her time there Mrs. Thorne could never force herself to believe that she was really there; she could never lapse naturally into her present life.

If you had gone as a visitor and been on an inspection through all the wards and buildings, you would finally have come to a small room where there sat two old ladies—one fumbling and complaining, whose history would be explained to you in a rather jocular way; and one sitting quite silently in the corner with averted eyes. And the trouble with her? "Oh, her I—queer, you know—a little queer". And if she raised her eyes, and you saw the lost, wounded, frightened look in them, and asked what caused it, you would be told the whole trouble in one sentence: "Well, the truth is, she didn't like leaving her home and coming here."

—Mary Crosier, in Manchester Guardian.

A Wonderful Tribute

Baby's Own Tablets Declared to Be Worth Their Weight in Gold.

A mother has only to use Baby's Own Tablets once to be convinced that nothing else can equal them in banishing the ills of her little ones. Once used, always used, as long as there are small children in the home—that is the tribute thousands of mothers pay the Tablets.

Among the many, many mothers who are anxious to tell of their experience with Baby's Own Tablets is Mrs. Griffith, of East Hamilton, Ont., who writes:—"Shortly after coming to Canada I began giving the Tablets to my baby boy who was then six weeks old. The result was so pleasing that since that time I have always kept the Tablets in the house. I have two children now and both of them are the picture of health. Baby's Own Tablets are the only medicine they have ever had and I really believe the Tablets to be worth their weight in gold."

Baby's Own Tablets are free from all injurious drugs and can be given to the youngest babe with absolute safety. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Camels are commonly understood to belong exclusively to the Old World. It was not always so, however, as a specimen recently acquired by Canada's National Museum at Ottawa amply demonstrates. This is the fossilled frame of a camel which a few million years ago roamed over the western plains of North America which were then dry. This curious specimen has been placed on exhibition in the Hall of Palaeontology.

Auburn is the color of a "red-headed" girl's hair if her pa is rich.

There ARE bargains in Cost per mile

YOU often hear of people getting bargains, but none ever seem to come your way. You wonder why. Sometimes you are tempted to believe that bargains don't exist.

Yet one thing really is a BARGAIN . . . a good used car, properly represented and fairly priced. The Used Cars we offer are bargains in cost-per-mile of easy transportation. The actual first cost of these cars is extraordinarily low. And they offer a tremendous saving in cost per mile that constitutes the bargain.

We represent a car of world-fame—the "Bigger and Better" Chevrolet. We have a large stock of Good Used Cars that are quite definitely BARGAINS.

Come round and see them. Then you will know that they offer more miles of dependable, comfortable transportation for every dollar you spend.

Gossard

Corset Demonstration

Tues., Sept. 18 Wed., Sept. 19

New Foundations Before New Clothes

That is the important mandate for women who would shop wisely—successfully—economically. Because your clothes fit with greater ease and sureness of line when your figure is correctly corseted.

Miss D. McLean, the trained corsetiere from the Canadian H. W. Gossard Company will be in the corset department on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 18 and 19, to answer your questions and help you in your selection of a suitable garment.

Front Lacing Corsets from 3.25 to 6.00
Combinations from 2.50 to 5.00
Gossard Sobliates from 8.00 to 15.00
Step-ins from 3.75 to 10.00

Take advantage of this service and 'phone for definite appointments.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our little darling, Dorothy May Hawley, who fell asleep in Jesus Sept. 11th, 1927.

The fairest lilies are the first to fade,
The sweetest the first to fall.
The fondest, dearest, best of all,
Within the grave is laid.

Like nature's choicest flower,
She for a while did bloom;
Then dropped her lovely head
Among the sweet perfume.

She was the sunshine of our home,
A treasure to us given;
Just when we learned to love her most
God took her home to Heaven.

Ever remembered and sadly missed by Mamma, Daddy, and Marjorie. 37ap

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Baby Hubert Dowling, who died Sept. 5th, 1927.

DORLAND

It was a real treat to have Mr. Plant back in the pulpit again on Sunday, after an abscence of ten weeks. We hope everyone will take advantage of the regular services—A well attended meeting of the W. M. S. was held at the hospitable home of Mrs. Robert Cousins last Wednesday p.m. The devotional exercises were ably conducted by Mrs. Ross Humphrey and the study book was in the capable hands of Mrs. T. N. Davis. The society has completed and sent in two quilts and a layette.—A pleasant event took place on Thursday evening when members of the congregation and a few other friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Davis and presented them with a variety shower as token of the esteem in which they are held in the church and community. Rev. Mr. Plant in a brief address, tendered the sincere wishes of those present for a happy and prosperous wedded life for Mr. and Mrs. Davis. Mr. Davis replied in a few words. — The Women's Institute meeting, which was to have been held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Magee on Wednesday of this week, has been postponed until Tuesday Sept. 18th. — Among those from this locality who attended Toronto Exhibition were, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Duffett, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Roblig, Mr. J. A. and Miss G. Chalmers, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Davis. Mrs. T. N. Davis and Mr. A. W. Allison. — All the local schools have new teachers this term, Miss Mildred Rikley, of Hayburn, in No. 1, Miss Margaret Mitchel, of Renfrew, in No. 2, and Miss Vought, of Ohio, in No. 3.—The great event for all the children is the fair at Sillsville on Friday. — Mr. Lawrence Magee and sister, left on Tuesday for a motor trip to Hamilton, Niagara and other points. — The rain on Monday night was a help to farmers who are trying to plow. — Miss Hattie Magee has returned after spending a few days with her sister Mrs. F. Vanness, Enterprise.

P.S.—
"Station-to Station calls are cheaper."

Mrs. Allen wonders why calls to her home cost 40c, while Mrs. Brown's cost only 50c.

The reason lies in the portion of Mr. Brown's letter: "Call me regularly . . . Station-to-Station calls are cheaper."

So Mrs. Brown gives the distant telephone number and tells the operator, "Anyone there will do." That makes it a Station-to-Station call.

The low evening rates (after 8.30 p.m.) and still lower night rates (after midnight) apply on such calls; and, usually, connection is made while you remain at the telephone.

Do as Mrs. Brown does. Remember the postscript.

"HELPED ME WONDERFULLY"

Woman Strengthened by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Port Colborne, Ont.—"After having an operation, I was very miserable. I was weak, nervous and very near unfit to work. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and tried it and believe it helped me wonderfully. I have no weak spells any more, the pains have left me and my nerves are much better. I feel safe in saying Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines have helped me wonderfully."—Mrs. W. H. BERGETHELLER, Box 143, Port Colborne, Ont.

THE PEASANT

By J. D. Beresford.

Does anyone ever read Grant Allen now, I wonder? Probably his name, if it evokes any association at all, will be coupled with that novel of his "The Woman Who Did" which he issued as a challenge to Victorianism. It fell a little flat even so. The representative bourgeois was not so epate as the author expected. And the modern young woman would probably rank it as fit for Sunday Schools. Grant Allen was the kind of pioneer who is quickly forgotten. He was a variously minded man with many interests. But he was an exponent of the new school of realism before H. G. Wells and of detection by the accumulation and comparison of small inferences before Conan Doyle.

I never knew Grant Allen himself, but I knew his widow something over twenty years ago; and it was from her that I learned most of his gift for making shrewd deductions as to a man's occupation and history from the observation of small details that would escape the untrained eye. That struck me all those years ago as a fascinating game to play; and I have played it intermittently ever since. But it needs a wide experience and much curious knowledge to play it successfully, and the beginner should always try to check his inferences by subsequent conversation with the subject; often a matter requiring considerable tact and ease of manner.

It was the thought of a recent essay of mine in this style that set me thinking of Grant Allen and wondering what he or Conan Doyle would have made of the material presented to me.

I was travelling between Liverpool Street and Cambridge, and my companions in the third-class compartment did not offer. I thought, very engaging objects for study. There was an obvious undergraduate in one corner; a stoutish young man, completely engrossed by the solid-looking work he was reading; and I placed him satisfactorily enough, not only in the past but even in the future. He would certainly, I decided, become a don. Of the other three occupants of the compartment two were middle-aged, middle-class men, who offered no material of interest. No doubt they differed in various particulars from each other and the assessable average of their kind, but their differences, to me, were negligible. The last member of our party was a peasant.

And it was he who set me speculating. I wasted little time in trying to "place" him; that was too easy. He was used to horses, his legs told me that. He had apparently been up to town for the day—he had no visible luggage—possibly for his daughter's wedding or some function of the kind—for he was wearing his "best clothes". I put him down as a farm hand whose principal work was in the stables. His age was between sixty and seventy, and he had lost most of his front teeth.

But what engaged my thoughts was less his employment than the type. He had an ash stick that he held upright between his knees, resting his gnarled old hands on the crook and gazing straight out before him with an air of perfectly vacant reverie. What had he to think about? I reflected. All his life had probably been spent on one small fen-farm. How many times in his sixty-five years or so had he even been so far as London? It was possible that he could neither read nor write? I had not long returned from four years spent on the Continent, and I smiled to myself at the thought of how impossible it would be to convey any impression of that world to that queer old man, whose whole experience had been bounded by knowledge of life in a fen-farm.

At Bishop's Stortford the two average men left us—that was the sort of place at which they would get out; and my peasant and I were left practically alone in the compartment. The undergraduate wore the look of one who resents being addressed by a stranger. He had, no doubt, seen me watching him and attempting, unsuccessfully, to read the title of his quarto: It was the peasant who opened the conversation. I had not thought it worth while. Once started, however, I encouraged him to continue, and before we reached Cambridge, where he had to change for Newmarket, I had learned the best of his history, which differed in various important particulars from that I had attributed to him.

He had been a jockey; had lived for seventeen years in Berlin, married a German woman, and been employed at Ruhleben during the war. That, however, was but the beginning. Further than this he had ridden horses for the late Czar in St. Petersburg; he was exceedingly familiar with the Bois de Boulogne and pronounced Auteuil and Longchamp with a very passable French accent; he knew Vichy and Paris had not long before been over to Cologne in charge of ninety horses that his present employer had sold to a German firm, and was now just returning from Ireland, either being or having been—he was a shade mysterious at this point—in charge of blood-stock bought from or sold to that country.

And yet I maintain that I had been right, in a way. His speech was still that of the Cambridgeshire labourer he had been born in Newmarket; and all that he appeared to have learned in the course of his Odyssey was a string of facts that had presumably little relevance to his present way of life. His only story was of a tremendous spree he had had in St. Petersburg, when a Royal Duke had entertained him and made him drunk on champagne. And Berlin, the Bois, Vichy and Paul meant nothing to him but the names of different racecourses. His real knowledge, the knowledge of horses and racing, he had learned in Cambridgeshire in his youth; and so far as I could judge his experience of continental life, so greatly exceeding my own, had added nothing to his mental equipment.

But we got on famously together, he was ready to offer me a tip when he got on at Cambridge, and when I told him that in all my fifty-four years I had never once backed a horse, he said that I was a wise man and had learned that much! Or was it that he was relieved to find one rare individual who was not eager to borrow money from him in connection with that one desirable point of knowledge he presumably did possess? Did it strike him as queer and rather pleasant that anyone should be more interested in his own life than in what was going to win the Cambridgeshire?

What I am still wondering is: whether Grant Allen or Conan Doyle would have guessed better than I did. And, if so, upon what indications they would have based their inferences?—Manchester Guardian.

THE SISTERS.

(Manchester Guardian.)

Mrs. McDermotty sat on a bran-bag in the back of Hoyle's shop. The other customers were probably glad that she chose to be seated on the bran rather than on any of the sacks of flour for human consumption. She had chosen it because of its convenience to the bread-pamper from which she took up one loaf after another, squeezing to see which was the freshest and leaving in the soft side of each the dark impression of her thumb. It is not every old woman in a shawl that a business man like Hoyle would let finger his wares unwatched. But the whole village knew Mrs. McDermotty.

She emptied the balance of her week's pension into her lap, muttering as she chased threepenny-bits and halfpence down the greasy folds of her skirt.

"Little bits o' money. God help me, I'm too old to contend with them. Bread and tea and sugar and a candle. And I thought I'd the price of a quarter o' butter, but I haven't it, glory be to God."

Hoyle, behind the counter, took a quarter-pound of butter on his scoop. "The price'll be all right, ma'am," he said. "You had a right to take it and the sister sick."

But she repelled the offer of credit with a gesture so emphatic that her one sixpence rolled off her knee and had to be recovered for her by a neighbour.

"I never owed a halfpenny to anyone," she said. "Nor me sister either. It's all according to the way you're brought up," she added tactfully, knowing that many of the better-dressed customers who crowded the shop would have bills standing against them. "Me and Eliza was brought up to live decent and honest."

"What ways be the poor old sister?" inquired the neighbour who had caught the sixpence.

"Is it old Eliza? Ah, she's very bad, Mrs. Flynn." Mrs. McDermotty rocked on the sack in fits of inconsequent mirth. "God forgive me for laughing, but she's a foolish old thing—no good anyway. She went out in a field and a cow trod on her foot, and she can't put a shoe on her since, for the toe's standing up like that." She erected her own thumb vertically in illustration, and the ball of it showed pale where its grime had come off on the bread. "Sure, Eliza's no use," she concluded.

Mrs. McDermotty was a realist.

"She's sick all right." She made answer to inquiries for her sister's health with a heartlessness so nice as to be almost engaging. "The doctor says she'll die if she don't go to hospital. Only yesterday I says to her: 'Have you thought about your burying?' Most people gets buried somehow or other,' says I. 'Isn't usual. And I can't bury you.'"

Mrs. Flynn observed that Eliza would be better in hospital.

"A whole lot better," the old woman agreed. "For I'm killed minding her. But you'd be sick talking to her, she's that obstinate. Ah, I'm hobbled with her altogether."

Groaning, she got to her feet and down Hoyle's steps, and toiled away with her parcels up the hill. Reaching home she came in exhausted, and found Eliza lying face downwards on the floor. In exasperated despair she sank on the settle.

"God help you for a fool, Eliza! What did you want to go rise from the bed and take a weakness on the floor? D'you expect me to lift you? Me that has the strength left to drag a red herrin' off the fire."

But Eliza was expecting no more of her sister, for she was dead.

The day after the funeral Mrs. Flynn came and washed the sheets and counterpane borrowed for the wake from another neighbour. Washing was not much in Mary McDermotty's way at any time and now she was worn out and shaken with emotion. Her somewhat horny heart had been pierced to its quick at last by a great pride in her sister.

"She had ten pounds saved, Mrs. Flynn." All Eliza's follies were forgotten and drowned in tears. "Ah, Mrs. Flynn, didn't she manage lovely? We got it hid in the bed, and it did to bury her. She never owed a halfpenny, and now she's buried decent and respectable, decent and respectable. They do say she'd a been alive to-day if she'd a let the doctor put her in hospital. But isn't it easy seen why she wouldn't go? She thought they'd take the money off her, and then where'd she a been in the latter end? Wasn't she right, that she'd rather die and be buried decent?" Mrs. McDermotty broke down.

To the spiritual consolations suggested by Mrs. Flynn she paid no particular heed, for hers was a materialistic view of life and death. One can not easily afford another on nine shillings a week. But one can keep respectable, and Eliza had managed that to the all-important end.

A striking feature in the development of national forests in Canada has been their use as recreational areas. The public have eagerly grasped the possibilities for holidaying and recreation which are afforded. On a number of national forests in the four western provinces summer resorts have been laid out in which citizens have erected cottages. Provision has also been made for campers, especially in the way of preparing suitable camp sites along motor highways which pass through the forest.

The planting of shelter-belts around farms on the Canadian prairies has given appreciable results from the agricultural standpoint. The water-conserving power of the soil has been increased; better crops have resulted; and the protection from extremes of temperature and wind movement has enabled the introduction of the hardier fruits in many localities. Of particular importance is the additional moisture secured through the formation of snowdrifts which melt gradually in the spring, providing water after adjoining open areas have largely dried up.

"So you have been to Berlin to see relations about an inheritance — how did you get on?"

"I went first class and came back third."

The records of the Dominion Water Power and Reclamation Service of the Department of the Interior show that a very satisfactory amount of new water-power development is now in hand and still more is in view for the future. It is estimated that 400,000 horse-power will be completed in 1927 and that the further work which is practically assured will aggregate some 1,900,000 horse-power in three or four years time.

DISCARD KOSHER KITCHEN

Radical Change In Jewish Methods of Life In American Cities.

Abandoning the ways of their ancestors that have been followed rigidly through thousands of years, about 75 per cent. of the young Jews of to-day are modifying or discarding the ancient Jewish ritual applied to food, known as the Kosher kitchen. This is pointed out by Dr. Hanna M. Lyons of Philadelphia, in a report of Jewish food and health in the Journal of Home Economics.

Failure to observe the Jewish food ritual is attributed to the fact that the three million Jews in the United States are much less isolated than Hebrews in other times and places.

Comparatively few people realize, Dr. Lyons points out, that the ancient sanitary food standards established by Moses' law were far in advance of their time and are still recognized as prophylactic. The chief regulations prohibit cooking or eating meat and milk together. This means a complicated system of four separate sets of dishes, table cloths and even dish towels; one set for meat, another for milk foods, and a duplicate set of each of these reserved for use at the Passover.

"Special care must be exercised in using only animals free from disease," she states. "Those found to have lung adhesion or spotted tissue must be discarded. In consequence orthodox Jews have been eating tuberculosis-free beef for centuries. Not only must forbidden animals, such as those with an unclosed hoof, and fish without scales be avoided, but the meat must be prepared by butchers licensed by the chief rabbi, and labelled with the names of the slaughterer and the date of killing.

"The food laws which have been cherished and handed down from one generation to another have of necessity had a physical effect upon the Jewish race. Vital statistics credit the Jew with exceptional longevity and a low death rate from tuberculosis, but show a high death rate from cancer and diabetes."

In a survey made in New York city some time ago, the tenth ward, which is a tenement house district largely Jewish in character, was found to rank first in density of population and only twenty-second in death rate, it is pointed out.

Hebrews are well to the fore in modern health education, she states. The Kosher kitchen is recognized as a matter for individual decision, and food demonstrations at health centres are arranged so as not to offend orthodox Jews. Too much starch and too little green vegetables and milk are found to be the chief defects in Jewish diet at present.

Eskimo Class Gain Diplomas.

Another milestone in educational progress was passed this year when members of the world's first Eskimo graduating class were presented with diplomas at White Mountain, Alaska.

To four Alaskan natives, Inas Newlin and his wife Jennie Newlin, a young married couple, Josephine Kalarak and Roger Menadelock, the first to complete the school's grammar and industrial courses, fall the honor of receiving the first diplomas at the White Mountain school in northwestern Alaska on Norton Sound, where there are fifty-three boarding pupils drawn from Point Barrow, the northernmost tip of Alaska, and as far south as the lower Yukon. The institution, one of three maintained in Alaska by the Bureau of Education, opened in the fall of 1925 with five pupils and has grown until its present enrollment of fifty-three is all that facilities can accommodate.

Prehistoric Bird Fetish.

The discovery of a prehistoric bird fetish, the finest thing of its type ever found on the Mesa Verde, Colorado, was one of the rewards of the 1928 annual archaeological investigations conducted by a party of seven men under the guidance of Supt. Jesse L. Nusbaum of the park. The explorations were carried on among the cliff dweller ruins of Wetherill Mesa on the west side of the park.

The fetish, which is about three-quarters of an inch in length, served as a pendant on a string of beads, being strung by a hole drilled through its breast. The carving on the little bird is especially beautiful. Its eye sockets were carefully drilled out and small pieces of rock crystal set in with pinon gum to simulate eyes.

Airplanes without pilots have been made to loop the loop by wireless control from the ground. Many other difficult performances have been made possible by a delicate new system within the 'plane, operated by wireless waves.

Denmark's Population Dwindling.

Denmark's birth rate is rapidly decreasing, and was last year only 68 per cent of the figure for 1900. At the same time the death rate has increased, and the director of public statistics says that if no change takes place in this tendency stagnation in the growth of population will be reached by 1940, and probably earlier if the existing barriers against Danish immigrants to places overseas are removed.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

The Oil for the Farmer.—A bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the farm house will save many a journey for the ddoctor. It is not only good for the children when taken with colds and croup, and for the mature who suffer from pains and aches, but there are directions for its use on sick cattle. There should always be a bottle of it in the house.

"Sorry. I did not know you were her father."

"I'm not, I'm her mother."

The Poor Man's Friend.—Put up in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil possesses power in concentrated form. Its cheapness and the varied uses to which it can be put make it the poor man's friend. No dealer's stock is complete without it.

HOW BERNARD RIVER GOT ITS NAME

In 1828 Sir George Simpson, governor of the Hudson's Bay Company crossed Canada from east to west by way of Peace River. At half past six on Sunday evening, September 7th, the travellers laid aside their paddles to camp for the night at the mouth of a small tributary to Peace river, not far below where the latter river divides into two main branches, the Finlay and the Parsnip. In disembarking from large canoes, passengers had generally to be carried from the canoe to the shore. Sir George Simpson's guide, Bernard, was carrying the Governor ashore when he fell with him into the water. Since that day the river has borne the name Bernard and all that is known of the guide is that he was the principal figure in this incident. The name Bernard river has just been approved by the Geographic Board of Canada.

SOUNDING THE UTMOST DEPTHS OF UNIVERSE

Although with each improvement in instruments and in methods the astronomer pushes farther into space and discovers more of the secrets of the universe, it must never be forgotten that the object of all these researches is to benefit the citizen in the field, the workshop, and the home. It was through the study of the sun, for example, that the immensely valuable element helium was discovered, and day by day astronomers are aiding chemists and physicists in the investigation of subjects of the greatest practical use to mankind. Since the stars afford means of studying matter under conditions of temperature and density which cannot be realized in the laboratory, it is of the utmost importance that the astronomer should continually extend his knowledge of our neighbors in space.

The most stupendous of all celestial objects is the Galaxy, more commonly known as the Milky Way. In fact it is our whole universe, of which the sun with all its attendant family of planets including asteroids and satellites, as well as comets, forms a humble—a very humble—member. Its appearance as a dim white band crossing the heavens is merely a matter of perspective; that band marks simply the plane of greatest extension of the Milky Way—the direction in which the stars, in reality fairly uniformly distributed, appear congested by the effect of distance. Many of these stars are immensely brighter than the sun. Much has been heard in recent years of the red "giants" such as Betelgeuse, Antares, and Mira Ceti, many of them vastly distended bodies of hundreds of millions of miles in diameter, but with densities many times less than that of atmospheric air. A few of these supergiants expand and contract with the regularity of clock-work, and vary regularly in brightness during the process. To the astronomer they are known as Cepheids.

The problem offered by stars of this type has become one of the most important in astronomy. Already, by making use of a certain relationship between their brightness and their period of variability, a method has been developed of sounding the utmost depths of the universe, and outside galaxies—the spiral nebulae — have been recognized as entities entirely beyond the boundaries of our own galaxy, hitherto believed to comprise all visible objects. Their distances are such that light from them takes millions of years to reach the earth as compared to eight minutes from the sun. Although the Cepheids are such an important factor in determining distances their real nature is still in doubt. Progress in solving the problem can be made only by careful study of the peculiarities of their variation in light and by the analysis of their spectra.

In the spring of 1920 at the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa, experiments were begun to ascertain whether small, short-focus lenses might not be used to determine accurately variations of brightness by photographic means. Results soon justified the hopes entertained and curves of variation of several Cepheids were determined and published. To obtain really significant data, however, it was necessary to plan continuous measurements of brightness, consecutive observations being separated by the shortest possible intervals, unaffected by daylight, moonlight, cloudiness, or poor conditions of the atmosphere. Clearly this was possible only through world-wide co-operation, by which alone the goodwill and enthusiasm of scientific men everywhere in the endeavour. The initiative was taken by astronomers of the Dominion Observatory, who at the Cambridge meeting of the International Astronomical Union, organized an informal gathering of about twenty astronomers and laid the foundations of a world-wide organization. A definite scheme of work was outlined which has received the support of distinguished astronomers in many countries, and work has already been begun. So far some fifteen observatories are participating in the observations. It is hoped that in process of time the collection and discussion of the results may throw light on the nature of these interesting stars.

CROYDON

Our school opened on Tuesday with Mrs. J. H. Wilson as teacher. This is Mrs. Wilson's fourth year at Croydon, although Mrs. Wilson, nee Miss Amey, changed her name during the holidays.—The men of the Township crusher are camped on Mr. Ed. Hannah's farm, and are gravelling the road from Croydon school to the hall, way at Reidville.—Mr. Horace King, a resident of our village, while fishing on Salmon River, at Galbraith's bridge, caught an eel measuring 41 inches long, and weighing 6 lbs., and two fine suckers.—A few from here attended the shower for Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wilson, at the groom's home, on Friday evening.—Mr. P. Nolan's sister, Margaret, and Mr. Will Tweddel of Rochester, N.Y., spent the past week at Mr. Pat Nolan's.—Mr. Hull, Kingston, and Miss Marjorie Teskey are attending Toronto Exhibition. — Mr. Herb Keyes went up to Toronto on Sunday to visit his sisters and attend the Exhibition.—Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Green and sons, of Crow Lake, visited a few days at Mr. Stewart Close's. — Mrs. Will Hyland, Belleville, visited her sister, Mrs. Will Galbraith, over the week end.—Mr. James Hughes returned home from visiting friends at Bancroft on Monday, and the Misses Marion Hughes and Mildred Hannah, of Wilton, remaining to attend the Kelusky and Gibson wedding, which is to take place on Tuesday, Sept. 11th.—Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Close and Annie, Miss Margaret Close, Sr., and Mrs. Jane Williams spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Candon, of Reid.

Possibly the greatest appeal of the Canadian national parks lies in the fact that notwithstanding the many conveniences introduced for the comfort of travellers through these immense virgin areas, none of the lure of the unknown has been lost. Primeval forests, peopled by hundreds of wild birds and animals, creep down to the towns in the parks and border the roads and trails. The beautiful lakes teem with fish, and the upland gardens are masses of wild-flowers. Here, surely, is the tourist land ideal, where the mental and physical man may be refreshed and invigorated.

FUN IN A WIRELESS STUDIO

The B.B.C. Can Tell Stories of Unrehearsed Effects as Good as Any on the Stage.

In the days of its infancy, when the B.B.C. was broadcasting from one little room at the top of Marconi House, a padre was giving a religious address one Sunday night, and completed his talk with the following words:

"If you will walk in His ways you are sure of the Kingdom of Heaven."

In those days, say an article in Tit-Bits, in order to switch off the microphone, whoever was on duty just disconnected it in the studio, and not as now by a signal to the control room.

On this occasion Mr. Burrows—now secretary general of the International Union of Radiophony—was in charge. As the padre finished his lecture, he turned to Mr. Burrows and remarked, "I don't think I have been too long, do you?" forgetting that all he said would be broadcast. Mr. Burrows hastily disconnected, but not quickly enough, with the result that what the listener heard was—

"If you walk in His ways you are sure of the Kingdom of Heaven—I don't think."

Another incident occurred one night when an orchestral program was being broadcast, conducted by Capt. W. A. Featherstone, at that time musical director for the Bournemouth station, writes a former B.B.C. official in the Evening News (London). As a final item the "Overture — 1812" had been chosen, but the regular man on the tubular bells was taken ill, and a deputy was obtained.

The tubular bell broadcasts most powerfully, and has to be kept well in the background, and on this occasion the bells were too near the microphone.

All went well until those passages were reached where the bells ring out in a regulated scale, whilst the rest of the orchestra plays a most martial air. Then the deputy just spat on his hands, rolled up his cuffs, and proceeded to knock the life out of those bells. All the frantic signals of the conductor were ignored. He just hammered away.

At last Capt. Featherstone could stand it no longer; he was an Irishman—and his blood was roused. Dropping his baton, he made one great pounce. Seizing the unfortunate deputy by the collar and another part of his clothes, he bundled him through the open door of the studio into the passage. Then he returned, panting but triumphant, picked up his baton, and carried on.

Here is an episode that dates back a long time. It concerns the first S.B. (simultaneous broadcast) of grand opera from Covent Garden.

One assistant at Newcastle was a most charming man, but a man who fell into traps; consequently it was an easy matter to pull his leg. At Newcastle the transmitting station was approximately a mile away from the studio from which the artistes broadcast. The staff were all in the studio, except for the engineers at the transmitter, and were all on telephones, and strung up with suppressed excitement awaiting the music from the Opera House.

Then the telephone from the transmitter rang out. An assistant answered, and a conversation between him and an engineer ensued:—

Assistant speaking: "Hello!" "You can what?"—"You can hear music? Really? By Jove, that's fine!"—"What?"—eh —it sounds like what? Like—like a military band—but is it coming up on the line from 2LO?—You've what?—You've got the window open and you think it's a Salvation Army band in the street. Oh, go to—!"

When Cecil Lewis was producing "R.U.R." he particularly wanted the effect of a bomb. New great difficulty is experienced in getting over a revolver or rifle shot effect, and more difficult still is the effect of a bomb. Instructions were given to the member of the staff in charge of effects to make a bomb for testing.

He did. Result—A panel of one studio door blown out, another door split, and a general shock for everybody.

Not as Bad as Painted.

"Fully seventy-five per cent. of the delinquency that is dealt with by the Juvenile courts of Canada is due to lack of home influence and training," declares Rt. Rev. Henry A. Gray, Bishop of Edmonton, who has been judge of the juvenile court at Edmonton for over twenty years and whose knowledge of junior troubles is encyclopedic.

Like many another Canadian on the bench, Bishop Gray has a keen sense of humor. He showed this in his answer to an interviewer who wanted to know whether, on the whole, boy or girl delinquents were the worse.

"The average delinquent is seldom bad at heart," explained the bishop. "The boys are never as touch as they think they are and the girls rarely possibly be as bad as they are painted."

Lamp's Long Sea Trip.

A curious-looking object was seen bobbing up and down on the waves at a North Wales coast resort. When landed it was found to be a solid brown mass with a thick salt-like coating. This was removed and disclosed an Osram lamp bearing the identity mark of a place one and a half miles across the water.

The lamp was placed in circuit and lit up in the ordinary way, although it must have been tossed about in the sea for a long while.

A Far Cry.

The distance to which a man's voice will carry depends upon many different circumstances. The condition of the atmosphere is one—damp will slow down the sound waves, while a dry, crisp air will forward them easily. Wind is another factor —so is the height of the speaker in regard to the number of objects, rocks and so on in front of him. The number of competing noises also has to be considered. Under ordinary circumstances, few voices will carry intelligibly much over a couple of hundred yards, but this distance has been far exceeded with exceptionally favorable conditions. In the stillness of the frozen North, for instance, a voice will carry for over a mile. And at sea, as rendered from a megaphone, it was once heard at a distance of four miles.

THE FRIEND WHO JUST "STANDS BY"

When trouble comes your soul to try,
You love the friend who just "stands by".

Perhaps there's nothing he can do—
The thing is strictly up to you.
For there are troubles all your own
And paths the soul must tread alone.
Times when love cannot smooth the road,
Nor friendship lift the heavy load.
But just to feel you have a friend
Who will "stand by" until the end.
Whose sympathy through all endures
Whose warm hand-clasp is always yours.
It helps some way to pull you through
Although there's nothing he can do.
And so with fervent heart you cry,
God bless the friend who just "stands by".

—By B. Y. Williams.

EMPEY HILL W.M.S.

The monthly meeting of the W.M.S. for September was held at the home of Mrs. Elias Stafford on Wednesday, Sept. 5th.

Meeting opened by singing, followed by prayer. Scripture lessons were read by Mrs. B. Kimmerly and Mrs. Stafford.

Most of the afternoon was taken for packing of box. Five quilts and a great many articles were donated, which were all new goods. 23 members present; collection $2.52. Meeting closed by singing and Mizpah benediction.

The hostess served candy and lemonade, which was enjoyed by all.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Andrew Penny the first Wednesday of the month.

Please reserve the dates of October 21st for Empey Hill anniversary, and the following Tuesday night, October 23rd, for the great fowl supper.

Floating Bridge Completed.

A floating bridge has just been completed connecting Springside Park and the new park adjacent to the highway near the C.N.R. bridge. This will prove of great convenience to the hundreds of tourists who stop at Springside Park each week, as well as the townspeople who go to the park to hold picnics. Prior to the building of the bridge people have had to go a round-about way of reaching the picnic grounds and the bridge will improve the facilities very much. Mr. J. L. Brown, who is in charge of the alterations to the Town Hall, built the bridge.

Bridal Shower.

On Monday evening the Vicarage was the scene of a pretty party in honor of Miss Edith Coleman, whose home is formerly was Mr. and Mrs. Dumbrille received with the bride-elect, and the guests were the members of the Church societies in which Miss Coleman has worked and taken an interest for years. After a social hour and refreshments to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mr. Alfred Dowdell, a charming little bride, Miss Katherine Simpson, entered, presenting a beautiful bouquet of flowers to the guest of honor. There followed a delightful surprise in the shape of a pretty little house full to the roof of beautiful gifts. The rest of the evening was pleasantly spent, and Miss Coleman was made to appreciate the warm friendliness felt for her by her fellow-workers at St. Mary Magdalene.

HAWLEY RE-UNION.

The sixth annual re-union of the Hawley family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lumley, at Brewerton, N.Y., on August 26th.

Dinner was served to 46 members, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Degroff, Miss Verla Brown, Mr. Ralph Brown, Mr. Ray Campbell, of Moscow, Canada; Mrs. Elmer Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Jackson, and Miss Ethel Brown, of Enterprise, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Clancy, of Centreville, Canada, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hawley, Miss Nila Hawley, Miss Marion Hawley, Mr. John Hawley, Mr. Murray Hawley, Mr. Wesley Barclay, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Shannon, Miss Eva Shannon, of Oswegatchie, N.Y.; Mr. Ray Shannon, of Wolcott, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Mullen, of Detroit, Mich.; Mr. Chas. Watkins, of Brewerton, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lumley, Mr. George Lumley, Miss Norma Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Lumley, Miss Keitha Lumley, Bobby Lumley, Mr. and Mrs J. W. Shannon, Mr. Doanld Shannon, Miss Phyliss Shannon, of Central Square, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tooley, Mr. Stanley Tooley, Mr. and Mrs. Earl English, Messrs. Erwin and Richard English, Mr. Harry Shannon, of North Syracuse, N.Y. One brother, M. C. Hawley and family, of Detroit, Mich., was greatly missed.

The oldest member present was Mr. Sanford Degroff, the youngest Richard English. Since last year's re-union there was one birth, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Earl English; three marriages, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Clancy, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hawley (not present), and no deaths.

A hearty welcome was given the newly married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Clancy, who were married at Newburgh, Canada, on August 25th.

Last year's meeting was held with Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Degroff, at Moscow, Canada, with 52 members present. The 1929 re-union will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hawley, at Detroit, Mich.

Dinner was served on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lumley by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tooley. Dinner was served on Monday by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shannon, at their home. Tuesday was spent at the State Fair, the members returning to their homes on Wednesday morning.

OBITUARY

Chester W. Neville.

The funeral service took place on Friday afternoon, Sept. 14th, at his late residence, 39 Collingwood street, Kingston, of Chester W. Neville, who died in the Kingston General Hospital, on Wednesday, September 12th, in his 79th year. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. C. D. Baldwin, of Kingston.

The late Mr. Neville was of Palatine descent, United Empire Loyalist stock, and Methodist traditions through Barbara Heck-Philip Embury lineage. His associations all his life till he moved to Kingston, eight years ago, were with the old historic Switzerville Methodist Church with which the successive generations of his ancestors had been intimately connected from the time of its building in 1826. He was a leader in all movements that fostered the well-being of the agriculturists with whom his interests were thrown during the years of his greatest activity. He could always be counted upon for active service in the cause of right in every moral issue presented to the public, and while his inclination was strongly toward the Liberal party in politics, his vote was always decided by the moral issue at stake if there was one. His ardent support of temperance and of all forms of Sunday School work is well-known in the Bay of Quinte Conference, where for a generation or more he was in some official capacity connected with the Sunday's Organization, the Religious Education Council of which he was a life member). He was repeatedly a delegate from his own Quarterly Official Board to District Meeting and to Conference. Honorable and straightforward in all his own dealings, the late Mr. Neville was charitable enough to expect it of all men but the inevitable failings of his fellows left no pessimism. By his intelligent application to his enthusiasms and his indefatigable energy in all good works he made for himself in his native district a place that the present generation cannot help but find it difficult to fill.

The deceased is survived by his widow, one son, Dr. K. P. R. Neville, Dean of Arts of Western University, London, and one brother, R. Watson Neville, of Toronto.

Thomas Nelson Richmond.

The death occurred on Sunday, September 9th, 1928, of Thomas Nelson Richmond, aged 64 years. Death was due to a nervous breakdown, and the end came after an illness of a few weeks.

Mr. Richmond was a prosperous farmer, having lived on his farm for some twenty-five years, about two miles from Forest Mills. He was a very fine type of man, noted for his gentle disposition. He was always ready to lend a helping hand, and his many acts of kindness won for him many warm friends, who sadly regretted his departure.

He married Hattie Brown, sister of Gilbert Brown, of Marlbank, and besides his wife, leaves a niece, Mrs. Walter Scott, who had lived with them until her marriage; two brothers, James and Daniel Richmond, of Roblin, and two sisters, Mrs. George Brown, of Leinster, and Mrs. Alonzo Hewitt, of Forest Mills.

The funeral took place at Christ Church, Tamworth, where the Rev. Mr. Gregory, Rector of the Anglican Church of Shannonville, preached an impressive and very much appreciated sermon, taking as his text, "Faith, Hope and Charity". He was assisted by Rev. Mr. Morgan, of Christ Church, Tamworth. Mr. Wilcox, choir leader of the church, sang an appropriate solo, "He Wipes the Tear From Every Eye". Interment was made in the cemetery in request of the deceased, and the most sincere sympathy is extended to the widow and relatives of the deceased.

Mrs. M. Pringle.

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 11th, 1928, there passed peacefully away at her home in Richmond, Mercy A. E. Lucas, wife of the late Michael Pringle, who predeceased her about thirty years ago.

Mrs. Pringle was the eldest daughter of the late John and Mary Lucas, of Moscow, and had reached the ripe old age of 86 years and four months. After marriage to Mr. Pringle, she moved to Richmond, where she lived until her death. Early in life she was converted and joined the Methodist Church, and continued a member until her death. In her younger days she was a worker in the church, also a teacher in the Sunday School. Many lonely hours she spent in her room, reading her Bible, which proved a great comfort to her as she weakened with old age.

The pall bearers were Frederick Pringle, Ryerson Pringle, Datus Denison, Merle Sills, Arthur Irish, and Charlie McFaul.

Rev. W. P. Woodger, Pastor of Grace Church, of which she was a member, took charge of the funeral service, which was held at her late home on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 13th. The remains were laid to rest beside her husband, in Riverview cemetery. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord".

Mrs. Margaret Sexsmith.

The sudden death of Mrs. Margaret Sexsmith, widow of the late George S. Sexsmith, occurred at the home of Mr. J. T. Hopper, 1818 Dufferin St., Toronto, on September 1st, 1928.

The deceased had made her home for the past three years with her sister, Mrs. S. D. G. Winter, Selby, and in spite of her afflictions, she was always a ready and willing helper.

She leaves to mourn her loss one son, George D. Sexsmith, of Toronto; three sisters, Mrs. W. G. Winter, of Viscount, Sask.; Miss Jennie McCormick, and Mrs. S. D. G. Winter, of Selby; and four brothers, Robert, of Avonhurst, Sask.; James, of Switzerville, Ont.; Hugh, of Pontix, Sask., and George, of Mississippi, Miss.

A short service was held at the Hopper home, Toronto, on Sunday evening, for the Toronto friends. The body was then brought to Deseronto on Monday, and was taken to the Mohawk Church, where the service was held by the Rev. Mr. Pringle, after which the remains were laid to rest beside that of her departed husband.

FIELD DAY AT BATH

An achievement worthy of merit — that of field day — was held at Bath, under the auspices of the Women's Institute, a newly organized society of this place, on Friday, September 7th. Promptly, at 1.30 p.m. a parade was formed under the able leadership of Field Marshal Hoselton and the Highlanders Band from Kingston. Pupils of the Bath Continuation School, Bim Beach and Millhaven marched in order, followed by numerous decorated autos, trucks and bicycles, participated in this gay turn out, which having passed through the streets, proceeded to the grounds, where a very enjoyable afternoon was spent. Following an interesting game of baseball between two local teams, the Girls' Softball Team challenged the winners, even defeating them for the prize. Various sorts of races and contests, for young and old, were indulged in. Madeline Young won first and Martha Allison second in the swimming contests.

In the evening the same society held a splendid concert in the Masonic Hall, the close of which prizes were distributed.

Best Decorated Auto—1st, Mrs. R. J. Gale, "Harvest"; 2nd, Mrs. John Osborne, "Orange Lantern Ice Cream Parlour"; silver casserole; 3rd, Mrs. Anderson, Lucier, "Lady of the Snows", a flashlight.

Best Old-fashioned Driving Outfit—Mrs. Fred Amey and Mrs. E. Wemp.

Best Decorated Pony Outfit—1st, Mrs. Sanford; 2nd, Mrs. C. Thompson.

Best School on Parade—1st, Miss Osborne, Millhaven, "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall"; $2.00; 2nd, Miss Dennee, Elm Beach, "Red Cross", $2.00.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Roblin and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Amey acted as the honourable judges. Wishes are expressed by many that a similar effort be repeated next year by the ladies of the Institute.

There were many donors to the cause of the field day.

Prize donations—Mr. J. Reid, Mr. Abramsky, Mr. Crothers, of Kingston; Mr. Geo. Switzer, F. Marsh, J. Birrell, Hogarth, A. S. ENTERPRISE

The annual Grandmother's Day of the Enterprise Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Chas. Graham, on August 30th, a large number of Grandmothers being present; also some visitors.

The usual opening exercises were conducted by the President, after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The roll call was answered by some useful household hint.

Business was attended to as usual, and five dollars donated to the Federated. The Institute had also donated five dollars to the Bathurst Institute, the game being very much enjoyed during the summer months by the young people of the town.

An interesting report of the rally at Moscow was given by some of those who were fortunate enough to be present on that occasion.

The meeting was then opened for the entertainment of the guests—grandmothers. Selections of old time songs, chosen by them, were sung, after which several readings were given by the members. An old time piano solo by Miss Mona Graham, was much enjoyed, also a recitation, "The Widder Green's Last Words", by Miss Marguerite Wagar.

Mrs. MacGregor read an account of a Grandmother's Day, which she had attended, which was very interesting.

There was then a solo, the prize given the winner in the Musical Study, which followed.

A number of instrumental selections of old time music were played by our pianist, Mrs. F. R. Wilson, the grandmothers guessing the names of the selections. The fortunate winner of the prize was Mrs. J. MacGregor.

Mrs. Clayton Brown, the youngest grandmother, gave a short address, enjoyed by all.

Among other remarks, she said that young people appeared to be changing very much these days, but were not the grandmothers changing too?

Still, she thought it more an outward one in dress and such things, than in the heart, which she believed had really not changed. "There were no many hardships as in olden times, of course, but in Heaven we would not be asked about the style of hats and dress, but if we had kept the heart pure." She urged the grandmothers to cultivate broad-mindedness, and be true to the faith of their fathers.

The meeting closed with Community singing and an excellent lunch, after which a snapshot of the grandmothers was taken, also of the oldest one, Mrs. Chloe Raymond, with the youngest member, Miss Lillian Hardwick, aged three months, in her arms. The ladies dispersed to meet again at the home of Mrs. E. J. Wilson, on the third Wednesday in September.

TOWN COUNCIL

Council Chamber,
Sept. 18th, 1928.

The Council met in regular session, with Mayor Roy in the chair, and Councillors Tustin, Unger, Loucks, Daly, Kimmerly, Simpson, and Reeve Boyes present.

The Streets Committee were given power to act in connection with repairing a board walk on the East side of the M. B. Mills property.

BATH WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular monthly meeting of the Bath Institute was held on the afternoon of Sept. 10th, when thirteen members and four visitors assembled at the home of Mrs. Homer Collins. At the appointed hour, the presiding officers took their chairs, and soon a very enjoyable programme was staged after the singing of the usual Institute Ode. The minutes of the last meeting being read by the Secretary, and approved, the expenses of the field day were discussed and a motion made that all these be paid. The books being balanced, showed a goodly sum remaining which will prove very useful to so young a society. Mrs. R. J. Gale then read current events, a feature of every meeting, which was followed by a very interesting discussion on poppy making by Mrs. Oliver, of Napanee. The poppy which she made in the presence of the ladies was a splendid likeness to the real bloom, and many availed themselves with the opportunity of learning the art. An item of no less merit was a candy contest, and after controversy the judges awarded Mrs. Arthur Kingston with the prize, a pretty set of beads. The Secretary then read the Roll Call and enrolled two new members, after which the National Anthem was sung, and the meeting adjourned till October 8th, at Mrs. Geo. Stevenson's. The hostess then served a dainty lunch.

HAD NO APPETITE WEAK AND DIZZY

This New Brunswick Woman Restored by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Mrs. James Belyea, Brown's Flat, N.B., says:—"I am writing to tell you the great good I had through the timely use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My health had failed and I was troubled with great weakness. I had no appetite and frequently had dizzy spells. The least exertion would make my heart palpitate violently and I felt tired at all times. I had doctored a great deal without getting much relief, and was feeling greatly discouraged when I finally decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The happy results following the use of this medicine can best be summed up by saying that I am again perfectly well, able to do my housework and enjoy life once more. I feel it a duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all weak people."

If you have any, or all, of the symptoms above noted, do not delay, begin treatment at once with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You will be surprised to note the improvement in your condition after a few weeks. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. If you will send your name and address a little booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free.

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD
(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound. An extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make homes and interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from the products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a stouter and more rugged material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a sure and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

Here's how you pay for neglect

AN under-inflated tire soon gets into real trouble — broken side walls, a punctured inner tube — often a blowout.

Under-inflation is one of the chief causes of premature tire failure. Tests have proven that every 10% drop from the correct inflation causes a 20% drop in mileage.

Call at a Dominion Tire Depot and have your tires examined.

HAD NO APPETITE WEAK AND DIZZY

This New Brunswick Woman Restored by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Mrs. James Belyea, Brown's Flat, N.B., says:—"I am writing to tell you the great good I had through the timely use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My health had failed and I was troubled with great weakness. I had no appetite and frequently had dizzy spells. The least exertion would make my heart palpitate violently and I felt tired at all times. I had doctored a great deal without getting much relief, and was feeling greatly discouraged when I finally decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The happy results following the use of this medicine can best be summed up by saying that I am again perfectly well, able to do my housework and enjoy life once more. I feel it a duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all weak people."

If you have any, or all, of the symptoms above noted, do not delay, begin treatment at once with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You will be surprised to note the improvement in your condition after a few weeks. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. If you will send your name and address a little booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free.

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD
(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound. An extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make living interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the whole year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from the products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a sturdier and more rugged material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a sure and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

Here's how you pay for neglect

AN under-inflated tire soon gets into real trouble — broken side walls, a punctured inner tube — often a blowout.

Under-inflation is one of the chief causes of premature tire failure. Tests have proven that every 10% drop from the correct inflation causes a 20% drop in mileage.

Call at a Dominion Tire Depot and have your tires examined.

MEDICINE FOR YOUNG GIRLS

Mothers Endorse Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sydney, N. S. — "My seventeen year old daughter took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and pain. She could not go about and did not care to go with the other girls as she was so tired and weak. We got six bottles and it did her a great turn. She is working at mine in a store and walks three miles every morning and back in the afternoon. She is well and strong." — Mrs. MARY VANCE, 44 Logan Road. Sydney, N. S.

Norwood, Ontario. — "I constantly had pain in my back and side and spent six days in bed every month. I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets, two of your medicine and I always get them in the house. I have recommended your good medicine to several friends and have given it to my 17 year old girl." — Mrs. ALFRED OUELLETTE, Norwood, Ontario.

DORLAND

It was unfortunate that the school Fair and Mrs. H. Ruttan's sale booth came on Friday. However both were well attended. — A congregational meeting was held at the close of the United Church service on Sunday morning to make arrangements for the Anniversary Services which will be held early in October. The exact date and speaker will be announced next week. It was decided to hold a fowl supper the Monday night following. — Mr. Lawrence and Miss Annabelle McGee returned on Saturday evening from a motor trip to Courtice, Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara. Rev. J. H. and Mrs. Stainton and Master Ronald accompanied them from Courtice. — The recent heavy rains have softened the plowing and renewed the pasture.

STRATHCONA

Mrs. G. R. Finlay spent a day last week at W. J. Patterson's, at Moscow.— School has opened once more with Miss Marguerite McGuire as teacher of the Senior room and Miss Lula Flake, Newburgh, teacher of the Junior room.—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fox, spent the week-end at Watertown, N. Y. — Miss Flora Ekland, Napanee, has been visiting with Mrs. Harold Hoare.— A number from our village attended the Exhibition at Toronto and report a splendid time. — The Annual W. M. S. Quilting was held at Mrs. James Wilson's on Wednesday of last week. — Mr. Bruce Finlay took a business trip to Kingston on Friday. — Mrs. Will McGarvey of Millbridge, spent the last week at Mr. Clarence Baker's.—Mrs. O. Stafford, who has been visiting at Ed. Rook's, has returned to her home in Smith's Falls.—The Monthly meeting of the Mission Circle was held at Mrs. Bruce Finlay's on Friday evening.

WEDDING BELLS.

Phippen—Coleman.

An exceedingly pretty early autumn wedding took place at 11.30 a.m., Saturday, September 15th, 1928, in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Kingston, when the marriage was solemnized of Edith Christabel, daughter of the Ven. Archdeacon J. H. H. Coleman and Mrs. Coleman, to William Scobell Phippen, of Philadelphia, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Phippen, of Napanee. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of white crepe romain trimmed with Belgian lace, and black and silver Gainsboro hat, and she carried an arm bouquet of Butterfly roses and lily of the valley. She wore the groom's gift, a gold wrist watch. Miss Frances Coleman, of Toronto, was her sister's bridesmaid, and was becomingly gowned in biege crepe and satin and small French hat to match, and carried roses. Mr. Jack Metzler, of Napanee, was best man. Miss Lettie Walker, organist of St. Paul's, played softly throughout the ceremony. The chancel and altar were most artistically arranged with quantities of lovely autumn blooms, and here the first part of the ceremony was taken by the Rev. H. K. Coleman, of Sharbot Lake, brother of the bride, and the Bishop of Ontario.

Mrs. J. H. H. Coleman, mother of the bride, wore a lovely gown of silver toned grey crepe de chine with touches of silver lace and wore a corsage bouquet of violets. Mrs. Edward Phippen, of Napanee, mother of the groom, wore a smart frock of two-toned blue charmaine, with hat to match, and carried roses.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the bride's home, St. Paul's Rectory, Queen street, which was beautifully arranged with gladioli and baby 'mums, and here the guests had an opportunity of viewing the handsome array of gifts, testimonies of the popularity of the bridal couple. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Phippen left for Detroit, the latter smartly attired in brown and beige ensemble and close fitting hat, and brown fox fur. Mr. and Mrs. Phippen will reside in Philadelphia, where they have the best wishes of a host of friends.

WILTON

Many from Wilton and vicinity attended Kingston Industrial Exhibition during the week, and report it the best ever.—Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Martin are all smiles; it's a boy. Congratulations.—The School Fair, which was held at Odessa on Saturday last, was well attended by the Wilton pupils. — Very pleased to report that Mr. Clinton Babcock has quite recovered from his recent illness. — Mrs. Stinson Carr spent a few days in Kingston last week. —The September meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the Grange Hall on Tuesday, Sept. 11th.—Mr. Walter Wood has accepted a position at the Checker Taxi, Kingston. — Mr. Freemont Mills, of Kingston, spent the week-end here.—Miss Mildred Anglin, of Kingston, spent over Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Ruttan.—Mr. Elmore Sanford and lady friend, of Parham, visited with Mr. and Mrs. S. McNeill on Sunday.

OBITUARY

Mrs. John Timmins

On Friday, August 25th, 1928, Mrs. John Timmins, a resident of Bell Rock, passed away to her eternal reward, after a very short illness, at the age of 67 years.

The deceased was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kidd, of Enterprise, and was well and favourably known.

She leaves to mourn her loss two daughters and three sons. Her husband, the late John Timmins, predeceased her in 1923.

The funeral, which was largely attended by a large concourse of friends and neighbours, was held at the Church of the Annunciation, Chippawa, on Monday, August 27th, after which the remains were laid at rest in the family plot.

Mrs. Norman C. Fisk.

On Saturday, Sept. 9th, 1928, Mrs. Norman Fisk passed away in the Kingston General Hospital. Mrs. Fisk had been a resident of Napanee for about two years, coming here with her husband from Belleville. In April she underwent an operation, and though she recovered sufficiently to be brought home, yet she was not strong enough to withstand the shock. In July, with her husband, who is also ill, she was taken back to Kingston. She gradually grew weaker and finally passed away.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon from Bridge Street Church, Belleville, to the Belleville cemetery, the services being conducted by the Rev. A. J. Wilson, of Napanee. During the service Mr. Leo Riggs played the organ. Many former friends were in attendance, and there were many beautiful floral tributes. Interment was made in the family plot. Bearers were A. V. Roy, A. Lapp, W. Givins, R. Ruttan and H. Hoskins. Among those who attended the funeral were F. M. Fisk, Toronto; R. C. Allen, Cobourg; Wm. Hughes and family, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Roy, Napanee; Mrs. A. Wood, Ernestown; Mrs. J. F. Deschane, Napanee; M. H. Lapp and family, Lorneville. Sympathy of his many friends is extended to Norman Fisk, who is in the Kingston Hospital, and was unable to attend the funeral.

FAREWELL PARTY

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 11th, a large number of neighbors and friends gathered at "Willowneade", the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Reid, to say adieu to them before leaving for their new home. Genuine regret was felt by all in losing Mr. and Mrs. Reid, as well as their daughter, Miss May Reid. The pleasant evening, which was arranged by Mrs. W. R. Woodcock and Mrs. Frank Vandebogart, was spent in cards and dancing, which was only one of many for Mr. and Mrs. Reid were ever pleased to open their home and extend their kind hospitality to their many friends. After refreshments were served Mr. and Mrs. Reid and May were called to seats of honor, and an address read, after which they were presented with a beautiful wicker fernery and table to match.

Mr. Reid made an impressive reply, saying he was deeply touched by the kindness extended his family, and while he regretted leaving his old neighbours among whom he had resided twenty-seven years, he was pleased that he was going such a short distance, which would enable him to extend, and his friends to accept the same hospitality in his new home as in the old. On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Reid and May left for their new home on Centre St., in Napanee.

J. SCHAMEHORN, SR., Buyer.

A small boy was told that he must write to his grandmother a letter of sympathy on the death of her husband.

This was the letter, adorned with many blots, that eventually arrived:

"Dear Grandma,—What a pity about poor Grandpa! Please send me some stamps. There is a new boy here who squeaks if I hit him.—With love, from Roger."

Isn't it funny how people entirely without principle manage to draw so much interest?

ANTIQUITIES.

By George Manning-Sanders.

A stranger who was interested in antiquities stood in the village square looking at a massive, irregular-shaped block of granite that was set up midway between the church gates and the public-house. The stranger walked several times round the granite, and as it was early morning and there was no one in sight to answer his questions he hastened into the public-house. "Do you know anything of the history of that gigantic fragment?" said he, pointing from the door.

The landlord, a heavy-witted man, went to stare at the granite as if he had never seen it before. "No, I can't say that I can call to mind any history about it, sir, but I've often-times said that the ugly old stone should be broken up for road mending and that a shapelier one of marble with a bit of cross or a head-piece carved into it would look better there. A proper eye-sore is that old rock, and I'd not grudge five bob toward a new one."

The stranger answered haughtily: "The stone is precious because of its antiquity."

"I didn't mean no harm, sir," said the puzzled landlord, "and there's old Jim, who's just sitting on the church steps, he's the longest-lived man in the parish; if there's anything uncommon about the piece of stone I'll be bound old Jim will know something of it."

The stranger thanked the landlord and hastened across to the doting old man. "Excuse me," said he, "but I hear that you are the one person in the neighbourhood who can give me reliable information concerning the stone yonder."

Its Very Hot.

The old man, who was deaf, nodded complacently and said, "Iss, very hot it is to be sure, but I can mind it hotter than ever when farmer Bas... ...ear when farmer Bas... fields were scorched up to the colour of my hand."

The stranger, ... his lips close to the old man's inclined head, said: "I wanted to know if you could tell me anything of the history of that stone."

"History! No, boy, no. For I never did have no schooling, and for another thing, I don't believe in it, and even if it all chanced same as the books make out, what odds can it make? And I'll tell you another thing. See what strumming great lies they make up about them that's dead and done with in this very parish—why there's hardly a word of truth writ on the stones that mark the burying-places of them inside the yard, so it's not likely they'd tell truth in books. No, I don't hold with this new-fangled history learning, and I'm not afeared to say so."

"Just so," shouted the stranger impatiently, "but if facts were not recorded we should be groping in the dark. What I mean to say, all veneration would be gone—probably you are very much respected because of your extreme age, and in the same way ..."

"Do you want me to stand close up against the granite so that you can photo me off, same as they all do?" the old man cried excitedly.

"No, no. I want you to tell me all you heard about the stone when you were a boy," bellowed the stranger.

The History of a Stone

"Aye, I know your meaning now," said the old man, chuckling and nodding. "To begin with them, I was born and reared in a cottage over there against the blacksmith's that's been tore down this many a year, and I've heard tell that my mother used to make me fast to that stone with a rope so that I could crawl about it without coming to no harm. Well, later on, mother used to send me out night-times to watch that father got home safe from the pub, and I'd crouch in the shelter of the stone till closing time. Well, later on, when I was a strapping lad I met with Molly, she that did the washing-up in the pub—a proper picture Moll was in those days, soft and round as a partridge and as sweet as a pippin on the branch. I tried for to carve her name on the stone and broke off all the blades of my knife—good steel they put into blades in those days too. I'd have been happy as a king, courting Moll, if only farmer Bazzet's son Sam hadn't like-wise wanted her. And one night, after I'd put Moll home, this Sam ..."

"What is this to do with the stone?" shouted the despairing stranger.

"Plenty, plenty, because Sam was crookied down in the shadow of it that night, and as I passed close he pounced out on me like as if he were a roaring lion and me a milk-white unicorn. Five stitches Dr. Brand put in my head, and my collar-bone snapped just like a carrot, and thanks be ..."

"But the shape of the stone? Were there any arms of a cross apparent then, or was it just as it is now?"

"Moll was dead set against Sam for the way he'd used me. Very tender-hearted Moll was, and like a partridge, and as sweet as a spray of honey-suckle."

The stranger hastily made a sketch in his note-book while the old man described how he courted and married the lovely Moll. When the sketch was done he held it forward and cried, "Was the shape anything like that when you were a boy?"

The old man, without looking at the sketch, said: "Aye, aye, all in good time. I'm coming to that. Well, me and Moll had not been wedded for more than a twelvemonth, or it might have been less, when ..."

But the stranger who was interested in antiquities thrust the note-book into his pocket and hurried away. —Manchester Guardian.

No Medicine Like Baby's Own Tablets

For Either the Newborn Babe or the Growing Child

There is no other medicine to equal Baby's Own Tablets for little ones—whether it be for the newborn babe or the growing child the Tablets always do good. They are absolutely free from opiates or other harmful drugs and the mother can always feel safe in using them.

Concerning the Tablets, Mrs. John Armour, R. R. 1, South Monaghan, Ont., says:—"We have three fine healthy children, to whom, when a medicine is needed, we have given only Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are the best medicine you can keep in any home where there are young children."

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fever and make teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or direct by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Cold has been found in every province of Canada except Prince Edward Island. The first recorded discovery was made in Quebec in 1824 on the Gilbert river, 50 miles south of Quebec City. Placer mining operations commenced here in 1847 and intermittent operations have been carried on ever since. Placer discoveries were made in Ontario, in British Columbia, and in Yukon Territory at much later dates. Lode mining for gold began at Tangier River, Nova Scotia, in 1858. In 1926 the total production of gold in Canada was 1,729,000 ounces, valued at $35,749,000. Approximately 85 per cent of this production was obtained from mines in northern Ontario, and 14 per cent from British Columbia.

British Turks.

Two thousand British residents, as well as a large number of other foreigners dwelling in Constantinople are agitated to find that all children born to them after January 1, 1929 will be regarded as Turkish subjects. That is one of the provisions of a new law regarding nationality which has recently been passed. It provides that all children so born shall be Turkish until they attain the age of twenty-one when they may exercise an option of taking their parents' nationality. But if they do exercise this option, they must leave the country at once. Only diplomatic and consular representatives are excepted.

Powder Power.

A pound of liver can be condensed into five tiny vials full of powder. Beef and calf liver are valuable for restoring vitality to persons suffering from pernicious anaemia, the disease that halts the building of blood cells in the body.

Doctors, however, found difficulty in getting patients to eat half a pound daily, and to solve this difficulty, the new powder has been made. It contains the vital curative elements of the liver without the actual tissue.

Bad Legs

Read This! If You Ha... VARICOSE VEINS

If you or any relative or friend worried or suffer because of varicose veins, or bunches, the best advice anyone in this world can give is to get a prescription that literally hundreds of people all over the country are using with complete satisfaction.

Simply ask your druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Emerald Oil and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins, rubbing gently upward and towards the heart, so that the blood in the veins flows more freely. Soon you will notice that the veins are growing smaller and the leg or limb should be continued until the veins are of normal size. Emerald Oil is a powerful, yet harmless remedy, and results are guaranteed to please. Any Drug Store, and all good druggists.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

An Oil Without Alcohol.—Some oils and many medicines have alcohol as a prominent ingredient. A judicious mingling of six essential oils compose Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and there is no alcohol in it, so that its effects are lasting.

An egotist is one who, whenever he has a birthday, wishes his friends many happy returns of the day.

The Oil of Power—It is not claimed for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil that it will remedy every ill, but its uses are so various that it may be looked upon as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself and its excellence is known to all who have tested its virtues and learned by experience.

Jackson's house was a tumble-down shanty standing on the top of a hill, but it was better than nothing — till the furious gales came along. Jackson was out walking when he met a friend. "Hallo," said the latter. I've been thinking about you. Did the gale damage your house?"

"I can't say for certain," replied Jackson; "I ain't found it yet."

Miller's Worm Powders destroy worms without any inconvenience to the child, and so effectually that they pass from the body unperceived. They thoroughly cleanse the stomach and bowels and leave them in a condition not favorable to worms, and there will be no revival of the pests.

An old man was called upon to give evidence for the plaintiff. Counsel for the defendant tried to bully him.

"Have you ever been in prison?"

"Yes, twice."

"At! How long the first time?"

"One afternoon."

"Ah! And the second time?"

"Only an hour."

"And what offense had you committed to deserve the punishment?"

"I was sent to prison to whitewash a cell to hold a lawyer who had cheated one of his clients."

Asthma Cannot Last when the greatest of all asthma specifics is used. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy assuredly deserves this exalted title. It has to its credit thousands of cases which other preparations had failed to benefit. It brings help to even the most severe cases and brings the patient to a condition of blessed relief. Surely suffering from asthma is needless when a remedy like this is so easily secured.

WEDDING BELLS

Walker—Gummow

A pretty wedding took place yesterday at high noon, at the home of the bride's parents, Ontario Street, Oshawa, when Dorothy Helena, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gummow, became the bride of Egbert (Bert) Benjamin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Almon Walker, Stacey Avenue, Oshawa. The ceremony was performed beneath an arch of evergreens, gladioli, asters and roses, by Rev. C. E. Cragg, Pastor of King Street United Church. Miss Marion Gummow, sister of the bride, played the wedding music.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was becomingly attired in a white satin period gown, trimmed with lace, and a net veil, caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of sweetheart roses and lily of the valley.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Doris Bone, wore a blue canton crepe frock, trimmed with silver blue lace, and a white hat. She carried a bouquet of butterfly roses and fern.

Mr. W. Gummow, brother of the bride, attended the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held. Mrs. Gummow, mother of the bride, wore a becoming blue crepe romaine gown, while Mrs. Walker, mother of the groom, was attired in black crepe, trimmed with shell pink.

The groom's gift. The groom's gift. The groom's gift to the bride was a white gold wrist watch, to the bridesmaid and pianist, mesh bags, to the groomsman, a Parker pen.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Walker left on a motor trip to Philadelphia and other cities in Pennsylvania, the bride travelling in a blue georgette dress, with hat and coat to match. On their return they will reside on Christie street.

MAYOR A CANADIAN

I. F. Taylor, Former Ottawan, Is Well Liked In Lofty Andean Town.

Down the vast wide Calle Real of this "City of the Clouds" (11,000 feet) lurches a gallant Ford car amid the wild Sunday morning market of picturesque Peruvian Indians and their ralabowed squaws, to say nothing of droves of superbillous llamas and alpacas—those "Camels of the Andes" which can be bought here for less than $5 apiece and will carry a load of 100 pounds ten miles a day over terrifying mountain trails that would kill a goat to behold!

In this car, stared at by simple savages who marvel at the diabolic rehicle that makes the llamas afraid, sits Mr. J. F. Taylor, a timber contractor, late of Ottawa, Ont., and now the full blown "Alcade" of Huancayo, with full powers over a city of 20,000 souls, if we reckon the eight Indian villages which also come under his wise and kindly jurisdiction.

Taylor came to this lofty Andean town a few years ago to buy pitprops of eucalyptus for the vast silver and copper mines of the Cerro de Pasco (at 15,000 feet). Then the City Fathers asked him to become their mayor. He refused until his election should be unanimous, and so it was. Then behold this Canadian installed in the "Alcaldia," with his little hierarchy of Councillors, Inspectors, Diputados and Police, and full power over town revenues which in the past were abused in the traditional South American fashion.

All Huancayo loves and respects "Mister Taylor," as everybody calls him. His little Parliament speaks Spanish, of course, but the general language of these awesome valleys in the High Andes is the soft Quechua speech of the Indians, which comes down from the spacious days of the old Inca Empire which Francisco Pizarro, the fierce and unscrupulous ex-swineherd of Spain swept away centuries ago, with all possible cruelty and treachery.

The main street fo Huancayo, nearly a mile long and as wide as Regent street, is part of the old Incale highway that ran from classic Cuzco to Quito, in Ecuador. Mr. Taylor is having his Calle Real laid with macadam; and his President—the great Augusto B. Leguia, whose own romantic history is more thrilling than any boy's book or Western film—is providing his British Alcalde with a new water-supply at a cost of over $400,000.

Under Taylor's efficient sway, this quaint old town is to be changed out of all recognition. He will clean up and remove that marvellous Indian market, where crude wares of a thousand years ago are exposed for sale in the streets. Open sewers are to be replaced by decent drainage. The scavenger dogs are to go; and parks and playgrounds are being laid out, with rows of eucalyptus trees for the wide Calle Real itself, and a little girl-guardian's name placed upon each of these.

The new Alcalde aims to make Huancayo into a health-resort for tuberculosis cases of the Spanish kinds, 11,000 feet below him in the terrible gorges of the Rio Rimac. For up here the air is marvellous. A lowlander must get used to the elevation; and for some times the least exertion makes the heart beat fast, and he pants for breath at every step.

But here also the sun for ever shines, while the nights are very cool—even cold enough for an overcoat. To reach Huancayo, the trains of the Central Railway (operated by the great Peruvian Corporation of London), cross a pass of 16,0000 feet, and they carry cylinders of oxygen to alleviate any possible cases of "soroche" or mountain-sickness at this great elevation.

As Alcade of Huancayo, Mr. J. F. Taylor continues his private business in timber. But he gives nearly all his time to his novel civil duties, and that with a concentrated devotion to the town's welfare which has won recognition from President Lecuia and his Government in Peru's new day of prosperity and peace.

CHRYSLER

---Compare them only with cars costing far, far more---

There have been cars without number which endeavored to look like cars of greater value. None that we know of save the new Chryslers—"75" and "65"—have actually raised themselves into a higher class without alteration of price.

What has happened in the case of the new "75" and "65" is something much more important than a fortunate choice of lines and decoration.

The richer appearance, the greater size, the finer upholstery, the greater performance quality are all real increases in value without increase of price.

They are real and they have an economic base peculiar and possible only to Chrysler—the principle of Standardized Quality.

Through this policy you are able to get in the new "75" and "65" more beauty and higher quality than in cars costing many hundreds—yes, even a thousand—dollars more. Chrysler saves in its basic manufacturing policy and spends lavishly in the engineering and the styling of its cars.

Chrysler "75" Prices—Royal Sedan, $1695; 2-passenger Coupe (with rumble seat), $1695; Coupe (with rumble seat), $1670; Town Sedan, $1750. Wire wheels extra. 6-ply balloon tires extra. New Chrysler "65" Prices—*Business Coupe, $1325; Roadster (with rumble seat), $1395; Sedan, $1495; Touring Car, $1370; 4-door Sedan, $1560; Coupe (with rumble seat), $1460. CAMDEN EAST WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Camden East and Yarker-Colebrook Institutes held a very enjoyable picnic recently in Mr. A. Salsbury's wood. The day was ideal, the attendance good, and the eats delicious and abundant.

After dinner a programme of races and a ball game were interesting features. The races and prize winners were as follows :—

Boys and Girls, 6 years and under—Norman McFarlane.

Boys and Girls, 6 to 11 years—Doris Burns.

Young Ladies' Race—Mildred Miller.

Fat Women's Race—Mrs. H. Huff.

Thin Women's Race—Mrs. H. Robinson.

Men's Race—Milton Dunn.

Boy and Girl Three-legged Race — Ted Hamilton and Doris Burns.

Girls' Sack Race—Mildred Miller.

Men's and Boys' Sack Race — Ted Hamilton.

Women's Sack Race—Mrs. H. Huff.

Hop, Step and Jump—Mr. Archie Smith.

Women's Whistling Race—Lois Edgar.

The ball game played by teams chosen from the two Institutes, was much enjoyed by the audience, since the majority of the players were non-professionals. Some had never played ball before. Imagine the 'lucky hits' the scrambling for bases, and the sighs of disappointment when three consecutive players were out at bat. However, after all mistakes were noted and runs counted, the score was 6-4, the honours going to Camden East team.

The September meeting of Camden East Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Allore. There was a good attendance of members and visitors to hear the very instructive lecture, "Teeth and Their Care", by Dr. C. C. Nash.

Most of the business of this meeting was making arrangements for our booth at Camden East school fair on Sept. 19th. The usual refreshments, candy, ice cream, hot-dogs, soft drinks and lemonade will be for sale.

Just here let us correct a statement which appeared in the local items in the last week's Beaver, announcing that the Women's Institute would serve hot lunches at the fair. This is an error for which we are not to blame, and we truly hope it will not lead to any misunderstanding. We have decided on nothing but the above mentioned booth.

At this fair the Institute prize will be given for "highest standing" in each room of Camden East school. Conduct, as well as work was to be marked. Come to Camden East on the 17th, and boost our school fair.

Napanee Man Injured In Motor Crash.

On the Highway, just West of Napanee, on Sunday morning, two cars came into collision. One car, a Nash, from Welland, driven by a Mr. Secord, going west, collided with one driven by Mr. Frank Johnston, of Napanee, going East. The Johnston car was practically demolished, while the Secord car escaped with minor damages. Frank Johnston was the only occupant to suffer serious injuries. His right arm was broken in four places. He was rushed to the Kingston General Hospital, where it was found necessary to wire the bones together. It is not at all likely that the arm will ever be of much use again. Judging from the appearance of the cars it is a wonder any of the passengers came out alive.

Harvest Thanksgiving Services

The Harvest Thanksgiving services at St. Mark's Church, Deseronto, this year were very bright and uplifting, and the spirit of Praise and Thanksgiving was strgsed in every shape, manner and form throughout the services during the day. What services at this glorious season of the year could be more uplifting and acceptable to Almighty God than Thanksgiving Services to Him "who openeth His hand and filleth all things living with plenteousness". The music was of a high order, maintaining the best traditions of the Anglican Church. The decorations were in splendid taste, and the Bishop as usual preached a most powerful sermon, which was listened to with rapt attention by a large congregation that filled the church. Amongst many who came from a distance we noticed the Church Warden of the Kingsford Church, Mr. Robert Tucker, as well as ladies from Rhode Island, New York, Miss Bell and Miss Platte. The Bishop thoroughly enjoyed his visit to St. Mark's. Next Sunday the Thanksgiving Services will be repeated at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. At the 7 o'clock evening service the Rev. R. J. Dumbrille, Vicar of Napanee, will be the special preacher.

WEDDING BELLS

Gibson—Kelusky.

At St. Paul's Church, Bancroft, at two o'clock, on Tuesday, September 11th, 1928, the marriage took place of Vereen Vivienne, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelusky, to Dr. Robert Stirling Gibson, son of Mrs. J. F. Gibson and the late Dr. J. F. Gibson, of Kingston. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. H. Harston, L.L.B., of Simcoe Street Church, Oshawa, assisted by the Rev. D. J. Campbell, of Bancroft; Mrs. W. P. J. Alexander presiding at the organ.

The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli, asters, ferns and palms. Mr. Donald Nixon, of Hamilton, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Lyall Davy, Mr. Carman Vandervoort, Mr. J. Hawley, Mr. F. Towle and Mr. H. Strudwick, all of Bancroft.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a simple but charming period gown of heavy ivory taffeta, with overdress of filmy tulle forming a tight fitting bodice, and full skirt of silver-edged frills with uneven hem. The only trimming was a huge satin bow at the side. The long train of hand embroidered flounces fell hanging from the shoulders held in place with seed pearls, was that of her great-grandmother. Her veil of ivory tulle, held by a cap of Honiton lace with clusters of orange blossoms and pearls at each side, fell in two folds to the end of her train. She wore ivory satin shoes, and carried a shower bouquet of Butterfly roses and fern tied with a large tulle bow.

Miss Leola E. Kelusky was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Marguerite M. Davy, of Bancroft, and Miss Mildred M. Hannah, of Napanee. They were gowned in period frocks of taffeta shot with silver, in yellow, mauve and palest blue respectively. Their gowns were short in front and very long at the back. They wore smart black velvet picture hats and black velvet shoes. Asters and ferns made attractive bouquets which were held with tulle of the same shades.

Little Miss Patricia Fuller, of North Bay, in white taffeta, made a dainty ring bearer; Miss Peggy Lumb and Miss Patricia Brown, of Bancroft, dressed alike in frocks of sky blue taffeta, were charming flower girls; while little Miss Pauline Card, of Bancroft, in palest green taffeta, was train bearer.

During the signing of the register Mrs. S. S. Lumb sang very beautifully.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Hotel Bancroft, where early autumn flowers filled the spacious drawing rooms. Later luncheon was served to sixty guests.

Mrs. Kelusky, mother of the bride, was gowned in an imported frock of black Chantilly lace and georgette, wearing a picture hat to match with silver trimmings, collar of pearls, and carried American Beauty roses.

Later leaving by motor, the bride wore a French ensemble of beige shade Kasha Granda, with sable trimmings and French felt hat, suede shoes and handbag in beige and brown. On their return they will reside in Ithaca, N.Y., where the groom holds the position of Lecturer and Physician at Cornell University.

AGED CITIZEN PASSES

James McMurrin.

Napanee lost an aged and highly respected citizen on Thursday, September 13th, 1928, when Mr. James McMurrin passed away. Mr. McMurrin had been in failing health for some time, but in spite of his nearly eighty-four years, he was able to be around, read the papers, and take an interest in life almost up until the time of his death. He was around as usual and there was no indication of any change when he retired on Wednesday, but early in the morning he slept quietly away.

In the passing of Mr. McMurrin one more link with the past has been severed. He came with his parents to this country in 1854, when only ten years of age, from County Monahan, Ireland. It was long before the days of Leviathans and Berengarias. It took the family about three months in a sailing vessel to reach this country. Locating in Kingston, Mr. John McMurrin, the father of the deceased, secured work as a stone mason. But after four years he moved to Adolphustown, and worked on the Gibbs farm. Later on they bought the Cole farm on the north side of Hay Bay in Gosport, and there they spent most of their lives. When John McMurrin died Mr. James McMurrin inherited the property, and continued to dwell there until 1905, when he sold out and removed to Napanee. The deceased was an ardent Protestant, and member of the Orange Order, and an enthusiastic Royal Arch Mason. He was as well a member of St. Andrew's United Church. All his life he had been interested in the Church and religious matters and continued to attend their meetings as long as he was physically able.

The funeral was held from his late home, Thomas Street, on Saturday, and was conducted by Rev. A. J. Wilson, Pastor of St. Andrew's Church, and by the Masonic Order. The body was taken to Picton for burial, where it was met by members of the Picton Masonic Lodge and friends who participated in the last rites.

He is mourned by his widow, and by a large host of friends to whom he had become well known during his long career.

COLLEGIATE NEWS.

Commencement Exercises

Next Friday evening the diplomas, medals and prizes won last year by the Collegiate pupils will be presented in the Assembly Room of the Collegiate Institute. After the presentation, a social evening will be enjoyed by the pupils and ex-pupils. This is a departure from previous years when the presentation was made at the annual concert of the school. It was the opinion of the graduates that more of the graduating class could be present in September than in December, as many of them would be working in town after this month. Moreover the important work of the school is the obtaining of scholastic awards, and these have been made an appendix of the annual concert, generally at a late hour in the evening. It has been customary to have an at home during September to bid farewell to the graduates and to welcome the new pupils. This event will be combined with the graduation exercises, and made a real school affair to which the ex-pupils and parents are cordially invited. The presentations will be made at eight o'clock sharp, and afterwards the parents and friends of the pupils will have an opportunity of seeing the school. Light refreshments will be served by the pupils before the close of the evening. It is hoped that all the parents will take advantage of this opportunity to get acquainted with the Collegiate. A special presentation will be made to Charles Amey, the winner of the Provincial Championship in the 440-yard race at the National Exhibition.

Evening Vocational Classes

Evening classes will commence at the Collegiate on Tuesday, October 2nd. Further announcement of these classes will be made later, and registration will take place during the last week of September.

Napanee Man Injured In Motor Crash.

On the Highway, just West of Napanee, on Sunday morning, two cars came into collision. One car, a Nash, from Welland, driven by a Mr. Secord, going west, collided with one driven by Mr. Frank Johnston, of Napanee, going East. The Johnston car was practically demolished, while the Secord car escaped with minor damages. Frank Johnston was the only occupant to suffer serious injuries. His right arm was broken in four places. He was rushed to the Kingston General Hospital, where it was found necessary to wire the bones together. It is not at all likely that the arm will ever be of much use again. Judging from the appearance of the cars it is a wonder any of the passengers came out alive.

Harvest Thanksgiving Services

The Harvest Thanksgiving services at St. Mark's Church, Deseronto, this year were very bright and uplifting, and the spirit of Praise and Thanksgiving was stressed in every shape, manner and form throughout the services during the day. What services at this glorious season of the year could be more uplifting and acceptable to Almighty God than Thanksgiving Services to Him "who openeth His hand and filleth all things living with plenteousness". The music was of a high order, maintaining the best traditions of the Anglican Church. The decorations were in splendid taste, and the Bishop as usual preached a most powerful sermon, which was listened to with rapt attention by a large congregation that filled the church. Amongst many that came a distance we noticed the Church Warden of the Kingsford Church, Mr. Robert Tucker, as well as ladies from Rhode Island, New York, Miss Bell and Miss Platte. The Bishop thoroughly enjoyed his visit to St. Mark's. Next Sunday the Thanksgiving Services will be repeated at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. At the 7 o'clock evening service the Rev. R. J. Dumbrille, Vicar of Napanee, will be the special preacher.

She was accompanied by Mrs. Mancur. — Mrs. Fred Scott and daughters, Misses Louise and Jean, who have been spending the past two months with her sisters, Mrs. G. W. Lucas and Mrs. Henry Allen, have returned to their home in Montreal. — Mrs. Frank Hillier is visiting relatives in Watertown. — Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wolfe, Rutherford, spent a few days with the latter's sister, Mrs. William Calder.—Mr. and Mrs. George White and two children, of Madoc, were also Sunday guests of Mrs. Wm. Calder. — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shorey and grandson, and the Misses Clara and Emma Shorey, of Newburgh, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Smith last Sunday, and Mr. and Mrs. Knapp, of Bloomfield, also spent the week-end with them.—Mr. and Mrs. John McCoy, of Peterboro', recently visited her sister, Mrs. D. L. Snider, and Mr. Snider.—Mrs. Henry Shinnerer and Mrs. Jerry Smith, of Watertown, spent a few days the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hillier, and other friends. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hillier were also their week-end guests.—Clarence Mabee, of Williamsport, Pa., visited Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Sproule last Friday.—Miss Jennie Aylesworth, of Toronto, spent a few days the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Hamm. — Mr. and Mrs. Fred Montgomery and family, of Buffalo, have been holidaying with Mrs. Montgomery's father, Mr. Fred Caton.—Mrs. J. L. Swift and little daughter, Catherine, have returned from visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gleason, Almonte. —Mr. and Mrs. B. L. King and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Topliff were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Robertson, Violet, last Sunday.

WEDDING BELLS

Gibson—Kelusky.

At St. Paul's Church, Bancroft, at two o'clock, on Tuesday, September 11th, 1928, the marriage took place of Vereen Vivienne, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelusky, to Dr. Robert Stirling Gibson, son of Mrs. J. F. Gibson, and the late Dr. J. F. Gibson, of Kingston. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. H. Harston, L.L.B., Rector of Bancroft, assisted by the Rev. D. J. Campbell, of Bancroft, Mrs. W. P. J. Alexander, presiding at the organ.

The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli, asters, ferns and foliage. Mr. Donald Nixon, of Hamilton, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Lyall Davy, Mr. Carman Vanderwort, Mr. J. Hawkins, Mr. Thomas and Mr. H. Strudwick, all of Bancroft.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a simple but charming period gown of heavy ivory taffeta, with overdress of filmy tulle forming a tight fitting bodice and full skirt of silver-edged frills with uneven hem. The only trimming was a huge satin bow at the side. The long train of hand embroidered Brussels net hanging from the shoulders held in place with seed pearls, was the gift of her great-grandmother. Her veil of ivory tulle, held by a cap of Honiton lace with clusters of orange blossoms and pearls at each side, fell in two folds to the end of her train. She wore ivory satin shoes, and carried a shower bouquet of Butterfly roses and fern tied with a large tulle bow.

Miss Leola E. Kelusky was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Marguerite M. Davy, of Bancroft, and Miss Mildred M. Hannah, of Napanee. They were gowned in period frocks of taffeta shot with silver, in yellow, mauve and palest blue respectively. Their gowns were short in front and very long at the back. They wore smart black velvet picture hats and black velvet shoes. Asters and ferns made attractive bouquets which were held with tulle of the same shades.

Little Miss Patricia Fuller, of North Bay, in white taffeta, made a dainty ring bearer; Miss Peggy Lumb and Miss Patricia Brown, of Bancroft, dressed alike in frocks of sky blue taffeta, were charming flower girls; while little Miss Pauline Card, of Bancroft, in palest green taffeta, was train bearer.

During the signing of the register Mrs. S. S. Lumb sang very beautifully.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Hotel Bancroft, where early autumn flowers filled the spacious drawing rooms. Later luncheon was served to sixty guests.

Mrs. Kelusky, mother of the bride, was gowned in an imported frock of black Chantilly lace and georgette, wearing a picture hat to match with silver trimmings, collar of pearls, and carried Apricot Beauty roses.

Later leaving by motor, the bride wore a French ensemble of beige shade Kasha Grenda, with cable trimmings and French felt hat, suede shoes and handbag in beige and brown. On their return they will reside in Ithaca, N. Y., where the groom holds the position of Lecturer and Physician at Cornell University.

—Harvest Thanksgiving Services will be held in St. Jude's Church, Kingsford, on Sunday, Sept. 23rd, at 3 p.m. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and join with us in thanksgiving to God for a bountiful harvest.

—Congratulations are to be extended to Miss Mary Whitfield and pupils of S. S. No. 4, South Fredericksburgh, who were successful in obtaining first prize in the Strathcona exercises, and also first prize in the school chorus, at the Rural School Fair held at Sillsville, on September 14th.

—Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, a Bazaar will be held in the basement of Emsey Hill Church, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 26th. A variety of articles will be for sale. At the close of the sale a good programme will be given. A Cafeteria lunch will be served. Come and enjoy a social evening.

—A quiet wedding took place in San Bardinardino, a suburb of Los Angeles, Cal., when Miss Ina M. (Cronkright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cronkright, became the bride of William A. Jennings, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jennings of Greenwood, Indiana. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Jennings left for a motor trip from the Mexican border through San Diago, Pasadena, Santa Barbara, and other cities along the coast. They will live temporarily in Riverside, Cal.

AGED CITIZEN PASSES

James McMurrin.

Napanee lost an aged and highly respected citizen on Thursday, September 13th, 1928, when Mr. James McMurrin passed away. Mr. McMurrin had been in failing health for some time, but in spite of his nearly eighty-four years, he was able to be around. Later on they bought the Cole Farm on the north side of Hay Bay in Gosport, and there they spent most of their lives. When John McMurrin died Mr. James McMurrin inherited the property, and continued to dwell there until 1905, when he sold out and removed to Napanee. The deceased was an ardent Protestant, and member of the Orange Order, and an enthusiastic Royal Arch Mason. He was as well a member of St. Andrew's United Church. All his life he had been interested in the Church and religious matters and continued to attend their meetings as long as he was physically able.

The funeral was held from his late home, Thomas Street, on Saturday, and was conducted by Rev. A. J. Wilson, Pastor of St. Andrew's Church, and by the Masonic Order. The body was taken to Picton for burial, where it was met by members of the Picton Masonic Lodge and friends who participated in the last rites.

He is mourned by his widow, and by a large host of friends to whom he had become well known during his long career.

COLLEGIATE NEWS.

Commencement Exercises

Next Friday evening the diplomas, medals and prizes won last year by the Collegiate pupils will be presented in the Assembly Room of the Collegiate Institute. After the presentation, a social evening will be enjoyed by the pupils and ex-pupils. This is a departure from previous years when the presentation was made at the annual concert of the school. It was the opinion of the graduates that more of the graduating class could be present in September than in December, as most of them would be absent from town after this month. Moreover the important work of the school is the obtaining of scholastic awards, and these have been made an appendix of the annual concert, generally at a late hour in the evening. It has been customary to have an at home during September to bid farewell to the graduates and to welcome the new pupils. This event will be combined with the graduation exercises, and made a real school affair to which the ex-pupils and parents are cordially invited. The presentations will be made at eight o'clock sharp, and afterwards the parents and friends of the pupils will have an opportunity of seeing the school. Light refreshments will be served by the pupils before the close of the evening. It is hoped that all the parents will take advantage of this opportunity to get acquainted with the Collegiate. A special presentation will be made to Charles Amey, the winner of the Provincial Championship in the 440-yard race at the National Exhibition.

Evening Vocational Classes

Evening classes will commence at the Collegiate on Tuesday, October 2nd. Further announcements of these classes will be made later, and registration will take place during the last week of September.

Flies have caused more deaths than all wars combined—yet some of us do nothing to help prevent future casualties. Flies have no preference—you or some of your family or friends may be next. Start to-day—and kill every one you see. It is very easy if you use the product produced and perfected by the foremost industrial institution of its race in the world. It is fragrant and harmless to mankind, but kills all household insects. Just follow instructions on blue label of bottle. INSIST upon FLY-TOX from your retailer.—Adv.

OBITUARY

Mr. Edward MacKinnon.

The death occurred on Sunday, Sept. 23rd, of Mr. Edward MacKinnon. Mr. MacKinnon came to Napanee to enlist with the 80th Battalion, went overseas with them and served at the Front until the time of the Armistice, when he returned to Napanee, and married Miss Nellie Wagar, daughter of Eli Wagar. They then moved to Point Anne, where he worked in the Cement Works until a couple of months ago. Failing health forced his retirement from active work, and the family returned to Napanee. He continued to fail in health, and was taken to the Kingston General Hospital. It was discovered that nothing could be done for him and he was brought home, and passed away on Sunday. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife and a daughter, eight years of age.

The funeral was held from his late home, on Isabella St., on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. A. J. Wilson officiating.

Margaret Jane Masters.

On Saturday, Sept. 22nd, 1928, Mrs. Margaret Jane Masters passed away at her home on Donald street. Mrs. Masters had been a confirmed invalid for nearly twenty-five years, so that when the end came it was not unlooked for.

Mrs. Masters was born at Stirling seventy-two years ago, and was married to Mr. C. W. Masters, of Consecon. They continued to live at Stirling for a time after marriage, but finally, about twenty-five years ago, took up residence here in Napanee, where the son went into the undertaking business with the late P. G. Carscallen.

The funeral was held on Monday, and was conducted by Rev. W. P. Woodger. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery. There is left to mourn her loss, her husband, Mr. C. W. Masters, two sons, W. A. Masters, of the firm of Masters & Therrien, Napanee, G. H. Masters, of Prince Edward County, and one sister, Mrs. G. B. Briggs, of Detroit, Mich.

CAMDEN EAST

The school Fair that was held in this village a week ago Monday, proved a wonderful success, and was attended by a large crowd of people. Bicknell's Corner School received first prize for the Strathcona Exercises, while Camden East School won first in the School Choruses. Much credit is due to Ruth Galbraith, one of our Public School pupils, for winning the silver cup that was given for the highest number of points won by any one pupil at the fair. She was also successful in obtaining a handsome bedroom clock, which was presented by the Women's Institute of this locality for winning the highest number of marks in examinations and conduct for last year in the senior room of Camden East Public School.—Mr. and Mrs. John Galbraith and family spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Galbraith, Yarker.— Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huffman, Mr. B. Huffman and Mr. Will Ryan, of Toronto, spent a couple of days with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Black.—Miss Celia Oster left on Sunday for London, Ont., where she intends entering the Western University.—Mrs. F. E. McWilliams and Mrs. M. Love arrived home here on Monday of last week, after spending a very pleasant two weeks at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. T. Love and Mrs. G. McWilliams at Cowanville, Que.—Mrs. McDonald, of Ernestown, spent Friday with her daughter, Mrs. John McGarvey.—Mrs. Chas. Histed spent Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Yeomans.—The Ladies' Aid will hold their October meeting in the United Church Hall, on Thesday, Oct. 2nd, at 2.30 p.m. A cordial invitation is extended to all the ladies of the congregation.

YARKER SOUTH

Jack Frost has made his appearance and farmers are very busy cutting corn and buckwheat.—Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Curl and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Huffman spent Saturday of last week at Charlie Curl's.—Mr. and Mrs. Cassen Davey and Mrs. Jane Davey spent an evening last week with Mr. and Mrs. Archie McLean, Harrowsmith. — Mrs. Martha Love returned home on Monday last, after spending the past two weeks with Rev. and Mrs. A. T. Love, at Cowansville, Que.—Miss Emily Stevenson, of Kingston, spent several days last week with her friend, Miss Annie Love.—Mr. John Lucas, of Watertown, N.Y., spent the week-end with his cousin, Mrs. Cassen Davey.—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Huff and children visited Sunday last week with their aunt, Mrs. Jane Letch, Kingston.—Mr. and Mrs. John Love spent Thursday in Napanee. —Mr. Jeffrey Yarker, is visiting at Cassen Davey's, for some length of time.—Mr. Desmond Barnard and sister, of Peterboro, spent the week-end with Miss Annie Love.—Several from here attended the School Fair at Camden East, on Monday last, which was a great success.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of The Beaver.

Dear Sir,—Newburgh does not vaunt itself or puff itself up unless it has something worth while to which to draw attention.

Just now it has, quite centrally located, what, in the absence of a better name, we may call a weed nursery. This name may be perhaps misleading but we will allow the reader to judge.

Its leading products are both exvitamin and medicinal. To be precise they are artichokes and burdocks, and to the excellance of their growth the Reeve and Weed Inspector can testify. If the County Council had, as it should have done, provided an old people's home, material could be had to supply vegetable soup for that institute for an extended period, and any firm or individual engaged in the manufacture of Burdock Blood Bitters, could find here an abundant supply of raw material

These things could be furnished cheaply as air, sunshine and rain take care of all overhead expense in their production. Just now it would appear that the market for these commodities is limited, but it is glutted because of over production; but it seems too bad that products of this kind cannot be conserved for the time when growth is so abundant that if allowed to ripen the nursery becomes a veritable fire trap and disaster may take the place of blessing.) We feel like drawing the attention of the public to this matter as the property of the nursery is not one to advertise.

WEDDING BELLS

Milligan—Johnston.

A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, Sept. 19th, 1928, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson, Centreville, when Mary Isena, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston, became the bride of James Herbert, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Milligan, Centreville. A profusion of Autumn leaves and potted plants graced the drawing room. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. H. A. Bunt, of Enterprise. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of peach flat crepe with white shoes and stockings, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The bridesmaid was Miss Muriel Milligan, cousin of the groom. She wore a gown of shell pink French crepe, and carried pink and white asters. The groom was supported by Mr. John Johnston, brother of the bride. After a dainty luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Milligan left for a trip to Detroit, Windsor and Toronto. For travelling the bride wore a navy blue suit, sand felt hat, shoes and stockings, and a beautiful red fox scarf, the gift of the groom. His gift to the bridesmaid was a silver necklace, and to the best man gold cuff links. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Milligan will reside on their farm, just east of Centreville.

BATH

Miss Dorothy Osborne, nurse-in-training at the Kingston General Hospital, spent last Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Osborne.— Miss Mary Davy, of Odessa, spent last week end at her home here.—Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brown have returned to their home in Newark, N.J., after spending the summer here. — Little Miss Clara Young is in the Kingston General Hospital, recovering from an operation on her foot.—Dr. Frederick Aylesworth, of Toronto, is the guest of his mother, Mrs. James Aylesworth.— Clarence McGuin and family are moving into part of the house owned by Wm. Hawley.—Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. G. W. Cuppage in the sudden death of her son, John Holt, as the result of an automobile accident.—The Tar and Chemical Co's plant at Toronto, recently. Sympathy is also extended to Mrs. Harry Mott in the death of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mott are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy, on Sept. 18th.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the United Church, on Thursday morning, when Miss Mildred Ruttan was united in marriage to Mr. James Conroy, of Tamworth, by the Rev. Mr. Dixon.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Davy and family, of Kingston, spent Sunday afternoon at W. H. Hall's.

Presentation and Address.

On Wednesday evening, Sept. 12th, the friends and neighbours met at the home of Mrs. F. Webb, Forest Mills, and presented her and daughter-in-law Annie with the following address which was read by Miss Marian McConnell :—

Mrs. Webb and Annie,—We, your friends and neighbours of Forest Mills, have met here tonight to express our appreciation of your work among us during the past nine years.

We feel that Mrs. Webb, we wish to express our appreciation of your services as caretaker of the school. In this capacity your work has been very efficient and commendable, so that in your removal from our midst we suffer a great loss.

You, Annie, have been an inspiration to your fellow-workers of Forest Mills church, as an active member of the Choir, and of the Adult Bible Class, and as teacher whenever occasion required, we could always depend on your help.

We hope that in the future you will both keep a warm spot in your hearts for your friends back here at Forest Mills, and we assure you that you will always find an open door whenever you should renew acquaintances here.

As a slight token of our esteem, we wish you to accept this purse, and may it ever serve to remind you of your friends at Forest Mills.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbours.

JOHN McCONNELL.

AMHERST ISLAND FERRY

After Considering This Vital Subject for Ten Years, the People of the Island Will Own a Ferry.—A Majority of 53 in Favor Was Given at the Election on Tuesday, Sept. 18th.

The Beaver unites with all parts of the County of Lennox and Addington in extending to the people of Amherst Island congratulations on the progressive decision they made at the Election held on Tuesday, Sept. 18th, by voting in favor of the ferry. It is predicted that the prosperity of the Island will thus be increased. The majority is a substantial one, viz. 53. The decision settles a matter that has caused considerable consideration and perhaps trouble for ten years. This should prove a great boon to the islanders as they have been largely prevented from exporting the produce of their lands by the inadequency and excessive cost of transportation. Now they can look forward to an era of prosperity from increased production from their fertile lands, and people will make their summer homes on the easiest settled and most beautiful island on the northern shores of Lake Ontario. Now there will be a regular service, which can be depended upon, owned and controlled by the Township Council.

Your representative had the pleasure of attending a public meeting on the Island on Saturday evening previous to the election and was impressed by the interest shown by the large audience present on that occasion. The vote shows the appreciation of the kindly feeling of the Council of Province of Ontario. The cost of the boat, which will be 75 ft. in length, 20 ft. beam, with a capacity for carrying seven automobiles and forty passengers, will be $21,500. This amount is made by $6000 from the Township, $10750 from the Province, and $4400 raised by debentures payable in five years by the Township. The Act that ways Department have further agreed to pay half the cost of operation and maintenance. So that the people of the Island are practically receiving a handsome gift of what promises to be a lucrative business and a great comfort to those who have up to now been deprived of sure and regular transportation at moderate cost.

One or two interesting facts are :—The population is about 700; there are four churches, Anglican, Presbyterian, United Church and Roman Catholic; five rural schools; a continuation school with about 40 students. A large number of fine sheep, cattle and horses are raised on the Island, and for farming is successfully carried on. There are said to be seventy-five automobiles owned and operated on the Island. A number of American and others have beautiful homes on the Island.

ODESSA

The annual school fair held last Saturday afternoon was a great success. The attendance was unusually large and the exhibits surpassed any of the former years. The vegetables, flowers, and fancy work exhibited by the Public School pupils were well worthy of praise, and the many sports indulged in furnished great amusement for the people. The prize list on Tuesday to spend a day with Mrs. Fred Scott, Montreal, before leaving to accept a position with the J. B. Ford Co., Wyandotte, Mich.—Miss Ruth Cairns is attending Napanee Collegiate preparing for matriculation.—Miss Helen Card is attending Napanee Collegiate, and taking a business course.—Mrs. Walter J. WEAK AND NERVOUS

A Condition Always Due to Thin, Watery Blood.

Thin blood and weak nerves generally are found together. Red blooded people seldom complain of nervousness. The reason is that the blood feeds the nerves and keeps them toned up to do the work nature intended. When the blood is thin and weak it falls in this important function and nervous troubles follow. The following case will interest those who need a tonic for the blood and nerves. Mrs. D. Veno, Union Square, N.S., says:—"With a feeling of gratitude I write to tell you what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me. I had become badly run down, and reached the stage when I could not do my housework. I was not only weak, but my nerves seemed completely shattered. The least noise would startle me and I was subject to nervous headaches. Worse still, I could not sleep at night. Perhaps I would get an hour or two sleep, and then lie awake for the rest of the night. I had reached a stage when I actually feared I would lose my mind. Up to the time I decided to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, nothing I had taken seemed to do me any good. I got a few boxes of these and soon there was no doubt they were the medicine to help me. As I continued the use of the pills I gradually grew stronger, ate better and could sleep at night, and now I am as well and strong as a woman could wish to be. I hope some other weak, nervous person will be benefitted by my experience."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD
(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound. An extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make homes and interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the whole year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from the products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a stouter and more rugged material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a sure and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

LOST TEMPLE MYSTERY

England Interested In New Discovery In a Kent Village.—Remarkable Arrangement of Churches.

A small village in Kent is attracting attention at the present time on account of new discoveries of an uncommon nature; one of these is the remarkable arrangement of the surrounding churches, and, strange as it may seem, this has only now been observed.

Stowting is about four miles from Lympne. The old Roman road, Stone street passes along the eastern boundary of the parish on its way from Lympne to Canterbury.

It is now thought that this little out-of-the-way hamlet may once have been an important town; one of the reasons for this opinion, is because Stowting church is a centre, five churches all being approximately two miles distant, Elmsted and Hastingleigh churches lie to the northwest and Lyminge, Postling, and Stanford are on the southeast.

In the extraordinary relationship which these sites bear to one another there is a strong suggestion of some hidden meaning and intentional planning; it could not be coincidence or a mere chance arrangement.

A sixth church is missing. If we start with Lyminge church and carry a straight line through Stowting church to a corresponding distance on the other side, we come to Bull town, and what do we find at this point?

Close by a spring, an old farmhouse stands on raised ground under the shade of an aged yew tree, great, ancient stones are to be seen in the foundations of the farm buildings. There is a story, too, of an old chapel at Bull town dedicated to St. Augustine, but as yet there is not sufficient evidence to prove the truth of the statement.

A tradition, taken in connection with this recent discovery, is intensely interesting. It is that at one time there were seven churches in Stowting. This must be a tradition of ancient origin reaching back into pre-Christian days, the seven churches not being Christian churches but pagan temples.

When St. Augustine arrived in Kent in the year 597 A.D. he found many heathen temples, and wrote to Bishop Gregory for advice concerning them. The answer came back from the bishop recommending the use of these same temples when possible, in order that the people "may the more familiarly resort to the places to which they have been accustomed."

The selection of these sites, therefore, would have been made in prehistoric times.

Topographers of Kent usually pass this district by—it is quite off the beaten track—and yet it is full of interest. The unchanging downs are here. Bull town is almost at the foot of a deep track which scars the hillside; countless feet for hundreds of years must have worn this narrow way.

A "coomb" is there too, green and sheltered on three sides and open on the south. Possibly it was here that the cattle intended for sacrificial purposes were kept.

A place has been hollowed out, high up on one side of this natural enclosure, in a position where watch could be kept over the herd, and may well have been the temporary home of the herdsmen when on duty.

A rabbit had been busy in this hollow and had scraped a small piece of bronze age pottery to the surface. This is a treasure for bronze age pottery is a rare find in Kent.

Evidently St. Mary's Church at Stowting is now on the site where once stood a central temple, having six associated temples, thus accounting for the traditional "Seven churches of Stowting."

What a fascinating problem it is and well worth while endeavorint to penetrate the mystery of this exact placing, with a consideration of the aspect of these surrounding temples.

LONDON POLICE HORSES.

Dummy Cars Used to Train Equines to Quiet In Any Emergency.

"Wal, that horse has got more nerve than I have," said a middle-aged American who, caught in the traffic at the Oxford street end of New Bond street W., London, England sought refuge by the side of a mounted policeman.

The horse moved forward, and with it the American, while the rider proceeded to disentangle the knots into which the traffic had tied itself.

The calmest individual on the spot was the horse. After standing statuesque in the whirlpool of traffic she moved forward utterly unconcerned, never indicating by so much as the flicker of an ear that she was in the least bit excited.

An official at Scotland Yard told a Daily Mail reporter that in addition to the usual training at Imber Court, Thames Ditton, Surrey, to fit these horses for all traffic conditions, the animals have every year a "refresher" course of two weeks.

The novices are given training lasting from ten weeks to three months. There are dummies counterfeiting trains, motor cars, tramway cars, level crossing gates, bridges and airplanes.

To accustom them to fire and smoke the horses pass between bonfires. A catapult arrangement fixed to a tree sends a newspaper fluttering between the horses' legs.

The police act as crowds, throwing missiles in the shape of rubber balls. There is even a jack-in-the-box arrangement to suggest a man coming out of a house.

A Sacred Bird.

To kill a gull in Utah is as much a crime as to slaughter a cow in India. In Salt Lake City a thirty-foot shaft, topped by a golden ball and two golden gulls, commemorates the miraculous deliverance of the settlers from the plague of crickets in the second season of the Mormon settlement.

"Clear these goods at once"

"We must make room for new stock," said the Chief. "Clear these goods at once."

So Brock, a man of words, started a long letter to his best account.

But Hill, the man of action, had already given Long Distance a distant telephone number. A few persuasive words . . . and Hill had made a sale, before Brook's letter was finished.

Men of action — and women too, use Long Distance. They keep a list of numbers frequently called, and give the operator the distant number. This speeds up a service that is already wonderfully quick.

COLLEGIATE NEWS.

The Graduation Exercises of the Napanee Collegiate were held in the Assembly Room of the Collegiate on Friday evening, September 21st, at 8 o'clock. The room was filled to capacity by the pupils parents and friends, and the new departure this year was declared a success by all present.

Mr. Alpine Woods, Chairman of the Board of Education, presided, and after the exercises had been opened by "O Canada", Mr. Woods gave some very interesting information regarding the history of the school, and the present attendance which is twenty-five greater than at any other time.

Ernest Gibbard, School President for last year, outlined the progress which had been made last year by the school, most of which he attributed to the Spartan government of which he was the head. The installation of drinking fountains, the acquisition of an athletic field, the winning of the championship in basketball by both girls and boys, the winning of the district cup in oratory by Munro Beattie, and the Provincial Championship in the 440-yard race by Charles Amey were [the chief accomplishments mentioned by the past president.

Mr. Woods then presented the Matriculation Graduation diplomas to the following graduates: Form 5 — Grace Boyer, Donald Caton, Dorothy Daverin, Kathleen Dickson, Ernest Gibbard, Marjorie Gibbard, Katherine Gleeson, Monna Graham, Helen Grandy, Evelyn Mills, Helen Schell, Marion Sills.

Mr. M. Fox presented the Fox Medal, donated by his son, Mr. Charles Fox, to Evelyn Mills, for proficiency in Upper School in the Graduating Class. Mr. Woods presented the Memorial Scholarship to Mary Mellow for highest standing in seven subjects in the Upper School examination of this summer.

Mr. Gibbard presented the Commercial Graduation diplomas to the following successful pupils in the three-year and the special commercial course inaugurated last year:—Edna Aylesworth, Evelyn Barrager, Lenore Black, James Burns, Marion Cairns, Arne Cavanaugh, Reginald Chapman, Marion Douglas, Hazel Frink, Marion Grau, Gordon Gibeon, Donald Hawley, Dorothy Hogle, Gordon Johnston, Florence Lacher, Irene Miller, Madeline McMillan, Gladys Parrott, Ruth Thompson, Vera VanAlstyne, Marion Young.

At this point in the program, Ernest Symmith played a very pleasing piano solo, which was heartily applauded.

Mrs. J. M. Thomson was then called to the platform to present the prizes won by the pupils of the school in the W. C. T. U. Essay contest last spring. Three out of four of the county prizes were won by N. C. I. pupils.

First Prize, Upper School — Lois Stalker.

Second Prize, Upper School—Marion Sills.

First Prize, Lower School — Betty Gibbard.

The form prizes were won as follows:—

Form 1—1st, June Thompson; 2nd, Carrie Milling; 3rd, Hilda McGraw.

Form 2—1st, Betty Gibbard; 2nd, Francis Wright; 3rd, Margaret Bedore.

Form 3 and 4—1st, Lois Stalker; 2nd, Marion Sills; 3rd, Jean Lancaster.

Mr. Beattie, on behalf of the I. O. D. E., made the presentation of the prizes in Entrance History to Inez Baker and Mervyn Owen. Mr. Woods then presented the Strathcona Medal for the best rifle shot in the Cadet Corps to Roland Stalker.

Mayor Roy, on behalf of the Town, read an address to Charles Amey, winner of the 400-yard dash for the Province, and extended the congratulations of the town to the champion. On behalf of the Rotary Club, President Wilfred Wilson made a presentation of a wrist watch. The recipient replied in a few words of thanks, and very unselfishly asked for applause for the other boys who had attended the meet in Toronto, and had not been so successful, although they had worked as hard.

At the close of the exercises, the Collegiate pupils served refreshments, and both the pupils and the visitors enjoyed an informal dance for a couple of hours.

Athletics.

Charles Amey, Harry Robinson, William Howitt and Harry Moore, accompanied by Mr. Barley, motored to Perth on Saturday to compete in the track meet of Eastern Ontario Secondary School Association. Charles Amey added another victory to his credit by winning the 440-yard race by over ten yards; while Harry Robinson won second place in the High Jump, and Harry Moore won third in the 220-yard, and fourth in the 100-yard dash. The Collegiate team was a small one, and most of the events went to the Ottawa team.

Next Saturday, the football team goes to Picton for their opening game in the Bay of Quinte series, and on Wednesday afternoon, October 3rd, will play here against Deseronto.

This year, instead of canvassing the town for prizes for the annual field day, the Boys' Athletic Association are issuing coupon tickets for all the home games in football and basketball to sell at one dollar for the year. In this way the public will get full value for his money, and the boys hope that everyone in town will buy one or two tickets, and this supports an organization which has a well organized amateur sport.

School Elections.

This week the Spartan and Athenian school societies will elect their officers, and the election of the Students' Council will be held on Friday afternoon. Each Form will elect a girl and a boy to the council which also includes the presidents of the school societies and the athletic clubs.

Evening Vocational Classes.

The Evening Vocational Classes will commence on Tuesday, October 2nd, in the 2nd. in the Collegiate Institute class-rooms. This year the classes will probably be the following:—

Typewriting—Junior and Senior for beginners and for those in offices who wish to improve their speed and accuracy.

Stenography — Junior and Senior theory and transcription.

Senior Bookkeeping—A continuation of Sprott & Short's course open to those who have taken the Junior Class, or have taken sufficient bookkeeping to satisfy the entrance requirements. The course will deal with Joint Stock Companies, Consignments and Cost Accounting.

Mathematics and Physic—A course for both juniors and seniors in the mechanical operations, shop mathematics including formulae, application of physics and mathematics to areas, pulleys, machines and other practical operations. This course will include experiments in the laboratory to illustrate the problems.

Furniture Drafting—Junior and Senior. This course is all practical and affords an excellent opportunity to those who wish to learn this subject in a practical way from a teacher who has a long and successful experience.

Business Forms and Business Correspondence—A course in the necessary forms of business and business letters. In the case of pupils who have taken sufficient typewriting, the course will be co-related with that subject.

Dressmaking—Junior and Senior.

English and any other subject in which the registration is sufficient to warrant the establishment of a class.

The classes will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays, commencing at seven o'clock and continuing until nine. If possible a class in physical training and basketball will be open to pupils of the school from nine until ten o'clock. The fee for the six months school is $2.00, but this fee will be refunded at the end of the session if the pupil attends 80% of the evenings.

The Principal will be in the Town Hall on Friday and Monday evenings, September 28th, and October 1st, to register both new pupils and those who attended last year who wish to attend this year. Only a limited number can be accommodated in the Typewriting and the Drafting classes, and those desirous of entering these classes should enroll early.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving memory of Vera, dearly loved and only child of Mr. and Mrs. Percy McKeown, who passed away September 27th, 1923, aged 2 years and 5 months.

A bud that the gardener gave us,
A pure and lovely child;
He gave her in our keeping
To cherish undefiled.

But just as it was opening
To the glory of the day,
Down came the heavenly gardener
And took our flower away.

So sadly missed by Mamma and Daddy. 39ap

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Jane Wood, who died Sept. 6th, 1927.

There is someone who misses you sadly,
And finds the time long since you went;
There is someone who thinks of you always,
And tries to be brave and content.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent the voice we loved to hear;
'Tis sad, but true, we wonder why

OBITUARY

Michael Anthony Barrett.

The sad and sudden death on Sept. 15th, 1928, of Michael Anthony Barrett, of Centreville, cast a deep gloom over the vicinity. He was the only son of the late Thomas Barrett and Mrs. Barrett. He was twenty-one years of age and his mother's sole companion on the farm. His father predeceased him nine years ago. He leaves to mourn his loss his sorrowing mother and two sisters, Anastasia and Mary Margaret.

His funeral, which was well attended, took place on Sept. 17th, to the R. C. Church, Centreville, where the Rev. Fr. Mea sang his requiem mass, after which his remains were placed in the family plot. His pall bearers were Percy Doyle, James Brady, John Burns, John Kennelly, James Ingoldsby and Peter Perry.

Your boy or girl really needs a good Fountain Pen, especially if attending Collegiate. At Wallace's you will find a most complete assortment of Waterman's and Parker's. FARMER'S WIFE GETS STRENGTH

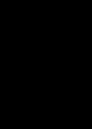
By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wilton, Ont.—"I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound through the Change of Life. It helps me and I cannot praise it too highly. I was troubled with heat flashes and my limbs were heavy so I could hardly walk to do my farm work. I saw in the newspapers your ad about the Vegetable Compound and thought to give it a trial. The first bottle gave me relief and I have told others what it does for me. I am willing for you to use my letter if you choose."—Mrs. D. B. Peters, Wilton, Ontario.



Ask Your Neighbor

HOOKING A SHARK

A Vivid Pen-Picture of the World's Most Exciting Sport.

"Have you ever caught a shark? As a sport, this occupation has only one drawback. All other forms of fishing seem tame for ever afterwards! says Answers.

The writer one did a little shark angling on board a liner bound from Australia to England. Owing to engine trouble, the ship had to heave-to for a few hours in the Northern Indian Ocean, and a few fishing enthusiasts procured a meat-hook and a large piece of pork from the butcher-shop, and, having attached these to a useful length of stout rope, threw the "bait" over the side.

There was a certain amount of derision among the sceptics, who parried scathing remarks on the doubtful value of teaching pork to swim, but the sarcasm stopped abruptly when someone shouted and pointed to the bait, which could be seen dimly under the wooden float.

There, sure enough, a long, shadowy form was circling round the bait. Would it be tempted by the meal prepared for it? We saw it make a vicious grab at the pork—and then swim blithely away, the easily earned meal in its jaws.

Well, better luck next time! We pulled in the empty meat-hook, rebaited it with a fresh supply of pork, and dropped it over again. Twenty-barren minutes ticked by. Then, again, a dark, shadowy form slid into view. It came along with a stealthy swirl, slowed up, viewed with careful deliberation the delectable morsel. Then suddenly it made up its mind. With a rush, it snapped up the dangling pork and made away.

It nearly made away, too, with the man who was holding the line. There was a terrific jerk, and he was pulled hard up against the rails. But a dozen hands were thrust forward to his aid, and the shark, for all its lashing, had no chance. It was lifted clear of the water and hauled up the ship's side amid a babel of excited voices.

Our "capture" measured six feet four inches, and was too heavy for a couple of men to lift. Its stomach contained a large octopus as well as our piece of pork.

Its most remarkable feature was the mouth. It held no less than four rows of teeth, each edged like a saw, in each jaw, the teeth so placed that, when one tooth wore out, or fell out, the one behind could bed up and take its place. All the teeth lay at an angle of about fifteen degrees, which allowed for no escape once its victim was secured inside the jaws.

Zam-Buk

ITS ROMANTIC STORY

A World Search for Rare Medicinal Herbs.

It is not commonly known that countries so far apart as China and Spain, Japan and England, and Tasmania and France have to be searched for the species of herbs used in the manufacture of that world famed healing balm ZAM-BUK. These herbs are many and costly.

They need to be gathered just at the right season when their juices and medicinal contents are at their very best.

Gathering medicinal herbs in Tasmania.

Zam-buk is the true successor of the herbal healing balms of Ancient Rome; with this important advantage Zam-buk, in addition to its rare herbal composition, has fantastically eminent medical knowledge and manufacturing skill to bring it to a pitch of perfection, probably never equalled in the annals of healing.

The different medicinal qualities in Zam-buk are beautifully balanced. "The healing power of Zam-buk, the soothing with the germicidal; it is penetrative yet not too stimulating, and has just the right blend for removing superficial swellings, sprains and pains.

Thus Zam-buk is a useful, reliable, and highly-concentrated medicinal dressing always ready to instantly soothe pain, swiftly allay swelling and inflammation, expel deep-seated disease, and grow new healthy skin. Moreover, users of Zam-buk have perfect confidence which alone comes from the knowledge that it is a refined herbal preparation and not an artificial ointment composed of pore-clogging fats and crude drugs.

Zam-buk is invaluable in all itching, inflamed, and diseased conditions of the skin, whilst its swift antiseptic healing makes it the ideal first-aid dressing for burns, scalds, cuts, etc. It is also the soothing remedy for piles. Of dealers everywhere 50c the box; 3 for $1.25, or Zam-buk Co., Dupont St., Toronto.

CANADA'S PRAIRIES.

Creation of Shelterbelts on Farms Followed by Gardens.

There are few districts in Canada where finer vegetables can be grown than in the prairie provinces provided the garden is well protected from the strong winds, says the Canadian Government publication Natural Resources, which goes on: The same thing applies to small fruits such as currants and raspberries where proper cultural methods are employed. The growing of tree fruits is, however, a much more recent development. While it is not expected that apples and plums will for many years be raised in commercial quantities on the prairies there is enough evidence to demonstrate quite conclusively, that in most of the settled sections it is quite possible for a farmer to raise sufficient fruit for home requirements.

As a result of the tree planting campaign which has been carried on since 1901 thousands of prairie farms are now completely protected by well established shelter belts. It is interesting to note the effect of these shelterbelts in respect to the general development of farm horticulture. Without protection it is practically impossible to get good results under prairie conditions with vegetables and other garden crops. Twenty-five years ago one could drive for miles through the farming districts and seldom see a good farm garden; in fact the majority of farmers made but little attempt to grow many vegetables other than a few potatoes, and only a few planted small fruits such as currants and raspberries. The growing of apples and plums was practically unheard of and was generally considered to be an impossibility. However, the advent of the shelterbelt has gradually worked a great change in these conditions. Last season an inspection of approximately 7,600 farms on which shelterbelts had been established showed that 6,800 had good vegetable gardens, 2,709 were growing small fruits and about 600 were experimenting with either apples or plums or both.

The late A. P. Stevenson, of Morden, Man., undoubtedly did more than any other private experimenter in demonstrating the possibility of growing tree fruits in Manitoba. He propagated and sold large numbers of young trees of varieties which as found hardy, mostly of Russian origin, and of recent years reports of planters ripening standard apples have been received from widely separated points in the three prairie provinces.

On the Dominion Government's nursery station at Indian Head, apples and plums originating from the Stevenson nursery were planted nearly twenty years ago and additions made from time to time. Reasonable crops of fruit have been securely quite regularly.

CANNOT FULFIL CONDITION.

Will of English Lady Is Taken to Court.

The Chancery Division was crowded recently with people interested in anti-vivisection, says a London despatch, when Mr. Justice Romer was asked to determine the construction of the will of Mrs. Sarah Martha Grove-Grady.

Mr. Grant, K.C., for the trustees of the will, stated that Mrs. Grove-Grady died worth about £600,000, and that the R.S.P.S.A. had declined a legacy of £10,000 because they felt that they could not fulfil a condition imposed.

This was that the chairman, members of committees and secretaries should be anti-vivisectionalists, and opposed to all sports involving the pursuit or death of any stag, deer, fox, hare, rabbit, bird, fish or other animal.

The most interesting question, said Mr. Grant, was in connection with a bequest of £200,000 to found a Beaumont Benevolent Society (Mrs Grove-Grady was the daughter of Mr J. Beaumont, of Huddersfield). A committee of anti-vivisectionists was to be formed to buy land for a sanctuary for wild birds and animals.

Mr. Green, K.C., for the heir-at-law, contended it was not a good charitable bequest. No committee could be found to comply with the conditions.

Mr. Justice Romer: If anybody has as a boy chased and killed butterflies, he would be ineligible. It might be possible to find one who had not —an Eskimo for instance.

Mr. Greene: He would probably be disqualified for killing polar bears (Laughter.)

All animals, birds and insects added Mr. Greene, were to be protected. This would include wasps, bettles, slugs, mosquitoes and other pests.

The hearing was adjourned.

The Largest Liner.

A new passenger liner, which when completed, will be the world's biggest ship, has just been ordered by the White Star Line.

The White Star has always favored the big ship. The Britannic, which was one of their vessels, was said to be the largest liner in the world when it was completed in 1916. It was pressed into war service as an hospital ship, and sunk in the same year.

At present, the Majestic, also a White Star liner, is the largest vessel in the world. It is 915 feet long with a tonnage of 56,551. The Leviathan, the American liner, claims to be 59,957 tons, but different methods of measurement are adopted in the two countries. By British standards, the Leviathan would be 54,243 tons. Her length is 907 feet.

It is expected that the new liner will be about 1,000 feet long, with a tonnage of 60,000. It is being built by Messrs. Harland & Wolff, Ltd., the famous Belfast shipbuilders.

LARGEST AND FINEST OIL TANKERS SAIL UNDER CANADIAN ENSIGN

With the launching in England on September 14th of the motor tank ship "Calgarolite," Canadian interests which already own and operate the world's largest tank ship, claim also the most modern and efficient of tankers, and a Canadian tanker fleet wins further eminence as one of the major oil fleets of the world.

The "Calgarolite" slipped from the ways at Haverton Hill-on-Tees with Miss Eleanor Ross, daughter of Victor Ross, Vice-President of Imperial Oil Limited, acting as sponsor. The "Calgarolite" is a 15,600 ton vessel with an indicated horsepower of 6,500, which makes her one of the most powerful and fastest tankers of her size. She is guaranteed a service speed of 12 knots. She is 540 feet long with a 76-foot beam and moulded depth of 28 feet 9 inches. Her modern equipment will permit loading and unloading of 120,000 barrels of oil in twenty-four hours, and so she will be almost continuously in transit, serving much as an "oil ferry" between Talara in Peru, Cartagena in Colombia, and Montreal and Halifax. She will establish new figures for economical transport of petroleum.

Replace Torpedoed Ships

The "Calgarolite" is the last of three large modern sea-going tankers and one lake tanker which were laid down some time ago in British shipyards for Imperial Oil. Preceding her in launching were the "Windsolite" for lake service, and the "Victolite" and "Vancelite." The flagship of the fleet in which she will serve is the world's largest tanker, the "C. O. Stillman." The three sea-going ships just built in the British yards replace three Imperial vessels which went to the bottom at the hands of the enemy while transporting petroleum for the allied cause. They were the "Luz Blanca," the "Retlaw" and the "Palacine."

Unload in Twenty-four Hours

The motor driven tanker of today is a highly specialized vessel which is designed to move a great volume of petroleum at maximum speed and with minimum delay at loading and unloading ports. A few years ago three days was considered a quick "turnaround" for a tanker. Today, with modern pumping equipment, a tank ship turns around in twenty-four hours. That is to say, twenty-four hours after she arrives in port she has taken on or discharged her cargo and is again at sea. Consequently the modern tanker is moving practically all the time and, more than any other type of ship, is the actual home of her crew. To compensate for the more continuous service, the crew is accommodated in a style that would turn the average tar green with envy. Nothing is overlooked to provide complete comfort and the sailors enjoy quarters and cuisine that compare favorably with passenger accommodation on many liners.

The Imperial Oil fleet now comprises nine large ocean-going motor tank ships: the "C. O. Stillman" of 22,715 tons, the "Victolite," "Vancolite," "Calgarolite," "Montrolite" and "Canadalite" of 15,600 tons; the "Ontariolite" and the "Reginolite" of 12,000 tons, and the "Trentolite," formerly a steam turbine vessel, which was converted into a motor ship, with a tonnage of 9,150. The combined motor tank ships carry 1,016,000 barrels of oil which they load and discharge in an average port time of twenty-four hours. It is estimated that these ships carry for about 25 per cent. cheaper than steamships of corresponding size.

Large Lake Fleet

In addition to the ocean tankers, Imperial Oil is operating six tank size steam driven ships on the Great Lakes. These move refined products from Halifax to various ports in the Great Lakes and up Fort William, serving the Halifax, Montreal and Sarnia refineries. Most of these vessels tie up during the winter but in the summer it is a race time for one of them to have more than eight or ten hours in port. On the Pacific Coast the 83 "Imperial" and two other steam vessels of the Imperial oil fleet carry petroleum products for the company and there is also the small motor ship, the "Montrolite" with a capacity of about 1,000 barrels. The combined capacity of the entire Imperial fleet is approximately 1,016,000 barrels; sufficient to fill load more than 5,000 tank cars, making a train 56 miles long.

The modern ocean-going tank ship contrasts interestingly with the shallow draft river boats which are used by the Imperial interests on the Magdalena River in Colombia, and which resemble in general the old stern wheelers Mark Twain once piloted on the Mississippi.

Plymouth 2-Door Sedan, $875

GIVING THE AUTOMOBILE DOLLAR NEW VALUE

Thousands of buyers, measuring what others offer at or near this price, find this newest Chrysler product giving far more dollar-for-dollar value in full size, in style and in every phase of performance, than any of the few other cars in the lowest-priced group.

For no other than the Chrysler-Plymouth gives for style the new chromium-plated slender-profile radiator, the new type fenders, the pleasing new arched-window silhouette. No other gives for comfort and elegance, such full-sized, roomy, luxuriously upholstered and finely fitted bodies.

No other gives for performance true high compression through the "Silver-Dome" high-compression engine using any fuel; and for safety, the surety and ease of light-action, internal-expanding hydraulic four-wheel brakes with squeakless moulded brake linings.

No other assures the sturdy dependability and long life with freedom from trouble which Chrysler Standard fleet is universally built into each and every Chrysler.

And these are only a few of the features unique to Plymouth which are convincing thousands upon thousands that the Plymouth is the standard whereby to judge values in the lowest-priced field—that anything less than the Plymouth gives is less than your dollar's worth.

ANOTHER MESSAGE TO THE MAN WHO DOES NOT OWN A CAR

"If I'd known how easy it was I'd have owned a car long ago"

THE man or woman who would not like to own a car is rarely met.

Yet large numbers of people are going without cars simply because they do not realize how very easy car-ownership really is.

There is no need to wait till you have the price of a new car. A good used car offers you just as much comfort, just as much convenience, just as quick and satisfying transportation and at far less cost; because the original owner has stood the first depreciation.

Come in and look over our fine selection of GOOD used cars, remembering that you can buy here with every confidence of satisfaction. The buyer of a used car receives the same consideration here as the buyer of a new car. His goodwill is just as valuable to us. His satisfaction is of just as great interest.

See the Cars . . check up their prices . . figure their low cost-per-mile of transportation. Then you'll say, with scores of delighted used-car owners, "If I'd known how easy it was, I'd have owned a car long ago."

Revived "Rantanning."

An ancient punishment against a woman "whose tongue ran away from her" was revived recently by the villagers of Quadring, England. The woman had gossiped unkindly. It was said about a girl in the village. The indignant villagers resorted to the old Saxon "rantanning," which consists in gathering about the offending gossip's house and making noise by beating sticks upon tins and cans, buckets and kettles, playing mouth organs, booing, shouting and singing.

Beau Brummell's Snuff Bill.

Medical men are said to be responsible for a revival of interest in snuff-taking, a practice that monarchs, statesmen, popes, bishops, and many people of high standing used to follow as a religious rite.

The old snuff house in the Haymarket, London, with the sign of the Rasp and Crown, dates back more than 200 years. Ledgers 120 years old show that in the latter half of 1809 Beau Brummell ran up a snuff bill of £14 13s. 10d.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

A lazy laborer who frequently stayed away from his work, was told by his employer to produce a doctor's certificate the next time he was absent.

The laborer once again stayed away and went to the local doctor in order to get a certificate. But the doctor knew his man, and drew a line through the word "ailment" with his fountain pen.

"What's this?" asked the employer some time later. "No ailment?"

The laborer was startled, but only for a second.

"Man," he said solemnly, "dae ye no see I've had a wee stroke?"

An Oil of Merit. — Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is not a jumble of medicinal substances thrown together and pushed by advertising, but the result of the careful investigation of the healing qualities of certain oils as applied to the human body. It is a rare combination and it won and kept public favor from the first. A trial of it will carry conviction to any who doubt its power to repair and heal.

A pupil was having trouble with punctuation, and was being called down by the teacher.

"Never mind, sonny," said the visiting school board president, consolingly, "it's foolish to bother about commas. They don't amount to much, anyway."

"Don't they?" replied the teacher, turning to the president. Then calling to one of the pupils, she ordered the boy to write on the board this sentence: "The president of the board says the teacher is a fool."

"Now," she continued, "put a comma after 'board' and another after 'teacher'."

Ready-made Medicine. — You need no physician for ordinary ills when you have at hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchial troubles, it is invaluable; for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains it is unsurpassed; while for cuts, sores and the like it is an unquestionable healer. It needs no testimonial other than the use, and that will satisfy anyone as to its effectiveness.

They were watching the cars of the scenic railway go hurtling round the circular track at the local summer fair.

"Mike," said the first Irishman, "Oi would like a go on that, begorra Oi would !"

But his friend was not so keen.

"Sure, Pat, don't ye go on that," he returned. "I saw Flannigan on it yesterday, and he had two-shillings' worth o' rides, and in the end he got off at the very place he got on at.

"So I said, 'Flanagan, you've spent all that money, but where have you been?'"

Many mothers can testify to the virtue of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, because they know from experience how useful it is.

Sweet Young Thing (arriving half an hour late)—"Oh, Jack, I'm so sorry to have kept you waiting. How long have you been here?"

"Oh, that's all right. I arrived Oh, you brute, and you promised to "Oh, you bruts, and you promised to meet me at eight !"

No need to suffer with corns, or to run the risk of paring them. Remove them surely and painlessly with Holloway's Corn Remover.

A motor car passed along Knightsbridge, London, the other day, carrying a cinema operator, who was taking scenes of the traffic in general. The conductor of an omnibus standing on his platform was unmistakably included in the film, and received the congratulations of a passing driver.

"It's no good, Ernest," shouted the conductor, "they'll have to take me again. I left all my sex-appeal at home."

The indications of worms are restlessness, grinding of the teeth, picking of the nose, extreme peevishness, often convulsions. Under these conditions one of the best remedies that can be got is Miller's Worm Powders. They will attack the worms as soon as administered, and they pass away in the evacuations. The little sufferer will be immediately eased and a return of the attack will not be likely.

May—"If you could have two wishes, what would they be?"

Bella—"Well, I'd wish for a husband."

"That's one."

"And then I'd save the other until I saw how he turned out."

Strangled With Asthma is the only expression coat seems to convey what is endured from an attack of this trouble. The relief from Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is beyond measure. Where all was suffering there comes comfort and rest. Breathing becomes normal and the bronchial tubes completely cleared. This unequalled remedy is worth many times its price to all who use it.

It was the young advocate's first case in court, and he was very nervous.

"My lord," he began, "I appear in this matter to—to—to—"

"Yes, sir", interrupted the judge, "but it's not your business to err. That's my privilege."

Baby's Own Tablets Always in the Home

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she always keeps a supply on hand, for the first trial convinces her there is nothing to equal them in keeping children well. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus driving out constipation and indigestion, colds and simple fevers and making teething easier. Concerning them, Mrs. Saluste Pelletier, St. Dumas, Que., writes:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past ten years and am never without them in the house. They have always given the greatest satisfaction and I can gladly recommend them to all mothers of little ones." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or direct by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BRITISH AIR TRAVEL

Night Travelling Between European Capitals Shows Greatest Development.

Compared to the development of aviation in Canada, air transportation in England is still far ahead, according to a bulletin issued by the Imperial Airways, and tells of recent developments which enables the traveller by air to enjoy all the luxuries of modern civilization.

To travel by air, particularly for a short holiday, considerably increases the length of time one is able to spend and on recent holidays all available machines in the Le Toquet service were in use and as many as three journeys to and from the continent in one day were made by several of the largest air liners. It is thought by some that Canadians will soon take advantage of air facilities and justify the inauguration of a service to Muskoka and other natural beauty spots. An official of the Toronto Flying Club told the Toronto Star that many prominent citizens from cities in the United States, such as Detroit, travel to Toronto every week-end by air to enjoy the recreation offered by the Royal Canadian Yacht Club.

The bulletin goes on to tell of the remarkable advance made in night flying. A regular night service of fast air liners is in operation from Berlin to Moscow, bringing this city a matter of twenty-nine hours from the heart of London. The first stage of the journey from London to Berlin is covered in nine hours from Piccadilly. Then follows a halt of seven hours in Berlin. Leaving Berlin at 11 p.m., the Junkers all-metal air liners fly throughout the night, arriving at Moscow in the early afternoon of the following day. An experimental air service from Moscow to Pekin is to be run this summer and it is hoped that next year a regular service will be in operation, traversing the whole of Europe and Asia will be the accomplished fact.

Yet more instances of the indispensability of the airplane in modern life have come to light with the past few months. For example, a London specialist received an urgent summons to attend a patient lying seriously ill in a private yacht anchored in Cherbourg harbor. An English plane was requisitioned and carried him in record time to his patient's bedside. Another instance was an 1,100-mile dash to Naples by a gentleman called to the bedside of his sister. This latter journey was made in under twenty-four hours, including a night spent in Paris.

A Birmingham schoolmaster recently took a party of his boys to London by air and, for an inclusive charge of nineteen shillings per head, thoroughly explored the sights of London. This is the first recorded case in which a trip of this nature has included so effective an introduction to twentieth century travel methods.

THE HOMELY HERRING.

Big Difference Between Kippers, Bloaters, and Pickled Herrings.

There is a big difference between kippers, bloaters, and red and pickled herrings. A single night's fishing by the fleet of 450 boats in the North Sea brings to port forty million herrings, two millions of which can be treated at the smoke houses behind the quays, says Tit-Bits.

Good bloaters are first washed in salt for twenty-four hours and then hung over a fire of oak logs. British oak gives the best flavor and color.

For kippering, the herrings are split open, the gut and the roe being removed. Washing in brine follows, when the fish are hung over a smouldering fire of oak sawdust and oak chips.

The curing of the "reds," as red herrings are known, is a longer process. Four days in salt brine is the first state, after which two days in the smoke sheds follow.

Pickled herrings are packed in brine and kept there for many months if necessary, or until the Germans and Russians return for fresh supplies. Two hundred thousand crans of pickled fish were sent to the continent last year from Lowestoft alone. But what of the rest of the cargoes landed? Nothing deteriorates so quickly as fresh herrings, except, perhaps, fresh mackerel. The best quality herrings are just over half an inch thick in the back and stand stiff when held between finger and thumb. These are despatched far and wide by special trains and motors, quantities of them being supplied to the Zoological Gardens.

ARE FREE FROM LEPROSY.

Effect of Segregation in the Leading South Sea Islands.

The Cook Islands and Samoa are now, so far as is known, free from leprosy.

This has been made possible by the policy of the New Zealand Government in arranging with the Fijian authorities for the segregation of all lepers at the Makogai leper station, where the patients are receiving most modern medical treatment and nursing care. The Government steamer Hinemoa has just disembarked at Makogai the last of the lepers from New Zealand Pacific Islands territory. The number of lepers sent by New Zealand to Makogai is 109, including nine from the Dominion, 71 from the Cook group, and 29 from Samoa. A large number of these cases are in the early and curable stages of the disease and most of the patients will probably be returned to their island homes in the course of a few years.

The medical treatment and nursing care at Makogai have already resulted in many cases being discharged cured.

These Fish Never Sleep.

The only fish that never sleep are the salmon, pike, and goldfish.

It costs about $600 a year to feed a London Zoo elephant.

"The woman pays and pays and pays!" screamed the feminist orator.

"God," remarked a weary voice from the rear, "that's three instalments settled."

EASTERN CANADA GARDENING SERVICE

Time to Think of Planting Bulbs

The time has arrived to think of preparing for the Spring garden, and also for a supply of winter blooming flowers. Bulbs are required in this connection, and recent importations from Holland will now be available in all seed stores. It is a simple matter to have a brilliant display of tulips, hyacinths, crocuses, and other Spring bloomers, if they are planted in September or early October. When different varieties are chosen, the bloom will be spread over that otherwise barren season of the year, from early Spring until the first of the perennials commence to flower. Most of these bulbs also, especially those of the forcing type, which are usually listed separately in the bulb catalogue, will bloom in the house. They should be planted in pots and kept in a cool, dark place, until the roots are well developed.

Sowing Grass Seed.

Now that the hot weather of Summer is on the wane, it is safe to plant grass seed again. Bare spots in the lawn, if seeded down now, should be completely covered over before snow flies. In handling these, stir up the soil well—it may be necessary to dig it with a spade—rake level, then press the seed in evenly with a roller or pounder. It is hardly worth while to sow Dutch clover at this time as much of it would probably kill out during the winter. The best time to add clover is in early Spring, when the seed may be broadcast over a late snowfall in April. As the snow melts the seed will work down into the soil, and the new plants will be showing daily. Then follows a halt of seven hours in Berlin. Leaving Berlin at 11 p.m., the Junkers all-metal air liners fly throughout the night, arriving at Moscow in the early afternoon of the following day. An experimental air service from Moscow to Pekin is to be run this summer and it is hoped that next year a regular service will be in operation, traversing the whole of Europe and Asia will be the accomplished fact.

Napanee Man Hurt by Explosion
Hiram Shannon, Napanee, a farmer, aged 52 years, was taken to the Kingston General Hospital, on Thursday night of last week, suffering from injuries sustained, when dynamite he was using, exploded. It is not known definitely just how the accident happened, but it appears that Mr. Shannon was using the explosive for some purpose and it exploded prematurely, cutting his hand and face, and causing injury to one eye. The farmer's injuries, however, are not considered very dangerous.

Morven W. M. S.
The regular meeting of the W. M. S. was held at the White Church, Morven, on Wednesday afternoon, with a good crowd present. The President opened the meeting by Hymn 123, after which Mrs. Seymour gave a wonderful talk on the life of Moses' mother. Prayer then followed by Mrs. F. Lake. Mrs. W. Withers then sang a solo, which was enjoyed by all. Then reading by Mrs. Withers. Plans were made for the W. M. S. Convention to be held at the Brick Church, Morven, October 10th. Closing Prayer by Mrs. Seymour, Sr.

WEDDING BELLS

Kelly—Tustin
An early autumn wedding of much interest took place at the Church of St. Mary Magdalene at high noon on Monday, September 24th, when Cecilia Kelly, of Napanee, became the bride of George J. Tustin, son of Mrs. James Tustin, Toronto. The Vicar, Rev. R. J. Dumbrille, officiated.

The bride was modishly attired in blue lace and silver, and the bridesmaid, Miss Rita Tustin, of Toronto, wore a charming gown of peach georgette with crystal trimmings. The groom was supported by Mr. Fred Carter.

The wedding music was played by Mr. C. Waite, and during the signing of the register Mrs. J. E. Robbins sang "O Perfect Love."

Out of town guests included Mrs. James Tustin, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Acton, Gananoque; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. B. Kelday, Endicott, N.Y.

A reception was held at the bride's home on Piety Hill, and immediately afterwards the happy couple left by car upon a tour of Quebec and the Adirondacks.

OBITUARY.

Miss Ethel Vincent.

On Tuesday morning, Sept. 18th, 1928, the news came to Yarker that Miss Ethel Vincent had passed away in the early hours of the morning, in the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Kingston, following an illness of plural pneumonia of two weeks' duration at her parents' home, near Yarker. The particularly sad part of the deceased's death was that Ethel was just in the prime of life, being only twenty-one years of age, and held out hopes that she might overcome the treacherous disease until the very last, when she requested to be taken to the hospital in hopes of getting better, but it was too late and God took her unto himself in a few hours after entering the hospital. Those who knew Ethel best miss her most, being of a kind disposition, willing to help others in time of need, made friends for her who will surely miss her. The deceased lived most of her life in the City of Kingston, moving from there with her parents some few years ago to the farm where they now reside, a few miles east of Yarker. She leaves to mourn her loss her devoted mother and companion, her father, one sister, Mrs. Milligan, of Harrowsmith, and three brothers, Ralph, of Switzerville, and Percy and Harold at home. The funeral was held at her parents' home, on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. G. McKenzie, thence to Yarker cemetery for burial.

Walter Neilson Gordanier, B.Sc.

Word was received in Napanee last week of the sudden death on August 25th, 1928, in Elsetton, Wash., of Walter Neilson Gordanier, B.Sc., only son of the late Ryerson and Mrs. Gordanier, former residents of Morven and Napanee.

The deceased was a graduate in Science of Queen's University, and for over twenty years was Superintendent of the largest Electric Power Plant on the Pacific Coast, located at Electron, Wash. He leaves to mourn his death, his wife, who was Grace Greaves, of Kingston, and two little daughters; his mother and two sisters, Mrs. E. L. Brown, of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Ed. Thomas, of Victoria, B.C. He was a great grandson of the late Dr. Samuel Neilson, an old pioneer and a United Empire Loyalist.

BELLEVILLE PRESBYTERY MET IN NAPANEE.

The Belleville Presbytery of the United Church of Canada met in Grace Church on Friday last. The Presbytery, which is one of the largest in the church comprising the Counties of Lennox and Addington, Prince Edward and Hastings, was well represented. About a hundred ministers and laymen were present.

After the roll call the election of officers took place, and resulted in the election to the, position of Chairman of D. W. Harrison, of Deseronto, who assumed his office amid the applause of the assembled brethren.

Rev. G. C. R. McQuade was elected Secretary. The business of the Presbytery was then carried through with expedition and dispatch.

There were several visiting members from the General Offices in Toronto, who presented a report of the work for which each was responsible.

Rev. F. L. Brown spoke on the Home Missionary work. Rev. Mr. Robertson the chairman of the Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies, spoke on the Maintenance and Missionary Fund, while Dr. Soland: spoke on the reading of the Bible.

It was decided to have a special meeting of Presbytery to deal specifically with the spiritual and cultural aspect of the church's life. That will probably be held on October 25th, in the Chairman's Church, Deseronto.

During the noon recess lunch was served by the ladies of Grace Church.

N. C. I. NEWS

Evening Vocational Classes.

Evening Classes opened on Tuesday evening, October 2nd, at 7 o'clock. The classes are rapidly filling up, and there will probably be a large attendance this year. There are two or three new classes which will prove attractive. The senior class in mathematics and physics will be a real enjoyment for those who like mathematics as well as of practical value to all who attend it. Anyone who has taken the junior class, or has taken junior mathematics in high school will be able to follow the work, which will deal with the application of geometry, algebra, trigonometry and physics to practical problems of every day type. A class in commercial French which will be largely conversational and dealing with French letters, should prove interesting and useful in a bi-lingual country. A minimum of grammar and a maximum of reading will be the aim of this course. The class in Literature should be appreciated by those who wish to widen their knowledge of the best in either English prose or poetry. This class will meet every Tuesday at 7 o'clock, and will be extensive rather than an intensive study. All desiring to register in any of the classes may do so at the Collegiate office any Tuesday or Thursday from 7 to 8 o'clock.

School Elections.

Nominations for the Students' Council took place on Thursday afternoon and the election on Friday. At previous party meetings, the Athenians and Spartans had elected their presidents, and each party placed two candidates in each form, a girl and a boy. On Thursday, after classes, the nomination meeting was held, and each party presented its platform. Leslie Merritt and Jean Milling for the Athenians, and Munro Beattie and Lois Walker for the Spartans, gave three-minute addresses which were very creditably given and were received with hearty applause. The names of the candidates were read, and instructions were given in ballot voting. On Friday afternoon, the ballots were distributed and interest was very keen until all the returns were in. It was found that in both first forms the result was a tie, and a new election will be necessary. In the rest of the forms the Spartans were leading by a majority of four. The following were elected:

Athenian Leader—Leslie Merritt.

Athletics.

The football team, accompanied by Principal Beattie and Mr. Epplett, travelled to Picton on Saturday to play the opening game of the season, and were defeated by the Picton Collegiate by the score of 18-6. This is the first year that the N. C. I. has been entered in the O. R. F. U. Interscholastic series, and the showing made by the team which was more than half junior material, was very creditable. The Napanee team had only six players of last year's team, while the remaining twelve boys were first year players, three who played being in the first form. Picton's team, with the exception of one player, was intact from last year, and had the added advantage of superior weight. In spite of these handicaps, the Napanee boys played to the finish, and in spite of their not having had any conditioning, the final quarter when Dolph McFadden went, through the line for the touchdown which Leslie Merritt converted for the six points. The experience gained was valuable, and it will be a much better team which lines up against Deseronto here on Wednesday at 3.30.

If the supporters of amateur athletics in Napanee wish to have a regular yearly schedule of O. R. F. U. football, they should support the team this year by turning out to the home games. The presence of a crowd of supporters will help the boys during their first year, and in a year or two they will build up an experienced team which will hold its own against the other schools of the O. R. F. U. The line-up for last Saturday was as follows:—

Snap—M. Kinkley and A. Harrison.
Insides—A. Dean, R. Stalker, W. Hart, A. Frank.
Middles—R. Howitt, W. Howitt.
Outsides—W. Exley (Capt.), C. Amey F. Oliver.
Quarter—H. Hobinson.
Halves—R. Asselstine, L. Merritt, D. McFadden, Conway.
Flying Wing—H. Moore, H. Webster.
Referee—J. W. Howard, B.S.A., Belleville.
Umpire—C. A. Shoemaker, B.S.A., Napanee.

AFTER ALL There's Nothing To Equal Zam-Buk FOR THE SKIN!

The husband, who was obliged to remain in town owing to the pressure of urgent business, was seeing his wife off at the railway station for a few days' holiday.

"Molly dear," he said considerately, "today's you better take a book or two with you—some fiction to while away the time."

His wife looked at him with the sweet suspicion of a smile.

"Oh, no, George dear," she said "there's no need of that. I shall be writing to me, won't you?"

Success seems to be the prize at the top of the greasy pole.

ERNESTTOWN

(For last week)

The threshing in our community is nearly finished. The farmers are busy getting their ploughing done.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kellar Sundayed at Mr. Schuyler Smith's.—Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sharp motored to Belleville on Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. T. Davison. — Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamm spent Sunday at Beaver Lake.—A number from here attended Stella Fair on Tuesday last.—On Monday afternoon, Sept. 17th, a bride-elect shower was given in honour of Miss Mildred Spring, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Edgar Thompson. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers, wedding bells and streamers of white ribbon. About fifty guests arrived at 2 p.m., and promptly at 3 o'clock, a bell was heard, and the friends standing soon caught a glimpse of the bride-to-be. Little Miss Norma Thompson entered, carrying a basket of of flowers, which to streamers of white ribbon, hung a key which unlocked the door to a room in which was a beautiful decorated table laden with many gifts of much value. Then entering, was seen a large ship which was also flowing with ribbons and flowers were carried by the little Misses Lois Thompson and Sara Smith. The little girls carried umbrellas and marched to the music, and the bride-elect entered. Her friends joined in the march around the laden table and adjourned to their places. Miss Spring was then asked to sit under an arch of flowers and an address was read by Mrs. Claude Thompson, and a wicker fernery was then presented by Mrs. Bert Smith, from the Ladies' Aid of Ernestown, after which Miss Spring thanked her many friends for the fernery and many valuable gifts. She was then showered with the best of wishes and congratulations. All were invited out on the lawn, and pictures were taken of varied groups. At 30 p.m., a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Claude Thompson and Mrs. Bert Smith and tea poured by Mrs. Milton and Clarence Thompson, after which each returned to their respective home, thanking the hostess for the pleasant afternoon spent. The address follows:

To Miss Mildred Spring.

Dear Mildred.—We, the members of the Ladies' Aid, felt that we would like to take this occasion to express to you a little of our appreciation of your services while among us. We always found you willing to respond when called upon to help in any of the work of the aid. Your needle was always ready when we were preparing for bazaars, and we found you always eager when there was a social or entertainment. These various talents of yours should help you in this great adventure of your life. When you first came a member a few years ago, we took you as you did us, "In Trust". Now that you are leaving to make your new home in Toronto, we are assured that our confidence has not been misplaced, so we met here to bid you "God Speed". We trust, therefore that you will accept from us this fern stand as a token of the esteem, the love, and affection that we bear to you. Let this go to remind you of your fellow workers in the Union Ladies' Aid", who extend to you a warm welcome any time you are in our midst. There are many things in this life which call for the greatest amount of self sacrifice, and we know that when the testing time came you were never found wanting.

We all join in wishing you much joy and happiness in long years of married life.

Signed on behalf of the Ladies' Aid.

RHEUMATIC MISERY

Relief Can Only Come Through Better Blood—Liniments of No Use.

In no other disease does the blood become thin so rapidly as in rheumatism. Not only does it become thin but it is loaded with impurities—rheumatic poisons. Without the proper treatment these poisons increase, the inflamed joints swell and the patient becomes a cripple. Most treatments simply aim to keep down the pain, hence with every unfavorable condition a renewed attack follows.

To cast out rheumatism the blood must be enriched and the rheumatic poisons driven out with the natural secretions of the body. This can best be done through a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which have a specific action on the blood, giving it new richness and redness. Thousands have tried this treatment with beneficial results. That every sufferer from rheumatism who does not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is neglecting the most hopeful means of recovery is shown by the statement of Mr. David Carroll, Pictou, N.S., who says:—"For years I was troubled with rheumatism. The pains were not continuous, but they always returned, and kept getting worse. I tried so-called electric belts and many medicines, but did not get more than temporary relief. Only those who have suffered from this trouble will realize what I suffered at times. I had begun to dispair of getting better when a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In a short time I could feel this medicine helping me so I gladly continued taking the pills and soon found that every trace of the trouble had disappeared and there was a great improvement in my general health. It is now two years since I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I have not had the least twinge of the trouble in that time. That is why I confidently recommend the pills to other sufferers."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

DESMOND

(For last week).

The community at large was shocked to hear of the sudden passing to the Great Beyond of Mr. L. C. Switzer, at his home last Monday. He had been in his usual good health till Sunday night, when he was taken ill and succumbed to heart trouble on Monday afternoon. The late Mr. Switzer spent all his life in this neighborhood, and was an ardent worker and supporter of the church and all its activities. He will be greatly missed by a host of friends.—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Switzer and daughter, Evelyn, of Detroit, motored here to attend his father's funeral. Also Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Huffman, Mr. Herb Huffman and Mr. Will Ryan, of Toronto, came to pay their last respects to an honoured friend.—We congratulate Miss Marguerite Hanna on obtaining second prize at the school fair, which entitled her to a set of books.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Switzer, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony McKeown and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell motored to Tweed Fair, and had tea with Mrs. McKeown's mother, Mrs. Lackins.—Mr. and Mrs. H. Varty and family, of Sulphide, and Mrs. Wheeler and Miss E. Coulter, Tamworth, visited at Mr. H. F. Bell's, on Sunday.—Mrs. A. M. Bell and daughter, Muriel, of Burwash, Ont., are visiting friends here.

CAMDEN EAST W.M.S.

The ladies of Camden East W. M. S. made their annual visit to the home of Mrs. Allenbrack, Bethel Street, on Sept. 12th.

After their usual social time together at the noon hour, the meeting was opened by singing the Doxology. The Scripture lesson was read in unison, then Miss A. Williams explained passages of it. Roll was called, twelve members responding by promises that Christ has given in His word. Four visitors were present. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved of.

Meeting was then open for business. Last call was given for articles for box to be sent away soon. It was decided to get the new study book; also to get envelops for monthly contributions. Delegates were appointed to attend the Rally at Yarker, on October 9th. Hymn 167 was sung, closing the business part of the meeting.

Mrs. Dickson gave a very instructive address on St. Paul's two missionary journeys, tracing them on the map, which was enjoyed by all.

All were pleased to have with us Mrs. G. I. Perry, who gave us a beautiful reading entitled "Prayers of Our Master and Ours".

All were sorry to have to appoint a new corresponding secretary and press reporter, as our former one is moving away from here.

An address was read, which was to have been presented to Mrs. J. S. Yeomans, along with a small gift from the Society.

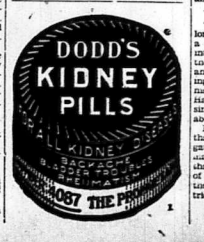
A feeling of regret was expressed at her being unable to be with us. The familiar hymn, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again", was sung. Prayer by our Pastor, Mr. Anderson, closed a most profitable meeting.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of the President, Mrs. Sherlock, on October 10th.

Mrs. Harper—"Do you love me as you did when you first married me?"

Harper—"Heavens! You talk as if I had married you more than once."



THE INN GARDEN

I had often admired the old inn from the road, but never until the other day felt thirsty enough to pass under its timbered porch. Probably it dates from the time of King John, like the spired church, the colour of pale chocolate, towards which its clean black-and-white face was set. I don't doubt it was known for a few centuries as the Church House or something similar, and was then as much resorted to before or after the Sunday service by the parson as by his congregation. But it is now only the Cross Keys, for some stupid reason, which gives no idea of its graceful decrepitude, nor yet of the fine bits of old china in its parlour, the gleaming copper and brass of its kitchen with the yawning chimney-vent and couple of spacious sealed corners, the stuffed birds and small beasts under glass on its walls and side tables, and a certain rather frowsy smell in the narrow, unevenly paved, or sunken corridors of the house, which suggests that it has not had a thorough wash since Henry VIII. caused yew trees to be grown round the churchyard that the parish might not lack bows and arrows for proper spitting of the King's enemies.

The old inn is at its best pictorially in mid-June or thereabouts, when the roses are in bloom over its bent and gabled black-and-white front and the pears of the pear tree which mingle with these roses are already large and comely enough to tempt the village boys. But it is quite pleasing on a spring day. Its old face basks in sunshine, and the daffodils and primroses in its confining little unenclosed slip of garden flush on the road are as delightful a trifle as the lark singing high overhead.

A Cat's Cemetery

The combination of charms and an unusual thirst were too much for me. Instead of passing it, as customarily, I thought of bread and cheese as well as ale, and crossed its threshold, was straightway snared by its mellow and decorated interior, the doll's-house dimensions of its neat little bar-room, and, most of all, by the white-haired and even white-whiskered landlord, who, with the manners of a courtly archdeacon, bowed me into a room that was more boudoir than common inn parlour. The room's window looked upon a garden, more grass and half-dead old trees than anything else, the grass twinkling with daffodils and studded with white tombstones, about which at the outset I could scarcely believe the testimony of my eyes. Diminutive tombstones, as it were, in keeping with the small-scaled interior of the inn, yet not quite convincing until

"What in the world have you got there?" I asked the old gentleman.

His smile, nodded, drew a cork rather laboriously, said "T-t-t-t . . ." as if shocked, and only then explained the mystery.

"They are my cats," he said. "I've given up keeping them now. They have such short lives, poor things. It was too much for my feelings, losing them one after the other. You may look at them if you like—afterwards."

But I couldn't wait until afterwards. The window was French, and I unfastened it and went out. There were three crosses, two of marble, and fifteen or sixteen knee-high little obelisks and round-headed other memorials—all white and inscribed.

The first inscription I read was to "Rodney",

By nature fearless,
In beauty peerless.

The old fellow was now by my side, and personally conducted me over his little cemetery, with comments about his dead darlings which I cannot properly remember or apportion. He allowed me to make notes about his epitaphs, however, and I am thus able to pass on something of his fame as a poet.

Whiskers, farewell.
Never more, bushy tail in the air,
Shall you follow me, purring, up the bedroom stair.

From Whiskers to Joe, epitomised with admirable brevity:

Good-bye, Joe;
I told you so.

(Shot by a gamekeeper after repeated warnings about his poaching.)

That about summed me up, even to criticism, but time and instinct bade me keep a quiet tongue:

Here lies pretty Minnie, a tabby
Whom I had from a baby.

This also, though sound descriptively, is doubtful in rhyme and zoology:

Rex's markings were those of a handsome tiger
Disporting itself on the banks of the Niger.

Pete, honoured with one of the manse crosses, could not have asked for a better epitaph, from his own point of view:

The cutest teaser of a mouse you ever saw;
Otherwise his character was without a flaw.

The last in my record gives me the most pleasure, with its gently humorous allusion to a natural fear:

Are there mice for you in heaven, my mouse dear?
The answer's in the negative, I sadly fear.

I proposed some day to revisit the inn and beg the rest of the old landlord's poetic reminiscences. Returning to the parlour and borrowing one of his sepulchral phrases I took him so much, I hoped, our regard for his obviously sentimental substratum of his character, his reply, however, was as unexpected as it was disillusioning; a warning like his to the cat Joe about an impending gamekeeper.

Celery Beds

"You mustn't put off coming too long then, for I'm thinking of making a change and turning all the garden into celery beds. The draughts from the cemetery here has wonder-ended of him as he left the room, tossing a further casual explanation over his shoulder. "I don't keep cats now. Haven't seen a mouse on the premises since I buried the last of 'em . . . about a year ago."

But there was probably more in it than this. From later information I gather that the old gentleman is to be married in May. Doubtless he realises that no wife would endure the presence of all those tombstones, indications of the previous possessors of his eccentric heart.

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD
(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound. An extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make home interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the whole year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from the products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a stouter and more rugged material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a safe and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

ROD AND GUN.

Hunters and fishermen and all lovers of outdoor recreation will find many to interest them in the October issue of Rod and Gun and Canadian Silver Fox News, Canada's sporting magazine, which is just off the press. The contents of this issue cover a wide variety of sporting activities. There are two fine grizzly bear hunting stories, well written by two old timers, A. Bryan Williams and Joseph Hodgson. Other articles cover moose hunting, duck and geese hunting, all kinds of fishing, to say nothing of the regular features on outdoor lore, guns and ammunition, dogs and the silver fox industry, and three fine articles on bird life by well known authorities. In this issue there are also two good yarns by Harry M. Moore and E. A. Wood and another of Robert James' splendid series of "Tales from the Wardroom Mess".

Rod and Gun and Canadian Silver Fox News is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

School Fairs Popular

Although the weather during September has been rather disagreeable, ten successful School Fairs were held in Lennox and Addington. These fairs are conducted under the direction of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Exhibits were judged this year by Thomas Harrison, Beaverton; Harvey Look, Mount Albert, and Miss Evelyn Shuttleworth, of Guelph. At each fair the judges gave reasons for their decisions and emphasized the importance of quality and uniformity. There was also a marked improvement in articles brought to School Fairs. Pupils no longer pick the largest vegetables, but rather those of finer quality and uniform in size. Some of the educational features in connection with the School Fairs included Stock Judging contests, Vegetable Judging contests, Stock Naming contests, Public Speaking contests, and Demonstrations on Preparing Poultry for Market. The three pupils winning the largest number of points at each School Fair were as follows:

Gretna — Wilma Farrs, Ferd Long, Luva Perry.
Sidis — Edna Corke, Gladys Corke, Earl Tugwell.
Selby — Jean Smith, Hubert Thompson, Elsie Henderson.
Odessa — Marie Amey, Amelia Parrott, Annie Weese.
Sillsville—Edna Crimston, Betty Heathcote, Mary Lloyst.
Camden East — Ruth Galbraith, Marguerite Hannah, Laura Alkenbrack.
Tamworth — Grant Storring, Muriel Hunt, Fred Fickens.
Denbigh—Edna Petzold, Gladys Thompson, Ruth Faulk.
Kaladar — Norma Wood, Ina Davison, Evelyn Campbell.
Centreville — Harold Rescola, Margaret Dowling, Evelyn Wagar.

WILTON

Anniversary Services are to be held in the United Church on Sunday next, October 7th. — Several relatives and friends attended the reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vrooman at Odessa, on Wednesday evening last. — A farewell party for Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Moffett was given at the home of Mr. Stewart Simmons, Saturday evening. — Miss Helen Ruttan, of N.C.I., spent the week-end at her home here.—Nearly everyone around Wilton visited Odessa on Thursday or Friday of last week and report the Fair one of the best.—Mr. N. Simmons arrived home a few days ago after an extended visit with his son, James, and family of Syracuse N.Y.—Mr. and Mrs. Stan. McNeil spent Saturday evening in Napanee.

CENTREVILLE

Mrs. Jas. Lochhead has been visiting his relatives in this vicinity. He is a son of W. M. Lochhead of Kitchener, whose boyhood days were spent in our village. — Miss Elizebeth Harten is very ill, and as she is in her ninetieth year, little hope is entertained for her recovery. —The Burt Lloyd Concert Co., who caused such disappointment by their non-arrival on the evening of our Agricultural Fair, gave a concert in the Town Hall on September 25th. They put on an excellent entertainment, the work of the violinist being especially appreciated.—Miss Marjorie Moore, of Switzerville, spent the week-end with her friend, Miss Muriel Milligan.— The School Fair, held on Monday Sept. 24th, drew a large crowd, the quantity and the quality of the exhibits seems to increase and improve each year, and the children enjoyed every minute. The ladies of the W.M.S. served lunch.—Mr. and Mrs. W. Barrowman of Kingston were guests at the recent Milligan-Johnston wedding. Mr. Barrowman is a partner in the new Kingston Pork Packing Co.—Miss Lizzie Clancey is spending a couple of weeks with Stirling, with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clancy and their daughter, Mrs. H. Martin, who took in the fair and spent some days visiting their many friends here.—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Switzer and daughter Evelyn, of Detroit, visited at Mr. Seymour Rombough's last week. Mr. Switzer was called to Ontario by the sudden death of his father, Coleman Switzer of Desmond. — The Township Road Construction gang moved to Lake Road on Thursday. Repairs are urgently needed there. — The farmers are busy ploughing, they seem to have had a prosperous summer as twelve or fifteen new motor cars have been bought in the vicinity.

Those anxious to invest in a going concern should make sure which way it is going.

Though it's never too late to learn, we sometimes learn when it's too late.

"My boy," remarked the father, "henceforth I am going to treat you with unremitting kindness."

"This looks," replied the prodigal, "like a total eclipse of the son."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. John Kilgannon, who departed this life October 3rd, 1927.

Deep in our hearts lies a picture
Of a loved one laid to rest;
In memory's frame we will keep it,
Because she was one of the best.

Sadly missed by Husband and Family. 40a

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our father, W. J. Walsh, who departed this life Sept. 21st, 1927.

God knew he was suffering,
He knew he was in pain,
He knew he would never get better
In this world again.

That's why He took our father,
To His Heavenly home above;
And we should never murmur
But say "Thy will be done".

It is not at the time that tears are shed,
That tells of a heart that is torn;
But the lonely tears of the after years,
And remembrance silently borne.

Sadly missed by his Sons and Daughters, Nellie and Ada. 40a

MRS. CATHERINE SMITH, 104 YEARS OF AGE

In the vicinity of Gilmour, in Hastings County, there lives an aged an honoured resident in the person of Mrs. Catherine Smith, who has passed her 104th birthday and still retains her sight, hearing and intellect.

Mrs. Smith, who was before marriage, Miss Catherine Fraser, daughter of Mathew and Elizabeth Fraser and granddaughter of the late Col. William Ketcheson, of Sydney Township, was born at Marmora, Hastings County, on February 14th 1824, and is the only survivor of a family of fourteen children. When about seven years of age she went to Foxboro and lived with an uncle Mr. Almen Reid, and went to school with his oldest daughter, now Mrs. F. Roote, 1820 Trafalgar St., Vancouver B.C.

In 1864 she married the late John Smith, of Adolphustown, where they lived for some years, but at the age of 63, moved with her husband and family to Gilmour, where she still resides at the home of her son, Mr. Leslie Smith.

In 1888 her husband died leaving his widow in a new scarcely opened up country, with a family of seven small children. Though enduring all the hardships of pioneer life, deprivof the help and company of her home people because of distance and almost impassible roads, she carried on ever hopeful and trusting in the God of her fathers.

She has lived to see the fourth generation. Of her seven children six are living. There are thirty-four grandchildren, seventy great grandchildren and fourteen great, great grandchildren, making a total of one hundred and twenty-four living.

The following are neices and nephews of Mrs. Smith: Mrs. M. H. Preslar and Mr. R. M. Reid of Napanee, Mr. Geo. A. Reid of Belleville, Mr. L. F. Reid of Kingston, Mrs. Geo. A. Stinson and Miss H. E. Reid of Tamworth.

"I never knew it was so easy"

It was a red-letter day in old Mrs. Jones' life — the day she made her first Long Distance call. But she simply had to speak to her son before he went abroad!

The operator was sympathetic and helpful. She asked Mrs. Jones her telephone number, name, the city and the telephone number of the party she wished to reach. Mrs. Jones didn't know the number, so the operator looked it up for her.

After the pleasant experience was over, Mrs. Jones exclaimed, "I never knew it was so easy! Why didn't I do it before?"

There is nothing complicated about it. Just say, "Long Distance."

WINDBREAKS

(Experimental Farms Note.)

Protection from strong winds is very necessary about the bee-yard. Not only is protection all important in winter time to shield the colonies from the cold piercing winds which so quickly exhaust animal heat and cause losses, but also in all other seasons in order to prevent the drifting of the bees and to facilitate the work in the yard.

All experienced bee keepers are agreed on the point that the importance of a good windbreak can hardly be overestimated. None even consider it of more importance than packing and prefer a windbreak without packing to packing without a windbreak.

Though well packed, colonies frequently die of exposure, therefore, in thinking about your preparations for wintering, about the construction of your winter cases and the amount of packing required, do not forget that all important thing—the windbreak.

If, in a short time, a cold wind chills you who are well clothed, what will it do during a winter to your unprotected bee?

There are various kinds of windbreaks, some natural, others artificial. The natural ones are preferable and consist in protection from the north and west winds by thick woods, groves of trees, or dense shrubbery. Artificial windbreaks, on the other hand, must be used where natural ones are not available or while they are being established.

Though a good impromptu windbreak may be made by standing corn fodder or other such material against a fence on the windward side of the bee-yard, the artificial windbreak in most common use is that which is made of wood and which is similar to the snow-fences used by the railroads.

This fence is made in panels 12 to 14 feet long by 6 to 7 feet high, the boards of which are spaced 2 to 3 inches apart and nailed to 2 by 4 joists. In erecting this sort of windbreak, stakes should be driven into the ground and nailed to the braces to prevent the fences being overturned by strong winds.

Varicose Veins Reduced or Money Back

Simple Home Treatment That Is Giving Amazing Results.

If you have varicose veins or bunches you can start to-day to bring them back to normal size, and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating.

After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.

People who want to reduce varicose veins, or get rid of eczema, ulcers, or piles in a few days should not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is such a powerful, penetrating antiseptic oil that a small bottle lasts a long time. Any pharmacy can supply you. Wallace's Drug Store sells lots of it.

SPRING FLOWERING BULBS

(Experimental Farms Note.)

The earliest spring flowers are bulbs and should be grown in gardens for this reason as well as for their beauty. Sandy well drained soil suits them best, but they will grow on heavier soils. The ground should be well and deeply dug, and old rotted manure mixed with it. If this is not available, pulverized sheep manure or bone meal can be mixed in the soil or used as a top dressing. The bulbs should be planted in late September or October, from four to six inches deep for narcissus and tulips. A mulch of well rotted manure should be put on the beds after the ground is frozen, particularly in districts where the snowfall is light and thaws frequent.

There are many kinds of spring flowering bulbs. A few of the best are mentioned here :—

Chionodoxa or Glory of the Snow is one of the earliest flowers to bloom. The flowers are blue with white streaks towards the throat. The bulbs should be planted two or three inches apart and three inches deep.

The narcissus family is one of the most welcome signs of spring and includes beside the yellow trumpet varieties commonly called daffodils, many kinds of flowers in various shades of yellow and white. Some of the best varieties are :—Emperor, Mme Plemp, Sir Watkin, Conspicuus, Seagull, Pharsant Eye, Klondyke, Elvira, Van Sion.

Scilla, known as squills are hardy bulbs which grow well under trees and in grass as well as in the open border. Of these S. sibirica, the Siberian squill, is the earliest to bloom and grows about six inches high and has bell-like flowers of rich blue. They spread rapidly by division of the bulbs and also by seeds which are freely produced.

S. campanulata, the Spanish squill, and S. sutans the Bluebell or Wild Hyacinth of England Woodlands bloom later.

Tulips are the most popular of spring flowering bulbs. There are a number of varieties which bloom at different seasons and have also a large colour range. Early flowering varieties of tulips are :—Keizerskroon, Couleur de Cardinal, Vermilion brilliant, Cottage Maid, Goldfinch, Lady Boredi.

Management

THROUGH good management the modern woman, just as the chatelaine of old, holds in her hands the keys to plenty: only to-day good measure comes through prudence in money matters.

The woman who says: "I can't afford it —I am saving," will say later on: "I can afford it—I have saved."

If some people were to think twice before speaking, they would never say anything.

They were seated across the table from each other in the restaurant, the wealthy octogenarian and the gold digger.

"Will you marry me if I have my health rejuvenated?" he asked.

"I'll marry you all right," she replied, "but you leave your health the way it is."

Balmy Florida Nights in Your Own Home All Winter Long!

NO need to sleep in an ice house! No matter how bitter cold it may be outside, comfort should be yours.

The McClary "Sunshine" Furnace heats the house by the most healthful, economical and efficient method known to science—humidified WARM AIR. Unlike the dry, dead heat from iron radiators, the air in "Sunshine" homes is properly moistened . . . . constantly re-circulated. . . . . ever moving . . . fresh . . . invigorating!

Through the exclusive "Ventiblast" ring, super-heated air is sprayed over the coals. This mixes with the gases, smoke and volatiles, instantly igniting them into an intensely hot flame. The McClary "Sunshine" delivers all the heat, and gives freedom from odors, soot and coal dust. It costs much less to install this guaranteed McClary Warm Air System than hot water or steam systems. Investigate to-day.

Now these new features increase CHRYSLER Style and Engineering Leadership!

IT IS NOT to be wondered at that the new Chryslers—"75" and "65" are everywhere being received with cordiality unusual even to Chrysler . . . . Chrysler, in one stroke, less than five years ago captured the style, performance and value leadership of the industry . . . . That superiority has been strengthened by each succeeding step until the newest Chryslers represent the highest expression to date of Chrysler's remarkable engineering and manufacturing genius . . . . Consider, for example, how the new Chrysler "75 and "65" these new elements in performance and in the style that today re-styles all motor cars:

New slender-profile chromium-plated radiator, harmonizing with cowl moulding;
New "air-wing" fenders;
New hood-type headlamps;
New "arched-window" silhouette (with hood panels harmonizing in design);
New sweeping rear-deck lines in coupe and roadster;
Counterweighted 7-bearing crankshaft;
New Chrysler-designed gasoline tank shield;
Power, speed, pick-up that out-Chrysler own Chrysler;
New Silver-Dome" high-compression engine using any gasoline;
New light-action internal-expanding hydraulic 4-wheel brakes with squeakless moulded brake lining;
New, longer chassis;
Rubber shock insulators in place of metal shackles;
New-type shock absorbers;
Duplex channel frame on "75";
Six-ply full-balloon tires on "75";
New thermostatically-controlled integral radiator shutters on "75."

And all these are added to numberless developments which Chrysler owners have enjoyed for years and years and which have contributed to Chrysler satisfaction and long life . . . . The public acceptance of these remarkable developments pioneered and perfected by Chrysler—never more clearly shown than in the acclaim of the new "75" and "65"—proves that the style and performance dominance of the automobile industry belongs clearly to Chrysler.

New Chrysler "75" Prices—Royal Sedan, $1985; 2-passenger Coupe (with rumble seat), $1985; Roadster (with rumble seat), $2010; Town Sedan, $2140; Crown Sedan, $2140; Convertible Coupe, $2205; 5-passenger Standard Phaeton, $2335. 7-passenger Standard Phaeton, $2425; Convertible Sedan, $2920. (6-ply full-balloon tires).

New Chrysler "65" Prices—Business Coupe, $1325; Roadster (with rumble seat), $1350; 2-door Sedan, $1360; Touring Car, $1370; 4-door Sedan, $1460; Coupe (with rumble seat), $1460. All prices f. o. b. Windsor, Ontario, including standard factory equipment (freight and taxes extra). Wire wheels extra.

Moved by Messrs. Allen and Sexsmith, that By-law No. 346 be read a second and third time, signed, sealed and finally passed. Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Allen and Sexsmith, that Will Goodman's account of $1.00 be paid, and James McDonald's, of $12.00, be paid. Carried.

Council adjourned.

A. C. DAVIS, Clerk. J. S. JOHNSON, Reeve.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

An engineer whilst on a holiday came across a man in charge of a traction engine that had stuck fast.

Deciding to help the man, the engineer first inspected the steam gauge. It registered ten pounds pressure.

"Afraid you'll never pull out with that bit of steam," he remarked to the driver. "Better wait till you get some more".

The driver wiped his moist forehead.

"Ten pounds, is it?" he retorted bitterly. "P'raps you'd like to know the safety valves is screwed down and that pointer's away round for the third time."

A Real Asthma Relief. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has never been advertised by extravagent statements. Its claims are conservative indeed, when judged by the benefits which it performs. Expect real relief and permanent benefits when you buy this remedy and you will not have cause for disappointment. It gives permanent relief in many cases where other so called remedies have utterly failed.

There was a girl in our town and she was good to scan; she spent her days in playing games where she got lots of tan. And when she saw the tan was on, with all her might and main, she rushed into a beauty shop and took it off again.

Miller's Worm Powders do not need the after-help of castor oil or any purgative to complete their thoroughness, because they are thorough in themselves. One dose of them, and they will be found palatable by all children, will end the worm trouble by making the stomach and bowels untenable to the parasites. And not only this, but the powders will be certain to exert most beneficial influence in the digestive organs.

Two knaves walked past a gallows; said the one—Now, Pedro, where would ye be if you gallows had its due?

Second Knave — Walking alone, Adolphus, walking alone.

Corns cripple the feet and make walking a torture, yet sure relief in the shape of Holloway's Corn Remover is within reach of all.

"Meyer, you are a swindler — you took a day off yesterday to bury you mother-in-law and to-day I met her in the park."

"Pardon me, I did not say she was dead, I only said I would like to go to her funeral."

Mothers can easily know when their children are troubled with worms, and they lose no time in applying a reliable remedy—Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

A country couple went to a manse to get married. After the ceremony the bridegroom called the minister aside, and whispered confidentially in his ear: "I'm awfu' sorry I canna pay ye as muckle as I would like to, sir, but if ye take me doon to your cellar I'll show ye hoo to fix up your gas-meter so that it winna register !"

An Oil That is Prized Everywhere.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was put upon the market without any flourish over fifty years ago. It was put up to meet the wants of a small section, but as soon as its merits became known it had a whole continent for a field, and it is now known and prized throughout this continent. There is nothing equal to it.

The early edition catches the bookworm.

An Oil For All Men.—The sailor, the soldier, the fisherman, the lumberman, the out-door laborer and all who are exposed to injury and the elements will find in Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil a true and faithful friend. To ease pain, relieve colds, dress wounds, subdue lumbago and overcome rheumatism, it is excellent. Therefore, it should have a place in all home medicines and be amongst those taken on a journey.

"Hello, haven't you got that balance out yet?"

"No, since the office-boy swallowed that sixpence from the petty cash, I don't know whether to enter it as an asset or a liability."

MAPLE LEAF INSTITUTE

The September meeting of the Maple Leaf Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Bert Prettis, and was exceptionally well attended.

The meeting was presided over by the President, Mrs. W. J. Cummings. After the regular business was finished an interesting and splendid program was given. Too much praise cannot be given Mrs. J. Haggerty for her paper on "Home Economics", and Mr. Ernest Young, of Bath, who addressed the meeting on Canadian Industries.

Miss Henretta Johnston gave piano numbers throughout the meeting.

Another interesting feature of the meeting was the Secretary awarding the Institute's prize to the most efficient pupil in No. 6, South Fredericksburg school, in the person of Miss Helen Storey, who in turn expressed her appreciation in a very carefully prepared reading.

A number of new members were enrolled. Meeting adjourned until the second Tuesday in October.

EASTERN CANADA GARDENING SERVICE

Planting Fall Bulbs.

It is a simple matter to have a brilliant display of bloom within a few weeks after the snow disappears. To get this, secure bulbs now and plant outside. These bulbs are imported by the seedsmen from Holland where they were grown this year, and in which the flower for next year is already formed. On this account, it is advisable to get the largest size bulbs, which naturally contain the largest flowers, and with which fewer "misses" in bloom will be experienced. The bulbs are planted outside in September, where they will develop root growth before the freeze up and be in a good position to spring forth just as soon as the snow disappears in the Spring. Snowdrops will bloom as soon as the snow is gone, and these are followed in rapid succession by Scillas, Crocuses, Grape and Dutch Hyacinth, Narcissus, Cottage, Darwin and Breeder Tulips. There is also a single early tulip, which will come first of all, although it is not as beautiful as the Darwin and later sorts. By selecting varieties carefully, and keeping in mind the time of blooming, there will be some flowering by these bulbs from early in April until almost July. Tulips, Narcissus and Hyacinths, should be planted from four to six inches deep and about the same distance apart, while the smaller bulbs should be planted about two inches apart, and an inch or two deep. The very tall tulips will stand more erect, if planted from eight to ten inches deep. In very heavy soil, follow the shallower plantings prescribed with the deeper plantings if the soil is light.

Bulb Varieties.

Some of the varieties which have given best satisfaction in Canada are as follows :—Narcissus, Emperor, Sir Watkin, Madame De Graaff, Madame Plomp and Poeticus; Hyacinth, Lagrandesse, Grand Lilas, King of the Blues, Gigantea, and Roi de Belges; the Tulips are too numerous to list separately. They range in color from almost pure black to the most brilliant scarlet. It is advisable to get a bulb catalogue, and select the colours, shape and type desired. For outside planting, any of them can be recommended, but for planting indoors the early, forcing types are best. These are usually specially marked in the catalogue.

Planting Bulbs Indoors.

One can easily have flowers from early November until well on in February by planting suitable bulbs in pots at this time. Narcissus, Hyacinths, Chinese Lilys, Tulips, Freesias, Scillas, Muscari and Daffodils, can be grown in soil, water or fibre. The latter substance, which can always be bought along with the bulbs, is the cleanest to handle and will probably give the best results. The Tulips, Daffodils, Narcissus, and Hyacinths should be planted deep enough so that only the tip of the bulb shows above the surface. The Chinese Lily should not go in nearly as deep. The Narcissus will bloom in about six to eight weeks, while the Hyacinths, Tulips, and Daffodils will not come on until two or three months. By planting in succession, particularly the Narcissus, several crops of flowers may be produced. Where soil is used, a light potting variety containing plenty of sand, is advisable, and drainage must be provided. With fibre or water, drainage is not necessary. After planting, with the exception of the Freesias, all must be placed in a dark cellar and kept at a temperature of as close to 40 degrees as possible. After a good root growth has developed and the sprouts are up about an inch, bring out into fair light and a temperature of about 50 degrees. Water well at this time.

In a week or two remove to full sun and a temperature of 65 or 70 degrees. Unless the plants get this cold, dark start, they will develop too soon, and small, sickly flowers are the result. Usually they come out of the cellar only a few weeks before blooming. After the flowers come out the plants should be kept fairly cool, not much over 65 degrees, if possible. Exposing them to a much lower temperature for a few minutes each day will make the bloom last longer.

DORLAND

(For last week.)

The ladies took advantage of the pleasant weather last Tuesday afternoon, and a goodly number attended the Women's Institute meeting held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Magee. — Nearly all the members, also a number of visitors, were present at the Ladies' Aid meeting at the home of Mrs. Andrew Magee, on Wednesday afternoon. All arrangements for the fowl supper, to be given on the evening of October 15th, were made. The Anniversary services will be held on the preceding Sunday morning and evening. Everyone is advised to remember these dates.—Mr. and Mrs. John Mack were visited recently by a former pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. T. P. Anderson, of Newburgh.—Mr. and Mrs. Ross McGuinness and daughters, of Belleville, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. H. John.—Mr. and Mrs. Ross Allison spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Parks, Hay Bay.—The nights are beginning to feel chilly but as yet no frost has been reported.

Presentation and Address

Dear Mrs. Yeomans.—We, the members of the W. M. S. Camden East, learned with regret of your departure for your new home at Collins Bay, and we take the opportunity at this time to express our appreciation of the faithful services rendered by you in your connection with the W. M. S. work, not only by faithful and regular attendance but by your willingness to assist at any time you were called. While we are very sorry to lose you, we want you to carry to your new home the best wishes of the members of the W. M. S., and we ask you to accept this gift as a token of our regard and esteem, and trust that in years to come you may look back with many happy memories of your association with the W. M. S. of the United Church of Camden East.

Signed on behalf of the W. M. S.

The following was Mrs. Yeoman's reply :—

Camden East,
Sept. 23rd, 1928.

Dear President and Members of the W. M. S.—I wish to thank you for your very nice address and the gift you gave me. I shall never forget the many pleasant meetings we have had together. I invite you all to my home.

Mrs. J. S. Yeomans.

BETHEL

(For last week.)

Mr. Ray Gowdy, of Colebrook, passed through this neighborhood during several jobs of threshing, and report the grain turning out good.—Much sympathy is extended to Mr. James Cousins, east of Colebrook, in losing his barn and crop, with all his machinery, by fire, supposed to be caused from a spark from the threshing engine; while Mr. David Gowdy also lost his threshing separator in the same fire.—Mrs. Robt. Galbraith is leaving this week to spend a week with her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Huffman, in Napanee, after which Mr. Galbraith will join her, and they will go to Udney, Ont., to visit their son, Howard, C. N. R. agent there, for a month.—The many friends of Miss Ethel Vincent, Yarker East, were deeply grieved to hear of her sudden death in the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, on Tuesday, Sept. 18th, following a two weeks illness from pleural pneumonia. Her parents, brothers and sister have our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.—Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Benn motored to Desmond, where they joined the latter's brother, Mr. Wm. Hannah, and together motored to Arden and spent last Sunday with their uncle, Mr. Henry Hannah, and family.—Mr. and Mrs. Arley Clark and Miss Iva Clark motored to Odessa last Sunday night, where Iva joined her cousin and motored to Belleville, where she will spend an unlimited time, having accepted a position there. — Mr. Nelson Drader, of Inverary, spent a few days recently with his cousin, Mr. Justus Gilligan.—A number from here attended the school fair at Camden East, on Sept. 17th, and report it even better than any previous year. The children's exhibit of fruits, vegetables, weeds, seeds, etc., was equal to any of the larger fairs, and they are deserving of great praise in their painstaking in growing and arranging of same. Several of Bethel school children carried off their share of the prize money. — Mr. and Mrs. John Dunn and little daughter, of Toronto, are holidaying at the home of the former's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dunn and with Mr. and Mrs. Levi Salsbury.—Mr. Levi Salsbury and Mr. John Dunn were among the sportsmen at Varty Lake on the morning of the 19th, and got their share of ducks, seventeen.—Some of our neighbours attended the funeral of the late Coleman Switzer, at Desmond, on Wednesday of last week—Mr. and Mrs. Percy Galbraith spent Sunday with their parents at Hollefond.—Mr. and Mrs. Byron Jackson, of Odessa, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jackson.—Miss Deborah Furrs, of Sydenham, spent last week end with Miss Helen McKnight, at the home of the latter's parents.—Mrs. Justus Gilligan accompanied her son, Mr. Russell Gilligan, and family, of Shannonville, home on Sunday evening to spend a couple of days.—Mr. and Mrs. Herb Dowker, of Harrowsmith, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. McKnight. — A large crowd attended service at Colebrook on Sunday, to hear Rev. Mr. Woodger, of Napanee, who gave a wonderful address to the Masonic brethren.—Mr. Arley Clark and family spent Sunday to dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, at Harrowsmith.

A PROBLEM FOR YOUNG MOTHERS

Stomach troubles cause most of the distress of babyhood and childhood, and are the greatest problem that a young mother has to solve. The treatment for these digestive disturbers that make baby cry continually and disturb his sleep must be quick and effective, and, above all, perfectly safe.

The absolutely safe treatment for disturbances of the stomach and bowels is found in Baby's Own Tablets. Thousands of mothers have had their problem solved through them. They are guaranteed to be free from all injurious drugs and cannot possibly do harm to even the youngest babe—they always do good.

Baby's Own Tablets regulate the stomach and bowels; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and promote that health-giving sleep which is so necessary to the welfare of the baby or growing child. Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HAYBURN

(For last week.)

On September the 21st the many friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brook, to bid their daughter, Florence, farewell, before her departure to The Ontario Hospital, Kingston, as a nurse-in-training, and presented her with a sum of money. The address was as follows :—

Dear Florence,—It is with mingled feelings of regret and pleasure that we, your friends, have gathered to spend this evening with you. Gladness that we can still meet to have a happy time together; regret that we must lose you from our community activities. However, our cheerfulness far outweighs our sadness, for we can look forward to your holidays when we hope that you will be coming back home to Hayburn to enjoy with us our simple pleasures.

When you are away we do not want you to forget your friends and schoolmates here, and so please accept our small gift to you along with best wishes for a very happy and successful nursing career.

From the Hayburn Young People.

After Florence had thanked her friends for their kindness, which she appreciated very much, all joined in singing, "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow".

Impetuous Youth—"Marry me and your smallest wish will be fulfilled."

Practical Maid—"But I want my biggest wishes fulfilled, too."

Landlady—And what's wrong now? Youthful Lodger—I just wanted to say that I think you get too much mileage out of this roller-towel.

After the supper the work of the church for the present year was outlined. The Board expressed their appreciation of Mr. Wilson's services and hoped for many years more of the happy relation existing between pastor and people.

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. E. R. McCabe.

On Sunday morning, Sept. 30th, there passed away in South Napanee a respected citizen, in the person of Mrs. E. R. McCabe.

Mrs. McCabe came out to this country when only twelve years of age, from Weymouth, England, and married when quite young. For forty-two years she has resided in South Napanee, and during all that time has been a beloved neighbour and friend.

She was a member of Grace Church, Napanee, and before she was laid aside by illness, she was an active and interested worker in its various organizations, particularly the Ladies' Aid, and a few years ago she served as its president. She was as well a member of the Queen of Sheba Rebecca Lodge.

Mrs. McCabe some four years ago developed an incurable disease, and through all that time she has borne her great suffering with Christian patience and fortitude.

Besides a host of friends, Mrs. McCabe is mourned by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. B. M. Black, and one sister, Mrs. Adelaide Bland, of Toronto.

The funeral was held from her late home in South Napanee, on Tuesday, and was conducted by Rev. W. P. Woodger, of Grace Church. Interment was made in Riverview cemetery.

Lewis Coleman Switzer.

The subject of this sketch, Mr. Lewis Coleman Switzer, was born on the old homestead in the neighbourhood of Desmond, seventy years ago. He spent practically all his life in and around this vicinity, and took as his life partner Miss Maria Lawrence, who predeceased him Nov. 11th, 1918, Armistice Day. To this union were born three children, Charles, of Detroit; Arthur, on the homestead, and Myrtle, (Mrs. Robt. Huffman), who departed this life twelve years ago. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Alfred Snider, Napanee.

Mr. Switzer had a very short illness, heart trouble being the cause of his demise, which caused a great shock to the neighbourhood. Those who knew him will miss an esteemed friend. He lighted fires of genial warmth wherever he went, and possessed a native kindness which made him many friends. He was a loyal supporter of the United Church and served for many years as a valued member of the Quarterly Board.

His funeral service was preached by his Pastor, Rev. H. A. Hunt, after which the remains were laid to rest beside his loved ones to await the Resurrection morn.

W. A. Annual Deanery Meeting.

The Lennox and Addington W. A. Annual Deanery meeting will be held (D. V.) at Sandhurst, Parish of Adolphustown, on Tuesday, October 9th. Holy Communion at 10.30 a.m. The Rev. T. Leech, M.A. will be the special preacher. Mrs. C. C. Abbott and Miss VanStranbenzee, officers of the Diocesan Board, will address the meeting. All the Clergy in the Deanery are invited. 39b

WEDDING BELLS.

Conroy—Spring.

An exceedingly pretty autumn wedding took place in Bath United Church, on September 20th, at 11 o'clock, when the Rev. S. Dixon united in marriage Mildred Isobel, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spring, Bath, to James Willsymeon Conroy, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Conroy, of Toronto. The bride, who entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Dorothy Hinds, of Toronto, was given in marriage by her father, and looked a picture of youthful loveliness in a sleeveless gown of powder blue crepe romaine, made beautiful with silver lace and French flowers, and a silver sequin and blue velvet hat, white satin slippers and long white kid gloves completed her costume. She carried a corsage bouquet of ophelia roses and baby breath. Miss Iona Curran, of Boston, was bridesmaid, gowned in flesh georgette with French lace and wore a large picture hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of Butterfly roses. Little Miss Norma Thompson, niece of the bride, was a dainty ring bearer, in white crepe-de-chene with streamers of blue satin ribbons. She carried a basket of pink and white asters, among which the wedding ring was placed. Mr. Douglas Hughes, of Toronto, was best man and the ushers were Mr. James McDonald, of Bath, and Mr. Alex. Curran, of Toronto. Miss Helen Hinds of Toronto, sang very sweetly "Until", and during the signing of the register "Because".

Following the ceremony, a dainty buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents, and here the guests had an opportunity of viewing the many and beautiful gifts, among which was a handsome dinner set in bird of Paradise pattern, from the firm of the Crown Life Insurance Co. of Toronto, and from the staff of this firm, of which the bride was an employee, a silver bread tray. The young couple received congratulations in the drawing room, which was prettily artistically arranged with quantities of beautiful Autumn blooms and white bells. Their mothers received with them. Mrs. Conroy was dressed in black georgette with touches of blue, and Mrs. Spring in black chiffon velvet with silver trimming and a corsage bouquet of sweet peas. The bride's table was decorated with blue and white, with vases of roses, centered by the wedding cake. Toasts were proposed by Mr. Fred Hamm and Rev. Mr. Dixon, very ably responded to by the groom and their parents. The groom's gift to his bride was a fur dinner wagon, to the bridesmaid and soloist silver bracelets, to the pianist a gold necklace, the ringbearer a signet ring, and to the best man and ushers initial cuff links.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Conroy left by motor amid showers of confetti and good wishes for London, Buffalo, and Detroit, the bride travelling in a fawn beige georgette dress, with hat, coat and shoes to match. Miss Iona Curran caught the bride's bouquet which she threw from the stairs before leaving.

Mrs. Conroy, mother of the groom, held a reception at her home, On their return Mr. and Mrs. Conroy, Jr., will reside at 1836 Queen St. East, Toronto, Ont.

Those from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Palmer and daughter, Sylvia, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Conroy, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nicholson, of Kingston; Mr. Alex. Curran, Toronto; Miss Iona Curran, of Boston; Misses Dorothy and Helen Hinds, of Toronto; Mr. Douglas Hughes, of Toronto.

FAREWELL TO MINISTER AND HIS WIFE

On Thursday evening, Sept. 27th, a gathering of the Presbyterians of Camden East was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smedley for the purpose of bidding farewell to their minister and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Moffatt. Mr. Moffatt came from Ireland in 1926, and accepted a short interval, has since had charge of the field of which this congregation forms a part.

Previous to his coming to Canada, Mr. Moffatt spent several years of mission work in India. It has always been felt that this experience, together with his own natural abilities, fitted him for a larger and wider sphere of usefulness than that afforded in the Camden East charge, and although the congregation has known for some time of Mr. Fotheringay's intention to move him to such a field, yet it was with feelings of sorrow and regret they learned that his change was to be made at the present time. Mrs. Moffatt is also a native of Ireland, and together Mr. and Mrs. Moffatt have been a very happy couple for a number of years.

During the evening a fitting address was read by Mrs. Smedley, and a purse was presented by Miss Guy. Mr. Moffatt made reply in which he expressed his own and Mrs. Moffatt's appreciation of the good will and kindly thought of the congregation manifested as it has been, and their regret at the coming separation.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the ladies.

—A Child Welfare Clinic for the pre-school child, is held each Thursday from 2 to 4, in the Sunday School Room of Trinity United Church, under the direction of Victorian Order of Nurses. tf

OBITUARY

James A. Hosey.

James A. Hosey, aged 53 years, died unexpectedly at the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Fanning, on State street, Middleport, N.Y., last Sunday evening, following a heart attack. He had apparently been in the best of health, and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Fanning driving through the country. Shortly after returning in the evening he complained of not feeling well, and said he would go to bed early. He had scarcely reached his room when he called for his sister, and was unable to get into bed alone. Mr. Fanning summoned the doctor and by the time he arrived Mr. Hosey was sinking rapidly. The doctor held out no hope for his recovery, and within an hour he passed on.

Mr. Hosey was an expert telegrapher and spent most of his life with the Associated Press and United Press, during which time he had been assigned to various metropolitan newspapers throughout the country. His handling of market reports made him very familiar with bond and stock markets, and through thrift and wise investments in sound securities, he was able to retire on his income a few years ago, deciding to spend his good remaining years enjoying life rather than acquiring wealth. This decision made it possible for him to spend a considerable portion of his time with his sister in Middleport.

While he spent most of his two past summers in Middleport, and frequently visited here at other times, he was of a retiring disposition and comparatively few knew him intimately. His wide experience on newspapers had made him a studious reader of all current topics, and he was a delightful conversationalist for those who enjoyed a close personal acquaintance, with his broad views and intimate knowledge of public affairs.

A short ritualistic funeral service was held at the Fanning residence at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Charles Collins, of the Methodist Church, officiating. It was the kind of service Mr. Hosey had indicated he would have preferred.

The remains were shipped to Napanee, Canada, his old home, Wednesday afternoon, for interment in the family plot.

Besides his sister, Mrs. Fanning, he leaves another sister, Miss Ola Hosey, nurse in the Greenburgh High School, at White Plains, N.Y.; and two brothers, J. S. Hosey, of Ottawa, Canada, and W. S. Hosey, of Memphis, Tenn.—Niagara Herald, of Middleport, N.Y.

WEDDING BELLS

Aselstine—Wilson.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wilson, Strathcona, on Saturday evening, Sept. 29th, at 7 p.m., when their youngest daughter, Kathleen, became the bride of Mr. Percy Aselstine, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Aselstine, of Moscow. Rev. T. H. P. Anderson was the officiating clergyman.

The ceremony was performed in the living room, which was tastefully decorated with ferns, gladioli, and other autumn flowers. The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a becoming dress of ivory taffeta and a veil with Juliet cap, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. Mrs. Wilfred Wilson, sister of the groom, played the wedding march.

After the ceremony the guests were served to a dainty buffet luncheon, in the dining room, which was prettily decorated with pink and white sweet peas. Later the bride and groom left on a motor trip around the Great Lakes. For travelling the bride wore an ensemble costume in two shades of brown, with hat and shoes to match. On their return they will reside in Moscow.

Jackson—Brown.

A pretty wedding took place on Saturday, Sept. 29th, at the Parsonage Enterprise, when Freedom Ethel Brown, the youngest daughter of Mrs. Thomas Brown, became the bride of Miles Edgar Jackson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Jackson. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. H. A. Bunt, of Enterprise.

The bride was attired in blue silk flat crepe trimmed with grey and grey kid shoes and hose, also grey hat to match. After the wedding the happy couple left by car on a tour of Watertown, Syracuse and Oswegatchie, returning home by Niagara Falls, Hamilton, Toronto and Belleville.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will reside on a farm about a mile east of Enterprise. The best of wishes from a large company of friends will follow the happy couple to their new home.

Stubbs—Walker.

Perth Avenue United Church, Toronto, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, Sept. 26th, 1928, when Luella Beatrice, daughter of Mrs. Alonzo Walker, of 127 Symington Ave., was united in marriage to John Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stubbs, of 31 Columbine Avenue.

The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Hiram Hull, and Mr. Wm. Hewitt played softly throughout the service. The bride was lovely in white satin with lace train and veil, and carried a shower bouquet of Columbia roses. She was given away by her uncle, Mr. G. L. Wagar, of Cobourg. The bridesmaid, Miss Florence Walker, sister of the bride, was dressed in flowered taffeta with black velvet and maline hat trimmed to match. She carried Ophelia roses. The groom was supported by his brother-in-law, Mr. J. C. Bissett.

A reception for the immediate relatives was held at the home of the bride's mother. Mrs. Walker received in grey georgette and Swiss embroidery, with velvet hat to match. Mrs. Stubbs wore a blue ensemble and monkey skin hat. For travelling the bride was dressed in powder blue and grey crepe, with blue coat and small black felt hat.

After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Stubbs will reside in the Kenilworth Apartments, Queen Street East.

Petri—Hughes.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized at the United Church Manse, New Norway, Alberta, on Saturday, Sept. 15th, when Keitha Ida, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Hughes, was united in marriage to Mr. Olaf Arvid Petri, of Rosalind, Alta., Rev. M. McLean officiating. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a Chin-Chin blue flat crepe dress, trimmed with silver lace, with hat to match. Her travelling suit was of rosewood silk crepe and georgette ensemble. Only the immediate relatives of the young couple were present. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Petri will reside at Rosalind, Alta., where Mr. Petri is manager of the Manning-Sutherland lumber yard at that place.

TAMWORTH WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of the Tamworth Branch of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. W. Bradshaw, on Tuesday, September 25th. There were sixteen members and seven visitors present. The meeting opened with the Ode, followed by the Creed repeated in unison. The roll call was answered by "Suggestions for Xmas Gifts". After the minutes were read, various matters of business were discussed.

It was decided to ask each member to send a donation of fruit to the Children's Aid in Belleville. After other smaller items of business, the President called upon the District President, Mrs. Huffman, to address the meeting. In her address she discussed the classes of work and the need of each Institute co-operating by sending in reports on different activities carried on. She made an appeal through the women to help in cleaning up all noxious weeds in their community. In speaking about the Creed she stressed three words, Loyalty, Unity, and Service. These are the things which count in the work. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. Huffman for her helpful talk. "God Save the King" was sung, after which refreshments were served, and a social hour was enjoyed.

ODESSA

Dr. and Mrs. Ross Parrott and little son, Fraser, of Midland, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Parrott and Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fraser.

Charlie Conway, of Montreal, is holidaying with his sister, Mrs. Roy Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Sears, Miss Beryl Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Jones and son, Donald, of Kingston, spent Friday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mohan, of Watertown, are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mohan.

Vera Kenny, R.N. is holidaying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kenny.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jenkins, Kingston, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Virgil and Mr. and Mrs. Yule, Kenocha, Wisconsin, spent a few days the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Smith.

The Township Fair held last Thursday and Friday, was the most successful in many years, and the gate receipts for Friday amounted to over seven hundred dollars. The concert held in the Township Hall on Friday night, had a very large attendance, and the dance that followed was very much enjoyed by the pleasure seekers, even though the floor was crowded to capacity. The Agricultural Society will surely have a banner year and the financial part was very encouraging. The concert and dance receipts for the two evenings, netted a handsome sum.

The Ladies' Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. John Kenny on Wednesday afternoon. There were thirty-five members and visitors in attendance. Their annual convention is to be held in the United Church, on October 4th. Mr. Walter Pooke received a cablegram last Wednesday from Mrs. Pooke, who sailed from Montreal on Sept. 19th. The cable came from Southampton, England, and the voyage was made in about seven days.

Tag day for the Library and Free Reading Room, held last Friday afternoon, proved to be a great success, and the Board has recently purchased a number of new books, the receipts will be a great benefit. Over forty dollars were collected.

About thirty-five relatives, friends and neighbors met at the home of Mrs. Vrooman last Thursday night to receive Mr. and Mrs. Vrooman on their return home from Ottawa, and a number of handsome and valuable presents were received. Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies, and all wish Mr. and Mrs. Vrooman many years of happiness.

The annual fowl supper held by the Ladies' Aid Society in the United Church dining hall, proved as formerly a decided success. About four hundred took advantage of the supper, when an abundance of chicken and all other delicious eatables were served by the ladies, and many compliments were given them. The concert after the supper was held in the auditorium. Miss Hilda Day delighted the audience with her recitations and received many encores; also Miss Saunders gave a number of choice vocal selections, and assisted by her brother, Mr. Saunders, gave several banjo and vocal duets which were repeatly applauded. The talent was from Kingston, and there were others besides those mentioned. Mr. Seymour, Morven, gave interesting and amusing addresses, which were very much enjoyed.

BACK FROM DEPOT OWNERS' CONVENTION

Tire Convention Addressed by the Hon. Chas. Stewart, Minister of Interior, and W. A. Eden

Messrs. J. M. Graham and F. L. Amey, the well known and popular proprietors of the Dominion Tire Depot, at Napanee and Selby, have just returned from Kitchener, Ont.

On October 2nd and 3rd, Kitchener was the Mecca for all the Dominion Tire Depot Owners of Ontario and Quebec. The magnet was the Depot Owners' Convention at the Dominion Tire Factory. And what a convention it was! "Wonderful" said Messrs. Graham and Amey, "the most interesting and enjoyable event of its kind I ever attended."

The Convention was planned as a sort of post graduate course in the care and repair for the sole benefit of Dominion Tire Depot Owners. Messrs. Graham and Amey said that it is too bad education wasn't made so painless in the days when they were learning the three R's.

The program included a complete tour of the wonderful tire factory. It was a great experience for those who sell Dominion tires to see how they are made. Then there were exhibits of the latest vulcanizing and repair machinery and accessories, extensive lectures and practical demonstrations by the experts in charge, educational moving pictures of rubber growing, sales talks and entertainments.

The Convention was brought to a close by a big banquet at which addresses by prominent officials were delivered. The Hon. Chas. Stewart, Minister of the Interior, painted a rosy picture of "Canada, Land of Future", while Mr. J. O. Linteau delivered a most instructive address on "Merchandising conditions in the automobile trade". Mr. W. A. Eden, President of the Dominion Rubber Co., brought the Convention to a close with a brief outline of all the Convention meant and a few words of good cheer for the coming year.

Messrs. Graham and Amey have returned full of enthusiasm. They feel that as a result of their visit to Kitchener they are better equipped than ever to serve the motorists of this town. 41a

NEWBURGH

The Public School teachers attended the Convention in Napanee on Thursday and Friday.

Mr. Bride Weese, of Centreville, was in the village finishing Mr. Perry's house, the home of the Bell Telephone.

Misses Olive and Blanche Yeomans have returned from Montreal, where they attended a religious convention.

Misses Jean and Hester Wartman spent the week end at their grandparents', Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Patterson, Moscow.

Miss Bray is the guest of her brother, Mr. G. H. Bray.

Mrs. Lillie Price visited at Mrs. Baker's, during last week.

The Young People's League of the United Church opened the fall and winter activities on Monday evening, Oct. 1st. Miss E. Shorey presided. Among other contributions to the program we would like to mention a vocal solo, "Beautiful Summer is Gone" by Miss Marie Brooks; a piano solo by Miss Hazel Winters, and an address by Rev. Mr. Anderson, on "Truth and Honour" as characteristics of true manliness and womanhood. The League by vote selected Cameron Shorts and Verna Kellar as captains of two groups, the "Boosters" and "Hustlers". Watch for something doing in this circle! The young people of this League are invited to visit Centreville some evening this month, and some evening of Moscow or Young People will visit Newburgh.

The Belleville Presbytery Young People's Convention will be held in Belleville, on Tuesday, October 16th.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gerow spent a recent day with Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Allen, Kingston.

Mr. Howard Thompson, of Napanee, visited his cousin, Mr. Stewart Gandier, on Sunday.

The Mac Bell Marks Co. gave an entertainment on Tuesday last. Part of the proceeds was for the benefit of the Public Library. A large crowd was present to enjoy the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gerow visited Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Weese, during the week end.

At the regular meeting of the W. M. S. on Wednesday, the Baby Band which is in charge of Mrs. Courtney, met, and a number of babies were made members. The baby girl of Mrs. Jaynes was baptised by the Rev. T. H. P. Anderson. Mrs. Geo. Stone sang "I Think When I Read the Sweet Story of Old". Rev. Mr. Anderson gave a suitable address. During the social hour a dainty lunch was served by the ladies.

Mrs. Rev. T. H. P. Anderson addressed the W. M. S. of the United Church at Marlbank, on Sunday last.

Miss Jessie Wells, of Ottawa, spent the week end with her aunt, Mrs. A. Madden.

Mrs. J. Shorey attended the funeral of Mr. Jenkins, at Odessa, on Saturday.

Mrs. John Wartman is on a visit to a brother in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lockwood, of Colborne, spent a recent day in Newburgh.

Mr. Arthur Wales is in the General Hospital, Kingston, as an appendicitis patient. His many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenn, of Violet, moved into the village recently, and are occupying part of Roy Redden's house.

Miss Mabel Tompkins, of Strathcona, spent Sunday with Miss Bessie Tompkins.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Stevenson, Miss Ada Herrington, and Mrs. B. Snelgrove, of Smithfield, were recent visitors at the Parsonage, with Rev. and Mrs. Anderson.

The United Sunday School Rally was well attended, and a splendid address was given by Rev. A. J. Wilson, of Napanee.

Two visiting clergymen much enjoyed in the United Church recently were the Rev. H. A. Bunt and the Rev. I. N. Beckstead.

The Seventieth Anniversary in connection with the United Church will be held on Sunday next. A united Communion service will be held at 10:30 a.m., with a former Pastor as the preacher, Rev. E. Farnsworth. The evening service will be at 7 o'clock. On the following Monday evening, from 6 to 8 o'clock, supper will be served by the Ladies' Aid, followed by a concert. The Rev. Mr. Ralph and family, of Verona; Miss Hilda Day, of Kingston, and others will furnish the program.

Mr. Frank Wales and family called on Mr. Arthur Wales at the Kingston Hospital, on Sunday.

Athletics.

The Collegiate team met its second defeat of the season when Deseronto on the game here last Wednesday afternoon, by the score of 16-11. It was a game full of thrills, and the supporters who attended certainly received full value for their money. The local team led right up until the last quarter by a score of 11-0. At the opening of the last quarter the Deseronto team made a touch down which put them more hope of victory and from them until the end of the game they began to fight for points with such a spirit that it seemed impossible to hold them. Within four minutes of the end of the game, they won further five points which made the score 11-10. On the kick-off from centre, the locals kicked only 19 yards and the Deseronto team began to advance again on the Napanee goal line. Within one minute of play, Napanee rushed the ball on their own yard line and it looked as if they would kick it to safety and hold their lead. For the first time in the game the Deseronto team broke through on Merrill, and he was forced to kick into his own goal, which gave the visitors the ball within a yard of the goal line, and they lost no time in going over for the final point, which won the game. The visiting team deserved great credit for their plucky fighting spirit which won the game for them as it looked like a win for Napanee at the beginning of the game.

This week the local team have a Saturday off while Picton goes to Deseronto. The Picton team defeated the Belleville Collegiate in an exhibition game by a score of 22-0. An effort will be made by Napanee to have an exhibition game with either Albert College or Belleville C. I., both of which are in the other group of the O. R. F. U. for the Bay of Quinte District. Practices will be continued every day this week, and on Wednesday afternoon the boys are looking for a visit from Harry Batstone, of Queen's University to give them a few pointers on improving their game.

The Athenian and Spartan juniors are working hard at their practices these days in preparation for the series of three games to decide the Junior Championship for the school.

On Saturday the whole teaching staff except one attended the District Banquet and Meeting of the Secondary School Teachers' Federation, and they were spectators at the Queen's-Varsity game in the afternoon. L. S. Beattie, B.A., presided as District President, and Miss H. Grange, B.A., was appointed one of the three delegates to the annual meeting of the Federation at Christmas.

Some misunderstanding has arisen regarding the conditions attached to the winning of the Form 5 scholarship and Gold Medal, and the following explanation regarding same is given to clear up this misunderstanding.

The Fox Gold Medal, donated in perpetuity by Mr. Charles Fox, president of the American Aluminum Co., St. Louis, Ill., is awarded to the pupil in the graduating class who obtains the highest honour standing in his Senior Matriculation papers, and who is not continuing his course further in Upper School. A local in one of the papers stated that this was won by Miss Mary Mellow. Such is incorrect, as Miss Mellow is continuing her Upper School work in Mathematics and Classics, and will be a contestant for the medal next year. Consequently the graduating medal was awarded to Miss Evelyn Mills, who had the following standing and has entered Queen's University: Eng. Comp. 4; Eng. Lit.; Hist. C.; Alg. 2; Geom. 1; Trig. 2; Phys. C.; Chem. 1; Lat. A. 2; Lat. C. C.

The Memorial Scholarship is awarded to the pupil in the Upper School who obtains the highest marks on any seven papers, and it can be won by either a graduating pupil or by a pupil who is continuing further work in Upper School. It was awarded this year to Miss Mary Mellow, whose standing for this year was as follows: Algebra 1; Trig. 3; Chem. 1; Lat. A. 1; Lat. C. 2; Fr. A. 2; Fr. C. 3; Hist. C.

ARE YOU AFRAID OF YOUR MEALS?

Proof That the Stomach is Weak and Needs Toning Up.

Are you one of the many sufferers who dread meal time? Hungry, and yet afraid to eat, because of the pains and discomforts that follow. When the stomach is out of order the whole system suffers, and as the blood becomes thin and watery it becomes increasingly difficult to correct the digestive disorder. There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for the whole body; thus a blood-building tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only relieves indigestion, but adds to the general strength. Mr. D. J. Shaw, Eskiff Road, P.E.I., has proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a severe case of indigestion and relates his experience for the benefit of other sufferers. He says:—"I suffered from indigestion for a number of years. My case was so bad that words fail to describe it. My appetite was gone, constipation was present, and my nerves were all on edge. I could not sleep well at night, and the world was a dark spot for me. I tried a number of remedies, but without any benefit. Then Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended, but without much faith, after so many failures, I decided to try them. After taking three boxes I noticed a change for the better. Then I got three boxes more and found I had a genuine remedy. I continued the within the next week or ten days." treatment, took moderate exercise, could take plain food without suffering as formerly, and proved that these pills make good blood, and that this good blood will restore the stomach and nerves." Anyone suffering from stomach or nerve troubles will make no mistake in giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Write to-day for a copy of the free booklet "What to Eat and How to Eat".

ALBERTA'S YIELD OVER ESTIMATED

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 28.—The Alberta wheat yield this year has been over estimated but it will, nevertheless, be a good crop, was the statement yesterday by Charles Hall, general manager of the wheat pool, who is here from Calgary.

"The threshing out turn is not measuring up to estimates of Dominion and Provincial Governments or of the railways or newspapers.

"It is a good crop and average grade will be about the same as last year with the valuable difference that there is practically no tough or damp wheat to wrestle with." Mr. Hall was not prepared to quote figures of the yield for a few days, but said that the figures were now being assembled. "It is a little early to predict just how much wheat we may send through Vancouver this year," he added. "We will know a little more about that also

WHEN YOUR BABY CATCHES A COLD

In spite of all precautions little ones will take colds—especially during the changeable days of our Fall season. When the first symptoms appear — sneezing, redness of the eyes, running nose — Baby's Own Tablets should be given at once. They will rapidly break up the cold and prevent more serious complications.

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the home always feel safe. In fact they are like having a doctor in the house. They are a gentle but thorough laxative that sweetens the stomach and regulate the bowels, thus driving out constipation and indigestion and relieving the baby of the many childhood ailments which are the direct result of a clogged condition of the bowels or sour stomach. They are absolutely safe — being guaranteed to contain no drug at all harmful to even the youngest babe. They cannot possibly do harm—they always do good.

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE KAFFIR COURT

By a South African.

Into a small, dirty, corrugated iron building which stands by the Court-house a crowd of black men hurry, for the clock in the Native Commissioner's office tells the hour when the morning session begins. At the grimy wooden door are an impudent half-caste loafer, his baggy golf cap awry; the mild-faced police informer, whose gilt spectacles shine ludicrously against dark bronze skin; the Zulu servant maid interested in the fate of some tribesman that loves her; a black missionary subpoenaed to tell the tale of the faction fight in which he got hurt. All are rowdily stamping inwards, followed by a horde of unemployed Bantu goldminers. St. Helena cooks, native washerwomen, and a few constables of both colours.

"Quite a slack Monday morning," thinks the Magistrate, who has waited at his office sorting many Dutch and English documents. There is a massive scraping of naked feet and service boots as the audience, abruptly silent but still grinning about topical prison jests, stands up and old "Four Eyes" takes his seat. The horn-edged spectacles which caused the Kaffirs to give the judicial officer this name are placed upon a stern nose, while the native interpreter, smirking with pride at his proximity to the much-feared "Baas," pulls at the sleeves of a well-tailored European suit and calls through the yard door, "Sehjant, bring in accosed."

Led by a bare-legged black Colossus wearing a blue tunic full of silvery buttons, the offenders' queue files behind the dock, a little railed cage of African wood. Much shuffling from the silent, staring blacks, surly grunting by their police, and laborious pushing or pulling of shoulders results in the formation of a solidly wedged, mathematically straight array of accused men and women that passes right across the floor out to the sunshine.

The First Offender.

"Charlie Mtunzu No. 891432 charged with being without a pass after 9 a.m. on Sunday the 8th March", rattles the Prosecutor, never taking a breath. The elegantly clad interpreter turns with much briskness to the enclosure, where stands a native, still wearing his Sabbath plus-fours and morning coat. "Hamafutoincombantintiteli," growls the translator at the brightly smiling darky, who nods with much earnestness. "Guilty, your Wawship," the black official answers "Four Eyes'" unspoken question. "One pound or seven days," and before the Magistrate has blotted his sentence on the document cover Charlie Mtunzu has passed from the box, down the queue, away to the prisoners' yard, and another takes the place.

Fined for Witchcraft.

This very shrivelled Bushman has been practising witchcraft and pretending to the passion of supernatural powers." A whole black audience stares respectfully at the little wizard in ragged sports coat and collapsed bowler hat. The sorcerer explains that the native against whom he made a charm had been bewitching a neighbour at the same factory into getting a sore throat.

"You are a very bad old man," breaks out the Magistrate in a loud voice, meant to intimidate any other potentiau magnicians who may be on the public benches. "What was in the medicine?"

"Baas," waving long, ape-like arms, Basheto demonstrates; "first I take a little water, then I put in two handfuls ashes, and one very long yellow nail, and a spoon of dung, and I tell my boy to beware."

Lizzie is Acquitted.

"Two pounds or a fortnight."

Already Lizzies, with the scarlet lipsalve and green silk blouse sends a sheen of savage splendour across the room. She has been selling skokiaan, the forbidden liquor that bubbles poisonously out of baker's yeast. A Zulu policeman brings along a horrid-smelling paraffin tin. His melodious, resonant voice tells how he and the "Tokis" (or detectives) raided the accused's hut and dug the drink from beneath a heap of bon ka kamoses. Lizzie, however, angrily denies it. A European lawyer arises, and in voluble Kaffir puts questions according to English rules of evidence. The constable uncomfortably fumbles about his circular kepi as the practitioner inquires whether he had not offered the same girl's father many cattle for her as a wife. "Didn't that happen at your home kraal?" Police Constable Mtatu admits it, but asserts that she kept a skokiaan brewery. Magistrate, taking off two of his eyes, finds a doubt in the story, whereat Lizzie, her white teeth spread into a grin, politely salutes "Nkosi" and passes, much discussed by the Courthouse audience, towards freedom.

The Wrong Accused

After smoking the illegal dagga hemp plant Jim has, in dreamy mania, stabbed a Chinaman who owns a native eating-house. But when a bandaged yellow man limps along he shakes a wrinkled head. "No, no — diffelent boy. Not Jim. The accused, however, confesses all charges translated to him. After long years in the Kaffir Court the Magistrate knows what has happened. "Another mompara" (fool), he mutters; "we've got the wrong accused." "Jim !" shouts the Bantu usher at the crammed, patient queue. Eleven black faces light up with the look of identity. "Yes, baas," they chorus, and when a valuable half-minute has passed the right offender faces the Mongol, while the self-confessed sinner, after an unnoticed little kick, slops back to his proper place down the row.

And So Forth.

Hour follows hour as the sentences dart out — now on drinkers of illicit liquor, now on a snuff-hawker who stole beads in the outhouse residence of a customer, now on a boy who showed a bar-keeper an order for brandy signed "King George." From the yard comes noisy laughing till a black policeman roars, "Dogs! Do you want the Magistrate to have you thrown to the crocodiles?"

At the public's door an old, bearded Indian from each of whose arms hangs a large basket with oranges, peers in. Then he enters without doffing his fez, for such is his religion's privilege in court. He sees the frequently refilled judicial fountain-pen writing glower. The last Kaffir reaches the dock. The interpreter gabbles, "Guilty, your Worship"; the fine-collector in the corner closes his cash-box.

With admiring ejaculations about the Magistrate's justness the dusky crowd noisily arises. Four Eyes disappears into his office; the policemen don their helmets or kepis. On the street pavement sits the Indian vending oranges to the thirsty coloured loafers, while from the back of the Kaffir Court there walks, in handcuffed pairs, a procession of new-made convicts. Chuckling at their friends round the fruit-dealer's basket, the fifteen natives follow the constables with their knobbed throwing-sticks, into the traffic of the streets that lead towards the gaol.

For Swollen Joints

Most remeries fail but Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's for joint troubles only, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, finger or spine—whether rheumatic or not.

It limbers up stiff, inflamed, painful creaky joints so quickly you'll be astonished.

Two seconds' rubbing and away it goes through skin and flesh right down to the bone and ligaments—that's why it succeeds. Ask Wallace's Drug Store or any reliable druggist.

FALL PREPARATIONS FOR THE LAMB CROP

(Experimental Farms Note)

Minimum attention to the breeding flock during the autumn months is one of the major causes of a small lamb crop.

The lambs should be weaned in the month of August or September, depending chiefly on three factors;

1. The age and thriftiness of the lambs.

2. The condition of the ewes during the summer months;

3. The time of the lambing season.

The first week after the lambs are weaned the ewes should be pastured on a field in which there is very little succulence in order to prevent udder trouble. The ewes should be inspected daily during this week to see that their udders do not become caked. A ewe which has an abundant supply of milk should be partially milked out for three or four days after the lambs are removed. After all danger of udder trouble is over the ewes should be "flushed" i.e. brought into good condition on a succulent pasture; such as alfalfa aftermath, sweet clover, or a good brome pasture. The latter has given excellent results in the prairie provinces during a wet season. Often the run of the stubble fields will bring the ewes into good condition for breeding.

At the Experimental Station, Rosthern, in the fall of 1927 the ewes were divided into two lots. One lot of twelve ewes was given access to a field of alfalfa aftermath for two months previous to the breeding season. Lot No. 2 had access to sweet clover, and Lot No. 3 had access to a bare stubble pasture where there was very little aftermath. The rams were in approximately the same condition when they were put with the ewes. The ewes were all weighed at the beginning of the experiment. The ewes on the alfalfa aftermath made slightly greater gains than those on sweet clover pasture, while those on the bare stubble made very small gains. The ewes were housed and fed the same ration during the winter months. Lots No. 1 and 2 commenced to lamb the first of March and Lot No. 3 the 25th of March.

The twelve ewes in Lot No. 1 had 22 lambs weighing 187.0 pounds at birth, average weight 8.1 pounds. Of these thirteen were twins, six triplets, and three were singles. There was one weak lamb in this lot which died within twenty-four hours.

The twelve ewes in Lot No. 2 had 19 strong, healthy lambs weighing 169.5 pounds or an average of 8.9 pounds. There were five triplets, ten twins, and six singles in this lot.

The ewes in Lot No. 3 had 15 lambs weighing 120 pounds, or an average of 8.6 pounds with six twins, and nine singles. Three of these lambs were dead at birth.

The results of the experiment would go to show the importance of flushing the ewes previous to the breeding season.

The rams should be removed from the ewes in August and brought into good breeding condition by feeding them a little grain, one-half to one pound per day (three parts oats and one bran), depending on their condition. They should be allowed to take sufficient exercise so that they will be very active when the mating season arrives.

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD
(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound. An extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make home interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the whole year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from the products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a stouter and more rugged material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a sure and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

FERTILIZING BIG AREA.

Australia Has Large Water Distributing System.

With the completion of an extensive scheme on the west coast, South Australia now has one of the largest water distributing systems in the world. Although the estimated revenue from this source will not return more than half per cent. interest on the capital outlay, the indirect benefits to the state resulting from the enhanced productivity of the country, closer and more profitable settlement, and increased population, will, it is expected, largely compensate for the loss involved in the undertaking.

On this hypothesis South Australia has constructed nearly all her water schemes, and has thus enabled settlement to be push-ed out into fertile though sparsely populated areas. The outstanding economic fact to us is the only way that a young, productive country can be developed. The capital cost of waterworks has now exceeded £11,000,000. There are 24 impounding reservoirs in the state, with a total storage capacity of 16,796,906,000 gallons, 55 service reservoirs, and 17 pumping stations.

When the Minister for Water Supply opened Tor river reservoir, and set the water flowing through a network of mains, which serve an area of 6,400,000 acres, the act marked another step in the rapid progress of Eyre's Peninsula. Not many years ago this vast farming province was returning less than half a bushel of wheat to the acre; recently in some parts it has been averaging more than 30 bushels in recent seasons, due largely to the use of improved agricultural methods. The reservoir has a capacity of 2,400,000,000 gallons, with a catchment area of 60 square miles, and a water spread of 325 acres. Port Lincoln, with a population of about 2,000, is supplied from Tod River by gravitation, the longest gravitation main in Australia.

Repairing St. Paul's

St. Paul's Cathedral, London, England, will be completely reopened some time during July, 1930, after having been partly closed for repairs since 1925.

The proposed opening date is nearly two years in advance of what was at one time anticipated.

St. Paul's was partly closed following the issue by the city corporation of a warning that the building was a "dangerous structure." A wooden screen was placed across the head of the nave, cutting off the whole of the area under the dome, as well as the choir and transepts. The organ and choir stalls also had to be removed.

Concrete has been forced into the the pillars supporting the dome, and refacing has also been done.

There is still much work to be done, including the placing in position of a stainless steel chain 450 feet long to be used to counter the outward pressure of the dome. The links will be laid in four parallel formations round the outer base of the dome.

DORLAND

Mrs. J. J. Bird was hostess to a largeyl attended meeting of the W. M. S. last Wednesday afternoon. The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Allison when the report from the Morven Covention will be given. — A number of members of the Ladies' Aid attended the Ladies' Aid Convention in Odessa last Thursday and report a most enthusiastic gathering.—Many from the congregation enjoyed the services at Sillsville on Sunday, conducted by Rev. S. Dixon of Bath. — Everyone is most cordially invited to the U. E. L. United Church, Adolphustown to hear Rev. H. W. Cliff, M.A., B.D. of Kingston, speak morning and evening next Sunday and again on Monday evening at the fowl supper. Extensive preparations are being made for the latter. —Another item of interest is a masquerade party on Friday evening, November 2nd. further details later. — Many have completed potato digging and report a good yield, but the apple crop is very light.— Mr. Chas. Rombough had the misfortune to have his foot injured on Wednesday. A wheel of the thrashing machine passed over it while being moved out of W. J. McCrudden's barn.

ENTERPRISE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of the Enterprise W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. B. and Mrs. E. R. Wilson, with a fair attendance. After singing the Ode, the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.
Arrangements were made for the re-lighting of the street lamps for the fall and winter months.
The Institute decided to send again for the Travelling Library, to be kept at the home of our president Mrs. Olliver. Books may be exchange on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons.
The motion was carried that a prize be given on each room in the Public School, to the pupil with the best record for the coming year, also that a bulletin board be placed in a prominent position for the benefit of the public.
It was arranged to send a box of surprises to Mrs. Ard. Jackson, who has been an invalid for some time and much missed at the meetings of the W. I. Community singing and a short contest were much enjoyed and also a reading by Mrs. E. R. Wilson from "Our Community Circle", entitled "Don't Knock".
Our next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Olliver, on the last Wednesday in October, the roll-call to be "Suggestions for Christmas Gifts."
After an excellent lunch, provided by our hostesses, Mrs. B. and Mrs. E. R. Wilson, and a hearty vote of thanks given them for their kind entertainment, the meeting closed by singing of the National Anthem.

DORLAND

Mrs. J. J. Bird was hostess to a largely attended meeting of the W. M. S. last Wednesday afternoon. The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Allison when the report from the Morven Convention will be given. — A number of members of the Ladies' Aid attended the Ladies' Aid Convention in Odessa last Thursday and report a most enthusiastic gathering.— Many from the congregation enjoyed the services at Sillsville on Sunday, conducted by Rev. S. Dixon of Bath. — Everyone is most cordially invited to the U. E. L. United Church, Adolphustown to hear Rev. H. W. Cliff, M.A., B.D. of Kingston, speak morning and evening next Sunday and again on Monday evening at the fowl supper. Extensive preparations are being made for the latter. —Another item of interest is a masquerade party on Friday evening, November 2nd, further details later. — Many have completed potato digging and report a good yield, but the apple crop is very light.— Mr. Chas. Rombough had the misfortune to have his foot injured on Wednesday. A wheel of the thrashing machine passed over it while being moved out of W. J. McCrudden's barn.

ENTERPRISE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of the Enterprise W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. B. and Mrs. R. R. Wilson, with a fair attendance. After singing the Ode, the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Arrangements were made for the re-lighting of the street lamps for the fall and winter months.

The Institute decided to send, again for the Travelling Library, to be kept at the home of our president Mrs. Olliver. Books may be exchanged on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

The motion was carried that a prize be given on each room in the Public School, to the pupil with the best record for the coming year, also that a bulletin board be placed in a prominent position for the benefit of the public.

It was arranged to send a box of surprises to Mrs. Ard. Jackson, who has been an invalid for some time and much missed at the meetings of the W. I. Community singing and a short contest were much enjoyed and also a reading by Mrs. E. R. Wilson from "Our Community Circle", entitled "Don't Knock".

Our next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Olliver, on the last Wednesday in October, the roll-call to be "Suggestions for Christmas Gifts."

After an excellent lunch, provided by our hostesses, Mrs. B. and Mrs. E. R. Wilson, and a hearty vote of thanks given them for their kind entertainment, the meeting closed by singing of the National Anthem.

EMPLOYERS PLEASE NOTE.

Expert Medical Advice Helps to Increase Output.

A great factory got a college man at the head. He was touched at for buying expert medical advice to help him increase his output. The expert reported that the girls in the packing department were doing their work in a series of four jerky movements of the arm. He asked for a training class to instruct workers to move their arms in one circular swing instead of four straight pushes. The output increased eighty-eight per cent.

Under a doctor's advice one great pottery got out the figures of its breakages. Forty per cent. were shown to be due to some direct cause; a girl had slipped, or some other unavoidable accident had occurred. Sixty per cent. were due to "causes unknown," until the doctor suggested that violent irritation was responsible for temporary "forgetfulness." The brain was taken off its job and slipped a cog, and in the second's slip sixty per cent. of the breakages occurred. When the unconscious irritation—a vicious temperature or a bad light—was removed, thousands of dollars a year were saved.

WHEN COINS WEAR OUT.

Finger Passing Over a Coin Actually Reduces Weight of It.

It is surprising to know that a finger passing over a coin actually reduces the weight of it. A wonderful electrical instrument known as the induction balance proves this to be a fact. When coins rub against each other in people's pockets and purses, drop on a counter or on the ground, and so on, they really wear. If you "ring" a coin to test its genuineness, you remove some of the metal of which it is composed. The smaller the value of the coin, the greater the wear, as it is in use more constantly.

Experiments show that in a hundred years in the British Mint £100 worth of half crowns lose £12 11s. 8d. of their value. The same sum in shillings would decrease its value to £36 14s. 1d., whereas sixpences to the value of £100 would be worth less than half what they were originally, losing metal to the value of £50 18s. 8d.

The loss in coinage value in Great Britain is estimated at £11,000 annually. When coins become very much worn, they are withdrawn from circulation.

They Mean "Good-Bye."

People who live in different countries and speak different languages have different ways of saying "Good-bye." In the Philippines, for instance, a man rubs his friend's face with his hand when he bids him farewell.

When you leave a Hindu he fails in the dust at your feet, while the Burmese bend low and say, "Hpa-hlip." South Sea Islanders rattle each other's whalebone necklaces.

The Greenland Islander will twist the end of the departing guest's nose and then solemnly shake his own hand three times. The Eskimos will take his slipper off as you depart, and say, with a smile, "You are going to leave my despicable house in your honorable journeyings—I regard thee."

The Sioux and the Blackfeet will dig their spears in the earth as a sign of confidence, while Fiji Islanders cross two red feathers.

On "Kitchen Club" Left.

Pratt's Club in Park Place, St. James's, London, England, is the sole survivor of the old "kitchen clubs" that were so greatly favored by the "bucks" of the Regency days.

Anything more unlike a modern clubhouse externally it would be impossible to conceive. The very name-plate on the door—the lettering so worn as to be almost illegible — is eloquent of days long past.

So, too, internally! Furniture, fittings and service alike are Georgian; and, as of yore, devilled kidneys, toasted cheese and fried bacon, are still served in the basement kitchen, and the coffee and tea brewed in the century-old pewter pots that stand in gleaming rows on the antique oaken dresser.

Labrador Current Measured.

The Labrador current has an average width of 110 miles, the United States Coast Guard ocean-graphic expedition on board the Government vessel Marcus has discovered as a result of observations made on the first leg of its explorations of the birthplace of the icebergs.

"Seven hundred icebergs were observed strewn along the Labrador coast from Cape Chidley to Belle Isle," the expedition reported. Oceanic conditions and a counterset current were found middle-line continental edge. In spite of the many icebergs seen, there was no field ice.

Foot-Fins for Swimmers.

Foot-fins said to make progress through the water easier and faster may be used by future Channel-swimming aspirants.

They are fastened to the shoes, and when the swimmer draws up his feet in the first movement of the swimming stroke, the fins close and offer little resistance. In passing through the water.

As he kicks to propel himself, they open and double the effectiveness of the stroke.

A Carnegie Memorial.

At the birthplace in Dunfermline of Andrew Carnegie, famous for his public munificence, a memorial has been opened by Mrs. Carnegie. A fine building has been erected adjacent to the humble cottage in which Mr. Carnegie was born. It houses the numerous freedom caskets and other honors received by the ben-factor during his lifetime.

AN ANCIENT GUILD

The Worshipful Company of Grocers Started Humbly Many Centuries Ago as the Pepperers' Guild.

What is now the wealthy and influential Worshipful Company of Grocers started humbly many centuries ago as the Pepperers' Guild. References to the Guild and its work go back as far as 1180, so it is probably even older.

It was in 1345 that the company of Pepperers agreed to found a fraternity "to the Honour of God and St. Anthony, the better to increase love and unity." Members had to be of "good love and loyal heart," and in proof thereof had, on admission, to kiss all others of the fraternity.

Discipline was very strict. All had to attend church on St. Anthony's Day; it was compulsory to attend the funerals of deceased members; and the wardens had power to seize the goods of those who broke any ordinance. Later it became an obligation for each member to take his wife or companion to the annual feast. A curious feature was the admission of deceased persons to the fraternity!

Beyond dealing with such matters as apprenticeship, wages, and disputes, the fraternity exercised a rigid control over the quality of pepper and spices. A few years later the fraternity became the "Grossers" of London, and extended its operations to other commodities—sugar, powders, and so on. It watched and tested everything that came into the city. Its "Garbeller," in fact, was the forerunner of to-day's Inspector of Foods and Drugs. The company's records show heavy fines and imprisonment for unjust weights, profiteering, and unclean or adulterated food.

It obtained its charter in 1428—500 years ago—but it is only due to a piece of great luck that the company exists to-day. The Great Fire destroyed its Hall and its City properties, and it was just struggling along when it happened that the Worshipful Company of England, established in 1694, seeking a place in which to do its business, hired the restored Grocers' Hall for seven years for £5,000 and a loan of a similar amount. The bank rented the hall until 1724, by which time the company had re-established itself. To-day it has a revenue of about £40,000 yearly.

It would take many pages to record adequately the munificence, charitable and educational, of past and present members. One founded Rugby School, another Oundle, and others the schools at Sevenoaks, Guildford, Witney, and Colwell. Of gifts to hospitals the number is legion. "Not how much wealth they could make, but to what public end such wealth could be directed at their death," was the ideal of hundreds of "grocers."

Policy, changed circumstances have made the Worshipful Company give up its trade supervision, but it is still a power for food, extending its charity in a thousand channels. Its gift of £10,000 to Christ's Hospital is the instance of many.

Kings, statesmen, generals, and other great men have been honored by the company — the Emperor of Prance of Wales became a Freeman in 1225—and in all times of the nation's stress, for centuries, the Grocers' Company has responded nobly and without stint.

Pelagius is its "Grace" before its banquets: "God preserve the Church, the King, and the Worshipful Company of Grocers." And its toast is "The Church, the King, and the Grocers."

"Road Hogs" of Old.

There were road hogs before motorists. In Europe in the seventeenth century and for some time later the roads had only one width of good going, with a quagmire on either side. If two carriages met there would be a long wrangle and possibly a fight for the sound surface. When there were the road hogs of the towns, fine gentlemen who ventured through the filthy streets, sending showers of mud over pedestrians or coachmen, who drove in the gutters with even more dire results, and the quarrel aroused by the "flying coaches" was as loud as that against motors.

Long Canal Tunnel.

Near Dudley, Worcestershire, is one of the longest canal tunnels in England. The bargemen, when entering this tunnel, are obliged to lay flat on their backs and propel the boat along by pushing the walls of the tunnel with their feet. The tunnel is so small, that this is the only means of getting the boats through.

To get from the entrance to the exit of this tunnel takes about four hours—four hours in total darkness! Needless to say, it is impossible for two barges to go through the tunnel together or pass one another, as it is only just large enough for one.

Another Lord Joins Wheat Pool.

Following the example of the Prince of Wales, Lord Rodney, who farms near Port Saskatchewan, has signed a pool membership contract. Lord and Lady Rodney came to Western Canada in 1918 and in the following year purchased a farm in the Fort Saskatchewan district which has since been expanded to one-thousand acres. A third British peer who is a member of the Wheat Pool is the Duke of Sutherland, who operates a 7,000-acre farm in the Brooks district.

BOERS TREKKING SOUTH.

PORTUGUESE TREATED THEM BADLY.

Travelling In Small Parties, They Are Now Returning to the Land They Left Nearly Fifty Years Ago —Suffered Many Hard-ships.

South Africa was claimed for white civilization 100 years ago by the fearless "voortrekkers" who journeyed with their covered wagons and their cattle into the unknown territory to the north. The "Great Trek," as it was called, is being repeated to-day. A new and stirring episode is beginning, which will find a place in the South African history books of the future.

On the banks of the Kunene river, marking the border between the Province of Southwest Africa and Portuguese Angola, 2,000 Boer men, women and children are preparing to return to the land of their forefathers. The story of their trek across the Kalahari desert to Angola nearly fifty years ago is one of the most tragic and one of the bravest pages of South Africa's adventurous past. Their return, after years of oppression at the hands of the Portuguese, is a dramatic sequel.

The spirit of the explorer — the "trekgeest," as it is termed in Afrikaans—is imbued in every Dutch-speaking South African. When the Transvaal had been conquered and a Boer republic formed some of the restless settlers derided its rule. Some disliked the autocratic President of the time; others feared a British invasion of the new republic, says a writer in the New York Herald-Tribune.

So they set out—128 wagons, 2,000 head of cattle, 500 white men, women and children. The story of their sufferings during the journey across the desert reads like a nightmare.

But the Afrikander courage never failed these trekkers. Out of the desert came a few score of the fittest. Led by Commandant Koos Botha, a party of them marched up to the Portuguese fort at Huilla, while their wives waited within the laager formed by the tented wagons. The gate was thrown open and the governor came out and shook hands with the Boer leader. The Boers fired a round of blank cartridges, and with this little ceremony began an alliance between the two white races in the hinterland of Angola.

The Boers demanded freedom of religion, the right to defend themselves against hostile natives, a grant of land and the right to administer their own community in accordance with the laws of the country.

The Portuguese had done little to open up Angola, but with the arrival of the trekkers and other Boers who followed them troublesome 'native tribes were subdued, roads were built and a settlement was formed at Humpata, about 1,000 miles from the port of Mossamedes.

As the country developed the Portuguese became less friendly toward the sturdy Boers, who had done so much for the territory. The Boers found that they could not obtain title to their farms. Settlers were flowing in from Portugal, and the authorities desired to allot to their fellow-countrymen some of the land which the Boers had won and cultivated. There were threats of compulsory naturalization and military service. The Boers, who had fought hard enough for their own free will, disliked the idea of conscription. The Afrikans language was discouraged, and children of the white settlers had to sit next to native children in school.

It became plain to the Boers that they were not wanted in the land they had conquered, and recently delegates were sent back to the Union to see Gen. Hertzog, the Prime Minister. They asked for land in the former German territory of Southwest Africa and a grant of money to help them start life afresh. The trekgeest spirit revived. They moved away from Humpata to the camp on the Kunene, awaiting permission to cross over into Southwest Africa.

When the matter was discussed in the Union Parliament, Gen. Smuts made a strong attack on the Portuguese Government. "I have always looked upon our friends in Angola as a guarantee that even there white civilization, as we understand it in the south, will be upheld," he declared. "The Boer people always have moved north. We have gone into the south again, and this would be the first occasion where we would have to admit defeat."

Gen. Smuts urged the Government to bring pressure to bear on the Portuguese and to secure fair treatment for the Boers. Some of the Dutch newspapers went farther, and suggested that an armed force from South Africa would be the better argument. There was universal sympathy with the heroic trekkers and their descendants.

But the Portuguese were unmoved. It became clear that the Boers would have to return to South African territory. The Union Government made a loan of £250,000 to the mandated territory of Southwest Africa, and arrangements are now being made to settle the Boers at Grootfontein, Gibeon and Gobabis. German settlers in Southwest Africa are resisting the threatened invasion by every means in their power, but their efforts will be in vain.

So the Angola trekkers turn their faces south again. They are travelling in small parties, for they have to cross the desert of Kaokoveld during the journey to their new homes. It will take eleven months before they have all left the Portuguese side of the Kunene river, for there are now 2,000 of them.

THE HEART OF ENGLAND

The following is an open letter published in the "Master Christian", of which Rev. H. V. Morgan is editor. Mr. Morgan has lately returned from a lecturing trip to the British Isles, and not being able to personally write to each of his friends and admirers, both here and in the old country, decided to write an open letter for his magazine. Mr. Morgan was not privileged to make a proposed visit to his brother George and sister, Mrs. Chas. Walrath, of Roblin, on his return from abroad as his church in Tacoma, Wash., was urging his return.

"On the eighteenth of May, when the great steamship Majestic docked at Southampton, a radiant English face smiled greeting, and a booming voice thundered : "Welcome to the Heart of England."

It was a prophetic utterance. Again I am on the Majestic, sailing homeward, after three memorable months in which I have travelled from east to west, from north to south, lecturing to tectorate of Southwest Africa and Portuguese Angola, 2,000 Boer men, women and children are preparing to return to the land of their forefathers. The story of their trek across the Kalahari desert to Angola nearly fifty years ago is one of the most tragic and one of the bravest pages of South Africa's adventurous past. The Portuguese had done little to open up Angola, but with the arrival of the trekkers and other Boers who followed them troublesome native tribes were subdued, roads were built and a settlement was formed at Humpata, about 1,000 miles from the port of Mossamedes.

As the country developed the Portuguese became less friendly toward the sturdy Boers, who had done so much for the territory. The Boers found that they could not obtain title to their farms. Settlers were flowing in from Portugal, and the authorities desired to allot to their fellow-countrymen some of the land which the Boers had won and cultivated. There were threats of compulsory naturalization and military service. The Boers, who had fought hard enough for their own free will, disliked the idea of conscription. The Afrikans language was discouraged, and children of the white settlers had to sit next to native children in school.

It became plain to the Boers that they were not wanted in the land they had conquered, and recently delegates were sent back to the Union to see Gen. Hertzog, the Prime Minister. They asked for land in the former German territory of Southwest Africa and a grant of money to help them start life afresh. The trekgeest spirit revived. They moved away from Humpata to the camp on the Kunene, awaiting permission to cross over into Southwest Africa.

When the matter was discussed in the Union Parliament, Gen. Smuts made a strong attack on the Portuguese Government. "I have always looked upon our friends in Angola as a guarantee that even there white civilization, as we understand it in the south, will be upheld," he declared. "The Boer people always have moved north. We have gone into the south again, and this would be the first occasion where we would have to admit defeat."

Gen. Smuts urged the Government to bring pressure to bear on the Portuguese and to secure fair treatment for the Boers. Some of the Dutch newspapers went farther, and suggested that an armed force from South Africa would be the better argument. There was universal sympathy with the heroic trekkers and their descendants.

But the Portuguese were unmoved. It became clear that the Boers would have to return to South African territory. The Union Government made a loan of £250,000 to the mandated territory of Southwest Africa, and arrangements are now being made to settle the Boers at Grootfontein, Gibeon and Gobabis. German settlers in Southwest Africa are resisting the threatened invasion by every means in their power, but their efforts will be in vain.

So the Angola trekkers turn their faces south again. They are travelling in small parties, for they have to cross the desert of Kaokoveld during the journey to their new homes. It will take eleven months before they have all left the Portuguese side of the Kunene river, for there are now 2,000 of them.

RECITAL WAS TRULY A MUSICAL TRIUMPH

"The night shall be filled with music and the cares that infest the day shall fold their tents like the Arabs and silently steal away."—Longfellow

One of the most unique entertainments that a Stratford audience has ever had the pleasure of listening to was that given in the St. John's United Church, under the auspices of the Choir, by Prof. W. F. Baird, L.I.S.M., and his daughter, Miss Catherine Baird, L.A.B., and Miss Eilleen Law, both of English stock, and so Napanee, England still claims them as her stalwart sons.

We look to religion I found a great tolerance. While the Church of England (Episcopal) is the established church in England, there is no attempt to coerce the people into that special fold. In fact, it is a hard thing to find an Englishman. They believe in free speech, fair play and in keeping an open mind toward a brighter day. I spoke before various clubs and societies in the principal cities of the kingdom, and in many every city clergymen attended and invited me to speak in their churches when I came again, not that they always kindly accepted what I had to say, but they felt there was a note of progress and of brotherhood which was praiseworthy and acceptable.

The following letter, received on the eve of my departure for America, from an Episcopal clergyman who had attended both my public lectures and registered classes, is typical of the general spirit in which our message was received by the established church :

"My dear brother : I am very sorry that I cannot be present at your farewell lectures in London on Monday and Tuesday of next week. I have a long-standing important engagement on Tuesday. I am so sorry also, that you and Mrs. Morgan and your son did not manage your proposed visit here. I should like to have heard you preaching in our two churches and I intended asking the neighboring clergy to an afternoon meeting. An address from yourself would have been intently listened to by a very sympathetic audience.

"We cannot thank you adequately for all you have said to us or been to us. You fire us with a desire to attain the highest. Yours ever and gratefully, B."

Surely the heart of humanity is one, and my visit to England has convinced me more and more that a mighty urge toward universal brotherhood and world unity stirs as deeply in the English heart as it does in the heart of our beloved America. I go home a better American for having contacted the great loving, tolerant, friendly Heart of England. And my own paraphrase of Kipling's verse :

"And there is no east
And there is no west
And there is no worth of birth,
For soul knows soul
And heart grasps heart,
Though we come from the ends of the earth"

seems more real to me now than when it was first written.

Each county, or province as it is termed in England, has a different atmosphere and a different accent as marked as that between New England and Carolina. But the English heart is one, as the American, and have found it brave, considerate, expectant and tolerant. In fact, England is incapable of a sustained hatred. It is seldom that you hear an unkind word of their late enemies, the Germans. And as for America, the attitude of England is almost paternal. A statue of George Washington stands in one of the public squares of London, and his daughter, Miss Catherine Baird, L.A.B., and Miss Eilleen Law, both of English stock, and so Napanee, England still claims them as her stalwart sons.

EMPLOYERS PLEASE NOTE.

Expert Medical Advice Helps to Increase Output.

A great factory got a collier's man at the head. He was lauched at for buying expert medical advice to help him increase his output. The expert reported that the girls in the packing department were doing their work in a series of four jerky movements of the arm. He asked for a training class to instruct workers to move their arms in one circular swing instead of four straight pushes. The output increased eighty-eight per cent.

Under a doctor's orders the great pottery got out the figures of its breakages. Forty per cent. were shown to be due to some direct cause; a girl had slipped, or some other unavoidable accident had occurred. Sixty per cent. were due to "causes unknown," until the doctor suggested that violent irritation was responsible for many "carelessness." The brain was taken off its job and slipped a peg, and in the seconds slip sixty per cent. of the breakages occurred. When the unconscious irritation—a vicious temperature or a bad night—was removed, thousands of dollars a year were saved.

WHEN COINS WEAR OUT.

Finger Passing Over a Coin Actually Reduces Weight of It.

It is surprising to know that a finger passing over a coin actually reduces the weight of it. A wonderful electrical instrument known as the induction balance proves this to be a fact. When coins rub against each other in people's pockets and purses, drop on a counter or on the ground, and so on, they really wear. If you "ring" a coin to test its genuineness, you remove some of the metal of which it is composed. The smaller the value of the coin, the greater the wear, as it is in use more constantly.

Experiments show that in a hundred years in the British Mint £100 worth of half crowns lose £12 11s. 8d. of their value, but the same sum in shillings would decrease in value by £36 14s. 1d., whereas sixpences to the value of £100 would be worth less than half what they were originally, losing metal to the value of £50 18s. 8d.

The loss in coinage value in Great Britain is estimated at £11,000 annually. When coins become very much worn, they are withdrawn from circulation.

They Mean "Good-Bye."

People who live in different countries and speak different languages have different ways of saying "Good-bye." In the Philippines, for instance, a man rubs his friend's face with his hand when he bids him farewell.

When you leave a Hindu he falls in the dust at your feet, while the Burmese bend low and say, "Hip, hip." South Sea Islanders rattle each other's whalebone necklaces.

The Othaheitoi Islander will twist the end of the departing guest's rope and then solemnly shake his own hand three times. The Japanese will take his slipper off as you depart, and say, with a smile, "You are going to leave my despicable house in your honorable journeyings—I regard thee."

The Sioux and the Blackfeet will dig their spears in the earth as a sign of confidence, while Fiji Islanders cross two red feathers.

On "Kitchen Club" Left.

Pratt's Club in Park Place, St. James', London, England, is the sole survivor of the old "kitchen clubs" that were so greatly favored by the "chucks" of the Regency days.

Anything more unlike a modern clubhouse eternally it would be impossible to conceive. The very name-plate on the door—the "knocking" worn as to be almost illegible — is eloquent of days long past.

So, too, internally! Furniture, fittings and service alike are Georgian; and, as of yore, suppers, mainly of toasted cheese and fried bacon, are still served in the basement kitchen, and washed down with beer out of the century-old pewter pots that stand in richly-dark rows on the antique oaken dresser.

Labrador Current Measured.

The Labrador current has an average width of 119 miles, the United States Coast and Geographic expedition on board the Government vessel Marion has discovered as a result of observations made on the first leg of its explorations of the birthplace of the icebergs.

Seven hundred icebergs were observed moving along the Labrador coast from Cape Chidley to Belle Isle," the expedition reported. Ocean conditions and a counter-current were found outside the continental edge. In spite of the many icebergs seen, there was no field ice.

Foot-Fins for Swimmers.

Foot-fins said to make progress through the water easier and faster may be used by future Channel-swimming aspirants.

They are fastened to the shoes, and when the swimmer draws up his legs in the first movement of the swimming stroke, the fins close and offer little resistance in passing through the water.

As he kicks to propel himself, they open and double the effectiveness of the stroke.

AN ANCIENT GUILD

The Worshipful Company of Grocers Started Humbly Many Centuries Ago as the Pepperers' Guild.

What is now the wealthy and influential Worshipful Company of Grocers started humbly many centuries ago as the Pepperers' Guild. Reference to the Guild and its work is to be found as far as 1345, so it is probably even older.

It was in 1345 that the Company of Pepperers agreed to found a fraternity "to the Honour of God and St. Anthony, the better to increase charity." Members had to be of "good love and loyal heart," and in proof thereof had an admission, to be shared by others of the fraternity.

Discipline was very strict. All had to attend church on St. Anthony's Day; it was compulsory to attend the funerals of deceased members; and the wardens had power to seize the goods of those who broke any ordinance. Later it became an obligation for each member to take his wife or companion to the annual feast. A curious feature was the admission of deceased persons to the fraternity!

Beyond dealing with such matters as apprenticeship, wages, and disputes, the fraternity exercised a rigid control over the quality of pepper and spices.

A few years later the fraternity became the "Grossers" of London, and extended its operations to other commodities—drugs, powders, and so on. It weighed and tested everything that came into the city. A "Garbeller," in fact, was the forerunner of to-day's Inspector of Foods and Drugs. The company's records tell of many fines and imprisonment for unjust weights, profiteering, and unclean or adulterated food.

It obtained its charter in 1428—500 years ago—but it is only due to a piece of great luck that the company exists to-day. The Great Fire destroyed its Hall and its city properties, and it was just struggling along when the Bank of England, established in 1694, seeking a place in which to do its business, hired the restored Grocers' Hall for eleven years for £5,000 and a loan of a similar amount. The bank rented the hall until 1734, by which time the company had re-established itself. To-day it has a revenue of about £40,000 yearly.

It would take many pages to record adequately the munificence, charitable and educational, of past and present members. One founded Rugby School, another Oundle, and others the schools at Sevenoaks, Guildford, Witney, and Colwell. Of gifts to hospitals the number is legion. "Not how much wealth they could make, but to what public end such wealth could be directed at their death," was the ideal of hundreds of "grocers."

To-day, changed circumstances have made the Worshipful Company give up its trade supervision, but it is still a power for food, extending its study in a thousand channels. The gift of £10,000 to Christ's Hospital is one instance of many.

Kings, statesmen, generals, and other great men have been honored by admission to the company—the Prince of Wales became a Freeman in 1229—and in all times of the nation's stress, for centuries, the Grocers' Company has responded nobly and without stint.

Unique is its "Grace" before its banquets: "God preserve the Church, the King, and the Worshipful Company of Grocers." And its toast is "The Church, the King, and the Grocers."

"Road Hogs" of Old.

There were road hogs before motorists. In Europe in the seventeenth century and for some time later the roads had only one width of good going, with a quagmire on either side. If two carriages met there would be a long wrangle and possibly a fight for the sound surface. Then there were the road hogs of the towns, fine gentlemen who cantered through the filthy streets, sending showers of mud over pedestrians or coachmen, who drove in the gutters with only a narrow path left for the outcry against the first "flying coaches" was as loud as that against motors.

Long Canal Tunnel.

Near Dudley, Worcestershire, is one of the longest canal tunnels in England. The bargemen, when entering the tunnel, lay down on the flat on their backs and propel the boat along by pushing the walls of the tunnel with their feet. The tunnel is so small, that this is the only means of getting the barge through.

To get from the entrance to the exit of this tunnel takes about four hours—four hours in total darkness! Needless to say, it is impossible for two barges to go through the tunnel together or pass one another, as it is only just large enough for one.

Another Lord Joins Wheat Pool.

Following the example of the Prince of Wales, Lord Rodney, who farms near Fort Saskatchewan, has signed an Alberta wheat pool contract. Lord and Lady Rodney came to Western Canada in 1918 and in the following year purchased a farm in the Fort Saskatchewan district which has since had expanded to one thousand acres. A third British peer who is a member of the Wheat Pool is the Duke of Sutherland, who operates a 7,000-acre farm in the Brooks district.

The Barber's Watch.

Why is a watch worn by a hairdresser called "fast" when others' downs "It is the little short bits of hair that do the damage," said my hairdresser one day. "The last time I sept mine to be repaired —after only six months' wear—scores of tiny bits of hair were found to have clogged the mechanism."

Cold Storage Warehouse.

Work has been commenced on the construction of a $2,000,000 cold storage warehouse at New Westminster, B.C.

In the case of the average healthy small boy, cleanliness is not next to godliness. It is next to impossible.

Reginald (anxiously)—"If we had never met, would you have loved me as much, dear?"

Rozalie (fervently)—"More, darling."

BOERS TREKKING SOUTH.

PORTUGUESE TREATED THEM BADLY.

Travelling In Small Parties, They Are Now Returning to the Land They Left Nearly Fifty Years Ago —Suffered Many Hard-hips.

South Africa was claimed for white civilization 100 years ago by the fearless "voortrekkers" who journeyed with their covered wagons and their cattle into the unknown territory to the north. The "Great Trek," as it was called, is being repeated to-day. A new and stirring episode is beginning, which will find a place in the South African history books of the future.

On the banks of the Kunene river, marking the border between the Protectorate of Southwest Africa and Portuguese Angola, 4,000 Boer men, women and children are preparing to return to the land of their forefathers. The story of their journey across the Kalahari desert to Angola nearly fifty years ago is one of the most tragic and one of the heroic pages of South Africa's adventurous past. Their return, after years of oppression at the hands of the Portuguese, is a dramatic sequel.

The spirit of the explorer — the "trekgeest," as it is termed in Afrikaans—was imbued in every Dutch-speaking South African. When the Transvaal had been conquered and a Boer republic formed, many of the restless settlers decided to move on. Some disliked the autocratic President of the time; others feared a British invasion of the new republic, says a writer in the New York Herald-Tribune.

So they set out—128 wagons, 2,000 head of cattle, 900 white men, women and children. The story of their sufferings during the journey across the desert reads like a nightmare.

But the Afrikander courage never failed these trekkers. Out of the desert came a few score of the fittest. Led by Commandant Koos Botha, a party of them marched up to the Portuguese fort at Huilla, while their wives waited within the laager formed by the tented wagons. The gate was thrown open and the governor came out and shook hands with the Boer leader. The Boers fired a round of blank cartridges, and with this little ceremony began an alliance between the two white races in the hinterland of Angola.

The Boers demanded freedom of religion, the right to defend themselves against hostile natives, a grant of land and the right to administer their own community in accordance with the laws of the country.

The Portuguese had done little to open up Angola, but with the arrival of the trekkers and other Boers who followed them a thousand miles from the port of Mossamedes.

As the country developed the Portuguese became less friendly towards the sturdy Boers, who had done so much for the territory. The Boers found that they could not obtain title to their farms. Settlers were flowing in from Portugal, and the authorities desired to allot to their fellow-countrymen some of the land which the Boers had won and cultivated. There were threats of compulsory naturalization and military service. The Boers, who had fought hard enough of their own free will, disliked the idea of conscription. The Afrikans language was discouraged, and children of the white settlers had to sit next to native children in school.

It became plain to the Boers that they were not wanted in the land they had conquered, and recently delegates were sent back to the Union to see Gen. Hertzog, the Prime Minister. They asked for land in the former German territory of Southwest Africa and a grant of money to help them start life afresh. The trekking spirit revived. They moved away from Humpata to the camp on the Kunene, awaiting permission to cross over into Southwest Africa.

When the matter was discussed in the Union Parliament, Gen. Smuts made a strong attack on the Portuguese Government. "I have always looked upon my friends in Angola as a guarantee that even there white civilization, as we understand it in the south, will be upheld," he declared. "The Boer people always have moved north. We have never come south again, and this would be the first occasion where we would have to admit defeat."

Gen. Smuts urged the Government to bring pressure to bear on the Portuguese and to secure fair treatment for the Boers. Some of the Dutch newspapers went farther, and suggested that an armed force from South Africa would be the better argument. There was universal sympathy with the heroic trekkers and their descendants.

But the Portuguese were unmoved. It became clear that the Boers would have to return to South African territory. The Union Government made a loan of £350,000 to the mandated territory of Southwest Africa, and arrangements are now being made to settle the Boers at Grootfontein, Gibeon and Golabis. THE HEART OF ENGLAND

The following is an open letter published in the "Master's Voice," of which Rev. E. V. Morgan is editor. Mr. Morgan has lately returned from a lecturing trip to the British Isles, and now being able to personally write to each of his friends and admirers, both here and in the old country, decided to write an open letter for his magazine. Mr. Morgan was not privileged to make a proposed visit to Scotland, Ireland and sister, Mrs. Chas. Walrath, of Roblin, on his return from abroad as his church in Nanaimo, B.C., was urging his return.

"On the eighteenth of May, when the steamship Majestic docked at Southampton, a radiant English face smiled greeting, and a booming voice thundered: 'Welcome to the Heart of England.'"

It was a prophetic utterance. Again I am on the Majestic, sailing homeward, after three memorable months in which I have travelled from town to town, from north to south, lecturing to crowded houses in most of the principal cities of what the English love to call "our tight little Island". And everywhere from working class to titled society has come the same hearty "welcome to the heart of England".

I had been told that I would find the English people cold and unresponsive. On the contrary I found them radiant with friendship, glorious in generosity, warm with love. I had also been told that the English people had no sense of humor. I can truthfully say that never have I found a quicker perception, a keener appreciation or a heartier response to that sense of humor, which many of my American friends think God has been given to me in a superabundance, than I found in England.

Only on one occasion did I consciously seek to suppress my natural tendency to laughter while speaking, and that was when I accepted an invitation to speak from the pulpit of the Church of England. Afterwards when the rector of the church heard me on my own platform, he said: "When you come to our church again, and we all want you to come as soon as possible, we want you to be perfectly natural. For does not the Bible say: 'He who sits upon the throne shall laugh'."

One thing stands out pre-eminently in my memory of England, and that is from hamlet to mansion the English are English. Emerson said he found England in no single Englishman, while I found nothing less than England in every Englishman. Everywhere and in every person I found that love for the very soil, that deep-seated belief amounting to an inner conviction, that a Power more than human watches over the destiny of England and safeguards her existence.

And the beauty of England. Who can describe it? My first letter home spoke of "beautiful England, merry England, roomy England, fragrant England." I had just been driven over the country lanes through New King's Forest, riotous with fragrance and laden blossom. Even the hawthorne breathes an almost overpowering perfume. The very birds seem to be inspired by it and in liquid notes chant its glory to the stars.

But what surprised me most was the roominess of England. I had expected to find a close, compact and intensively cultivated. On the contrary it seemed like a huge well-cared for park with an abundance of shade trees in the midst of small, well-hedged fields, where gentle sheep and quiet-eyed cattle feed with the same placid ease that characterizes all that is English. Everywhere the roads wind and wind, much to the annoyance of speeding motorists, giving a surprise to all whose eyes are trained to beauty.

It is a land of many memories. It has an atmosphere of endurance. We travelled through a thousand years that seem to be alive in to-day. One may sit in the same chairs in which Johnson and Dickens sat, visit the house where Shakespeare courted Ann Hathaway, and get acorns from the Major Oak under which once sat Robin Hood and his band. Yesterday and to-day blend so completely that we can easily understand how a thousand years are but as a day in God's sight.

Each county, or province as it is called in England, has a different atmosphere and a different accent as marked as that between New England and Carolina. But the English heart is one, as the American, and I have found it brave, considerate, courteous, kind and tolerant. In fact, England seems incapable of a sustained hatred. She seldom finds a lasting or unkind word of their late enemies, the Germans. And as for America, the best-loved foreigner is Abraham Lincoln. A statue of George Washington stands in one of the public squares, and facing Westminster Abbey is one of Lincoln. Washington and Lincoln are both of English stock, and so Mother England still claims them as her stalwart sons.

In regard to religion I found a great tolerance. While the Church of England, Episcopal as it is the established church, there seems to be no tendency to coerce the people into that special fold. In fact, it is a hard thing to coerce the English mind. They believe in free speech, fair play and in keeping an open mind towards a better to-morrow. I lectured before various clubs and societies in fifteen of the principal cities, and the audiences and in nearly every city clergymen attended and invited me to speak in their churches. I found generally, that they always fully accepted what I had to say, but they felt there was a place of progress and a broadening out which was praiseworthy and acceptable.

The following letter, received on the eve of my departure for America, from an Episcopal clergyman who had attended both my public lectures, and registered classes, is typical of the general spirit in which our message was received by the established church:

"My dear brother: I am very sorry that I cannot be present at your farewell lectures in London on Monday and Tuesday of next week as I have a long-standing, important engagement on Tuesday. I am so sorry also, that you and Mrs. Morgan and your son, did not manage your proposed visit here. I should like to have heard you preaching in our two churches and I intended asking the neighboring clergy to an afternoon meeting. An address from yourself would have been intently listened to by a very sympathetic audience.

"We cannot thank you adequately for all you have said to us or been to us. You fire us with a desire to attain the highest. Yours ever and gratefully, B."

Surely the heart of humanity is one, and my visit to England has convinced me more and more that a mighty urge toward universal brotherhood and world unity stirs as deeply in the English heart as it does in the heart of our beloved America. I go home a better American for having contracted the great loving, tolerant, friendly Heart of England. And my own paraphrase of Kipling's verse:

"And there is no east
And there is no west,
And there is no worth of birth,
For soul knows soul
And heart grasps heart,
Though we come from the ends of the earth"

seems more real to me now than when it was first written.

Banking and Profit

Wherever goods are bought and sold, Banking has a service to render—a service which simplifies transactions and renders them more profitable. RECITAL WAS TRULY A MUSICAL TRIUMPH

The night shall be filled with music and the cares that infest the day shall fold their tents like the Arabs and silently steal away."—Longfellow.

One of the most unique entertainments that a Stratford audience has ever had the pleasure of listening to was that given in the St. John's United Church, under the auspices of the Choir, by Prof. W. T. Baird, L.I.S.M., and his daughter, Miss Catherine Baird, L.A.B., and Miss Eilleen Law, soloist of the Eaton Memorial Church, Toronto.

The warmth and enthusiastic applause of those present must have meant much to the artists. The charm of music was truly experienced by the goodly sized audience of music lovers, which were held enrapt during every number on the program.

The evening was truly filled with music.

At this delightful Recital the words of the poet Longfellow were made realistic.

Miss Catherine Baird, the charming and unsophisticated young daughter of Prof. Baird made her first public appearance in Stratford. Not only because of her marvelous performance on the piano for such a young girl did she win her audience, but her unassuming and naturalness of manner happily blended with her talent, there not being the slightest hint or consciousness of her ability. It is not hard to predict for this brilliant young pianiste a recognition in the musical world which she has not yet dreamed of.

An Innovation on the program was the Corferio Gregoriano to piano and organ. The fine organ tone sang to the touch of a master and the —Prof. W. T. Baird—the organist and leader of the Church Choir in a variety of tonal effect and intricacies of movement was so cleverly executed. At times it was as the babble of the brook and as grand and majestic.

Miss Eilleen Law, the contralto artist, is the possessor of rich and beautiful cultivated voice, which one would desire listening to having a clearness and beauty of tone that is most pleasing.

Altogether it can be said that the Recital was a musical triumph. In view of the fact that a good attendance would have been pleasing had the weather been more favorable, a repetition of the program should bring a packed house.—Mirror", Stratford.

THE RABBITS REPLY

To the statement that the size of golf ball is to be increased in order to hamper the long drivers.

This alteration they propose
It does not frighten me.
It will not swell the rabbit's woe
But shit suits me.
In this direction, after all,
I don't care what they do
For he who hits it little ball
Can hit a large one, too.

Now brighter is the golfing scene
For what I say is this—
The larger ball must surely mean
The harder ball to miss.
And I could wish this never end
With largeness for its aim
Would spread abroad and permeate
All aspects of the game.

I'd like some larger clubs I wot
With bigger, fatter heads—
Those ought to do the rabbit good
And cure the miss he dreads.
And it's O for the days when I
With a club that hits 'em clean
And the ball one buys is of such size
And the hole is as big as one of these

WISE AND OTHERWISE

A Defendant in an assault case at Reading: My father-in-law thinks he is the only man who has been in the army. On Friday evening when he has drawn his money he is always drilling everybody at home and riding a horse.

An Oil That Is Famous.—Though Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, it is the home of that famous compound. From here its good name was spread to Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far afield enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

A German boy defined "nothing" as "an air balloon without its cover". "Mustard", said a youngster, "is what keeps a hot dog from tasting good when you don't put any fin."

"What are the functions of the skin?" asked an English school teacher.

"To prevent us from looking raw," one boy answered.

First Little Girl: "What's etiquette, Lily?"

Second Ditto—"Oh, that's the noise you mustn't swallow your tea with when there's company."

Requisite on the Farm.—Every farmer and stock raiser should keep a supply of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil on hand, not only as a ready remedy for all ills in the family, but because it is a horse and cattle medicine of great potency. As a substitute for sweet oil for horses and cattle affected by colic it far surpasses anything that can be administered.

"Hush," whispered Mrs. O'Rafferty suddenly, as she sat up in bed. "Hush! I hear a burglar downstairs, Pat.

Pat trembled from head to foot, but he was a quick thinker. "I'll go straight down now, Bridget," he said. "It's probably the girl thief who has been robbing houses about here this past week or two. A sweet looking little thing she is, and she always kisses her way out of trouble when she gets caught, I'll teach her!"

"No you don't," hurriedly exclaimed Bridget. "You stay here. If there's any teaching to be done, I'll do it."

Pat stayed.

Worms cause fretfulness and rob the infant of sleep, the great nourisher. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will clear the stomach and intestines and restore healthfulness.

An Aberdonian observed a bottle of whisky in a shop window priced at a half-penny. He went into the premises and asked for the bottle, tabling a halfpenny. The proprietor said that the card beside the bottle had fallen from another article, and that the price of the whisky was 12s. 6d.

The customer, however, called a policeman, and the officer agreed that if the whisky was iced at a half-penny the man was entitled to it.

He got the whisky for the half-penny, and when walking out of the shop with the spirit the officer said: "That's an awful carry-on to make over a bottle of whisky."

The Aberdonian's smiling reply was, "That's naething tae what it'll be when Ah bring back the empty bottle for tuppence."

No surgical operation is necessary in removing corns if Holloway's Corn Remover be used.

"I want some golf balls for a gentleman, please."

"Certainly, madam. What sort does he like?"

"Well, the only time I saw him play he used a small white ball. But I cannot say I gathered the impression that he exactly liked it."

Miller's Worm Powders can do no injury to the most delicate child. Any child, or infant in the state of adolescence, who is infested with worms can take this preparation without a qualm of the stomach, and will find in it a sure relief and a full protection from these destructive pests, which are responsible for much sickness and great suffering to legions of little ones.

"I notice that the humorists have been picking on the mosquito a good deal lately," writes J. R. M. "But I can assure them that the mosquito has his good points. He's a hospitable chap; he'll give you a bite and a swell time afterwards."

Praises This Asthma Remedy. A grateful user of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy finds it the only remedy that will give relief, though for thirteen years he had sought other help. Years of needless suffering may be prevented by using this wonderful remedy at the first warning of trouble. Its use is simple, its cost is slight, and it can be purchased almost anywhere.

A rising young artist was showing a critic through his studio. "This picture," he said, stopping in front of one of his early efforts, "is one I had painted to keep the wolf from the door."

"Indeed!" replied the critic. "Then why don't you hang it on the door-knob, where the wolf can see it?"

GOLDEN WEDDING

A very happy event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Paul, of Govan, Ontario, on Sept. 26th, when Mr. Paul's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Paul, of Victoria, B.C., celebrated their golden wedding.

A goodly number of close friends and relatives were present, including Mrs. C. E. Clarke and Mrs. Vanderburgh of the bridegroom. The table of beautiful gifts testified to the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Paul are held.

The rooms were decorated with asters and sweet peas. A very dainty lunch was served by the hostess and her daughters, Reberta and Louise. A short programme, consisting of speeches by the older guests was given, Mr. Paul, Sr., replying to the toast to the bridegroom in his happy manner. Instrumental and vocal solos by Mrs. Gordon Clancy and Mrs. Robt. Young, were much appreciated. During the afternoon a telegram of congratulations was read from a son, Dr. Norman Paul, of Squamish, B.C.

In 1878 Mr. and Mrs. Paul were married at Dresden, Ont., making their home at Moscow, Ont., where they farmed successfully for twenty years. Coming west they lived at Melita, Man., for five years, moving to Govan, where they helped build the first church. The last nine years Victoria has been their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul are staunch supporters of the United Church.

They have four children, Mrs. Crerar, Winnipeg; Dr. Norman, of British Columbia; Morley, of Semans, and Wilbur, at whose home the gathering was held.

Their many friends join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Paul continued health and happiness for the coming years.

Among the guests were Mrs. E. Clancy, Vancouver; Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Clancy, Semans; Mrs. J. P. I. Clancy, Semans; Mrs. Shier, Lethbridge, Ont.; Mrs. Fred Connor, Mr. Graydon and Miss Aileen Connor, Winnipeg; Mr. Connor, Sr., Govan; Rev. Robt. and Mrs. Young, Govan; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Paul, Govan; Mrs. E. Wilkinson, Moose Jaw; Dr. and Mrs. Wilkinson, Govan; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Paul, Govan; Mrs. Levi Hampton, Govan; W. R. Farnsher, M.P., and Mrs. Farnsher, Govan; Mrs. Neely, Govan; Mrs. J. G. Carr; Mrs. R. J. Carr, Govan; Mr. and Mrs. Morley Paul, Semans.

KEEPING THE SABBATH.

Owner of Restaurant In Palestine Fined for Doing Business.

The judicial committee of the Privy Council is to be called upon to deal with a novel problem—that of the right of a Jewish municipality in Palestine to insist on the closing of Jewish shops in the municipal area on the Sabbath. The question arises out of a Sabbath-closing bylaw made by the town council of Tel-Aviv—a Jewish town of some 25,000 inhabitants in the neighborhood of Jaffa. This bylaw was disregarded by a Jewish restaurant proprietor. He was brought before the municipal court and fined.

The defendant appealed to the district court of Jaffa, which gave judgment to the effect that the bylaw was invalid. The case was then taken up by the Government of Palestine, which appealed to the High Court in Jerusalem. The High Court gave judgment against the Government, affirming the decision of the courts below. It is now announced that in view of the importance of the issues involved the municipality of Tel-Aviv, presumably with the approval of the Government, has decided to take the matter to the judicial committee of the Privy Council.

The validity of the bylaw turns on the interpretation of article 15 of the Palestine mandate, which provides that "no discrimination of any kind shall be made between the inhabitants of Palestine on the ground of race, religion or language." It was argued against the Sabbath observance bylaw that it violated the mandate inasmuch as it applied only to Jewish shopkeepers, others being exempted from its provisions. To this it is replied that the bylaw is in harmony with the intentions of another article of the mandate, which expressly lays it down that "the administration of Palestine shall recognize the holy days of the respective communities in Palestine as legal days of rest for the members of such communities." It is also contended that the Tel-Aviv town council, or any other municipal body, is reasonably entitled to make bylaws dealing with Sabbath observance, and that it cannot be said that there is any discrimination against Jews if they are required to close their shops on Saturday in a municipal area which is predominantly Jewish.

The situation which has arisen at Tel-Aviv is, in fact, the converse of that which commonly arises in other countries in which the Jewish minority claims, and often obtains, exemption from Sunday closing laws on the ground that it is required by its religion to desist from business on Saturday, and ought not to be penalized by being compelled to observe Sunday as well.

WORSHIPPED SINCE 1784.

Mohawk Indians Made Altar of Their Canoes.

Tyendinaga Indian Reserve, near Deseronto, Ont., has had Christian worship since the year 1784, when a band of Mohawk Indians, like their white brethren in showing loyalty to the British Crown, left their home in New York State, where they fought against the forces of George Washington, and followed the United Empire Loyalists, who came across to Upper Canada, writes G.H.W. in the Toronto Globe. It is recorded that their landing on the shores of the Bay of Quinte was made on a Sunday morning and that they brought their canoes ashore, piled them in the form of an altar and held a service of thanksgiving. There was no clergyman with them, but Dr. John Stuart (a forebear of Sir Campbell Stuart of the London Times), who accompanied the first party of United Empire Loyalists to Kingston shortly before, visited them. The doctor had ministered to these Mohawks in New York State. With Chief Brant, Dr. Stuart translated parts of the Bible and the English Church Prayer Book into the Mohawk language for their benefit.

The very first year of their arrival the Indians erected a place of worship, and they have never been without a church building since. Now they have two edifices built of stone. Christ Church is a particularly fine-looking building with Gothic tower, and in it is the famous Queen Anne communion service, which is used on special occasions and guarded very carefully. This communion service was buried for four years during the American Revolutionary War. The Mohawks brought it with them when they left New York State for Upper Canada. The Mohawk language was used in the Tyendinaga Reserve church service until the year 1890 or thereabouts.

CANADIAN PORCUPINE

INOFFENSIVE BUT MISCHIEVOUS ANIMAL

He Is the Only Animal That a Man Lost in the Woods Without Fire-arms Can Kill—Flesh Resembles Pork.

I wonder how many readers of this paper would care to exchange their Christmas turkey for a well-stuffed roasted porcupine, asks G. W. Bartlett, former Superintendent of Algonquin National Park, in the Montreal Family Herald and Weekly Star. I venture to say not one, and yet he makes a most excellent dish, even for Christmas. The flesh is white, somewhat resembling our pork. In fact he got his name from the French 'pore-epie" or spiny pig. They are a large family, divided into two classes, the ground dwellers and tree climbers. The former are in South America, though not, the Canadian Erethizon dorsatus, spends a great deal of its time in trees.

It is strictly a vegetarian and does not hibernate as many suppose. Although stoutly denned, it comes out for food and on a bright winter's day can be seen sunning itself up in the top branches of a maple or hemlock tree. If you find him so, you will note all the smaller branches of the maple have been stripped of bark to satisfy his appetite. He is fond of the finer twigs of hemlock.

Recently there has been introduced into the Riverdale Zoo, Toronto, a fine specimen from South Africa "Hystrix Africea-Australis" or Crested porcupine. These are the largest members of the porcupine family. In India they have the Hairy-nosed porcupine, another member of the Created variety.

The Canadian species differs from the others in that their body is covered with long hairs, almost hiding the spines or quills, especially in winter. They have four anterior and five posterior toes and a short stump tail. Many people suppose they can throw their quills, but that is not the case. They must come in contact with something before they leave the body. They are barbed pointed, also barbed so they enter anything they come in contact with, and if it is soft, continue to work their way inward.

While Mr. Porcupine is in some respects a valuable and inoffensive animal he too is a mischievous rascal. I remember on one of my winter trips reaching a shelter house that had not been occupied for some time we found a family of porcupines had taken possession of it, cutting a hole through the door. They too had cut a hole through the floor, chewed up the window sill and frame and the legs of the table.

They have very strong jaws and teeth. Our rangers had always to be sure to put their canoes in safety when leaving them for a few days trip inland, or the porcupines would cut the thwarts and gunwales. They are fond of anything that has a salty taste, especially the paddle handles where they have been much handled by men. Apart from this fact and also that they destroy many trees by eating the bark, they are inoffensive, never seeking a quarrel. Indeed, with the exception of the fisher, few animals care to attack them.

The fisher, owing to the fact that under its skin there is a double membrane, can with impunity kill them. They form a part of their food. The barbed quills or spikes of the porcupine, after penetrating the first membrane of the fisher, turn at the second and lodge harmlessly between them. While with the dog and other such animals that are tempted to attack, they penetrate into the body, often causing death.

But now about his good side. His flesh is excellent meat. He is the only animal that a man lost in the woods, without firearms, can kill. It has been the salvation of many a one in such a strait. A few years ago I was asked to contribute a dish to the Sportsmen's dinner at New York and I sent them a barrel of porcupine. It was declared by one and all to be one of the finest dishes there. They had become so numerous in one section that I found it advisable to thin them out—hence this choice of dishes. They are generally speaking silent wanderers, but I remember on one occasion we were up on the side of a steep cliff taking specimen for some rare fems when we heard the most pitiful cries down below.

My companion said "That must be some animal in great pain," so we hurried down to investigate and there found a big porky quite comfortably sunning itself, at the same time giving forth the sorrowful cries we heard. I thought of my friend Dr. Long and his book on "how animals talk," in which he shows that all sounds emitted by any of the denizens of the forest convey some meaning. I wished he were there to see what construction he would put on this mournful song.

We left him to continue his song or cry whichever it was, deciding that if this was the song of the porky when he was happy and contented, we wouldn't want one as a neighbor.

I remember when a lad at school in England I was given a pen-holder made from one of the quills of the Crested porcupine and valued it very much. The quills of our species are used extensively by our Indians to decorate moccasins, birch boxes, baskets, etc. Some handsome work is done with them.

Although much smaller than those of the Crested variety, this porcupine is sometimes much abused by people when the veranda floors of their summer cottages disfigured by them.

But taking into consideration his peaceful nature and his food value for in some countries he is very much valued on that account, they should not feel that they owe him a grudge. When met with in the woods he should be allowed to go his way unmolested.

How to Reduce Varicose Veins

Rub Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first-class drug store and apply it night and morning as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil is a harmless, yet most powerful germicide and two ounces last a very long time. Indeed, so powerful is Emerald Oil that old chronic sores and ulcers are often entirely healed and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Wallace's Drug Store sells lots of it.

OBITUARY

Thomas Edgar

The many friends of Thomas Edgar, of Selby, will learn with surprise and regret of his death in Kingston hospital on Friday, September 28th, 1928, after an operation and illness of less than two weeks. Mr. Edgar was a son of the late William and Jessie Edgar, of the Township of Camden, and one in a family of six children—four girls and two boys; the only surviving member being Mrs. Robt. Dougan, of Newburgh, to whom we extend our sympathy. The other three sisters, Mrs. W. T. Reid, Mrs. Ingram and Mrs. A. D. Spencer, all of Manitoba, and one brother, Robert, of Camden, having predeceased him by several years. The past twenty years of Mr. Edgar's life have been spent in the Village of Selby, where he made many warm friends, not only with those of riper years, but also the children for whom he always had a smile and pleasant word. The funeral service was held in St. John's Church, conducted by Rev. Mr. Dumbrille, when the same friends, relatives, and pall bearers were present, and the same hymns sung just as had brought the same congregation together two weeks previous to pay their last respects to his beloved wife, the late Mrs. Thomas Edgar. Interment took place in Riverview cemetery.

Martha Wells, eldest daughter of Allen and Roxana Wells, was born in Richmond, Ont., Dec. 16th, 1843, and was married in 1870 to John C. Bowen. During a part of her life she professed to have a clear religious experience, but even if she did not at all times keep a clear experience, she lived so consistant a life as to put to shame many a professor of holiness. A few weeks before she died she renewed her covenant with God. A little later she selected the hymn, "Out of Darkness Into Light", as one of the hymns to be sung at her funeral. The sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Bowen, of the Holiness Movement. She was buried at New Dublin on Oct. 2nd, 1928, to await the resurrection of the just. During the past twenty-one years of her life she made her home with her youngest son, Fred, and died at his home at Fairfield East, near Brockville.

VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES

Miss Alice Hanrahan, of Dublin, Ireland, who with Miss Aileen Mooney, has been making a visit to Canada for the purpose of studying the system of public health nursing, under the Rockefeller Foundation Fellowship, spent the past week in Napanee, as the guest of our own V. O. nurse, Miss Lillian Lauder. Miss Hanrahan was deeply interested in the V. O. N. work here, particularly the school work, and was enthusiastic in her praise of Miss Lauder's methods.

On Sunday, Miss Mooney, who is a Sister Queen's Jubilee nurse from Dublin, was also a visitor in Napanee, and both young ladies were delighted with the pretty little town, and the kindly hospitality extended to them while in Napanee. They left this week for the United States to continue their studies there.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCTOBER 7th TO 13th.

FIGHT FIRES BEFORE THEY START

There is no problem that is of more importance to the Canadian people at this time than the one which has been created by our extremely heavy fire loss. Thousands of persons are injured, millions of dollars' worth of property values are being consumed by fire each year in Canada, largely through carelessness and thoughtlessness on the part of the public about fire hazards that have no reason to exist, and are directly responsible for at least three-fourths of the fires that take place.

Not yet has the public fully realized that the fire insurance companies do not pay the losses. Charges for insurance rates do not spring from carelessness. Every time there is a fire everyone must pay. The fire insurance companies are merely collectors and distributors of the premiums that they receive for insurance, the cost of which is added to the price of all articles of trade, and whenever we make a purchase we contribute our share of the fire tax.

By no process of reasoning can Canada's fire waste be justified. It is the common hazards that keep the fire department busy.

Defective chimneys and flues are responsible for a large share of our annual fire bill, yet it doesn't require much time nor involve a great deal of expense to see that they are in good repair, and furthermore, it may cost the savings of a lifetime if you fail to perform this bounden duty.

The careless smoker is being charged with millions of dollars of our yearly wastage by fire, and we find that stoves, furnaces and boilers unsafely installed, spontaneous ignition, electricity, and sparks on wooden roofs also are among the chief offenders in carrying our fire losses to such tremendous proportions.

The policy of "I'll attend to the trash the grass, and the weeds tomorrow" has been responsible for the brewers being lighted up by fires, not only thousands but tens of thousands of times.

There is no poetry in fire that destroys. There is no warmth of good cheer in a blazing house. Cry misery and want and woe can echo when homes destroyed, from business houses wrecked, from savings that vanish by way of the fire route.

When properly curbed and circumscribed a cheering fire is a thing that makes a most excellent servant, contributing greatly to the comfort of home. But to keep fire a servant, requires constant and unceasing vigil.

Why not fight fires before they start? Why not to conduct your habits and so keep your premises that when the fire demon wants to pay you a visit he will have to pass you by. Too often those who suffer from fire cry out that they are the victims of bad luck, when the fact is they are but paying the natural penalty for their own carelessness.

Do away with your fire hazards. Stop inviting disaster. If your neighbor is indifferent, remind him that should he be visited by fire you will have to assist in paying him what he loses and that he may burn you out besides.

Be a fire fighter. You don't have to wear a uniform and live at the fire station. The most successful fire fighters today are those who prevent fires.

See that your stoveppes and chimneys are cleaned and get rid of all rubbish.

Men! If you use a Gillette Razor, here is your chance! A 50c. package Gillette Blades and a 39c. tube Klenzo Shaving Cream, both for 59c.! Buy them and put away for future use, if you don't need them just now! Wallace's, headquarters for shaving supplies.

BATH INSTITUTE

The monthly meeting of Bath Institute met in the home of Mrs. Wemp, on Monday afternoon. The presiding officers were in their chairs, and thirteen members were present. After the usual opening and old business was dealt with, it was thought advisable to change the day for the meetings from Monday to Wednesday, as Wednesday is not a half holiday in the village now. Plans were made, committees formed, etc., to arrange for a Hallowe'en masquerade to be held in the Masonic Hall, on Nov. 2nd. A good sociable time will be given, ending with the "rumptuous plate". The black cats and the goblins are going to perform. Mrs. R. J. Galt gave her good essay paper of Current Events. Mrs. (Dr.) Northmore gave a goodly talk on Dahlias and their culture. She informed us of the beauty and extensive growth of blooms of the dahlia and the proper care which varies from other plants in general. Then Mrs. Homer Collins gave a demonstration and talk on making pretty, useful Christmas gifts, showing how an active pair of hands can gladden the hearts of their friends at a little expense by making and giving their own hand work. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered these ladies for their interesting talks.

The November meeting will be held in the Town Hall, on Wednesday, the 14th. The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Presentation and Address

On Friday evening, the 12th October, the Sunday School class of the Salvation Army met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hartwick, Dundas St., with Mrs. Wakelin the teacher, and presented their granddaughter, Dorothy Scott, with the following address:

Dear Dorothy,—We, your friends and playmates for the past eighteen months, have met here to-night to spend a social evening with you before your departure to your new home in the West. We need not say how sorry we all are to lose you, especially under the sad circumstances in which you are going, and we hope in the future you will remember your friends and playmates at Napanee. We will always remember you, with our teacher of the "class in the Sunday School. We have a warm spot in our hearts for you, and you will be missed in the class. As a token of our love for you, we ask you to accept this Bible from our teacher, Mrs. Wakelin, and the girls of our class. We hope that in years to come as you grow up, and as we who you leave behind grow up, we may all strive to love and serve God to the best of our ability. We shall all be glad to see you again if it be possible. Ensign Tucker and Lieut. Payne join us in wishing you God's blessing. May God bless you much.

Signed on behalf of the Class,

MRS. WM. WAKELIN.

After refreshments, with ice cream, had been served, the happy children closed the evening by singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again".

Parker's and Waterman's Fountain Pens—a very complete assortment, at Wallace's.

WALTER McRAYE ON CANADIAN LITERATURE

On Tuesday evening in the Assembly Room of the Collegiate Institute, Walter McRaye gave an address on Canadian Literature. Mr. McRaye is an enthusiast in his chosen field and has the faculty of making his audience enthuse with him.

His lecture was divided into three parts. In the first he gave a history of Canadian Literature from the earliest times right down to our own day. He pointed out the effect under which Canada labors because she is a neighbor to a popular and wealthy nation. The United States attracts our writers, and floods our markets with her magazines, and because of the great circulation and wealth behind them they attract the Canadian reader, while our native poets and writers, either labor on scarcely recognized or finally succumb to the tempting offers from the nation to the South.

The lecturer urged his audience to throw their influence behind their own writers, and their own literature.

In the second part of the lecture Mr. McRaye described some of the more recent poets and writers who have made a name for themselves and for Canada. Miss Carmen, Charles G. D. Roberts, Canon Frederick Geo. Scott, Pauline Johnson, Wilfred Campbell, Marjorie Pickthall, Wilson Macdonald and others. He illustrated the diversity and charm of their writings by quoting them.

The third part consisted in further quotation. Those from Drummond were particularly effective, while the little one from Wilson Macdonald was done with great appreciation and charm.

The lecture was of a quality not often surpassed, not only instructing the audience in a field of literature too often neglected, but by interesting and entertaining them with his unique literary appreciation and dramatic presentation of some choice selections.

Between the selections the audience listened to solos by Mr. R. Wiseman, Mrs. Eppiett and Mr. Waite.

The I. O. D. E., under whose auspices the meeting was held, are to be congratulated on the privilege they gave Napanee citizens of hearing Mr. McRaye.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY AND RURI-DECANAL CHAPTER

The combined annual meetings of the Woman's Auxiliary and the Rural-decanal Chapter of the Deanery of Lennox and Addington were held at Sandhurst, in the Parish of Adolphustown, on Tuesday, October 9th, beginning with a Celebration of the Holy Communion in St. Paul's Church, at 10.30 a.m., Rural Dean Radcliffe, Celebrant, assisted by the Rector, Rev. Arthur Strother, and Rev. R. J. Dumbrille, Vicar of Napanee. There were 137 communicants. Rev. T. Leech, M.A., Rector of Amherst Island, preached an eloquent sermon. Other Clergymen present were Revds. W. G. Swayne, Bath; Herbert Pringle, Tyendinaga; and W. J. Morgan, Tamworth. The Choir and Mrs. Sills, the organist, rendered a good musical service. After the service the women of Sandhurst served a splendid dinner in the Parish Hall, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

At 2 o'clock the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Radcliffe, the Secretary. The Diocesan officers present from Kingston were Mrs. C. C. Abbott, 1st Vice President; Miss Louise Kirkpatrick, Educational Secretary; Miss VanStrawbenzie, Secretary for Girls and Candidates, and Mrs. H. P. Lowe, Literature Secretary.

The address of welcome was read by Mrs. Strother, the Rector's wife, and responded to by Mrs. Abbott, of Tamworth. A large number of W. A. women answered the roll call, and interesting reports were read from each Branch. The newly organized Mohawk Branch, Senior and Junior, were well represented, and the report of the Secretary, Mrs. Brant, written in poetry, was most enthusiastically received. Miss VanStrawbenzie gave a most inspiring address on the Diocesan motto: "She hath done what she could". Mrs. Abbott and Miss Lowe gave helpful suggestions in organization and mission study. Mrs. Radcliffe was re-elected Deanery Secretary.

Mrs. Dumbrille invited the delegates to hold the next W. A. Deanery meeting at Napanee.

The Rector being absent from the Hall, the meeting closed with the Benediction by the Rev. W. G. Swayne.

After tea, all the delegates went home delighted with their reception by the Sandhurst ladies.

Howard's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is a splendid builder. It fortifies the system, preventing serious chest colds. Comfortable giving it to the children now. Fresh each week at Wallace's. Sold in 35c., 60c., and $1.00 bottles.

CAMDEN EAST

The old adage has it: "East, west; home is best."—Mr. Henry Hartpick has injured at the mill some time ago, is improving, and able to walk around again.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY AND RURI-DECANAL CHAPTER

The Continuation and Public School staff held their annual Sports Day last Wednesday afternoon. The weather was ideal, and many took advantage of attending. The various sports indulged in were very entertaining. The running and jumping contests in different classes proved that the athletic training of the pupils was under good instructors. A softball game brought the afternoon's amusements to a close, and all parents had good reason to be proud of their children and their teachers.—Charlie Watts, Rochester, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Geo. Watts, and sister, Mrs. H. J. Smith.—Charlie Hamm, Barrister and Solicitor, Toronto, motored down for the Queen's and Varsity game, and spent a couple of days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hamm.—Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Graham and daughter, Miss Jean Sproule, spent the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Sproule. — Miss Geraldine Johnson, of Kepler, spent a few days the guest of Mrs. Wm. Toles.—Percy Clark, Oshawa, is holidaying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Clark.—Mrs. John Mancur returned last Wednesday from spending the month with her brother, Mr. Archibald Babcock, Manotick. — Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Macdonald have returned from spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, Lynn.—Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Kribs and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Topliff spent Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joyce and sisters, Sydenham.—There was an error in the personals of last week. It should have been Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mohan, Watertown, who were visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mohan.—Mrs. Ezra household goods of Mrs. M. F. Schermerhorn was well attended. The Sharpton rural mail route has been cared for by the Schermerhorn family for years, but all are leaving now to make their home in Toronto. The Misses Kathleen and Ethel and Sandford were down to assist their mother and to accompany her and her son, Roy, to their new home. All left by motor Thursday morning. The dwelling was purchased by Edward Marelli, Florida.—William Prink has taken the responsibility of the Sharpton mail delivery.—The funeral of the late William C. Jenkins, Kingston, who passed away at the home of his brother-in-law, H. J. Smith, was held Saturday afternoon, from the Smith residence, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The casket was banked with beautiful floral offerings, showing the esteem in which he was held. The service was in charge of Rev. Mr. Brown, Pastor of the Sydenham St. Church. Kingston, assisted by Rev. Geo. McQuade. Interment took place in the family plot at Wilton. Among the out-of-town relatives who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burgess, Syracuse; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Burgess, and Edward Shorey, Belleville; Miss Shorey, Newburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. John Storms, Sydenham. Much sympathy is being offered the widow in her sad bereavement.—Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Young have recently returned from attending the funeral of Mr. Young's brother, George P. Young, of Rochester. The deceased passed away on Sept. 27th, and was a son of the late Vandal Young and Mrs. Young, Rochester. To mourn his loss beside the widow are one son and one daughter; also three brothers, Wesley, Odessa, and Herbert and Arthur, Rochester.—The County Convention of the Ladies' Aid Society was held in the United Church, on Thursday, October 4th. Over two hundred guests were seated at the tables in the Church dining hall for dinner. The address of welcome was given by Mrs. (Rev.) McQuade, and the Scripture lesson was read by Rev. Mr. McQuade. Mrs. E. R. Wilson, Enterprise, delighted the congregation with a choice vocal selection. The Round Lake quartette was lead by Mrs. Gilbride, Napanee. The address for the National Women's Council

MOSCOW WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

A very successful and interesting meeting af the Moscow Branch of the Women's Institute was held on Wednesday afternoon, October 3rd, at the home of Mrs. Amos E. Huffman.

Among the principle items of business disposed of, was a donation of $5.00, their annual contribution to the Navy League, as well as a donation to the Public School towards their equipment for sports, etc. Mrs. Morley Huffman was elected delegate to the Convention in Kingston, on October 25th and 26th. The Hallowe'en party will be held at the home of Mrs. Will Jackson, Colebrook, on October 31st. Also the next regular meeting at Mrs. R. E. Asselstine's a week later, Nov. 7th, where it will be observed as Grandmothers' Day, and also receive a report of Convention.

Following the business, the usual programme was adhered to, which consisted of a paper on Community Activities, prepared by Mrs. J. W. Bell, which if carried out would add very much color to any community. A vocal duett was sweetly rendered by Mrs. W. A. Reid and Mrs. W. Shangraw, after which Mrs. Fred Hamm, of Ernestown, gave her very interesting and excellent description of her travels in Japan, which received the earnest applause of everyone present.

The concluding number was a house dress parade, there being six or eight entries. The competition was so keen the judges, Mrs. Hamm and Mrs. Maybee, Odessa, found their task a difficult one, but finally awarded the prize, a beautiful bath towel, to Mrs. Cecil King, President of the Branch, on one point, namely, the fronts overlapping made it possible to reverse sides in cases of emergency.

Afternoon tea was served by the Committee in charge to about forty members and guests from an adjoining Institute, who they were very glad to welcome, and all enjoyed a social half hour together, when the thanks of the meeting was tendered their hostess for opening her house for the occasion.

Weak and Nervous

A Condition Due to Watery Blood — Easily Corrected Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Thin, pale girls lack the power of resistance to disease that rich, red blood gives. Nervous breakdown is the result of thin blood. So is indigestion, headaches, backaches and many other troubles. Girls suffering from thin, impure blood need just the help Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can give. For many years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a world-famous blood-builder and nerve restorer. They actually make new, rich, red blood which imparts new vigor and life to all the organs of the body. Their first effect is usually shown by an improved appetite; then the spirits revive and restlessness at night gives way to health restoring sleep. For sufferers from anaemia, nervousness, general weakness or physical exhaustion Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a restorative of the utmost value. This is proved by the experience of Miss Sarah A. McEachern, R.R. No. 3, Brule, N.S., who says :—"About three years ago I became very weak and nervous. I had pains in my side and back. I also had frequent pains in the back of my head and neck. I was very pale and very weak. I had attacks of nervous irritability, and at times I was so nervous that life seemed hardly worth living. While in this condition a friend strongly advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began taking these pills and used them for about two months with the result that there was such an improvement in my condition that friends would ask me what I was taking, and I was only too glad to tell them it was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am now enjoying good health and am glad to give this statement for the benefit it may be to some other sufferer."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

INDIA'S HOLY MILKMAN.

Must Observe Stringent Rules of the Sacred Dairy.

A certain tribe of Southern India, the Todas, regard their purveyors of milk as holy men. The chief of these is the Holy Milkman, who has an official residence, the Sacred Dairy, which he is not allowed to leave during his term of office. The Holy Milkman, moreover, is usually a bachelor; if he married before being appointed to his high office, he must leave his wife and devote himself entirely to observing the stringent rites of the Sacred Dairy.

No ordinary person may touch him, for to do so would defile his exalted office and he would be compelled to resign. Another restriction is that Holy Milkmen must not be spoken to except on Mondays and Thursdays. On other days, any message must be shouted from a considerable distance.

The dairy-temples are usually built in conical form, and the milkman-priest must always sleep in the cow-house, a draughty structure with a small fireplace. There is no door to the dairy, and a Holy Milkman is allowed to wear only one coarse robe. When he is eating his hand must not touch his lips, and to prevent this the milkman throws his food into his mouth. When drinking, he must hold the vessel aloft and pour the liquid down his throat as from a tap.

The late Lord Buckland of Bwlch left £50,000 worth of shares in Guest, Keen, and Nettlefolds Ltd., to be held in trust for the poor of Merthyr Tydfil, Glamorgan. He also left 5,000 shares in the same company for the provision of prizes for pupils at the local schools, including one at which he was a pupil teacher.

Leadenhall Market.

Leadenhall Market, London, England, now threatened with demolition, was originally the private mansion or hall of the Nevills, and was so called because it was covered with lead, a notable thing in the thirteenth century, when it was built.

It first came into possession of the citizens of London in 1411, when it was utilized as a public granary for the storage of corn against times of scarcity.

How necessary was this precaution may be gathered from the fact that the price of wheat, depending as it did entirely on the plenteousness or scarcity of the home harvest, sometimes varied from as little as 5s. a quarter to as much as 55s., the latter price being, of course, prohibitive to any but fairly rich people.

Stowaway on Airplane.

We have often read about and heard of stowaways on board ship, but the first instance of an air stowaway was recorded recently.

Mr. Kemp, of the Rangoon Air Survey, whilst on a short trip, was rather mystified at the unusual weight of the machine. The machine, however, flew satisfactorily, and Mr. Kemp dismissed the matter from his mind until he landed. Investigation disclosed a coolie hiding in the back of the machine.

The coolie, on being discovered, confessed that his aim had been to see how near he could get to the "Sun God."

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD
(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound. An extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make home interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the whole year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from the products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a stouter and more rugged material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a sure and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

W.M.S. and Temperance.

Mrs. H. M. Pisel, Newburgh, read the resolutions from the Branch meeting held at Lindsay last May, and Resolution 4, which reads as follows:—"Whereas the earnest Christian women of the W. M. S. deplore the fact that government control and sale of intoxicating liquor, with all its attending evils, is an established fact in our province, be it resolved:—That hereafter we take the responsibility of our citizenship more seriously, seeking to put first things first, and thus avading the stumbling block of conflicting party politics with great moral issues, we use our voting privileges as in the sight of our Living Leader, Jesus Christ, whose we are and whom we serve, was the outgrowth of an address by Mrs. Jas. Wilson, Strathcona, on "Our Relation to the Temperance Question", in which she urged us as missionary women to do our utmost to stamp out the evil, and that we take up this department of work in our Auxiliaries. A resolution to this effect was moved by Mrs. Jas. Wilson, and seconded by Mrs. Wartman, and carried that we respond to the call of the W. M. S. Board, by inclusing the Department of Temperance and appointing in each Auxiliary a Vice President, who shall be responsible for bringing this subject before the members.

Solo by Mrs. Forbes, of Weston, Speaks.

A solo by Mrs. Clarence Lochhead, of Tamworth, was much appreciated by all. Miss Edna Allen, of Yarker, a missionary on furlough, was introduced at this juncture, and spoke words of encouragement to us in our work.

The Quiet Half Hour led by Mrs. Breault and Mrs. Price, will long be remembered by all present as a real spiritual uplift, and brought the morning session to a close.

Luncheon was served in the adjoining Hall by the ladies of Colebrook and Yarker Auxiliaries.

The Value of the Mission Band.

The afternoon session was opened by Devotional Exercises led by Mrs. (Rev.) Bunt and Miss Jackson, of Enterprise, followed by the reading of the minutes of the morning session by the Secretary, Mrs. D. B. Wilson. After Roll Call and the reports of Circles and Bands, Mrs. Frank Herrington, of Napanee, gave a paper on "The Place of the Mission Band in the Home". God's command "Suffer little children to come unto me", rings forth just as loudly in this twentieth century as in the days of old, and much depends on the mothers with regard to early training. Mrs. Herrington urged the early enrollment of the child to the Baby Band, and from thence to the Mission Band and the teaching of the child very early in life the necessity of communicating with the Heavenly Father by prayer.

The Mission Circle and W.M.S.

Mrs. J. Lewis gave a paper on Circle work, entitled "The Workers of Tomorrow". She stressed the importance of training the girls to realize that missionary work is of vital value and that they are the building material for the W. M. S. Thus we must look to it that they become thoroughly acquainted with missionary work, for if the training is not such the Church of tomorrow will not be a missionary church. This paper was followed by a beautiful solo by Mrs. Bruce Finlay, Strathcona.

Mrs. Forbes, of Weston, Speaks.

The Convention was most fortunate in having Mrs. Forbes, of Weston, who spent several weeks as a representative from our W. M. S. in Canada, at the Jubilee in Trinidad, in January last. After a description of the most important physical features, climate and location, she proceeded to speak to us of the East Indian people, who make up about one-third of the entire population, of whom our own United Church in Canada became interested sixty years ago through the Rev. John Morton. Our attention was especially drawn to the women's work, 1st in the Elementary School; 2nd in the Vocational Training School; 3rd in the Napanima Day School; 4th in the Bible Women's Training Classes, and 5th in the work of the Bible Women through the Island in teaching and preaching Jesus Christ. Mrs. Forbes closed by urging us as W. M. S. women, to make greater sacrifices than we have ever made to continue the promotion of such a great work.

The report of the Courtesy Committee was heard, and an invitation from Marlbank Auxiliary was accepted for 1929. After which Miss H. M. Paul closed with Prayer, a most successful and inspiring Convention.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The monthly meeting of the Napanee Women's Institute was held in their rooms on October 8th, with a good attendance of members present. The President, Mrs. R. Ham, presided, and the meeting opened by the singing of the Ode, followed by the reading of the minutes by the Secretary, Mrs. F. Herrington. A couple letters of appreciation for flowers were received from members.

A letter from the District President, asking for $1.00 towards the expenses of the Convention. Moved by Mrs. J. W. Robinson, seconded by Mrs. S. Lyons, that this be paid.

A letter from the Navy League, asking for donation. Moved by Mrs. T. V. Anderson, seconded by Mrs. Douglas, that we do as in previous years, not send anything.

A letter was also received from Kemptville School. This was referred to the Junior Institute.

Moved by Mrs. Knapp, seconded by Mrs. Bedore, that it be left in the hands of the Executive to meet the School Board re singing in school.

Moved by Mrs. Anderson, seconded by Mrs. Sills, that our Confederation dues be paid.

Moved by Mrs. Randall, seconded by Mrs. Alcombrack, that Mrs. Haggerty be sent as a delegate to Convention.

Miss Eileen Prungle, a member of the Junior Institute, gave a demonstration of a set-in pocket, learned last winter at the sewing class.

Mrs. Murney Parks gave a very interesting report on Travellers' Aid work.

Our District President, Mrs. Fred Ham, gave a very fine and interesting talk on her trip to Japan, bringing with her several souvenirs. Japan is made up of 430 small islands and very mountainous, and the scenery very beautiful. The houses are pretty, but all have walls around them. The wealthy have stone or brick, while the poorer use bamboo. The foreigners also follow this custom. The interiors are very bare, they haven't any chairs, tables nor beds. The floors are covered with heavy mats and plenty of cushions; and before you enter their homes you must remove your shoes. The houses all have electricity to cook with and the ones that are heated use a fuel like our charcoal.

The Japs are very industrious and clean. Silk is the largest industry; rice and tea next. Rice is a very hard crop to raise. It is sown early in March on marshy ground, and transplanted under water in May. The transplanting of this crop is a festive occasion. The ears form in October, and it is harvested in November.

Mrs. Ham visited many important cities, among them being Kioto, one time capital of Japan, and seat of literature and painting. One of the Emperor's palaces is still there.

Mrs. Lyons on behalf of the Institute, tendered a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Ham for her very interesting talk, and all responded by clapping their hands.

The roll was called, and the meeting closed by singing "God Save the King".

EARLY ENGLAND

Mrs. J. Hetherington-Hutchison Says Well to Pause Before Sighing for "Good Old Days."

Our Saxon ancestors admired long hair and beards, and a shaven face or short hair was a sign of slavery, writes Mrs. J. Hetherington in an article describing domestic life in early England, appearing in the Women's Guild of Empire Bulletin. Thus before marriage a girl's hair was worn long, after marriage it was cut as a sign of servitude. When a girl married she had to bake a loaf of bread to prove she was proficient as a housekeeper. This is the ancestor of our wedding cake. The introduction and slow spread of Christianity made manners a little more gentle, and the monks became the first doctors of the people, and the monasteries the first hospitals. Unhappily their knowledge was not equal to their enthusiasm.

The last invasion of England was that of the Normans in 1066. Having subdued the entire country, they set about the governing thereof, and are notable for having introduced taxation. William the Conqueror made the Domesday Book, in which every house, mill, fishpond, field, and wood is recorded, mostly by the names in existence to-day. On that register the people were taxed. The Normans built themselves very solid castles of stone, but these, though they had windows, had no glass. The castles had one room upstairs, where the whole family slept, and a big hall downstairs, where everyone lived. The fire was in the middle of the room, smoke escaping through a hole in the roof. They introduced linen sheets, tablecloths, and cloth coverings for beds.

When things settled down after the Conquest houses grew smaller, and less like castles. Tapestry was hung on the walls to keep out draughts, but they had no carpets—rushes were strewn upon the floors and were very seldom changed. Glass was still too expensive for anything but royal palaces; and it was risky carting it over the rough tracks of this period. By royal command in 1328 a window of glass was put in the Queen's bedroom, "so that the room be not so windy as it used to be," but the houses even of the richest were exposed to all the winds of heaven. The houses of the poor were simply huts, with not even the comforts of cloth or tapestry on the walls or rushes on the floor. Neither rich nor poor had any of the things we consider necessities to-day, such as tea, coffee, soap, sugar, tobacco, green vegetables, potatoes, or salt. They had no amusements except for wandering troupes of minstrels or singers. Their chief pleasure was their food. They were fearsomely greedy, and ate enough food in one day to last us for about a month. Here is a menu for a little mediaeval dinner at 19 a.m.:—

First course—Boar's head larded, and potage. Beef, mutton, legs of pork, roast swan, rabbit tart.

Second course—Boar potage, Mallard, pheasant, chickens, stuffed and roasted. Roast teals, woodcock, snipe, galachic baked.

Third course—Rabbits in gravy, hare potage, pork pies.

Our ancestors ate with their fingers, having no spoons or forks. A man brought his own knife to meals, and two people shared one plate, which was made of wood. The books of the period are full of directions as to how to eat. Owing to overeating, lack of green vegetables, and unhealthy conditions lives were very short, and most people died between the ages of 40 and 50. Endless disease was caused by dirt in the streets and houses. Doctors in those days, and till the beginning of the nineteenth century, were hopelessly ignorant, and must have killed far more people than they cured. No houses, rich or poor, had any pockets, so four poster beds with curtains were introduced to secure a little privacy. Carpets had been introduced from the East by the Crusaders, and fire places were an improvement on the fires in the middle of the rooms. Considering all these things it is well to pause before sighing over "the Good Old Days."

Irate Old Lady (at telegraph office)—"Well, if you're so smart you can send money by telegraph, young man, I'll be blessed if I see why you can't telegraph an umbrella!"

LADIES' AID CONVENTION

On October 4th, at 9.30 a.m., the fifth annual Convention of Ladies' Aids met at Odessa, and was opened by Rev. Mr. McQuade leading in Devotional Exercises, after which Mrs. H. A. Carscallen, Enterprise, the President, took charge of the business part of the programme.

Nomination and election of Mrs. A. Kitchen, Napanee, as Press Reporter followed.

Mrs. A. E. Perry, Wilton, Secretary, then read the minutes of last meeting, which were adopted. The President spoke very gratefully of her appreciation of Mrs. Perry's work in the past year.

The different committees were appointed.

Nominating Committee—Hon. Pres., Rev. Mr. Bunt, Convenor; Mrs. Wales, Grace Church, Napanee; Mrs. Alpine Wood, Trinity Church, Napanee; Mrs. N. Jackson, Enterprise; Mrs. Hicks, Bethel, and Mrs. E. Purcell, Colebrook.

Memorial Committee — Rev. Mr. Dixon, chairman; Mrs. Corkill, St. Andrew's Church, Napanee; Mrs. Eddie Huffman, Tamworth; Mrs. Anderson, Newburgh, and Mrs. Bunt, Enterprise.

Mrs. Alpine Woods, of Napanee, Treasurer, gave a very concise report of finances, and reported a balance on hand of $36.20.

A congregation of nearly two hundred ladies took part in singing of the old familiar hymn, "Soldiers of Christ Arise."

Mrs. Campbell, of Kingston, gave an excellent paper on "Law". Law is not punishment, but improvement. It's aim is to help the weak. The underlying principle of law is love. The great changes in women's lives since 1796. Some of the revised laws are :—Parental and Inheritance Law, False Registration of Man and Wife, and Age Limit of Marriage.

Mrs. N. Boyce, of Colebrook, Assistant Secretary, took charge of the reports from the different Ladies' Aids. Twenty-six Ladies' Aids and one Circuit Ladies' Aid reported their financial standing for the year and also the number of members. Each delegate gave an outline of work done during the year, which consisted of carrier for and calling on the sick and needy and helping in general church and parsonage expenses.

Mrs. McQuade, of Odessa, in a pleasing manner, extended a hearty welcome to all.

Mrs. E. Alkenbrack, Gretna, very ably replied to the address of welcome.

The morning session was brought to a close by singing.

The Odessa ladies had provided a sumptuous repast, to which everyone did full justice.

The afternoon session opened at 1.20 o'clock with "Convention Singing." Rev. S. F. Dixon was in charge of Devotional Exercises, and took for his text, "Isaiah 55th chapter, 10th and 11th verses. The word of God is like unto the rain from Heaven to refresh and purify our thoughts and actions. Our Ladies' Aid is only one of the many missionary sources and a vital part of the church. God's word is working in the lives of those who help others. This splendid discourse was followed by an earnest prayer for help and guidance in our work.

Mrs. Gilbride, of Napanee, conducted the "Round Table", and some of the problems which are met with in every Aid were discussed. Mrs. Gilbride ended these discussions by asking the ladies to be regular in their attendance at church, and also to be broader-minded members of their Aids.

Mrs. E. R. Wilson, of Enterprise, rendered a beautiful solo, which was much enjoyed by all.

Rep. Mr. Bunt received the offering, which amounted to $17.05.

Constitution for Aids was read and a discussion followed on changing the name to "Ladies' Association". A motion was made and carried, that we continue under our old name for the next year, and in the meantime discuss with the different societies and parsons an advisability of changing the name.

Mrs. Etherington, of Kingston, spoke in favor of the campaign started to raise funds for the "National Council of Women". The National Council of Women originated at the "World's Fair" in Chicago, and as a result have inaugurated The Victorian Order of Nurses, Supervised Playgrounds, Domestic Science in Schools, Physical and Dental Inspection in Schools, as well as many other great things.

Rev. Mr. Bunt gave an address on "Some of the things involved in being a Church member". To be a Christian you must have a genuine appreciation of Jesus Christ and this appreciation leads to our committing of our lives to Him. Each Christian is a Christ's man. The church in the beginning was a group of Christ's friends. To become a member of the church is to make a public confession of our needs. We represent Jesus Christ and as witnesses of His must be consistent and faithful in Church and out of Church. We are saved to serve. This address was very much appreciated.

The minutes of the morning session were read and approved.

The reports of Committees were received and accepted.

The Nominating Committee reported as follows :—Hon. Pres., Rev. Mr. McQuade; Pres., Mrs. E. Alkenbrack, Bethel; 1st Vice Pres., Mrs. Gilbride, Napanee; 2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. German Waker, Newburgh; Secretary, Mrs. A. E. Perry, Wilton; Assistan Secretary Mrs. Norman Boyce, Colebrook.

Memorial Committee reported.

Memorial and Resolutions. This Committee welcomed to the Ladies' Aid :—

1st. A spirit of loyalty to all departments of the Church.

2nd. A Sick Visitation Committee in every Society.

3rd. As far as possible, besides the business, to have some literary or musical selections at every meeting.

4th. And whereas it was stressed that attendance at church services be one of the first duties of all Ladies' members, be resolved that the Secretary send to each Society a copy of the resolution urging that it be carried out in each local church.

5th. We desire to express our gratitude to the Minister and Trustees of this beautiful church, and Ladies' Aid for the wonderful repast; to Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Etherington, of Kingston, and Mr. Bunt, for their illuminating and inspiring addresses. Also to the soloist and all taking part at this meeting; for the faithful work of the officers, especially the retiring officer, for on them depends the success of the meeting.

Mrs. Norman Jackson, on behalf of the Ladies' Aid of Enterprise, presented Mrs. Carscallen with a beautiful bouquet of roses. Mrs. Carscallen very feelingly replied, after which one of the most successful conventions of the county was brought to a close by Rev. Mr. Bunt pronouncing the Benediction.

SELBY

The congregational social and entertainment at Selby, on October 5th, was a fine success, considering that it rained all day. A good program was rendered by local talent, assisted by Mrs. W. Wilson, of Strathcona. The Selby Male Quartette deserves special mention. The ladies served a lunch of sandwiches, pie and fried cakes.—The Young People's Society re-organized for the season last week. Meetings will be held on Friday nights, and a good season of activities is expected.—Everybody attended the shower last Saturday evening for Mrs. Charlie Pringle, nee Miss Kathleen Price. A happy evening was spent, everybody wishing the young couple much sunshine after the shower.—Church service is withdrawn next Sunday evening, October 21st, for Empey Hill Anniversary.—The Empey Hill congregation are having their beautiful church decorated on the inside, and will have it already for the Anniversary services and fowl supper concert on October 21st and 23rd. Many old friends of Rev. J. M. White (Joe) are looking forward to seeing him again at the Empey Hill Anniversary services. —A goodly number of Selby people attended Anniversary services at Newburgh last Sunday, and enjoyed the sermons of their former minister, Rev. Enos Farnsworth. — The Anniversary services of Selby church will be held on Armistice Day, Thanksgiving Day, Sunday, Nov. 11th, when Rev. Enos Farnsworth will be the preacher. — The minister, Rev. H. W. Foley, has been visiting the Mount Pleasant families, and on Monday evening this week, succeeded, with the help of the Presbyters, in re-organizing the Trustee Board there, to take care of the cemetery and church property, as services are no longer held in the church. The cemetery is being fenced, and the church building taken care of.

WEDDING BELLS

Pringle—Price.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Price, Selby, was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding on October 6th, when their youngest daughter, Kathleen, became the bride of Charles Pringle, son of Mrs. and the late Sidney Pringle, of Selby, only the immediate relatives being present. Rev. W. H. Foley was the officiating clergyman.

The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father, and wore a dress of rose beige georgette with lace trimmings, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. She also wore the groom's gift, a pearl necklace. After congratulations the party repaired to the dining room, where a wedding breakfast awaited them.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Pringle left for a motor trip to Oshawa, Toronto, and other points west, the bride travelling in a green crepe dress with hat and shoes to match. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm, Selby West.

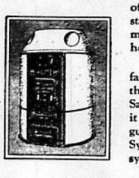
.....BUT CAN YOU?

CODE INSTALLED

This symbol is the identifying mark of a Warm air heating system installed according to the specifications of the Standard Code. A McClary "Sunshine," Code installed, guarantees 70° of heat for every room in zero weather.

COLD is fine for Polar Bears, but not so good for human beings! A chilly or poorly heated home, for example, is a menace to the health of everyone in the household.

There is only one answer—McClary "Sunshine" Warm Air heating. For real home comfort, for mellow, healthful warmth, no other heating system can compare with it. Like the balmy breath of a June day, the air is kept constantly re-circulated, properly moistened. So unlike the dry heat from iron radiators!



Burns any kind of fuel, the famous "Ventiblast" ring making thorough combustion a certainty. Saves money in actual use and it costs much less to install this guaranteed McClary Warm Air System than hot water or steam systems.

B. C. SUNKEN GARDEN.

Souvenir Hunters Even Steal a Dog From Public-Spirited Owner.

Kindness is not always repaid, Mr. R. P. Butchart, owner of the famous sunken garden near Victoria, B.C., has found.

Although the gardens are privately owned, thousands of tourists are admitted each summer and they roam unhampered over the property, admiring the riot of bloom and the unique plan of landscape gardening that has made the place famous all over the continent.

But tourists like to take away souvenirs. Long ago Mr. Butchart found it impossible to prevent them from taking away flowers, but he draws the line when it comes to stealing his dog. During the latter part of the summer some visitor took a fancy to his Pekingese.

Being host to thousands every summer has its compensations, but also its trials, Mr. Butchart says. Some months ago a curious sightseer wandered into his palatial home and decided to have a bath in his luxuriously fitted swimming tank. There was no water in the tank and the sightseer broke a leg in diving. He brought suit against Mr. Butchart for $25,000 damages.

The suit was promptly dismissed in court and caused Mr. Butchart little worry, but he is a bit ruffled over the stolen dog, and admits it.

Watchmaker's Epitaph.

In an Old Country churchyard there is this curious epitaph on a watchmaker's tombstone:

Here lies in a "horizontal position" the "outside case" of Peter Pendulum, "watchmaker," whose abilities in that line were an honor to his profession; integrity was the "mainspring" and prudence the "regulator" of all the actions of his life. Humane, generous, and liberal, his "hand never stopped" till he had relieved distress. So nicely "regulated" were his "movements" that he never went wrong, except when "set-a-going" by people who did not know "his key." Even then he was easily "set right" again. He had the art of disposing his time so well, that his "hours" glided away "in one continued round" of pleasure and delight, till an unlucky "minute" putting a period to his existence, he departed this life "wound up" in hopes of being "taken in hand" by his "Maker" and of being "thoroughly "cleaned," "repaired" and "set-a-going" in the world to come.

Trout as Cannibals.

At a meeting of the Southland Acclimatization Society, New Zealand, a letter was received from Mr. R. J. Walden of Riverton, stating that he had caught a six-pound trout, in the inside of which were five small trout, four of which would be between five inches and seven inches long, the other about four inches. They had the appearance of having been swallowed only a few hours previously. Why the diet of the trout should be its own brethren seemed to indicate that there were large numbers of its kind about, because the locality had an abundance of natural food. Although he had been angling for many years the writer stated that he had not previously witnessed a similar occurrence. The chairman stated that this was a fairly common occurrence at the end of the season.

That Word Fortnight.

This is another word which, common in certain circles, seems inclined to lapse into the obsolete, like the old word "sennight" for seven nights. Why "fortnight" should still be used and "sennight" forgotten is hard to answer. The more logical reason seems to be that while "a week" is easier to say than "a sennight," the word "fortnight" comes more readily to the tongue than "two weeks." As language always chooses the easiest path, we have dropped the sennight but kept the fortnight, but even the word "fortnight" is slipping away. The reason why a period of time should be reckoned in nights rather than days is only that the custom of most nations was to count the twenty-four hours as starting at sunset instead of at sunrise.

Forest Gift to Britain.

Mr. H. G. Younger of Benmore and Kilmun, Argyleshire, Scotland, chairman of Messrs. William Younger & Co., the Edinburgh brewers, has presented the residue of his estate to the Forestry Commission, reserving only for his private use Eckford House, a small villa on the roadside and the River Echaig.

In February, 1925, Mr. Younger presented his estate of about 10,000 acres at Benmore to the commission as a national gift for afforestation purposes.

The commission now has an exceptional centre for experimental work.

Hard Wheat In B. C.

For the first time, hard wheat has been grown successfully on a large scale in British Columbia, according to advices from the Okanagan Valley. Soft wheat has been grown in small quantities for several years in the Okanagan, but it was not until 1927 that the producers sold it for export. Heavy rains in the fall of 1927 prevented them from planting soft wheat, and as an alternative Marquis wheat seed was imported from Alberta.

The New Welland Canal.

That the new Welland ship canal will be completed and ready for traffic in 1930 is evident from the progress of work on this great waterway as disclosed by a report of the expert in charge to the Department of Railways and Canals. The canal will when completed, cost a total of about $120,000,000, of which $94,000,000 was expended to last March.

Most Beautiful City.

The Duke of Atholl says he thinks Edinburgh is the most beautiful city in the world.

Lady (engaging new maid)—"How long were you in your last place?"

Maid (embarrassed)—"My last place? I—I—I didn't go there at all."

Guest (to host)—"Your wife is charming."

Host (wearily)—"Whom?"

A Laughing Baby Is a Great Joy

What can give more joy in the home than a laughing, happy baby? The well child makes home happy with his tuneful gurgle and bright laughing eyes. It is only the sickly baby who is not a laughing baby, for it is the little one's nature to be happy when well.

Mothers, if your baby is cross, if he cries a great deal and no amount of attention seems to make him happy, give him a dose of Baby's Own Tablets and he will soon be well and ready to radiate that happiness through the home again.

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative. They regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and correct those troubles which accompany the cutting of teeth and in doing those things—and doing them well—they make baby happy and keep him happy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TO SOLVE ARCTIC MYSTERY.

Does Branch of Gulf Stream Dive and Emerge North of Baffin's Bay?

Does a branch of the Gulf Stream dive to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean and emerge again far north in Baffin Bay? asks Science Service. Is the Labrador Current a continuous overflow from the Arctic Ocean? Does the east Greenland current stretch all the way across to Labrador? Why is the west coast of Greenland so much warmer climatically than Baffin Land in the same latitude?

These are some of the outstanding questions of Arctic oceanography that may be solved during the summer. The United States Coast Guard vessel Marion is up in the Arctic fully equipped with apparatus for measuring the temperature and saltiness of the ocean water, for observing the ocean currents, and other apparatus unusual in such a boat.

One of the most important instruments with which she is provided is the sonic depth finder. With this an accurate measurement can be made of the depth of the water, with far more precision and speed than with the old type sounding line. This consists of an oscillator, operated electrically and located on the ship's hull, which sends out sound waves. These travel to the bottom, and are reflected as an echo. Microphones located elsewhere on the ship's hull pick up this echo. The speed of sound waves through water is well known, and so, from the time it takes the waves to return, the depth can be measured.

Every half hour, day and night, on her cruise, a measurement will be made of the depth. The expedition will sail over an area of 50,000 square miles where no sounding has ever been made and the results will be of great scientific importance.

The Coast Guard expedition is not alone in this area, for the Danish Government is sponsoring a similar exploration with which the Coast Guard will co-operate.

LIFE'S TANGLED WEB.

Some Children Grow Up to Triumph Over Early Circumstances.

Books are written on everything nowadays, and particularly on ourselves, our minds, our health, the causes of our success or failure, happiness or unhappiness, and we are all beginning to get somewhat theory-ridden in consequence, says a writer in the London Daily Chronicle.

Probably there are more theories about children and their right education in the world at the present moment than there have ever been before. The fashion is very much in favor of "environment." Your child's character and course throughout life is determined by his earliest impressions; and so on. We know that there is much truth in these suggestions. Yet we have only to look at life to discover that some of the finest men and women we know had everything against them in childhood, not only in the obvious sense of poverty. Some of them were poor; others were surrounded by mental or moral poverty in the midst of material comfort and yet grew up to triumph over early circumstance.

There are happy people among the rich and among the poor, and miserable people in both sets. The root of happiness is as deep a mystery as the root of character. We see the influence on both of heredity, circumstances, past and present, and of health or the lack of it, but we should keep us from becoming victims of any one theory.

FORTUNE FROM "FAGS."

Humble "Packet of Ten" Made Family of Millionaires.

The death recently of Sir G. A. Wills, president and formerly chairman of the immense Imperial Tobacco Company, whose issued capital stands at £42,809,823, reminds us of the vast fortunes made out of our "gaspers" and "fags," says an article in Answers.

Small things, these smokes, yet in their aggregate they have produced ten millionaires in the Wills family alone.

Nineteen years ago Sir G. A. Wills' father, Mr. H. O. Wills, left the first Wills millionaire fortune of £5,214,821, and since then nine other members of the family have followed suit, leaving over a million each, the whole totalling to some £24,000,000.

Not only has the Treasury reaped some £10,000,000 from those millions, but each of the Wills has been a princely benefactor to charity and education. Bristol University alone benefited by over £500,000 from Sir G. A. Wills.

Sir George's ordinary shares in the concern are worth £6,342,580, but to really assess his fortune a further large holding of preference shares must be added to that.

Bristol is the headquarters of the Wills family and of the whole British tobacco trade, and its last year's "baccy" imports—over 25,000 tons, which paid nearly £22,000,000 duty—are eloquent of the huge quantities needed for smokes.

Mr. Bernhard Baron, chairman and managing-director of Carreras, is another famous "fag" millionaire. He started as a boy at sixteen shillings a week in a New York tobacco shop, and invented a cigarette - making apparatus.

Now he makes so much from the countless millions of "fags" pouring from his factories that he gave £150,000 to charity in one year, and another £50,000 in order to celebrate his seventy-fifth birthday.

Model Villages In Turkey.

Model villages are being constructed in many parts of the Turkish interior. The villages serve as centres for the education of the peasants, who are being taught modern and scientific methods of agriculture. In each of the nine cazas of the vilayet of Sivas, one village will be designated for modernization this year. The vilayet is in the heart of Anatolio. Modern ploughs and agricultural implements will be distributed gratis to the villagers. Motor appliances will be used on farms for the first time. The model villages are to be located, as nearly as possible in the centre of the cazas, so that all the peasants of the surrounding territory will have the benefit of the educational program.

A certain citizen was late for his wedding—but not late enough.

Employ 100,000 Persons.

The fishing industries of Washington and Alaska employ 100,000 persons and the total value of this year's catch is about $75,000,000. The value of salmon caught in Washington waters approximates $25,000,000.

What a Caterpillar Devours.

In a month a caterpillar will devour 6,000 times its own weight in food.

"The quantity of sulphur in human bodies varies surprisingly," says a scientist. Is that why some make such better matches than others?

Daughter—"Did you have many affairs, daddy?"

Soldier Father—"No, child. I had the first engagement."

You Can Quickly Limber Up Sore, Stiff, Swollen Joints

Even Chronic Rheumatic Swellings in Knee, Elbow, Shoulder Or Finger Joints Yield to the Mighty Powerful Influence of JOINT-EASE.

It's here, right in town, and Wallace's Drug Store, and every live druggist has it.

It's a low price remedy, to be sure, but that doesn't stop it from taking the kinks, lameness or torture out of your troubled joints.

Joint-Ease is the name, so called because it is compounded solely for the purpose of relieving all joint ailments.

Just rub it on the tormented, lame joints and in just a few seconds it will penetrate to the bone and bring comfort comes quickly.

It absorbs instantly and is so clean and stainless that you can rub it on often and get thereby results that are more quickly, when the joint is inflamed and the agony intense.

Being such a powerful counter irritant, it cannot help bringing speedy helpful results in congestion, sore throat, chest colds, lumbago and neuralgia much quicker than almost any remedy you can buy.

But you must remember that it is for joint affections that it is to be dispensed and its helpfulness will astonish you after all ordinary liniments and other treatments have failed.

LENNOX TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

The fifty-fifth annual meeting of the Lennox Teachers' Institute opened in Convocation Hall, N.C.I., October 4th, 1928. About one hundred teachers registered.

The President, Miss L. Rockwell, called upon Rev. Mr. Pawson, Napanee, to conduct the Opening Exercises. All joined in singing "Canada", after which Mr. Pawson read a passage from the Gospel by St. Matthew, from which he drew inspiration for the teachers.

After the minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted, Mr. Trenouth moved that "The School" be supplied to the teachers on the same terms as last year. Seconded by Mrs. Alkenbrack, and carried. Miss E. Parks introduced another magazine, "Primary Education and Popular Education", and several communications were read and commented upon by Mr. Corkill.

After the Treasurer's report was read, Misses Hall and Aylsworth were appointed Auditors. Committees were appointed — a Nominating Committee and a Committee on Resolutions.

Miss M. E. Hay, Normal School, Toronto, gave her first lecture on "Correlation of Household Science to Other Subjects on School Curriculum". Miss Hay said that people now-a-days were giving more attention to the prevention rather than to the cure of disease, and as diet is a very important health factor, she showed the value of a hot meal a day for the pupils. She gave a menu for one meal, and showed how proteins, carbohydrates, vitamines, fats and minerals were supplied in the three dishes composing the meal.

Taking the meal and each dish separately, Miss Hay showed how the ingredients might be correlated with (a) Sewing, in the making of the serviette; (b) Work in school gardens and with art, in providing of a little bouquet for the table; (c) Hygiene, in the value of the sunshine; (d) Agriculture and simple economics; (e) Geography in trade and commerce, lessons on Japan and China, their products and exports; (f) History; (g) Spelling; and as a side-issue with table manners.

Mr. W. J. Trenouth gave his report as delegate to the O. E. A. He reviewed the work in the P. S. section, and gave a very concise synopsis of each address, laying stress especially on the particular lesson to be taken to heart from each, such as "The Importance of Honour, Truth and Justice", "Character is Power, knowledge is Power", and "Success Depends Upon What We Are".

Miss McNeely, on being called upon for her report, remarked that Mr. Trenouth had covered the ground so fully that he had left absolutely nothing for her to tell.

Miss Rockwell, in the President's address, took as her subject, "A Square Deal for the Child", and showed what things a pupil has a right to expect from the school, and how far a teacher is responsible for these.

The teachers regretted the absence of Mr. J. W. Robinson, who was to have given an address.

Afternoon Session.

In the afternoon, Mr. Corkill, in the Inspector's address, spoke on Grants for Libraries, Agriculture in P. S., and Household Science, and requested teachers to show him their bills of expense before asking for the grants. Mr. Corkill urged a greater attendance at the O. E. A. He requested again that reports be filled out completely and be sent to him by the teacher before Christmas. Before taking his seat, Mr. Corkill said he wished to leave with them one thought which might prove an aid in their work—that of their great responsibility and the possibility of the child. The Great Teacher in His teaching emphasized the possibility of the individual. He said, "Be ye perfect even as your Father which is in Heaven is perfect", and we are told that "To such as received Him, gave He power to become the sons of God". The teacher must remember that some of the pupils may become sons of God, and that they, themselves, will be held responsible for their part in the good work.

Miss Hay's second lecture, "Value of Teaching Clothing and Textiles", was as interesting as the first, and showed that a knowledge of clothing and textiles had an economic as well as a physical value. A grant of fourty dollars is given for purchasing equipment; the Women's Institute often helps and the Sewing Manual is a great aid to the teacher.

Miss E. Parks, Secretary-Treasurer of our local Branch, spoke on behalf of The Women Teachers' Federation. She gave several good reasons why every teacher should belong, and explained the great work to be accomplished by the Federation. Miss Parks expressed her belief that every teacher whose whole soul was in the work would be anxious to join. She then explained the obligations of the members, and asked all who wished to join the W. T. F. to leave their names and addresses with her. This closed the programme for the afternoon.

Mr. Herrington Lectures.

The evening entertainment was held in the Convocation Hall of the N. C. I., Mr. Corkill presiding. The programme consisted of a vocal solo by Mrs. Eplett, a piano solo by Mr. Kendall, a reading by Mrs. Powell, an instrumental duet by Misses Hawley and Henderson, a vocal solo by Mr. Caldwell, and a lecture, "Canadian Object Lessons", by Mr. W. S. Herrington. Mr. W. J. Trenouth moved a vote of thanks to the lecturer for such an instructive and interesting address, also to all who so kindly helped in the entertainment. A hearty clapping of the hands showed the appreciation of the audience.

The meeting closed with the singing of "God Save the King".

The teachers wish to thank the Board of Education for the use of the Convocation Hall, N.C.I.

ETTA HARRISON,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Friday Session in Kingston.

Friday, October 5th, the teachers, accompanied by Inspector, Mr. E. J. Corkill, journeyed to Kingston to visit Queen's University.

Upon reaching the University, the teachers were assembled in Convocation Hall, with the President, Miss Rockwell, of Napanee, in the chair. Convocation Hall is in the old Arts building, and here a courteous and magnaminous welcome was extended the Lennox teachers by Dean Matheson, who stated that Queen's was ours to-day, to-morrow and forever.

Miss Rockwell then conducted a business session. First in order was the report of the Nominating Committee read by Inspector, Mr. Corkill. The officers for the ensuing year are:

Hon.-President — Dean Matheson, Queen's University, Kingston.
Inspector—Mr. E. J. Corkill, B.A.
President—Mr. E. Young, Bath.
First Vice President—Miss E. A. Parks, Napanee.
Second Vice President—Mrs. Alkenbrack.
Executive—Mr. Corkill, Mr. Trenouth; Miss McNeely, Newburgh; Miss E. Leatherland, Odessa; Miss B. Sliter, Bath; Miss McBride, Yarker; Miss C. Frisken, Napanee; Miss Geneva Roblin, Napanee; Miss J. M. Dennee, Bath; Mr. F. Short, Moscow.
Secretary-Treasurer—Miss E. Harrison?
Auditors—Misses Hall and Aylsworth.
Delegates to O. E. A.—Mr. E. Young and Miss McGuire.
Music Committee—Mr. E. Young and Misses Hawley, Hall, Anderson, Dennee and Roblin.

Moved by Mr. Corkill, and seconded by Mr. Casey, that the above nominations be adopted. Carried.

Mr. Trenouth, leader of the Resolution Committee, gave his report re the "Resolutions, 1928". These were: Nos. 1 (with the addition "that the Second Reader and Primer also be changed"; 2, 3, 4 (a, b, c, d); 5 and 7.

Moved by Mr. Trenouth, seconded by Mrs. Fairbairn, that at the pleasure of this Institute the above resolutions be forwarded to the Department of Education. Carried.

Miss Aylsworth read the Auditors' Report, that the Secretary's books were found correct. Moved by Miss Aylsworth, seconded by Miss Parks, that the report be adopted. Carried.

The President, Miss Rockwell, gave a short talk on the C. G. I. T. movement. Folders referring to the conduction of the camps, which combine pleasure of a wholesome character with knowledge, Miss Rockwell stated, would be forwarded to teachers so they might explain the benefit of the C. G. I. T. movement to the girls in their respective schools.

Mr. Corkill expressed thanks to the University Principal, and also to those who helped in the programme at Convocation Hall, N.C.I., on the evening of October 4th. Mr. Muir seconded this motion, and it was carried.

Moved by Mr. Trenouth, seconded by Miss Anderson, that the expenses of this meeting be paid, also that the customary grant to the O. E. A. be paid. Carried.

Cards were then distributed among the teachers re joining the O. E. A. as members of its varied departments. Those who desired to do so might sign cards and hand, together with the necessary fee of one dollar, to Mr. Trenouth, who agreed to forward the same in bulk. Inspector, Mr. Corkill, urged the teachers to join the O. E. A. and so derive a benefit by visiting this Association at Easter week. Mr. Corkill stated that only seven per cent. of the teachers in the province visited this great Association.

Delegates Inspect Queen's University.

Mr. A. H. Carr, Director of Extension Courses at Queen's University, then addressed the teachers, explaining in part the extensive buildings of the University and the importance of each. The teachers were conducted by Mr. Carr to the Douglas Library which was donated by a former chancellor of Queen's, the late Dr. Douglas. Mr. Kyle, Librarian, spoke on the privileges accorded the Queen's students re the Library. He drew special attention of the teachers to a painting by our Canadian artist, Henderson. The painting was the head and chest of an Indian Chief named Knife-in-Both-Sides. The teachers were then shown through one room of books, fairly getting lost in the long laneways between book shelves. They were told that there were two other stories of the same capacity.

Professor MacClement joined the sight-seeing group and the next building visited was Nicol Hall. From there the teachers journeyed to the Jock Harty Arena, presented to Queen's by Hon. Wm. Harty. Here it was explained that this rink contains the largest area of artificial ice in Canada.

The Richardson Laboratory and Clinic was also opened for the teachers' benefit, and Dr. Hayes kindly explained the destructive work of different germs, having at hand much to illustrate his short instructions.

Finally the teachers were conducted to the George Richardson Memorial Stadium, thus ending a morning fully mixed with profit and pleasure.

"I can't take a good picture of your baby when it is kicking so!" said the photographer.

As the negro woman gathered up her wailing offspring she murmured: "De next time Ah comes to have yo picture took Ah'll leave yo to home!"

Asthma Doesn't Wear Off Alone. Do not make the mistake of waiting for asthma to wear away by itself. While you are waiting the disease is surely gathering a stronger foothold and you live in danger of stronger and yet stranger attacks. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy taken early will prevent incipient conditions from becoming chronic and saves hours of awful suffering.

The colour scheme when Miranda wed Revealed her folks as patriots true; The groom looked red and the bride looked white.
And her dad (who paid the bills) looked blue.

Worms are encouraged by morbid conditions of the stomach and bowels, and so subsist. Miller's Worm Powders will alter these conditions almost immediately and will sweep the worms away. No destructive parasite can live in contact with this medicine, which is not only a worm destroyer, but a health-giving medicine most beneficial to the young constitution.

"I notice you always end your novels with the marriage," remarked a friend.

"Yes," returned the novelist, "there is nothing romantic about the subsequent hunt for a flat, a cook and a job lot of furniture."

There is no poisonous ingredient in Holloway's Corn Remover, and it can be used without danger or injury.

BAD LEGS
Have You Varicose or Swollen Veins and Bunches Near Ankle or Knee?

To stop the misery, pain or soreness, help reduce the dangerous swollen veins and strengthen the legs, use Moone's Emerald Oil. This clean powerful penetrating yet safe antiseptic healing oil is obtainable at Wallace's Drug Store, and all first-class drug stores.

In hundreds of cases Moone's Emerald Oil has given blessed relief. Splendid for Ulcers, Old Sores, Broken Veins and Troublesome Cases of Eczema.

MOONE'S EMERALD OIL

"You need to keep your eyes open around here."

"What for?"

"Because people would think you were mad if you went about with them shut."

Nation-wide Fame.—There is scarcely a corner of this great Dominion where the merits of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil have not been tried and proved. It is one of the world's most efficient remedies for sore throat, lame back and many other ailments arising from inflammation. Rubbed on the skin its healing power is readily absorbed, and it can also be taken internally.

Mrs. Jacobson—"They say Mrs. Aronoff treats her husband like a banjo."

Mr. Jacobson—"What do you mean?"

Mrs. Jacobson—"Why, she's picking on him all the time."

Useful in Camp.—Explorers, surveyors, prospectors and hunters will find Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil very useful in camp. When the feet and legs are wet and cold it is well to rub them freely with the Oil and the result will be the prevention of pains in the muscles, and should a cut, or contusion, or sprain be sustained, nothing could be better as a dressing or lotion.

"You should not marry a man who deceives you during the engagement."

Listen!
Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contain certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

While no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes can, and relief and healing commences.

County "Royal" Judging Competition.

A party of five hundred junior farmers, ten from each County in Ontario, will be given a free trip to the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, for four days, Nov. 20th to 24th. To select the ten who will represent Lennox and Addington, a contest in judging classes of live stock and crop products will be held at Napanee, on Monday, October 22nd. All farm boys between the ages of 16 and 22, inclusive, who intend to compete should be at the Agricultural Office that morning at nine o'clock sharp. Those who won the trip last year are not eligible this year. For a circular giving full information regarding the competition, apply to J. Laughland, Agricultural Representative, Napanee.

Athletics.

The Trenton High School Girls' Basketball Teams will open the schedule here on Friday evening, at 7.45 o'clock, when they meet the Napanee Collegiate Teams in the local gymnasium. A double-header will be played, both Junior and senior teams competing. The Napanee Juniors were the champions of the district last year, and are looking forward to repeating their record again this year.

On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Picton Collegiate Football Team will meet the locals at the Driving Park. Picton is at the top of the league, and those who attend the game should see a good exhibition of football. The local boys will have a strenuous three-day practice in the first part of the week, and they hope to turn their past defeat into a victory in Saturday's game. Both school and town should turn out to cheer for the Collegiate team.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Walter McRaye gave a very fine address to the Collegiate pupils. He outlined the growth of Canadian literature, and impressed upon the pupils the necessity of becoming familiar with our own history and literature which is full of romance and charm. Mr. McRaye recited several selections from the Canadian poets.

Term examinations will be held in all of the forms on Thursday and Friday of this week.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. Shoemaker and Mr. Beattie officiated at the game in Deseronto, in which Picton won from the Deseronto High School by the score of 7-1.

The date of the annual Fall concert of the Collegiate Institute has been set for December 19th and 20th. The school orchestra has re-organized for the season, under the management of Mr. Eppiett. Mrs. F. C. Wilson, whose excellent instruction in the past has maintained a high standard for the orchestra, is leader again this year. The Glee Club and gymnasium classes will organize after the term examinations.

Miss Gladys Parrott, one of last year's Centennial graduates, has received a position in Toronto through the agency of the Underwood Typewriter Company. Miss Parrott was the winner of the Intermediate Cup at last Spring's contest in Napanee, and holds the Underwood Silver Medal in typewriting.

Athletics.

The Trenton High School Girls' Basketball Teams will open the schedule here on Friday evening, at 7.45 o'clock, when they meet the Napanee Collegiate Teams in the local gymnasium. A double-header will be played, both junior and senior teams competing. The Napanee Juniors were the champions of the district last year, and are looking forward to repeating their record again this year.

On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Picton Collegiate Football Team will meet the locals at the Driving Park. Picton is at the top of the league, and those who attend the game should see a good exhibition of football. The local boys will have a strenuous three-day practice in the first part of the week, and they hope to turn their past defeat into a victory in Saturday's game. Both school and town should turn out to cheer for the Collegiate team.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Walter McRaye gave a very fine address to the Collegiate pupils. He outlined the growth of Canadian literature, and impressed upon the pupils the necessity of becoming familiar with our own history and literature which is full of romance and charm. Mr. McRaye recited several selections from the Canadian poets.

Term examinations will be held in all of the forms on Thursday and Friday of this week.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. Shoemaker and Mr. Beattie officiated at the game in Deseronto, in which Picton won from the Deseronto High School by the score of 7-1.

The date of the annual Fall concert of the Collegiate Institute has been set for December 19th and 20th. The school orchestra has organized for the season, under the management of Mr. Epplett. Mrs. F. C. Wilson, whose excellent instruction in the past has maintained a high standard for the orchestra, is leader again this year. The Glee Club and gymnastics classes will organize after the term examinations.

Miss Gladys Parrott, one of last year's Commercial graduates, has received a position in Toronto through the Secretary of the Underwood Typewriter Company. Miss Parrott was the winner of the Intermediate Cup at last Spring's contest in Napanee, and holds the Underwood Silver Medal in typewriting.

TAMWORTH

The chicken supper held by the Ladies' Aid of the United Church on Wednesday evening last, was largely attended despite the unfavourable weather. The net proceeds amounted to about $100.00. — An interesting programme was carried out on Monday evening last at the meeting of the Young People's Union. The topic, which was of a literary character, was in charge of Mr. J. Wallace. — Mr. Douglas Shier is spending his holidays at Montreal and Ottawa.—Mrs. Jackson has returned, after some weeks' absence, during which she visited with friends in the western part of the Province.—Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Richardson motored to Toronto last week and spent a few days visiting their daughter, Mrs. Rogers.—The Misses McLachlan spent the week end in Ottawa.—Mrs. Phil McKim left on Monday for Syracuse to visit her daughters. —Services will be held on the United Circuit on Sunday next, at Tamworth, Reidville, and Marlbank, morning, afternoon and evening, in the order named. The Sacrament will be observed at these services, except Reidville, where the usual service will be held. Preparatory services will be conducted at Marlbank on Wednesday evening, and Tamworth on Friday.

Girls' Basketball.

The Collegiate girls opened their season's schedule at home on Friday evening, when they entertained the Trenton High School senior and junior teams in the local gymnasium. The Napanee seniors were successful in winning their game by the large score of 41-29. The local girls piled up a big lead in the first half due to their combination play and excellent basket shooting. In the second half the visitors made a desperate effort to cut down the lead, but were unsuccessful. The Napanee team this year is a good one and should make a good showing in the Bay of Quinte League, which comprises Belleville, Picton, Deseronto, Trenton and Napanee. The line-up for the Collegiate Senors was: Marjory Daly, Dorothy Wilson, Doris Anderson; Station Embury, Margaret Douglas, and Shirley Colclough.

In the junior game, the Trenton Juniors won by a score of 21-14. The game was very close up until the last few minutes, but the visitors threw a goal and two baskets from the field in quick succession and ended the hopes of the Juniors.

Boys' Football.

The losing jinx which has pursued the Collegiate team so far this season was still on the job on Saturday when the Picton boys defeated the locals by the score of 6-0. The score is no indication of the play and it is doubtful if luck did not assist the visitors to a great extent. However, the Picton team had to battle for every inch of ground, and all those who attended got a host of thrills in the exciting plays which were of common occurrence throughout the game. Early in the game the Picton team took advantage of a lose ball, and following up by a fake play carried the ball across the Napanee line for a touch which they failed to convert. This made the score at the end of the first period 5-0 for Picton. In the second period, the local team forced the visitors back onto their own territory most of the time and tore through their line for yards again and again. Twice they were within striking distance and a touch seemed in evidence. On the first occasion Conway attempted to hurdle the Picton fullback, but collided with a Picton player and took the count from a crack on the jaw. The second time the ball came within striking from what appeared a good chance to win. In the third quarter, the visitors scored a rouge which was the final score in the game. Right up to the end of the game, the final decision was in doubt, and while the locals finished on the short end of the score, they deserved credit for the game they played. They are quite a different team from the one which started the season a month ago, and give promise of becoming a winning team another season. It was difficult to pick out any star players, as each one played up to what could be expected. After the game, the boys entertained the visitors to lunch in the Collegiate. The local line-up was as follows:

Snaps—Harrison and Kinkley.
Insides—Dean, Stalker, Webster and Frink.
Middles—R. Howitt, W. Howitt and MacGregor.
Outsides—Exley, Amey, and Oliver.
Quarter—Robinson.
Halves—McFadden, Merritt and Asselstine.
Flying Wings—Conway and Moore.

BASKETBALL

Seniors—Trenton 25-Napanee 41.
Juniors—Trenton 21-Napanee 14.

Last Friday evening, before a large crowd, the first games of the Bay of Quinte League were played between Trenton and Napanee.

From the first Napanee seniors took the lead, and easily kept it throughout the game. Trenton could not seem to break up Napanee's combination, and the game ended 41-29, in favour of N. C. I.

"Nookie" Daly was the most outstanding player of the game, while L. Brunsch was the best player on Trenton's team.

After defeating Trenton, who held the senior title last year, we are hoping for great achievements from our seniors, and expect they will bring home to N. C. I. the senior cup.

The junior teams were more evenly matched, and at the end of the first half the score was a tie.

For the second half Trenton substituted their Senior forward for the Junior, and although the N. C. I. Juniors played hard, it was a losing game and Trenton won by 7 points.

All of Napanee's junior team are new players and we hope that with a little more practice, they will be winners in the next game.

Miss E. Chown, of Queen's University, acted as referee.

After the game, the Trenton players were entertained for a short time in the Collegiate gymnasium.

PROVINCIAL S. S. CONVENTION

The Sixty-third Annual Provincial Sunday School Convention will in this year be held in two sections—the Western Section in Knox Presbyterian Church, Galt, October 30th and 31st, and the Eastern in Chalmers Church, Ottawa, November 1st and 2nd. The Convention is held under the direction of the Ontario Religious Education Council, formerly known as the Ontario Sunday School Association, and is the organization through which the Sunday School forces of the various evangelical denominations of the Province co-operate.

These Conventions are open to all interested in Sunday School work. To Ministers, Superintendents, and Teachers they present a rare opportunity. Leading Sunday School workers of the various denominations will participate in the programme. Among the outstanding speakers will be Dr. Robert M. Hopkins, of New York, who has recently been appointed General Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association; Miss Wilhelmina Stooker, Professor of Religious Education, Auburn College, Auburn, N.Y.; Canon Allan P. Shatford, of Montreal; Miss Marjorie Trotter, Montreal, Girls' Work Secretary for the Religious Education Association, and other leaders in the field of Religious Education.

At the afternoon sessions each day there will be Departmental Conferences when discussions will be conducted on the various phase of the work of Religious Education:—Children's work, Girls' and Boys' work; Adult, Home Department and Leadership Training. The whole programme is planned to meet in the most effective way possible the requirements of the Sunday Schools of the Province. The cities entertaining these conventions are manifesting their interest in the opening their homes to delegates registering in advance.

Information regarding the Conventions can be secured from any of the denominational Sunday School officers, or from the Ontario Religious Education Council, 299 Queen St., W., Toronto.

OBITUARY

Lillian May Hartman.

Miss Lillian May Hartman, graduate nurse, died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Toronto, suffering from influenzal infection and pneumonia, three weeks from the time she returned home from the United States to nurse her mother, Mrs. George Hartman, 19 Wanda Rd., who had taken sick. Deceased had been nursing in Cincinnati, Ohio, for the past three years.

Miss Hartman was born in Odessa, Ont., 32 years ago, and graduated in nursing from the Kingston General Hospital, later taking a post-graduate course in Augusta, Georgia. She leaves her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman, formerly of Napanee, and four sisters, Mrs. C. W. Foster, of Toronto; Mrs. (Dr.) John Hendrie, of Detroit, and Bernice and Norma, at home.

The funeral was held in Toronto, and the remains brought to Napanee for burial in the family plot at Wilton.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Napanee, Ontario,
October 15th, 1928.

To the Editor Napanee Beaver,
Napanee, Ont.

Dear Sir,—I should esteem it a very great favour if you would kindly allow me space in your valuable paper to discuss in a friendly way a letter appearing in the October number of the Canadian Poultry Review, which very much concerns the Dairy Farmers and Poultrymen of Napanee, as we are included in Central Ontario. This County is one of the most prosperous and go-ahead Dairy sections of Central Ontario, providing not only some of the most expert Dairy Breeders in the Dominion, but also owners of Record producing cows, who besides being subscribers to your valuable paper, are also readers of the Canadian Poultry Review.

Fellow-farmers and co-workers in the Dairy and Poultry industries, allow me to draw your attention to this letter, presumably written on behalf of all "Central Ontario Poultrymen". As you know "Central Ontario" is a vast and sweeping assertion, for it includes roughly all the territory from Cobourg to Brockville, and from London to Peterboro'. I will not comment on the borrowed statements so misquoted, but will draw your attention to the comparison made regarding "The Holstein Cow of a few years ago when the clamour for high production was going on" * * * "There was only one thing to be considered and that was production" * * * "No attention was paid to the shape of the cow with the result that they got a cow so homely that people did not want them."

May I ask was May Echo Sylvia, the champion milk producer of the world, a cow so mis-shapen and homely that nobody wanted her? Was Pauline Pieterje, the world's champion butter fat producer, an eye sore? Were the Alcartia, the De Posch, Segsis and De Kol strains such shapeless masses of production that their owners sought stable room to hide their homeliness? These were the cows of a few years ago. A cow to be a good producer must be straight, have length, capacity deep heart girth, a large, soft, silky udder well placed with good teats, fine neck and head, broad between the eyes, prominent velvety eyes, refined muzzle and a sleek coat. The show points are practically identical.

Is such an animal an eye sore? The high producing cow of a few years back was, as she is to-day, the "Mother of Prosperity" and one of the most beautiful living pictures made by an Allwise Creator.

Ever yours for facts and common sense.

MARY MACMORINE.

A Great Puzzle To Careful Parents

One of the greatest puzzles to the careful parent is to know just what medicine to give the little ones. When the child falls ill with griping pains; is seized with cold or fever, refuses food or vomits what he has taken, when he cries a great deal and cannot get the sleep so necessary to the growing child, the parent is in a quandary. What is to done on such occasions? As often as not there is not a suitable medicine in the house. The puzzle is what to give him to set him right quickly.

It is to meet such emergencies that Baby's Own Tablets were designed. These pleasant little Tablets quickly reduce fever, break up colds, relieve constipation and indigestion and allay teething pains. They quiet the nerves and promote restful health-restoring sleep. They are guaranteed absolutely harmless and safe for even the youngest and most delicate baby.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Wm. Leslie.

Following an illness of some months' duration, Mrs. William Leslie, of Melita, Man., passed away at the family residence, shortly before noon, Saturday, September 29th.

Deceased was born February 20th, 1864, in Richmond Township, County of Lennox and Addington, on the farm originally granted to her United Empire Loyalist family at the time they migrated to Canada from New Jersey. At the age of sixteen years she commenced teaching school and continued this work until the solemnization of her marriage in 1891. Seven years later Mr. and Mrs. Leslie came to Western Canada and took up residence in Melita, joining the ranks of pioneers who must be credited with the upbuilding of a splendid community.

During the many years of her life here, the late Mrs. Leslie devoted much time and effort along the lines of community service. She was responsible for the formation of the Melita branch of the W. I., the opening of the local rest room, and an active member of the Arthur E. D. Agricultural Society, and for fifteen years the only woman member of the Advisory Board of the Manitoba Agricultural College. In 1927 she was appointed with Mayor Arnold to represent Melita on the provincial committee in charge of Manitoba's share of Canada's Diamond Jubilee celebration, held July 1st.

The passing of one who took such an active and intelligent part in the public life of town and district will leave a vacancy that may not soon be filled.

Deceased is survived by her husband and daughter, Phyllis; one sister, Mrs. W. C. Jones, of Toronto, and a brother, Byron Demorest, of Napanee, Ont.

It might be interesting to note that Mr. Demorest is operating the home farm granted by the Canadian government.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held from the residence on Monday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Rev. M. P. Floyd conducted the service.—The New Era, Melita, Manitoba, Oct. 4th, 1928.

If Your Daughter Shows Signs of Anaemia a Tonic Is Needed

Anaemia is simply a lack of blood. It is one of the most common and at the same time most dangerous troubles from which growing girls suffer. It is common because the blood so often becomes impoverished during development, when girls often overwork and overstudy. It is dangerous because of the wealthiness of its approach and because of its tendency to grow steadily worse. Every growing girl should occasionally take a tonic to ward off this insidious trouble. It is because of their powerful action in rebuilding the blood that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made a world-wide reputation. The case of Miss Claire Sullivan, Pincher Creek, Alta., amply proves the value of this medicine. Miss Sullivan says: "During my school days I suffered a great deal from thin and watery blood. I was continually weak and tired; my appetite was poor, my sleep unrefreshing and I was troubled with backaches. To make matters worse I was attacked with acute appendicitis and the operation left me in a very weakened state. My mother, learning of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, had me take them and after using them for some time I can say the result was simply wonderful, as they completely restored my health, and now when opportunity occurs I always recommend these pills to weak, pale girls suffering as I did."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, SANDHURST

On Sunday evening, October 14th, His Lordship Bishop Seager visited the Church of St. Paul's, Sandhurst.

There was no Confirmation class, as the candidates from here had been confirmed at the service in the morning in St. Alban's Church, Adolphustown.

One chief factor of the service was the dedicating "to the Glory of God and in loving memory of departed loved ones", certain beautiful pieces of church furniture. They were an altar desk, cross and chair, placed there by Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Fisher, in memory of relatives; a pulpit, by the Church and W. A. of St. Paul's, in memory of Mr. Egerton R. Sills and his wife, Henrietta May Sills, both of whom during their lives were devoted and interested workers in the church.

The Bishop preached an inspiring sermon from Acts 1: 8. "But ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you; and ye shall be witness unto me in Jerusalem; and in Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth". He showed how we were witnesses unto the Lord, and also the necessity and value of general missions. It was also shown to us how neglected our church is in some of the northern parts of our province. And it is our duty as prosperous Anglican Church people to do our utmost in helping establish and re-establish our church, in not only these but all parts of the world. As a final remark, the Bishop mentioned the pulpit. How fitting a memoriam it was to two faithful church people. That from it as long as the church stands the Gospel and Word of God will be delivered from it.

WEDDING BELLS

Glover—Russell.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Christ Anglican Church, Yonge St., Toronto, when Ethyl Mary Glover, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Glover, Glebe Road, became the bride of H. Roy Russell, only son of Mrs. Gertrude Sills, of Wright Ave., the Rev. Canon Woodcock officiating. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white moire satin, with bridal veil of old lace and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Phyllis Partridge, of Barrie, wore a gown of pale peach transparent velvet with black picot hat trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of Butterfly roses. The groom was supported by Mr. Hartly Reid, of Port Hope. The ushers were Mr. Pryce Glover and Mr. William Porrill. During the signing of the register, Mrs. J. Pate sang "At Dawning", accompanied by Mr. Bollard, organist of Christ Church. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Glover received, in a gown of black georgette; Mrs. Sills wore black flat crepe with chantilly lace. Later the happy couple left for Montreal and New York, and on their return they will reside at 95 Wright Ave., Toronto.

ADOLPHUSTOWN

The Bishop of Ontario, Right Rev. C. A. Seager, D.D., visited this Parish on Sunday, October 14th. In the morning at St. Alban's Church, twenty-six candidates were presented to him by the Rector, Rev. Arthur Strother, to receive the Apostolic Rite of the Laying on of Hands, eight of whom were adults. There was also a celebration of the Holy Communion, at which one hundred and twenty communicants were present. In the evening at St. Paul's Sandhurst, the Bishop dedicated a number of gifts to the church, including a beautiful Memorial Pulpit. His Lordship delivered an eloquent and forceful sermon on each occasion to very large congregations.

Read This! If You Have VARICOSE VEINS

If you or any relative or friend are worried or suffer because of varicose veins, or bunches, the best advice that anyone in this world can give is to get a prescription that literally hundreds of people all over the country are using with complete satisfaction.

Simply ask your druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Emerald Oil and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins, rubbing gently upward and towards the heart as the blood in the veins flows that way. Soon you will notice that they are growing smaller, and the treatment should be continued until the veins are of normal size. Emerald Oil is a powerful, yet harmless germicide and results are guaranteed by Wallace Drug Store, and all good druggists.

MEMORIAL TO CARNEGIE.

Benefactions of Iron Master Typified on Walls of Building.

There has just been opened in Dunfermline, Scotland, his native city, in the form of a museum, a unique memorial to Andrew Carnegie of Pittsburg fame. It consists of two buildings, the original cottage where Carnegie was born and a new stone edifice, Scottish in style, suggesting the strength of baronial days, yet relieved by details typical of the domestic architecture of the seventeenth century. This building is arranged as a central hall with three alcoves diverging from either side. The alcoves now house personal relics of the man born in the simple red tiled cottage adjoining, which has been enlarged as a part of the scheme.

This typical, old-time weaver's dwelling contains in one of the two downstairs rooms a hand-loom for the weaving of linen, identical to that which the elder Carnegie worked, by agreement with three other families, under the same roof. The two rooms upstairs with their sloping ceiling and few pieces of simple furniture, constitute the bare dream which, through a small attic window, this Fife laddie first saw the light.

The contents of the museum are unique and range from a piece of whalebone on which is engraved the ship "Wheanwe," and the date 1826 —in which the family emigrated to America — to a small selection of books from the library of Col. Anderson of Pittsburg. Caskets in precious materials which have contained the burgess tickets—all fine specimens of the illuminator's art—show how received the freedom of a city or town. (57 municipalities honored him) Gold and silver keys by which he had formally opened a library or institute of research, and illumined addresses presented by learned bodies which benefited by his munificence, form a large part of the collection. There is one tiny reproduction, none six by four inches, in oxidised silver of some old treasure chest with imitation smith-made bands hasp and lock of charming design. It is from the Worshipful Company of Plumbers and bears in quaint enameled letters the motto "Who shuts his hand hath lost his gold; Who opens it hath it twice told."

Stone, wood, metal and glass are used to symbolize the beneficient activities of this captain of industry. Near the main entrance a bronze relief is the device of a weaver's threadwinding wheel in stone — Dunfermline is famed for its linen damask — with a favorite Carnegie quotation "The gods send thread to a web begun." Outside, on the walls are four carved panels by an Edinburgh sculptor typifying the Carnegie benefactions. One combines the four items of libraries, research departments, university foundations, and scholarships. Another depicts mechanical symbols of his work at Pittsburg. A third symbolized his efforts for international peace; while the fourth represents his international foundations for the recognition of individual heroism.

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD
(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound. An extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make home interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the whole year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from the products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a stouter and more rugged material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a sure and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

LETTER OF SYMPATHY

Tamworth, Sept. 25th, 1928.

Marlin Sisters and Family.

Dear Sisters in F. H. C.—We, as officers and members of L.O.B.A., No. 338, desire to convey to you our deepest sympathy.

We feel helpless as to anything we can do to heal the wound so deeply inflicted through the loss of a truly kind husband and loving father. We can only send you what words fail to express, our sincere sympathy.

We would like to remind you that your loss is insignificant compared to his gain, through going home to Jesus. His life, through ill health, was a grim hard struggle, and now, sweet rest, eternal.

We would ask you to lay all your trouble at Jesus' feet; and we pray that you all will, through the help of your Heavenly Master, find a silver lining in the cloud that has shadowed your home.

Yours in loving Sisterhood.
Signed in behalf of Lodge.

ELIZA B. McKNIGHT,

Tamworth, Oct. 2nd, 1928.

Dear Sir and Bro.—On behalf of the officers and members of Sherfield Lodge, L.O.L. No. 159, we would convey to you the sincere sympathy of all the brethren in the bereavement that has come to you and your family circle. Your late father was highly esteemed as a Christian, as a member of the Orange Order and as a citizen. We believe that the manner of his life and the examples he set will have a lasting effect for good. Accept, dear Bro. Marlin, this expression of sympathy, and be assured of our earnest hope that you and yours will experience the Divine blessing in large measure.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge.

BAY OF QUINTE CLERICAL UNION

A meeting of the Bay of Quinte Clerical Union was held in the Parish of Trenton, on Monday and Tuesday, October 15th and 16th. At 2.30 p.m. Monday, the Reverend P. Heyward, Rector of the Parish, read a paper, entitled "A Talk on Canon Streeter's Book, 'Reality'"; and the Reverend J. Sparling, of Bannockburn, read a paper on "Confirmation". Two papers were discussed.

At 8 p.m. Evensong was said by the Reverend P. Heyward, and Reverend Rural Dean Radcliffe, the former reading by the Venerable Archdeacon Coleman and the Reverend Rural Dean Clarke, the preacher being the Reverend Canon Gower-Rees, Rector of St. George's Church, Montreal.

At 8 a.m. there was a celebration of the Holy Communion, the office being the Venerable Archdeacon Coleman, assisted by the Rector of the Parish.

After the Litany of Remembrance at 10.15, the Reverend Canon Gower-Rees read a paper entitled "Some Problems of Eucharistic Theology". After discussion of this paper, the meeting was closed by the Venerable Archdeacon Coleman, President of the Union, pronouncing the Benediction.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Napanee, Ontario,
October 15th, 1928.

To the Editor Napanee Beaver,
Napanee, Ont.

Dear Sir,—I should esteem it a very great favour if you would kindly allow me space in your valuable paper to discuss in a friendly way a letter appearing in the October number of the Canadian Poultry Review, which very much concerns the Dairy Farmers and Poultrymen of Napanee, as we are included in Central Ontario. This County is one of the most prosperous and go-ahead Dairy sections of Central Ontario, providing not only some of the most expert Dairy Breeders in the Dominion, but also owners of Record producing cows, who besides being subscribers to your valuable paper, are also readers of the Canadian Poultry Review.

Fellow-farmers and co-workers in the Dairy and Poultry industries, allow me to draw your attention to this letter, presumably written on behalf of all "Central Ontario Poultrymen". As you know "Central Ontario" is a vast and sweeping assertion, for it includes roughly all the territory from Cobourg to Brockville, and from London to Peterboro'. I will not comment on the borrowed statements so misquoted, but will draw your attention to the comparison made regarding "The Holstein Cow of a few years ago when the clamour for high production was going on" . . . "There was only one thing to be considered and that was production" . . . "No attention was paid to the shape of the cow with the result that they got a cow so homely that people did not want them."

May I ask was May Echo Sylvia, the champion milk producer of the world, a cow so mis-shapen and homely that nobody wanted her? Was Pauline Pietertje, the world's champion butter fat producer, an eye sore? Were the Alcarta, the De Posch, Seguis and De Kol strains such shapeless masses of production that their owners sought stable room to hide their homeliness? These were the cows of a few years ago. A cow to be a good producer must be straight, have length, capacity deep heart girth, a large, soft, silky udder well placed with good teats, fine neck and head, broad between the eyes, prominent velvety eyes, refined muzzle and a sleek coat. The show points are practically identical.

Is such an animal an eye sore? The high producing cow of a few years back was, as she is to-day, the "Mother of Prosperity" and one of the most beautiful living pictures made by an Allwise Creator.

Ever yours for facts and common sense.

MARY MACMORINE.

A Great Puzzle To Careful Parents

One of the greatest puzzles to the careful parent is to know just what medicine to give the little ones. When the child falls ill with griping pains; is seized with cold or fever, refuses food or vomits what he has taken, when he cries a great deal and cannot get the sleep so necessary to the growing child, the parent is in a quandary. What is to be done on such occasions? As often as not there is not a suitable medicine in the house. The puzzle is what to give him to set him right quickly.

It is to meet such emergencies that Baby's Own Tablets were designed. These pleasant little Tablets quickly reduce fever, break up colds, relieve constipation and indigestion and allay teething pains. They quiet the nerves and promote restful health-restoring sleep. They are guaranteed absolutely harmless and safe for even the youngest and most delicate baby.

This typical old-time weaver's dwelling contains in one of the two downstairs rooms a hand-loom for the weaving of linen, identical to that which the elder Carnegie worked, by arrangement, with three other families, under the same roof. The two rooms upstairs with their sloping ceiling and few pieces of simple furniture, constitute the house from which, through a small attic window, this Fife laddie first saw the light.

The contents of the museum are unique and range from a piece of whalebone, on which is engraved the ship "Westeaset," and the date 1836—in which the family emigrated to America—to a small selection of books from the library of Col. Anderson of Pittsburg. Caskets in precious materials which have contained the burgess ticket—all fine specimens of the illuminator's art—when he received the freedom of a city or town, (37 municipalities honored him) gold and silver keys by which he had formally opened a library or institute or research, and illumined addresses presented by learned bodies which benefited by his munificence, form a large part of the collection. There is one tiny reproduction, some six by four inches, in oxidized silver of some old treasure chest with initialled smith-made bands and a padlock of charming design. It is from the Worshipful Company of Plumbers and bears in quaint enamel letters the motto "Who shuts his hand hath lost his gold: Who opens it hath it twice told."

Stone, wood, metal and glass are used to symbolize the benedicent activities of this captain of industry. Near the main entrance for example is the device of a weaver's thread-winding wheel in stone.—Dunfermline is famed for its linen damework with a favorite Carnegie quotation "The gods send thread to a web begun." Outside, on the walls are four carved panels by an Edinburgh sculptor typifying the Carnegie benefactions. These combines the four items of libraries, research departments, university foundations, and scholarships. Another depicts mechanical symbols of his work at Pittsburg. A third symbolized his efforts for international peace; while the fourth represents his international foundations for the recognition of individual heroism.

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD

(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound. An extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make homes, interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from Canada products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a stouter and more rugged material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a sure and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

LETTER OF SYMPATHY

Tamworth, Sept. 25th, 1928.

Marlin Sisters and Family.

Dear Sisters in F. H. C.—We, as officers and members of L.O.B.A., No. 338, desire to convey to you our deepest sympathy.

We feel helpless as to anything we can do to heal the wound so deeply inflicted through the loss of a truly kind husband and loving father. We can only send you what words fail to express, our sincere sympathy.

We would like to remind you that your loss is insignificant compared to his gain, through going home to Jesus. His life, through ill health, was a grim hard struggle, and now, sweet rest, rest eternal.

We would ask you to lay all your trouble at Jesus' feet; and we pray that you all will, through the help of your Heavenly Master, find a silver lining in the cloud that has shadowed your home.

Yours in loving Sisterhood.
Signed in behalf of Lodge.

ELIZA B. McKNIGHT,
Rec.-Secty.

JESSIE HUFFMAN,
W.M.

Tamworth, Oct. 2nd, 1928.

Dear Sir and Bro.,—On behalf of the officers and members of Sheffield Lodge, L.O.L. No. 159, we would convey to you the sincere sympathy of all the brethren in the bereavement that has come to you and your family circle. Your late father was highly esteemed as a Christian, as a member of the Orange Order and as a citizen. We believe that the manner of his life and the examples he set will have a lasting effect for good. Accept, dear Bro. Marlin, this expression of sympathy, and be assured of our earnest hope that you and yours will experience the Divine blessing in large measure.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge.

O. A. McKNIGHT,
Rec. Secty.

BAY OF QUINTE CLERICAL UNION

A meeting of the Bay of Quinte Clerical Union was held in the Parish of Trenton, on Monday and Tuesday, October 15th and 16th. At 2.30 p.m. Monday, the Reverend P. Heyward, Rector of the Parish, read a paper, entitled "A Talk on Canon Streeter's Book, 'Reality'"; and the Reverend J. Sparling, of Bannockburn, read a paper on "Confirmation". The papers were discussed.

At 8 p.m. Evensong was said by the Reverend P. Heyward and Reverend Rural Dean Radcliffe, the lesson being read by the Venerable Archdeacon Coleman and the Reverend Rural Dean Clarke, the preacher being the Reverend Canon Gower-Rees, Rector of St. George's Church, Montreal.

At 8 a.m. there was a celebration of the Holy Communion, the celebrant being the Venerable Archdeacon Coleman, assisted by the Rector of the Parish.

After the Litany of Remembrance at 10.15, the Reverend Canon Gower-Rees read a paper entitled "Some Problems of Eucharistic Theology." The discussion of this paper, the session was closed by the Venerable Archdeacon Coleman, President of the Union, pronouncing the Benediction.

RE KEMPTVILLE CONFERENCE

In the following letter you will find notice of change of date in the Girls' Conference to be held at Kemptville:

Toronto, Ont.,
October 8th, 1928.

To Women's Institute Officers and Agricultural Representatives.

Dear Sir or Madam:—

You will have received notice of Girls' Conference to be held at Kemptville, and which was at first announced for October 23rd, 24th, and 25th. It has been decided to hold this Conference on November 7th, 8th, and 9th. These dates will not clash with Women's Institute Conventions in Eastern Ontario, and will also make it possible for the Junior Farmers of Eastern Ontario to meet at Kemptville at the same time.

There will be a dinner on the evening of the 8th, attended by both Junior Farmers and girls who take advantage of the Conference.

We can assure you that the three day programme for November 7th, 8th and 9th, will be full of interest and value for those who may take advantage of same.

As soon as the programme is completed we shall send a copy to all Institute officers, both branch and district, as well as those who may make application to attend Conference.

Very truly yours,
GEO. A. PUTNAM,
Superintendent.

BAY VIEW

(For last week.)

Rev. Mr. Plant, of Adolphustown, conducted the public worship at Beulah Church, on Sunday. The Ladies' Aid held their last meeting on Wednesday last at the home of Mrs. Fred Wemp. A number of the ladies from here attended the Ladies' Aid Convention at Odessa, on Thursday last, and report a splendid time.—Rev. Mr. MacKenzie, of Yarker, will preach the Anniversary services at Beulah on October 21st, and the annual fowl supper will be held the following Tuesday night, when Rev. R. M. Seymore, of Morven, will be a speaker.—The Woman's Institute will hold their next meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Compton.—We are glad to know that Frank VanWinckle is recovering from the accident he suffered when kicked by a horse.—A number from here attended the wedding of Miss Gibson and Overton Galloway, in Kingston, last week.— Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lillis and baby daughter, of Kingston, spent Sunday the guests of Mrs. M. Wemp.

DESMOND

(For last week.)

The funeral of the late Mrs. Henry McKeown, a much respected resident of this neighborhood for a great many years, was held at Chippewa P. C. Church, on Tuesday. She was laid to rest in the cemetery at Centreville. Quite a number of friends and neighbours gathered to pay their last respects to an esteemed friend.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles—A number of the friends from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Dorval Haley.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Charles—A number of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Goodfellow, of Belleville, spent Sunday with Mr.-George Drew and family.—Mrs. Henry Keech has been visiting at her father's, for a few days.—Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Bell were guests at Mr. Fred Millman's, Centreville, on Sunday.—Mr. Frank Switzer visited his mother, Mrs. P. J. Switzer, Centreville, one day recently.—On Friday evening, Nov. 3rd, all roads lead to Desmond. Why? Annual tea meeting, of course. Enough said.

PRINCE ALBERT PARK

New National Park Set Aside In Perpetuity for the Pleasures of the People—1,400 Square Miles.

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King opened the new national park, Prince Albert Park, a few days ago setting aside in perpetuity about 1,400 square miles for the pleasures of the people.

The park is a paradise of the primitive in which one may wander for days without meeting a fellow being. There are but few permanent inhabitants of the park, some game wardens, an old boat-maker, who says that the best tamarak roots in the world are here, from which to make the supports for his boats; an old French-Canadian birch-bark canoe builder, and the son of a former Hudson Bay factor.

A water-highway traverses the park and opens into two great canoe routes, one leading to the Hudson Bay and the other to the great Mackenzie. The waters from the highland which borders the park to the south all flow to the Arctic Ocean. Within the confines of the park itself hundreds of lakes, some twenty miles long, with white sandy beaches, some but half a mile across, filled like great bowls full of yellow water lillies, favorite resort of the moose, are joined by clear running streams. Canoe trips here may extend for days or weeks, or, by following the waters which lead to the Arctic, may be of months' duration.

To the north and east and west the park borders the vast northern wilderness, inhabited for many centuries only by nomadic tribes of Indians, later by half-breeds and a few descendants of that gay Company of Gentlemen Adventurers who received their charter from the gallant monarch Charles II., and who held the North in fee.

These nomads lived by hunting, by fishing and by trapping, but the Indian guides aver that the old people have told them that game was so fast disappearing in the north that they have followed tracks five days old in the snow to find the moose, the caribou, the deer and bear. Now, owing to the hunting restrictions in the park the overflow of wild game on the outskirts of the park where hunting may be carried on has become so great that an Indian may get seven or eight bears in the spring where he was once lucky to trap one. The silver fox, the red fox, the lynx, all the rich fur-bearing animals are fast increasing.

The lakes team with fish, pike, pickerel, trout, jackfish, and whitefish of great size. In the autumn the bays and inlets are a moving mass of bird life, pelican, cormorant, duck, gull, loon, mud-hen, and mallard.

Setting out for this paradise of the primitive, one sees these days in Prince Albert, seventy miles to the north of the park, khaki-clad men and maids, their cars packed with their tents and provisions, on their way to the park. They must perforce take with them their supplies, for between here and Montreal Lake, a hundred miles to the north, there are no revictualling places except the Government stores for fire and game wardens.

The road which leads to the park is an old Hudson Bay trail remade. A new broad motor highway is being laid by the Federal Government within the park to replace the old road.

By the side of Waksesin Lake a rustic lodge is being built by his constituents for the use of the Prime Minister. Waskesin Lake is the entrance of the great chain of waterways which lead to the north country.

ANNIHILATION OF WOLVES.

Slaughter Has Enormously Increased In the Last Few Years.

The Dominion Government is waging such vigorous war on wolves that their slaughter has enormously increased in the last few years. In the year 1924-25 the total of bounties paid on slain wolves was 627, while for 1927-28 the total of wolves killed was up to 1,292.

It had been thought that the rather rapid disappearance of the wild life in the northwest part of Canada, on which Indians and Eskimos depended for existence, was due to the more common use of firearms. But it has been discovered that the wolf is a rough and ready destroyer of other animals, particularly caribou, and according to a bulletin of the Northwest and Yukon branch of the Dominion Government attention has now been turned to this menace.

The big jump in the number of wolves killed seems to have kept pace with the increasing of the bounty, which was raised four years ago from $20 to $30, with this difference that the trapper must now turn in the wolf's pelt to the Government. The pelts are then sold at fur auctions and an average price of $24 was received for them last year, making a total revenue of $23,364. Skins of prime quality are sometimes worth more than $30 and trappers sometimes sell them rather than take the bounty and lose the hide. But the larger bounty and the sale of the skins by the Department of the Interior is practically making the wolf pay for his own destruction, the revenue coming close to the cost of paying the bounties.

Leads In Wheat Exports.

Sixty years ago 480,000 acres was sown to wheat in Canada. This year it is almost 26,000,000. Canada today leads the world in wheat exports, and actually exports as much as India, Australia and Argentine combined.

The World's Shipping.

An increase in world shipping of 1,761,749 tons in the past twelve months is shown in the new Lloyd's Register. Great Britain and Ireland lead with a 566,228 tons increase, while Germany follows with 414,206 tons.

FACE DISFIGURED FROM ECZEMA

Writes the Nurse who finally tried DDD.

"The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfigured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing. Her nose and face have assumed their natural expression."

Cases can be sent you from your own vicinity. Write for testimonials, or secure a bottle of D. D. D. today. Why suffer Eczema's torment another moment? If you don't get relief on the first bottle we will refund without hesitation. $1.60 a bottle. Try D. D. D. Soap, too.

Resolution of Appreciation.

At a recent special meeting of the Official Board of Trinity United Church, a resolution was passed, expressing the appreciation of the long and faithful service as a member of the Church Board of Mr. Geo. Shorey. Mr. and Mrs. Shorey are leaving this community to take up residence with their son, Dr. Shorey, at Glencoe, Ont., and on October 12th a special committee appointed by the Church Board waited on them, and presented them with an address, expressing the Church's appreciation of their service and regret at their departure.

Mr. L. S. Beattie Addresses Grace Church Y. P. L.

At the regular meeting of Grace Church Young People's League on Monday night, Mr. L. S. Beattie, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, was the special speaker. A splendid audience greeted him. His subject was of great interest to the young people, namely, "Choosing Life's Work". Mr. Beattie insisted that a life's work to be really satisfactory should always be considered in terms of service. Choosing such, is a matter of supreme concern. It requires thought and advice, and preparation. The pupil who stops short of a thorough preparatory High School course, is handicapping himself by closing up many avenues of vocation that would otherwise be opened. After the address, a hearty vote of thanks was carried by the League, and tendered to Mr. Beattie by the President, Mr. Fred B. Russell. The young people of Napanee are fortunate in having a man of vision and character, like Mr. Beattie, as Principal of the Collegiate.

BRIDE-TO-BE ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Allen, Yarker, Ont., entertained about fifty of their relatives at their home on Friday evening, Oct. 19th, in honour of their eldest daughter, Edna, on the eve of her departure for her new home in California.

A pleasant evening was spent in music and social intercourse, after which a dainty buffet luncheon was served.

Just before the departure to their respective homes, a number of appropriate songs were sung, including "God Be With You Till We Meet Again". The evening was closed with prayer.

All joined in wishing success and happiness to the bride-to-be, who intends to continue Christian work in the West. The gifts were gracious and numerous, showing the well wishes of those present.

WEDDING BELLS

Moore—Hobson.

A pretty wedding took place on Saturday, October 20th, 1928, at the United Church, Picton, when Edna Muriel Hobson, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hobson, Bloomfield, became the bride of Reginald Moore, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Moore, Picton. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. F. W. Wootten, Picton. The bride was attired in blue Georgette trimmed with flesh, and black satin shoes with flesh hose, and hat of blue to match dress, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. After the wedding the happy couple left by car on a tour to Watertown and Syracuse. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside on their farm, about one mile north of Picton. Mr. Moore is a grandson of Mrs. T. B. Lund, Napanee, Ont.

Woman Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sarnia, Ont.—"I am willing to answer letters from other women, to tell them the wonderful good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did me. I cannot be thankful enough for the benefits I received during the Change of life. I do housework and my troubles made me unfit to work. A friend advised me to try the Vegetable Compound. I felt great relief at once, began to regain my appetite, and my nerves got better. I will recommend your medicine to all with troubles like I had."—Mrs. John Bennon, 162 N. CAMDEN EAST WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

On October 5th Camden East Women's Institute held their regular meeting and "Grandmothers' Day" at the home of Mrs. W. Stewart. There were twelve grandmothers and fourteen members present.

The meeting opened as usual, and roll call was answered by "an apple recipe".

Among the correspondence read and discussed were letters of thanks for kindnesses rendered and letters of information and instruction re the convention to be held in Kingston, October 25th and 26th.

Mrs. G. Smedley was chosen delegate to the convention, and three members were chosen to make the required reports of our work to the heads of convention committees.

Business ended, the President addressed the Grandmothers, and welcomed them to our meeting. Mrs. Black was then called on to read her paper on "Social Life in the Community". This splendid paper was read in her usual jolly style, and showed great painstaking care in its preparation.

During the afternoon each Grandmother was presented with a bouquet, and prizes were given and won as follows:—

1. The Oldest Grandmother—Mrs. Sherlock.

2. The One Having Most Grandchildren—Mrs. J. Robinson.

3. The Youngest Grandmother — Mrs. J. Bell.

Grandmothers and members alike enjoyed very much Miss Hawley's demonstrations of flower-making, basket-weaving and sealing wax work, and all agree that time was all too short.

Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Before her departure to her new home in Collins Bay, the members of Camden East Women's Institute presented Mrs. Jas. Yoemans with a gift, and the following address :—

Dear Mrs. Yoemans, — Before your departure from our midst, the members of Camden East Women's Institute take this opportunity to express our appreciation of your work as a member. We have always found you ready and willing to do your part for the furtherance of the interests of the Institute, and are sorry to lose you as one of our members. However, we hope some other Branch will benefit by our loss.

We ask you to accept this little gift as a remembrance from Camden East Women Institute members, and with it our best wishes for your future and for a life of usefulness in Institute work. We wish also to welcome you of a welcome any time you can find it possible to join us in our meetings.

Signed by members,

MRS. J. A. SALSBURY,
President.

MRS. A. ROBINSON,
Vice President.

MRS. T. ALLORE,

Alfalfa on Gumbo Land.

As a result of experiments of between five and six years' duration conducted by the Calgary branch of the water power and reclamation service of the Department of the Interior, between 5,000 and 6,000 acres of heavy gumbo land known as the Maple Creek flats in Alberta and Saskatchewan will soon come under production for the growth of alfalfa. By irrigating a couple of town lots and experimenting with forage crops, it was proved that alfalfa and sweet clover can be grown on these flats with success. It is possible some irrigation project to serve the whole lands will be developed.

REIDVILLE

(For last week)

Beautiful sunshine weather greeted the Anniversary services held in the United Church, on Sunday, October 7th. The Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, of Newburgh, occupied the pulpit both morning and evening. The church was nicely decorated for the occasion. The Choir furnished very suitable music, and both services were marked with a good attendance.—On Monday evening the annual supper was held, and was largely attended, the proceeds being gratifying. After all had enjoyed the supper prepared by the ladies of the church, a splendid programme was given. Rev. M. Beckstead, Pastor of the Church, acted as chairman. Rev. Mr. Bunt, of Enterprise, gave a splendid address. The congregation are very grateful to Rev. Mr. Anderson, Rev. Mr. Bunt, and to all those who so ably assisted in the programme.—Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Blair were called on visitors at J. W. Reid's, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McLaren's.—Mrs. R. J. Wilson spent a few days with Mrs. J. Clarke, at Enterprise.—Freda Pingland and Marion Hyland, of Tamworth Continpation School, spent the week end at their homes.—Reidville was well represented at the Young People's service at Tamworth, on Sunday.—Mr. and Mrs. David Keech spent Sunday at Deseronto.—The school is making rapid progress, with Miss Hinchcliffe in charge. —Mr. J. L. Wilson is doing a rushing business with his tractor plow. — Mr. and Mrs. F. Hyland, of Camden East, visited at Mr. A. Hyland's, on Sunday. —We are pleased to welcome into our neighborhood Mr. and Mrs. S. Rothwell and family; also Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kimmett and daughter.

DR. W. H. SEYMOUR GIVES ADDRESS TO PHYSICIANS

Chicago, Sept. 25th. — The theory that influenza is the basic cause of cancer was advanced here to-day by Dr. W. H. Seymour, Charles City, Ia., in an address before a large gathering of physicians of the fifth annual convention of the American Electronic Research Association of which he is president. Comparatively few persons are immune from influenza and the same appears to be true of cancer, he stated.

At the same time Dr. Seymour warned the medical profession against the danger of making "a nation of cancerophobes" by frightening the people with tales of the horrors of cancer, because "a new pathology is being created in many individuals by generalized such fear." Warnings against cancer must be tempered with information on how the disease may be combated, he declared.

"The majority of the population with 'potential cancer' can be rendered relatively immune against malignancy by building up the vital powers of the body by proper diet, exercise, and by neutralizing the toxins of the influenza organisms in the endocrine glands especially in children, where it is easily done," Dr. Seymour asserted.

Influenza is one of the deadliest diseases confronting medical science, Dr. Seymour said, the toll in the 1928 epidemic in the United States alone being in the neighborhood of 500,000 lives. Many cases reported as common colds, laryngitis, bronchitis, tonsilitis and sore throat are in reality influenza, he held.

Influenza is to be found everywhere and affects everybody, he stated. Investigation shows that the micro-organisms representing the family of influenza are more or less distributed throughout the air, some distance through the soil in damp places, in animal life from the horse to the lowest forms, and frequently also in plant life, Dr. Seymour asserted.

"The lower forms of life are especially affected, it seems," he said, "and of those examined it was noticed most among those rodents and insects who spend most of their time in the darkness."

Articles of food in their natural state do not show the presence of influenza germs, but after human contact, or when damaged by insect bites or worms, or when nature's protective envelope has been bruised, cut or removed, and invariably when the process of decay has started, the influenza reactions are soon in evidence, Dr. Seymour asserted. The intensity of these disease reactions increases in very humid air or cloudy weather, he said.

Preventive action is tremendously important in fighting both influenza and cancer, the speaker declared. He stated :

"Prevention of accumulating waste products in the system, with an occasional flushing will largely prevent the eggs of larvae of flu-infected insects, worms and other like parasites from getting encrusted in the walls of the intestinal tract.

"Cooked foods should not be exposed long to the air before consumption, especially when marked humidity is present. For the same reason uncooked fruits after removing nature's covering should not be used after long exposure to the air. All foodstuffs should be kept from contamination and contact with insects of all kinds. And hands should be washed before eating any kind of food. "After indicating the bactericidal action of light both solar and electric, on all flu organisms, the free use of this agency during periods of cloudy and humid weather will prove the most important organisms in the air, food and water," Dr. Seymour stated. Headquarters of the American Electronic Research Association, Chicago.—"Twice a Week News", Charles City, Iowa.

Dr. Seymour is a brother of Revds. H. L., E. O., and R. M. Seymour, sons of Rev. F. C. Seymour.

CONWAY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The meeting of the Conway branch of Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. M. H. Mellow, Bath, on Tuesday, October 9th, with a goodly number of members and visitors in attendance.

The President in the chair, the meeting was opened by the singing of the Institute Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. After reading and approval of September minutes and treasurer's reports, there were reports from the different committees. Community Committee reported that nine placed balls and bats in the schools for children's use in their play hour. Goods were distributed among the members, to be made up for our coming bazaar.

Roll call was answered by many donors for the sick room, and when these had been exhausted there were added dos, viz., Do send the sick flowers; Do write them a letter.

Mrs. A. P. Young spoke on the Convention at Kingston, October 25th and 26th, urging as many members as possible to attend.

The programme was given by the visiting branch, Ernestown, and consisted of a well prepared paper on Pauline Johnson, by Mrs. Kellar.

A humorous reading, entitled, "The Haunted Engineer", by Mrs. Thompson. The conclusion inferred from this reading, "Those who fail to take precaution at the railway crossings will in Heaven be classed among the suicides.

A Salad Demonstration by Mrs. Gordon Young, giving us a number of recipes of salad dressings, different salad combinations, demonstrating an uncooked salad dressing; also a most appetizing and attractive salad.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the Ernestown ladies, voicing the pleasure and appreciation of all present.

It was here suggested by our District President, Mrs. F. Hamm, that it would be a great help to the Institutes if they would visit other branches oftener. God Save the King was sung, after which refreshments were served, and a social time enjoyed by all.

When a Mexican candidate doesn't win the office he's running for, he keeps right on running, if possible.

September... Greatest Month in all Chrysler History

—Spectacular New Record for Chrysler Sales

PUBLIC demand for Chrysler products, after creating new sales records month after month, reached a most significant and spectacular climax in September.

Usually a month when automotive production declines, September for the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Limited, was not only the month of largest production throughout 1928, but the largest also throughout the entire history of Chrysler.

The demand for new Chrysler and Plymouth models, in fact, exceeded everything in Chrysler experience and requires even more than the vastly increased facilities of the Windsor plant to cope with the flood-tide of orders.

Chrysler is gratified by such an overwhelming expression of public confidence—and appreciative of the opportunity it offers to extend production facilities still further in order to satisfy the demand which is ever widening.

In the months and years to come, Chrysler is firmly resolved to continue true to the Chrysler ideals of leadership—in pioneering the new and important improvements in motor car design in developing new ways of progress in scientific engineering and precision manufacture; in discovering new methods of raising quality and thereby constantly increasing the purchasing power of the automobile dollar.

The Model "Four-Twenty"
ROGERS (Batteryless) RADIO

$165—Your "money's most" in electric Radio

Of course, you want an electric radio (one that operates indirectly from a light socket, without any extra attachments whatever)—practically all the sets sold to-day, where current is available, are of this type. And, of course, you want the best set you can buy for the money you have to spend—that's only natural. Then, consider the Rogers "Four-Twenty"—a new 1929 Model that is out-selling every other electric radio two to one. To be able to get a complete electric radio at $165 is a sensation in itself, but when this is also the best known, the original "batteryless" set; the one that has five years of performance behind it, the only one with Tubes that are guaranteed as it is almost a miracle in value.

Features includes a single illuminated tuning dial, Rogers A-C Tubes throughout (including A/C Power Tube), Automatic Voltage Control, Rogers Output Filter and Phonograph "Plug-in" Jack, genuine Walnut Cabinet with matched butt veneer instrument panel. And the price complete (except Loud Speaker) is only $165.00!

If you want a modern batteryless receiver the Rogers "Four-Twenty" is your "money's most" in the whole field of electric radio.

Ask for a Demonstration and about our Easy Terms

Come in and see this set and compare it critically with any other electric radio sold at prices from $50 to $100 higher. Then you will really appreciate why this is the most sought-after radio on the market to-day, with the factory almost 1,000 sets behind orders actually on hand.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

"Do you read the health hints?"

"Not all of them. In my efforts to keep out of the hospital I limit myself to a study of the traffic regulations."

Cheapest of all Oils.—Considering the qualities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil it is the cheapest of all preparations offered to the public. It is to be found in every drug store in Canada from coast to coast and all country merchants keep it for sale. So, geting easily procurable and extrgnely moderate in price, no one should be without a bottle of it.

Doctor—"H'm ! Severe headaches, bilious attacks, pains in the neck — h'm ! What is your age, madam ?"

Patient (coyly)—"Twenty-four, doctor."

"H'm !" (continuing to write)—"Loss of memory, too !"

Simple and Sure.—Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil is so simple in application that a child can understand the instructions. Used as a liniment the only direction is to rub, and when used as a dressing to apply. The directions are so plain and unmistakable that they are readily understood by young or old.

"Officer, you'd better lock me up. Josh hit my wife over the head with a club."

"Did you kill her?"

"Don't think sho. Thash why I want to be locked up."

As a vermicide an excellent preparation is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. It has saved the lives of countless children.

He—You've been out with worse looking fellows than I am, haven't you?

She did not reply.

"I say, you've been out with worse looking chaps than I am, haven't you?"

"I heard you the first time. I was trying to think."

No matter how deep-rooted the corn may be, it must yield to Holloway's Corn Remover if used as directed.

"Being a bandit isn't as enjoyable as some people imagine," says one of them who is writing his confessions in an American paper. Yet they seem to take life very easily.

Doctor (to wealthy patient)—"Yes, you're all run down. I suggest that you lay off golf for a while, return to business, and get a good rest at your office."

Miller's Worm Powders not only make the infantile system untenable for worms, but by their action on the stomach, liver and bowels, they correct such troubles as lack of appetite, biliousness and other internal disorders that the worms create. Children thrive on them, and no matter what condition their worm-infested stomachs may be in, they will show improvement as soon as the treatment begins.

"Do you believe in giving a man plenty of rope?"

"Well, no, my dear; I did that with my husband, and he skipped."

Could Hardly Live for Asthma. writes one man who after years of suffering has found complete relief through Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Now he knows how needless has been his suffering. This matchless remedy gives sure help to all afflicted with asthma. Inhaled as smoke or vapor it brings the help so long needed. Every dealer has it or can get it for you from his wholesaler.

Paris Singer, of the rich sewing machine family, said at a dinner in Palm Beach :—

"These are topsy-turvy days. Down in Bermuda, on the terrace of the Hamilton hotel in Hamilton, I heard an old lady say affably one balmy winter afternoon :—

"It's a fine day, miss.'

"Yep, it's a fine day, all right, all right; only I ain't a miss. I'm a mister.'

"Oh, excuse me," said the old lady. 'You look so much like a boy that I took you for a girl."

DORLAND

(For last week.)

The Anniversary services in the United Church on Sunday and Monday were most successful. The church was tastefully decorated with cut flowers, and the special music furnished by the Choir was much enjoyed by the large congregations who listened to the able sermons delivered by the Rev. H. W. Cliff, of Kingston. On Monday evening three hundred people partook of a bountiful supper, and later enjoyed a programme of addresses and music.—The W. M. S. was represented at the convention at Morven, on Wednesday, October 10th, by Mrs. William Magee, Mrs. John Magee, Miss Hattie Magee, Mrs. A. C. Davis, Mrs. Ross Humphrey, Mrs. Blake Humphrey, Miss Lilian Carr and Mrs. Margaret Magee.—Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Woodcock, of Napanee, were Sunday guests of Mrs. William Magee.—Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Roblin and Master Jamie, of Westbrook, visited Mrs. Carr, and attended the Anniversary services. — Mrs. T. Chalmers and little daughter are visiting relatives at Wellington.—Mr. J. E. Price, of Mountain Grove, and Mr. L. E. Price, of Selby, spent a few days with their sister, Mrs. William Magee. —Mrs. Jas. Davis was a recent guest of Mrs. T. N. Davis.—Mrs. William Chalmers spent Sunday with Mrs. George Smith.

OLD COUNTRY "PITCHES."

Palmy Days of Street "Pitches" Are Over—Few "Gold Mines" Left.

Recently, a man was arrested while flourishing a £1 note and offering to buy a coffee stall, says Tit-Bits. Great was his surprise on being told, when he was sober, that £500 would not buy it.

A similar stall near the National Gallery was actually sold a few years after the war for £750, and another, which has been in the same hands for many years, is valued at a much higher sum. The profit from it is £20 a week, and the owner employs a man to work it. Two other stalls make £1,500 a year for the fortunate owner.

Now comes an announcement that the Manchester Watch Committee has appointed a sub-committee to report on street trading in that city. In Manchester, a well-known local character, "Black Joe," had a "pitch" from which he is reputed to have drawn £1,000 a year, and the owner of an existing stand employs eight assistants.

In Liverpool, there are rich-yielding "pitches." A few years ago a woman known as "Old Sarah," who for over forty years sold newspapers from a stall in Castle Street, left £1,147. Of many other profitable "pitches" in the provinces one of the most famous is at Portsmouth. The revenue from it is well over £1,000 a year.

Not a few London "pitches" are still "gold mines," though the palmy days of street stands is the metropolis are over. There will never be another crossing-sweeper like one who stood for many years in Spring Gardens, and amassed a modest fortune by refusing to accept more than a halfpenny from anybody. If he was tipped a penny, he gravely returned a halfpenny change, and in consequence of this peculiarity he carried home at the end of the day much more than he otherwise would have done, many people giving him a penny just to experience the novelty of receiving change from a crossing-sweeper.

One record set up by a Piccadilly pitch-holder is in no danger of being beaten. This man had a newspaper stand near Burlington House, and his takings sometimes amounted to £18 a day. On this, his profit was at least £4 10s., and, in addition, his sweeps from letting advertisement spaces worked out to about £1 a day. In the end a new road was brought to eject him, and an order was made against him. Had he won the day, his "pitch" would have been worth £10,000.

Some newspaper "pitches" show exceptional profits. According to the National Federation of Retail Newsagents, Booksellers, and Stationers, one man, who stands outside a suburban railway station, pays wholesale firms about £5,200 a year and makes a profit of about £1,250 a year, and another, whose "pitch" is on the inner circle, clears £2,000 a year.

In some parts of the country men are making big incomes as multiple "pitch"-holders. They have several stands, which they either let or pay men to work, never appearing at any of them in person. This used to be common among street stall-holders; but it has been put an end to here and there by the system of licensing. In connection with "pitches" on which stalls or stands are not allowed, however, sub-letting is general. A man in the Midlands is said to farm about a dozen "pitches," whence he obtains a revenue of over £2,000 a year.

RICHEST CITY IN BRITAIN.

Latest Estimates Gives Glasgow First Place.

According to the last estimates of rateable value, the City of London so called (that is the £75 acres forming the business heart of modern London) is not the richest in Great Britain. It is not even the richest part of the great area which has been amalgamated into London County.

According to the rate books, Glasgow comes first. St. Mungo's burgh is now assessed at about £11,500,000. The City of London, in spite of all the wealth it wields, is content to be housed in buildings rated at some £8,000,000. This is well ahead of Liverpool and Manchester, which comes in with round about £7,000,000 each. But the second place in the kingdom is taken by Westminster and London have been, as regards numbers of residents, growing smaller. Since 1901 the population of Westminster has declined by 40,000. Yet the last half dozen years the rateable value has increased enormously. In 1922 it was about £1,500,000 less than it is to-day. It has grown by £500,000 in a year or two. The reason is that large estates in the West End of London have recently been developed and rebuilt. The efficiency, the earning power, of the new structures is enormously greater than the old.

"Wings" Comes to Wonderland Theatre Monday, October 29th.

"Wings", an entirely different picture. It's author utilized the aeroplane, this modern invention, to build up his dramatic situations, and, indeed, he has succeeded. The spectator is thrilled throughout the entire picture. It is difficult for one to describe the thrills one feels in the sight of one plane attacking another plane, of one group of planes attacking another group, and later seeing more planes, downed, and falling to the earth in flames. They are magnificent sights—they are, in fact, so magnificent, so impressive, so thrilling—that it is doubtful if one could feel more excited even if one were to watch actual aeroplane battles. There is one situation where a giant plane, supposedly human, takes part in the battle, the equal of it has not been seen in other pictures or even in real life. It is a monster. For this reason, the battle in which it takes place is made more impressive. The plot has been founded on a story by John Monk Saunders; it has been directed by William Wellman most skilfully. 43a

Empey Hill W.M.S.

The October meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Roy McMath, on the 3rd October, with a good attendance. The meeting was opened by singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds", followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. After the usual business of the meeting, presided over by the President, the meeting was closed by singing "Bringing in the Sheaves". It was decided at this meeting to have a play in the near future. Hallowe'en Parade and Party for the Kiddies.

On Hallowe'en, Wednesday, October 31st, the Napanee Rotary Club is arranging an evening of amusement at the Armories, for all the kids in town. At 7 o'clock sharp a parade will start from in front of the Town Hall, headed by the Napanee Citizens' Band, and after marching around several blocks, will wind up at the Armouries. Any boy or girl in costume can get into the parade. Horns or other souvenirs will be given to every child in the parade. At the Armouries the costumes will be judged, and a dozen prizes will be given for the best costumes. The boys and girls will be judged separately, and each will be divided into the three following classes: (1) Under 7 years of age; (2) Between 7 and 10 years of age; (3) Over 10 years of age. After the judging of costumes there will be the following contests:—Eating Doughnuts; Eating Pie; Eating Marshmallows. Then the following races will be held:—Kiddie Car Race; Stick Race; Paper Bag Race and Running Backwards. Prizes will be given for every event. It is hoped that all parents will encourage their children to come and enjoy themselves. Everything will be free, and the kids will have a big time. 42a

The New 1929
ROGERS
BATTERYLESS
"Four-Ninety" Console

TO get the finest Batteryless Radio that can be constructed: To have it housed in an exquisite walnut cabinet by Malcolm: To know that it is not an experimental set, but a genuine "Rogers", the original Batteryless Radio—with four years of proven performance behind it: with Tubes that are fully guaranteed: and yet get all this at a total cost of $395 is almost unbelievable. Any other comparable radio would cost $500 to $600.

The new "Four-Ninety" has: Single dial tuning with brilliantly illuminated dial. Improved Electro-Dynamic Speaker to give the finest tonal reproduction. Automatic Voltage Control. Rogers Output Filter. Phonograph Plug-in Jack and other distinctive, quality features.

We invite you to call and inspect this de luxe, Rogers-Batteryless Radio—only a limited number of which will be sold in this community. Or, if you would prefer to see and test it at home, we will gladly arrange to install one without obligation. Terms, if desired.

Those who have heard Mrs. Best say she is one of the most versatile and brilliant of entertainers. Admission will be 50c. 43a

"Wings" Comes to Wonderland Theatre Monday, October 29th.

"Wings", an entirely different picture. It's another silent picture. Aeroplane, this modern invention, to build up his dramatic situations, and, indeed, he has succeeded. The spectator is thrilled throughout the entire picture. It is difficult for one to describe the thrills one feels in the sight of one plane attacking another plane, of one group of planes attacking another group, and later, seeing many planes downed, and falling to the earth in flames. They are magnificent sights—they are, in fact, so magnificent, so impressive, so thrilling, that it is doubtful if one could feel more excited even if one were to watch actual aeroplane battles. There is one situation where a giant plane, supposedly German, takes part in the battle, the equal of it has not been seen in other pictures or even in real life. It is a monster. For this reason, the battle in which it takes place is made more impressive. The plot has been founded on a story by John Monk Saunders; it has been directed by William Wellman most skilfully. 43a

BAY VIEW

There passed away on Saturday an aged resident, in the person of Mr. Wm. Thompson. Mr. Thompson was removed to the Kingston General Hospital on Monday of last week and died Saturday following a critical operation. Mr. Thompson was born in Prince Edward County, but Morven a small child moved with his parents to Denbigh, where he lived until about eight years ago, when he and his son moved to this neighborhead. He was seventy-eight years of age, and the eldest of a large family, of which two brothers and four sisters survive. His funeral was conducted on Tuesday afternoon by the Rev. S. F. Dixon, of Bath, with interment at Wilton. He leaves, besides his sorrowing widow, two sons, Palen, of this place, and Peter, of Montreal; and four daughters, Mrs. William Hannah, of British Columbia; Mrs. Norris Ready, of Webb, Sask.; Mrs. Edward Petzold, of Denbigh, and Mrs. Thos. Bell, of Sharpton. The neighbouring sympathy is extended to the sorrowing family.—On Sunday last Rev. Mr. McKenzie, of Yarker, preached the Anniversary services in Beulah Church here.—On Tuesday evening a fowl supper and concert was held. A good supper was provided for a large crowd, and a splendid programme presented. Rev. Mr. Seymour, of Bloomfield, was chairman. The following took part: Miss Stanton, Miss Gaitskill, Miss Conley's vocal selections; also Mr. Mathewson on the violin. A good sum was realized.—Mrs. Ross Gaitskill and daughter, of Toronto, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Stanley Fraser.—Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Ross, of Redneresville, spent a couple of days last week with Mr. and Mrs. T. Miller.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lewis, Jr., of Belleville, spent Sunday at Thos. Millers.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Woods, of Joyceville, and Mr. Albert Webb and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Webb, of Sunbury, spent Friday at C. F. Nicholson's.

N. C. I. NEWS

On Tuesday afternoon, the Collegiate pupils were addressed by Dr. Soland, Associate Manager of the United Church Publications, the third largest publishing house in America. The speaker gave a splendid talk on the value of selective reading, showing how we might gain companionship with the greatest men of all time. He warned them against reading anything which would degrade the mind, or which would not contribute something to character. In their schooling they should never be content to put them past anything which they did not understand.

On Wednesday afternoon, the final game of the Football schedule was played in Deseronto. Napanee retained its record for losses by suffering defeat to the score of 19-0. Deseronto was the first on the start, and by determined playing they went through and around the local line for big gains.

On Saturday, Deseronto played in Picton, but were defeated 5-3. This gives Napanee the right to play off with the winners of the Belleville group.

The first Junior Spartan and Athenian game was played on the Driving Park on Thursday afternoon after 4 o'clock. It was a very close game, only one score being made on either side, the Athenians winning by 5-0. The second game of the series will be played on Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

Two of the Collegiate boys were prize winners in the County Agricultural Judging last week. Milton Mallin ranked second, and George Purcell 5th. In the team of ten boys who will go to the Winter Fair at Toronto this next month.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND BANQUET AT BATH

The three congregations of Bath, Morven and Odessa, constituting the Rectory of Bath, held a very successful and enjoyable special Parish banquet in the Masonic Hall on Friday evening, October 19th. The enlarged hall was filled to capacity, the long tables being nicely decorated, and laden with a bountious supply of good things, provided by the ladies of the Parish.

The Rector, Rev. W. G. Swayne, who presided, explained that this was in an effort to raise funds—that had already been provided for by the voluntary cash contributions of the church members, made in lieu of the usual annual public supper.

A programme of an exceptionally high order, consisting of inspiring addresses by the Rt. Rev. Dr. Seager, Bishop of Ontario; His Honor Judge MacLean, Picton; Rural Dean Radcliffe, Deseronto; Rev. R. J. Dumbrille, Napanee; Rev. A. Strothers, Adolphustown, and Rev. H. Pringle, Tyendinaga.

The musical numbers were excellent, consisting of a solo by Mr. Ralph Jeffersmith, an instrumental duet by Mrs. A. Sexsmith and Miss Gwendolyne Swayne, choruses by the choir of St. John's Bath, the solo parts taken by Messrs. Arthur and Norman Wood, Miss Evelyn Bulch, Miss Sadie Collupy and Miss Gwendolyn Swayne, and a motion song by three little girls, Miss Marie Covert, Miss Pearl Bulch and Miss Florence Wilson.

At the conclusion of the programme Mr. C. W. Guppee moved, seconded by Mr. George Loyst, a very hearty vote of thanks to the speakers and all those assisting in the evening's entertainment.

For Coughs and Colds we recommend Wallace's Rum, Honey and Tamarac Balsam. An old fashioned remedy, perhaps, but one difficult to improve on. 35c. a bottle, at Wallace's.

THE PLOWING MATCH

The Plowing Match held at the farm of W. H. Hunter, on Friday, under the auspices of Lennox and Addington Branch of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, was fully well attended, in spite of the chilly day. There were seventeen competitors. In addition to cash prizes awarded in the competition there were a great many specials donated by merchants of the town, and awarded in the various classes for Gang, Crown, Finish, etc. In Class 1, Thomas Craven, Bath, won 1st and specials by D. E. Wales, Bath; 2nd, Ed. Reynolds, Howie, 2nd, specials by Dominion Store and Thompson Bros.; Joe Kent, 3rd, specials by W. H. Grass and McFarlane's Garage; William Johns, 4th, and John Wilson's special, also J. L. Boyes' special for best ploughing; Ernest Holtby, 5th. Class 2, Thomas Brant, 1st, Daly Tea Co.'s and J. E. Robbins' specials; Hilton Lennox, 2nd, specials by Carscallen and McIntosh. Class 3, John Kent, 1st, specials by Napanee Biscuit and Vanluven, also specials by R. A. Loucks for oldest plowman; Hugh Burns, 2nd, Weiss Bros. and Mayhew's specials. Class 4, J. L. Aylsworth, Wallace's and Mellow's specials; James Vankoughnet, 2nd, Haines', Wiseman's and Marsh's specials.

Class 5, Jake Kellar, 1st, Selrite Stores' and Superior Service Station specials; W. H. Wakelin, 2nd, Lasier's and Dillenbeck's specials. Class 6, Delbert Harvey, Hooper's and Wilson's Shoe Store specials. Class 7, William Vankoughnet, 1st, Scrimshaw's and Anderson's Grocery specials, also Riman's special for best ploughing, and Tummon's special for best plowing by a boy; Irvine Thompson, 2nd, and Went's special. Class 8, N. Pybus, 1st, and Huffman's and Davis' special. Class 9, Sid McKim., 1st, and Quality Canners' special.

The handsome silver cup, donated by Ontario Amiesite, Limited, for the best plowed land at the meeting, was won by Thomas Craven. It will be put up again next year, and must be won three times before becoming the permanent property of any one plowman. Louis H. Winslow, of Ida, was Judge.

Women of Middle Age

Need Rich, Red Blood to Maintain Good Health

After passing the age of forty every woman has reason to grow anxious about her health. This time of trial, with its attacks of faintness and fits of depression, its often violent headaches and back pains is rightly dreaded by women; but if reasonable steps are taken to safeguard the health, no serious ill-effects will arise. At this turning point in life Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have given a helping hand to thousands of suffering women who were fighting a hopeless battle against poor health and waning strength.

The very best help for any woman of middle age is the health help given by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills reinforce the blood supply, enriching and purifying it. In doing this they nourish the starved and overtaxed nerves and give new strength and vitality to the whole system. By this natural process Dr. Williams' Pink Pills completely dispel all pains and weakness, and a better, happier condition of health and spirits arises.

Every woman of middle age should take advantage now of the wonderful health-help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Old Lady (to men struggling to move large piece of stone in a quarry) — "My good men, why don't you try blasting it."

Workman—Well, mum, me and my mates has used every blinking swear word we knows, but it ain't moved it yet."

It Will Relieve a Cold. — Colds are the commonest ailments of mankind, and if neglected may lead to serious conditions. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will relieve the bronchial passages of inflammation speedily and thoroughly and will strengthen them against subsequent attack. And as it eases the inflammation it will usually stop the cough because it allays the irritation in the throat. Try it and prove it.

Says, "Look at my dress!
But I'm bound to confess
There's less costume than flapper that you see."

Cuts and Bruises Disappear.—When suffering from cuts, scratches, bruises, sprains, sore throat or chest and any similar ailments, use Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Its healing power is well-known in every section of the community. A bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil should be in every medicine chest ready for the emergencies that may always be anticipated.

Married Friend—I do that all the time.

Peevish, pale, restless, and sickly children owe their condition to worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will relieve them and restore health.

A young woman was being cross-examined in court.

"How old are you?" interposed the magistrate.

She hesitated.

"Don't hesitate," said the other, "every second makes it worse."

Corns disappear when treated with Holloway's Corn Remover without leaving a scar.

"How did you manage about sleeping accommodations for your brother and his wife while they were visiting you?"

"Oh, they are early risers, so they slept in daughter's bed and were always up before she got in and needed it."

Miller's Worm Powders are the medicine for children who are found suffering from the ravages of worms. They immediately alter the stomachic conditions under which the worms subsist and drive them from the system, and at the same time, they are tonical in their effect upon the digestive organs, restoring them to healthful operation, and ensuring immunity from further disorders from such a cause.

"You must learn," he said, "not to believe all the things you hear about your neighbors."

"But why not believe them as long as they give one so much satisfaction?" she innocently asked.

The following evening the Hawley friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Seeley and presented the following gifts :

Sept. 27th, 1928.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Kellar,—The friends of the Hawley United Church are assembled here to-night to greet you and wish you every success in life, and we pray that God may guide thee well by His Heavenly Grace, and hoping that happiness will follow you in your new home.

Mrs. Kellar, we will miss your genial countenance in the church and all its activities. In the church your worth has been felt, not only in a general way, but in the various departments; you have grown in the work of the W. M. S. and the Ladies' Aid, in which you have always done your part for which we are very thankful. We regret your departure from the Sunday School, where you have been a faithful attendant and co-worker.

You are going from our midst to another field, we will not meet so frequently face to face, but we trust that you will ever remember your Hawley friends and all that they have meant to you. We feel that in your new field of labour you will make many new friends and that each day will be filled with joy. We all wish you every success in crown you in the coming years.

We cannot in justice to ourselves, allow you to leave us without giving you a remembrance of our appreciation, and the pleasure of your association from our school days.

We ask you to accept this Pyrex platter and fernery as a slight token of our regard and esteem, and trust that in years to come, you will look back with many happy memories of your Hawley friends.

Signed by,—

LORENA I. PARKS.
MRS. A. D. FRETTS.
MRS. E. FRETTS.

Immediately after, Miss Helen Schell read the following address :—

Dear Margurerite,—The Hawley Y. P. S. felt that they could not let this occasion pass without showing their appreciation of what you have done for their Society.

You have always been ready to help when it has been possible to do so.

Now that you have married and gone a little farther away from us, we hope you will not forget your old friends of the Y. P. S., and that both you and Mr. Kellar will be often at our meetings, where you will always be welcome.

We wish you every happiness, and hope you will both be spared a long time to enjoy your life together.

With this Bible, which we now present you, we make a request that you will not place it on a table or shelf to stay, but that you will read it every day and study it as well, that it may enable you to live close to God, that He may always be first in your home, for no home no matter how grand, can long be a contented and happy one without God's help.

We hope that you have received some help from our Society in the past, and we again say "Do not leave us," as we need you, and we think you need us.

Signed on behalf of the Hawley Y. P. S.

MRS. GEO. CREIGHTON.
HELEN SCHELL.

At the October meeting of the Ernestown Women's Institute, the following address was read, and presentation made.

Dear Mrs. Kellar,—Since our W. I. has been organized, you have been a most faithful and active worker, always willing and ever ready to do your bit when called upon.

You have endeared yourself to every one of us, and it gives us very much pleasure to present you with this silver tea set. Hoping you may have many happy years to enjoy it. Accompanying it are the very best wishes of the Ernestown Women's Institute.

MARY E. HAMM, Pres.
Bath, Oct. 17th, 1928.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellar wish to thank their friends and neighbours of Ernestown; Hawley, and Ernestown Women's Institute.

ANNOUNCING A REMARKABLE NEW BUILDING MATERIAL

INSUL-BOARD
(INSULATING BOARD)

A Board that shuts out cold. Stops heat. Deadens sound. An extraordinary building and insulating Board designed to make homes interiors more comfortable, more restful and more healthful the whole year through. An All-Canadian Board, made in Canada from the products of Canada's Forests.

INSUL-BOARD meets the need for a stouter and more rigid material for wall and ceiling insulation. Its greater structural strength has been proven under critical tests by Canada's leading engineers. It makes the walls more rigid, more enduring, more capable of resisting severe strain and stress.

INSUL-BOARD insulates completely, producing a sure and lasting shield against winter's cold and summer's heat, sealing the home interior tight against all atmospheric discomfort.

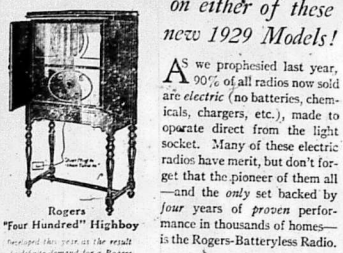
"HIGH-BOY" ROGERS "LOW-BOY"
BATTERYLESS RADIO
You can't go wrong on either of these new 1929 Models!



Rogers
"Four Hundred" Highboy
Developed this year as the result of a definite demand for a Rogers Highboy Model. Automatic Volume Control, Rogers Output Filter and Phonograph "Plug-in" Jack. Genuine Walnut Cabinet. • Price complete $250.00

Rogers
"Four Hundred" Lowboy
A development of the famous Rogers 2004 Model. Single Tuning Knob operates Illuminated Drum Dial. Automatic Voltage Control, Rogers Output Filter, Phonograph "Plug-in" Jack. Rogers Symphony Speaker in a genuine Walnut cabinet by Mitcalm. Price complete $260.00

As we prophesied last year, 90% of all radios now sold are electric (no batteries, chemicals, chargers, etc.), made to operate direct from the light socket. Many of these electric radios have merit, but don't forget that the pioneer of them all—and the only set backed by four years of proven performance in thousands of homes—is the Rogers-Batteryless Radio.

That is why we say you can't go wrong in choosing either of these wonderful new 1929 models.

Highboy or Lowboy—it is just a question of taste. Both models have all the distinctive new 1929 features. The only difference (apart from the Cabinets) is that the Highboy has a newly-developed type of Cone Speaker—whereas the Lowboy is equipped with the Rogers Symphony Speaker.

Come in and hear both of these new Rogers-Batteryless Models—the greatest "dollar-for-dollar" values ever offered in electric radio.

Napanee W. M. S., South Division

Napanee South Division of the Belleville Presbyterial held its Third Annual Meeting in Morven United Church on Wednesday, October 10th. The Order of Service for all that could be asked and all seemed "That something" to uplift the Throne, God's Love to overflow!" It also must have overflown inside the Church for a friendly prevailed a warmth and cheer that was unequalled. Mrs. P. T. Hepburn presided, and from her earnest and sincere manner filled in with remarks as a stimulus to our consecration portion elected Mrs. A. Kippen as Recording Secretary, Mrs. Bruce Robertson as Press Reporter. Wilton's Auxiliary took charge of the morning's Devotional. Hymn "O Worship the King All Glorious Above". The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Bruce from the Book of Joshua, with a prayer by the same, stating it was all pictures a favorite Book. Our leaders it was a gem of comfort and was found the root of strength, prayer and trust. "I will be with thee, I will not leave nor forsake thee." Has been a tower of strength to His people. The Father knows, and He feeds, never will He let us down. His love there is no end.

Greetings were then extended to us by Mrs. Fralick, President of the Belleville Auxiliary. In her words of welcome, of hospitality, a gracious manner and a sweetness of the combined Morven's welcoming spirit.

Mrs. Forbes Speaks

Mrs. Forbes the speaker of the day, was then introduced to delegates and visitors, and in her reply stated how she always felt at home with a group of women banded together to do their share to win the world for Jesus Christ, and that it was the finest organization to which we could belong. The missionaries are doing our part in foreign lands; we have the easier task at home. How much could be accomplished with two hundred thousand women banded together for four hundred workers, one hundred and seventy-five in foreign lands and two hundred and twenty-five in homeland. Every cent of our budget is needed for actual carrying on, and much more to contribute our work under proper conditions in various fields.

The President then expressed in a few words the appreciation of Mrs. Perry's services in the Presbyterial, and her zeal has been justly earned, and her feelings were of the nature of just filling in. Then in mentioning her attending the Laymen's Convention, how all hearts were warmed and inspired to do more in this Man's Task. It was here also she called the attention of the delegates to the "Monthly Letter" and that each Auxiliary be urged to have a "Temperance Herald" and Press Secretary.

Reports of Auxiliaries

The fourteen Auxiliaries that make up the Southern Division, all reported. The sum raised so far, $1640.60, was in advance of last year's giving, and the outlook for allocations obtained was encouraging, the lift up always came in the latter part of the year. Interesting and various were the ways to raise our monies; one Auxiliary put a cent a day in monthly envelopes, and found it very successful. The Missionary Monthly subscription was in advance of last year. Of special mention should be Deseronto Auxiliary, for raising the sum of $121.00 for the Hamheung School in Korea, after hearing Miss Florence Murray's appeal. This is not included in allocation.

The Circles and Bands are few in number, but the reports in work and finance showed them to be made up of rare material. The report of Odessa Band on what they have accomplished was worthy of congratulation, and, if the delegate was an example of their average member, the future carries bigger and better things to advance the work. All took part in singing the hymn "The Church's One Foundation" after which an excellent paper by Mrs. Foley, of Selby, was given on "The Importance of the Mission Band in developing the Life of a Child". Mrs. Foley gave the comparison between the spiritual and physical life of a child; to develop the physical they must have fresh air, good food and exercise. Then the spiritual and moral life. First we must create a missionary atmosphere by showing kindness, good will and unselfishness toward each other, which in itself is a training for the Christ. Second, the pure milk of the Gospel diluted and sweetened to give them a knowledge that "God is Love". Interesting stories from time to time verses of Scripture and hymns, the selections being just the ones for children. These all prove attractive and lead up to an influence which develops the third acquirement, exercise, the love of doing, helping and giving, always seeking these things that impress the child, for service and not the money.

Miss Fraser, of Odessa, dealt with "The Importance of the Mission Circle in the Life of a Girl". The Circle should mean very much in the life of a girl because its training develops the qualities that should be brought forth in the girl life. Pray, study, give—these are requirements that lead up to a Christian character, and she learns it is more blessed to give than receive. Five minutes was devoted to asking and answering questions, which brought out many necessary thoughts concerning our work.

The motion that the price of dinner be forty cents for the day and hereafter, was carried by a large majority.

Quiet Half Hour

The Quiet Half Hour, in charge of Mrs. G. I. Perry, with prayer by Mrs. J. B. Miller, is always the part that sets aside certain activities of the day and leads us closer to His Presence. For this purpose Mrs. Perry selected that familiar passage, "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son." It was His best, His all, what were we giving in return? Christ's life was a missionary life, a life of service, a life devoted to fulfilling His Father's will, so full of action and responsibilities to be about His Father's business, that His prayers and supplications were not idle lip service but a pouring out of the Spirit for Divine assistance in so great a task. Are we measuring up to this high standard of example and giving God the full control of our lives in little everyday things, the daily task, the common routine wherein we grow strong for the greater tasks and tests that come to all.

Mrs. Lewis, of Camden East, then rang a much appreciated solo, "Jesus Knows", after which the morning session closed with prayer by Rev. Mr. Seymour.

Dinner was served, and Morven W. M. S. must be congratulated on its excellent food, which fitted all to enjoy the afternoon session.

Switzville Auxiliary opened the afternoon session and took charge of Roll Call, each Auxiliary responding with Bible promise. The Convention then stood, while a verse of "Faith of Our Fathers" was sung in memory of our deceased. Minutes of morning session were read and approved, after which Mrs. Will Pretts, of Hawley, replied to Greetings in a few well chosen words that found favor in the voice of those gathered.

"The Ideal W. M. S. Member", given by Miss Hattie Magee, was defined as "An imaginary model of perfection", possessing qualities of energy, patience and reliability together with a touching personality that influences. Of special note, able to bear criticism and to efface self thus filling in when and where necessary. The fruit of being quick to see usefulness in others is the builder of interesting meetings. Insight and vision linked with dependability, optimission and enthusiasm measures up a member's interest. To keep this in every department of the work each month throughout the year would develop a growth toward ideal-ism, and to become an ideal member one must begin with the Mission Band and Circles, for religious education will furnish the mind of youth with an imagery of a high character and help to inspire to those heights. If the home of to-morrow is to be a mission-ary home, the home of to-day must make it so by putting the world program of Jesus based on His command "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel". Here is her opportunity to share the Gift of Christ with non-christians of other lands, who cannot be reached by any one nation, race or individual working alone, and, lastly unites the dollars and hours which she has to give, with the thousands of dollars and hours of others, which together accomplish what to one alone would be impossible.

Mrs. Becket Gives Paper

"The Ideal Auxiliary", by Mrs. Beckel. Ideals are life's contribution to us, the King's business is our ideal fashioned into missions. An ideal Auxiliary has a special working force keeping every member busy, arranging your own program gives work in lines of special missionary needs, not always original but always practical and worthwhile that works out problems characteristic to each Auxiliary. An Auxiliary is an evangelistic force for the furtherance of a need for which we are responsible. Thus our allocation should be raised under any obstacle. It means our work's progress. The social side is a part; eating together in groups develops further the work. In conversation what reaches one is contagious and passes on; ideas and knowledge pass around over a cup of tea and sandwich which often reach out to enlarge the insight.

Mrs. Elmer Alkenbrack in "The Influence of the Ideal Auxiliary in the Life of the Church and Community, with carefully thought out supposition, visualized the same and in a manner that mirrored such in our hearts and minds of what could be accomplished along quite possible lines for He is depending upon our little groups of auxiliaries. Let us each try to make ours the ideal in the community, so that we may not fail Him in His trust.

A solo was again enjoyed. A Temperance paper by Mrs. R. J. Smith, so quickened and inspired the audience that its impress will take root in our various Auxiliaries and in time all unbeknown there will be little rivulets branching out, for whereas the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada has embodied in its social service department the temperance issue, be it resolved that we, as members, do place ourselves on record as favoring a policy of total prohibition of the liquor traffic.

Resolution on Temperance

"Whereas the promised betterment of conditions in our fair Ontario has been most disappointing, be it therefore further resolved that with renewed earnestness we give ourselves to the task of bringing about true temperance sentiment.

"We, the natural protectors of the youth of our land, do most sincerely pledge ourselves both by vote and influence to extend the cause of righteousness by the furtherance of true temperance in our midst.

After the singing of a Hymn, the offering was received, music followed, and Mrs. Forbes, who was our W. M. S. representative at the Trinidad Jubilee last winter, brought before us most vividly the work accomplished there by our W. M. S. After a geographical description of the Island, which is forty-eight miles by fifty, and that 380,000 people of all nationalities populate it, making it a little world of itself. In the early days African slaves did the work, but when slavery was abolished someone had to carry on, and 20,000 were sent out from India for a period of five years. After this time if they wished to return they might do so; if they remained, some renumeration was made, and the East Indians now comprise one-third of the Island's population.

Trinidad Mission

To go back sixty-three years ago, a young minister from Nova Scotia went to Trinidad for his health, which was restored, finding about his returning three years later as a Missionary so greatly was he impressed with the people's need of a Christ. This it was that the Rev. John Morton, accompanied by wife and little daughter, became the first Missionaries. She told of a country with its wonderful climate, its fields of waving sugar cane, rows of fluttering bamboo and groves of ever-green palm, and often in little villages among these would be seen a school building with the inscription C. M. I. School and these letters meant Canadian Mission Indian School, telling us there were seventy-one of them on the Island, with an enrolment of about 17,000 children. It is in these schools all over the island that girls are being taught. This is our women's work in five different stations. First comes the Elementary School, second the Vocational Training School, third in the Naparima Day School, fourth in the Bible Women's Training Classes, and fifth in the work of the Bible women to go out in the field of service among the natives. The deputation visited these stations and found the native Christians capable of preparing the programs, furnishing wonderful food, and preparing and reading of addresses; and were delighted with the excellency of the work done. It is in the Naparima Girls' High School and Teachers' Training School that the girls come as pupil teachers, and from the point of view of the Women's Missionary Society, these schools are interesting for several reasons, which you will like to hear, for it is in these schools all over the Island that girls are being taught and trained to enter our Naparima Girls' High School and Teachers' Training School, stating it is on these schools after the girls have received their training, one must look to carry on the women's work of the future. To these schools go the many boxes of clothing, etc., from the Maritime Provinces, of which she had the pleasure of seeing the articles distributed, and the trying on of various garments among the girls and boys. A certain number had first choice, the girls invariably chose dolls, and the boys books. It was a time of joy which led her to say, dear women, who sew and pack, be not discouraged; think not your task a common place one. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

The Mother and Daughter Banquet really meant something, and asked us to consider what it meant; for not so many years ago neither mother or daughter saw very much outside their home, for girls were carefully guarded in their own home until her early marriage; then in her husband's home. This was all brought about by our W. M. S. work, the joy and freedom of living, their proper place in church and community life. The Canadian Church at home was thanked many and many a time over and over again for the good work that is being done through the Missionary Society in Trinidad. Mrs. Forbes closed her talk with an earnest prayer, and urged us to live closer that greater sacrifices might be made to fulfill so great a task as laid before us.

After singing two verses of Hymn 293, the Benediction was pronounced, which closed a afternoon of unusual inspiration and interest in the Master's work.

E. ROBERTSON.

JOINT - EASE FOR Stiff, Swollen Joints
RHEUMATIC OR OTHER-WISE
Says: "When Joint-Ease Gets in—Joint Agony Gets Out."
It was a high-class pharmacist who saw prescription after prescription fail to help hundreds of his customers to get rid of rheumatic swellings and stiff, inflamed joints.
And it was this same man who asserted that a remedy could and would be compounded that would make aching, swollen, tormented joints work with joint as much smoothness as they ever did.
Now this prescription, rightly named Joint-Ease, after being tested successfully on many obstinate cases, is offered through progressive pharmacists to the millions of people who suffer from ailing joints that need limbering up.
Swollen, twingy, inflamed, stiff, pain-tormented joints are usually caused by rheumatism, but whatever the cause Joint-Ease soaks right in, through skin and flesh and gets right to and corrects the trouble at its source.
Remember Joint-Ease is for ailments of the joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, wrist or finger, and when you rub it on, you may expect speedy and gratifying results.
It is now on sale at Wallace's Drug Store and druggists everywhere for 60 cents a tube.

YARKER-COLEBROOK WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of the Yarker-Colebrook Branch of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. J. Brown, on Wednesday, October 17th. There were twenty-two members and three visitors present.

The meeting opened with the Ode, followed by the Creed repeated in unison. After the Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and approved, various matters of business were discussed. The roll call was answered by filling for sandwiches.

A paper was then given by Mrs. Harold Freeman, on storing vegetables.

The contest on Doughnuts was quite a success. Mrs. H. Smith getting first prize. A list of current events was given by Mrs. Fardell. Mrs. Synard and Mrs. Hanley sang a duet, which was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Chas. Amey, Yarker, was appointed as delegate to Kingston Convention. It was also decided that we accept Moscow's invitation to the Halloween party at Mrs. Will Jackson's, on October 31st.

Mrs. Amey then gave a reading, which was real good.

"God Save the King" was sung, after which refreshments were served, and a social half hour was enjoyed.

The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. A. Hart's, Colebrook, on November 21st, at 7.30 p.m. As Camden East Institute is putting on the programme we are hoping for a good crowd.

Call up your customers by long distance
An occasional call will make it almost impossible for them to stop trading with you.
Do you realize that one of the largest returns you can secure from the expenditure of a small sum is to be had by calling up old customers occasionally by Long Distance?
Friendliness begets friendliness. How can you or I keep away from a merchant who spends his money to show his interest in our affairs? We can't.
The newspaper editor counts on this trait in human nature. He mentions subscribers' names frequently because he knows they will look for them in his paper.
The merchant who occasionally calls customers by Long Distance is one who can't be overlooked or forgotten.

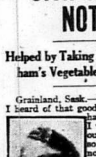
WOMAN SO SICK COULD NOT WORK
Helped by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Grainland, Sask.—"I am glad that I heard of that good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I will not be without it again. I was so sick that I could not work at all and could not sew on the machine. My aunt told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am telling all of my friends how good it is and I will answer all letters I get from women."


Mrs. MARY SCHULTZIES, Grainland, Sask.

THE ONLY ECZEMA REMEDY
Says This Doctor
"The treatment of skin diseases (eczema) and diseases of the scalp is done every day at my office," says Dr. W. L. Sandridge. "However, there is one remedy that is known to be entirely dependable in this distressing skin condition. I refer to the D.D.D. Prescription.
"If you have never tried D. D. D. for skin diseases, whether a small spot, or the whole surface of the dreaded form—the torment of eczema, or the hard scales of psoriasis—get a bottle at once on our guarantee that if it doesn't relieve you, your money will be refunded. $1.00 a bottle.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear brother, John Albert Davis, who departed this life Nov. 1st, 1927.

We watched him suffer day by day,
It caused us bitter grief,
To see him slowly pine away,
And could not give relief.
In sorrow we waited day by day,
And watched him suffer there;
Slowly but surely pass away
From pain he scarce could bare.

Sadly missed by his Sisters and Brothers. 44ap

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Henry Reid, who died October 30th, 1927.

One beautiful morn at opening of day,
A voice was calling that seemed to say,
"Ye that are weary come and rest,
Lay down thy head upon My breast,
Come follow Me and I will guide
Thy footsteps on the Jordan's side."
Our loved one heard the sweet command,
And tenderly took the Saviour's hand.

Sadly missed by Wife and Family. 44ap

IN MEMORIAM

Don't "trust to luck" Bake with Quaker Flour

It always acts right and always the same

YOU never trust to luck when you bake with Quaker Flour. You know that it will act exactly right because it has passed practical home-baking tests at the mills before it can bear the Quaker name. Quaker Flour is milled from wheat which has shown the highest milling qualities and food value under rigorous tests. It is further tested every hour in milling to ensure a flour constantly up to the rigid Quaker Standard.

These three tests assure you that you will always have bread, cakes, and pastry of fine, even texture and enticing flavour. Every sack backed by our sweeping guarantee. If Quaker Flour does not give you the most perfect satisfaction the dealer is authorized to return your money.

Packed in machine sewn sacks, Quaker Flour is not touched by human hands.

Take ZUTOO Tablets and are free of the Griping Pain and Sick Headaches.

Read what Mrs. Wright says "I received your sample of Zutoo Tablets, and took them for severe pain (monthly) and headache. At the end of 30 minutes, I was entirely free of pain and experienced no more throughout the period. I suffer a great deal at these times and feel grateful that I have a remedy which affords quick relief. Every woman in the land should know about Zutoo Tablets and what they will do."
Mrs. ALLEN WRIGHT, Telford, Que.

TAKE ZUTOO

There is no mystery about this

Many people feel that arranging a long distance talk is complicated.

And it is really so simple!

Your local operator will connect you with certain nearby points listed in the front pages of your directory. If you do not know the number, ask "Information."

In calling more distant points, ask for "Long Distance". Tell her your telephone number, your name, the city you wish to reach, the distant telephone number if you know it. If you do not know it, "Long Distance" will look it up.

The operators are always courteous and helpful, and the experience will convert you to the regular use of a wonderful service.

Why not try it?

Herbs That Heal When Lungs and Bronchial Tubes Seem all on Fire

Fifty years ago, a quiet-going soul, James Gallagher, came to Peterborough County. His was a marvelous skill in compounding herbal medicine.

One of his many prescriptions—for folk subject to Bronchitis or similar ills and nasty coughs and colds—was his Indian Lung Remedy, full of the health-giving power drawn from Mother Nature, herself. Wonderfully healing to inflamed tissues. A builder of good, red blood. Make the acquaintance of this tried, reliable remedy. Keep well this Winter. Together with the other fine Gallagher Herbal Household Remedies, now obtainable from ...23
